Governor

David L. Lawrence was inaugurated as Pennsylvania's 102nd Governor on January 20, 1959.

Born in Pittsburgh on June 18, 1889, the son of Charles and Catherine Conwell Lawrence, he lived in the area which has since become the famous Golden Triangle.

The Governor received his education in the city's parochial schools.

Enlisting in the Army during World War I, he served in the Judge Advocate Department and was discharged as a commissioned officer.

On June 8, 1921, he married Alyce Golden. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Thomas K. Donahoe and Mrs. James Cannon, and a son, Gerald, a student at LaSalle College, Philadelphia. Two sons, Brennan and David Jr. were killed in an automobile accident in 1942.

His government career began in 1933 when he served as U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue for the Western District of Pennsylvania. In 1934 he was appointed Secretary of the Commonwealth and the same year became Democratic State Chairman, a post he held until 1945. He has been Democratic National Committeeman from Pennsylvania since 1940.

In 1945 he was elected Mayor of Pittsburgh, the first of four successive terms, unprecedented in the city's history. His accomplishments in the thirteen years he served as Mayor began with the organization of action groups to eliminate the smoke-choking of the city. Thus freed of smog, Pittsburgh has become a model of urban renewal and redevelopment with its collection of skyscrapers, a new airport, new bridges, expressways, parks, expanding universities, a new medical center, civic and cultural center and public housing units. Fortune Magazine named him one of the nine outstanding Mayors of the United States in 1957, and Pittsburgh was cited as one of the ten best-governed cities.

A past president of the U. S. Conference of Mayors, he is the only mayor to have received its Distinguished Service Awards for "outstanding contributions to his city, state and nation."

He continues to serve as Chairman of the Urban Redevelopment Authority of the City of Pittsburgh and as a member of the Board of the University of Pittsburgh.

Governor and Mrs. Lawrence maintain their home at 355 South Aiken Avenue, Pittsburgh.

Foreword

We herewith present the ninety-fourth edition of the PENNSYLVANIA MANUAL, the comprehensive reference book on the make-up of state government.

Some additional information has been included in this edition of the book, and all of the material has been updated as close to publication as possible in a book of this scope and volume.

To facilitate reference to the considerable and varied amount of information contained in this edition, both the general and individual indices have been expanded. It is hoped that readers will find the MANUAL a more valuable resource book because of this expansion.

The PENNSYLVANIA MANUAL is the direct offspring of Thomas Jefferson's MANUAL OF PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE published in 1801. It was officially adopted by the General Assembly in 1846 as rules for the government of both branches of the legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and was known as SMULL'S LEGISLATIVE HANDBOOK until 1922, when the copyright was purchased by the Commonwealth.

We are most grateful to the many state, national, county and city officials who so willingly supplied us with the information necessary to complete this volume. Without their help, there could be no MANUAL.

*Made by the Original Thirteen States in

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

WHEN in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the Consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishing of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the meantime exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our People, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislature.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a Jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Act of Pretended Legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from Punishment for any murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in the neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Government:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with Power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic Insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free People.

Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow those usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our Intentions, do, in the Name and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our Sacred Honor.

Note.—This document as published above was copied from "Charters and Constitutions of the United States," compiled under an order of the United States Senate by Ben. Perley Poore and issued in 1877. In said publication the proof was compared with the facsimile of the original by Mr. Ferdinand Jefferson, the Keeper of the Rolls at the Department of State, at Washington. He says: "In the facsimile as in the original, the whole instrument runs on without a break, but dashes are mostly inserted. I have, in this copy, followed the arrangements of paragraphs adopted in the publication of the Declaration in the newspaper of John Dunlap, and as printed by him for the Congress, which printed copy is inserted in the original Journal of the old Congress. The same paragraphs are also made by the author in the original draughts preserved in the Department of State."

(The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman, and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia.

The original Declaration of Independence is now on public exhibition in the Library of Congress at Washington, D. C.)

<sup>1</sup> In May, 1785, a committee of Congress made a report recommending an alteration in the Articles of Confederation, but no action was taken on it, and it was left to the State Legislatures to proceed in the matter. In January, 1786, the Legislature of Virginia passed a resolution providing for the appointment of five commissioners, who, or any three of them, should meet such commissioners as might be appointed in other States of the Union, at a time and place to be agreed upon, to take into consideration the trade of the United States; to consider how far a uniform system in their commercial regulation may be necessary to their common interest and their permanent harmony; and to report to the Several States such an act, relative to this great object, as, when ratified by them, will enable the United States in Congress effectually to provide for the same. The Virginia commissioners, after some correspondence, fixed the first Monday in September as the time, and the city of Annapolis as the place for meeting, but only four States were represented, viz: Delaware, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Carolina and Rhode Island failed to attend. Under the circumstances of so partial a representation, the commissioners present agreed upon a report (drawn by Mr. Hamilton, of New York), expressing their unanimous convictions that it might essentially tend to advance the interests of the Union if the States by which they were respectively delegated would concur and use their endeavors to procure the concurrence of the other States, in the appointment of commissioners to meet at Philadelphia on the second Monday of May following, to take into consideration the situation of the United States; to devise such further provisions as should appear to them necessary to render the Constitution of the Federal Government adequate to the exigencies of the Union, and to report such an act for that purpose to the United States in Congress assembled as, when agreed to by them, and afterwards confirmed by the legislatures of every State, would effectually provide for the same.

Congress on the 21st of February, 1787, adopted a resolution in favor of a convention, and the Legislatures of those States which had not already done so (with the exception of Rhode Island), promptly appointed delegates. On the 25th of May, seven States, having convened, George Washington, of Virginia, was unanimously elected President, and the consideration of the proposed constitution was commenced. On the 17th of September, 1787, the Constitution as engrossed and agreed upon was signed by all the members present, except Mr. Gerry, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Mason and Randolph, of Virginia. The President of the convention transmitted it to Congress, with a resolution stating how the proposed Federal Government should be put in operation, and an explanatory letter. Congress on the 28th of September, 1787, directed the Constitution so framed with the resolutions and letter concerning the same, to "be transmitted to the several Legislatures, in order to be submitted to a convention of delegates chosen in each State by the people thereof, in conformity to the resolves of the convention."

On the 4th day of March, 1789, the day which had been fixed for commencing the operation of Government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by the convention chosen in each State, to consider it, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788. The President informed Congress on the 28th of January, 1790, that North Carolina had ratified the Constitution, November 21, 1789; and he informed Congress on the 1st of June, 1790, that Rhode Island had ratified the Constitution May 29, 1789. Vermont in convention, ratified the Constitution January 10, 1789, and was by an act of Congress approved February 19, 1791, "received and admitted into this Union as a new and entire member of the United States."

<sup>3</sup> The clause included in brackets is amended by the fourteenth amendment, second section. Also the sixteenth amendment.

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of civil and religious liberty, and humbly invoking His guidance, do ordain and establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

That the general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and unalterably established, WE DECLARE THAT—

Inherent Rights of Mankind

Section 1. All men are born equally free and independent, and have certain inherent and indefeasible rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring, possessing and protecting property and reputation, and of pursuing their own happiness.

Political Powers

Section 2. All power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their peace, safety and happiness. For the advancement of these ends they have at all times, an inalienable and indefeasible right to alter, reform or abolish their government in such manner as they may think proper.

Religious Freedom

Section 3. All men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences; no man can of right be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry against his consent; no human authority can, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience, and no preference shall ever be given by law to any religious establishments or modes of worship.

Religion

Section 4. No person who acknowledges the being of a God and a future state of rewards and punishments shall, on account of his religious sentiments, be disqualified to hold any office or place of trust or profit under this Commonwealth.

Elections

Section 5. Elections shall be free and equal; and no power, civil or military, shall at any time interfere to prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage.

Trial by Jury

Section 6. Trial by jury shall be as heretofore, and the right thereof remain inviolate.

Freedom of Press and Speech; Libels

Section 7. The printing press shall be free to every person who may undertake to examine the proceedings of the Legislature or any branch of government, and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts and opinions is one of the invaluable rights of man and every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. No conviction shall be had in any prosecution for the publication of papers relating to the official conduct of officers or men in public capacity, or to any other matter proper for public investigation or information, where the fact that such publication was not maliciously or negligently made shall be established to the satisfaction of the jury; and in all indictments for libels the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other cases.

Security from Searches and Seizures

Section 8. The people shall be secure, in their persons, houses, papers and possessions from unreasonable searches and seizures, and no warrant to search any place or to seize any person or things shall issue without describing them as nearly as may be, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation subscribed to by the affiant.

Rights of Accused in Criminal Prosecutions

Section 9. In all criminal prosecutions the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and his counsel, to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, to meet the witnesses face to face, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and, in prosecutions by indictment or information, a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the vicinage; he cannot be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor can he be deprived of his life, liberty or property unless by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land.

Criminal Information; Twice in Jeopardy; Eminent Domain

Section 10. No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured.

Courts to Be Open; Suits Against the Commonwealth

Section 11. All courts shall be open; and every man for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial or delay. Suits may be brought against the Commonwealth in such manner, in such courts and in such cases as the Legislature may by law direct.

Power of Suspending Laws

Section 12. No power of suspending laws shall be exercised unless by the Legislature or by its authority.

Bail; Fines and Punishments

Section 13. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel punishments inflicted.

Prisoners to Be Bailable; Habeas Corpus

Section 14. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses when the proof is evident or presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Oyer and Terminer or Jail Delivery

ARTICLE XV

CITIES AND CITY CHARTERS

Home Rule

Section 1. Cities may be chartered whenever a majority of electors of any town or borough having a population of at least ten thousand shall vote at any general or municipal election in favor of the same. Cities, or cities of any particular class, may be given the right and power to frame and adopt their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government, subject, however, to such restrictions, limitations, and regulations, as may be imposed by the Legislature. Laws also may be enacted effecting the organization and government of cities and boroughs which shall become effective in any city or borough only when submitted to the electors thereof, and approved by a majority of those voting thereon. (Amendment of November 7, 1922.)

Appropriations Must Precede Indebtedness

Section 4. The General Assembly is hereby authorized to provide for the consolidation of the county, poor districts, cities, boroughs and townships of the county of Allegheny, and the offices thereof, into a consolidated city and county, with the constitutional and legal capacity of a municipal corporation, to be known either as "Greater Pittsburgh" or "Metropolitan Pittsburgh" or "City of Pittsburgh (Metropolitan)," and to provide for a charter for its government, and to fix the name thereof in the charter. Section 1. Cities may be chartered whenever a majority of the electors of any town or borough having a population of at least ten thousand shall vote at any general election in favor of same.

electors voting thereon in each of a majority of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof, vote in the affirmative, the act shall take effect for the whole county.

If rejected, the said charter may be resubmitted by the county commissioners to the electors from time to time, but not oftener than once in two years, until adopted. Until a charter shall have been adopted as aforesaid, the General Assembly shall have the power to amend or modify the said charter, in which event the charter as amended or modified shall be submitted and resubmitted as aforesaid.

It shall be competent, subject to the police power of the State, for the Legislature to provide in said charter:

I. For the exercise by the consolidated city of all the powers and duties vested in the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and such other powers appropriate to a municipality as may be specified therein, except such powers as are specifically reserved by this section to the municipal divisions herein provided for.

II. For the election of a board of commissioners, by districts and/or at large, by the electors of the consolidated city, the number to be fixed by the charter, in lieu of present county commissioners, in which board shall be vested all the powers of the consolidated city except as otherwise provided in the charter.

III. For the organization of a government for the consolidated city, and for the appointment and/or election of any officers thereof, created by the Constitution, or otherwise, and to provide for their powers and duties.

IV. For the organization and reorganization of all courts, other than those of record, in the consolidated city, and for the appointment and/or election of the judges and officers thereof, and for the procedure thereof, including the right to provide that said court or courts be courts of record, which courts may exercise the jurisdiction, powers and rights of the magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace, and such other jurisdiction and powers as may be conferred by law.

V. For the transfer to and the assumption by the consolidated city of the property and indebtedness of the county of Allegheny, and poor districts thereof, and of such property and indebtedness of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof as relate to the powers and duties of said consolidated city, and to provide for an equitable adjustment and arrangement with respect thereto and for the payment of such indebtedness, and, for this purpose, any taxation therein, arising thereby, shall be uniform taxation within the meaning and intent of other provisions of the Constitution.

VI. For the assessment of property for taxation, the levying and collecting of taxes, and the payment of the cost of any public or municipal improvement, in whole or in part, by special assessment upon abutting and nonabutting property specially benefited thereby.

VII. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of districts for the purpose of regulating the location, height, area, bulk and use of building and premises.

VIII. For the creation of indebtedness by the consolidated city within the limits now or hereafter imposed upon cities by other provisions of the Constitution. Such power to create indebtedness shall not impair the power of the municipal divisions, within the consolidated city, to create indebtedness within the limits now or hereafter imposed upon such municipalities by other provisions of the Constitution.

IX. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of special districts for the purpose of carrying on or carrying out any public or municipal improvement, not for the exclusive benefit of any one municipal division; and, for the payment of the cost and maintenance of such property or improvement, or any part thereof, special taxes may be levied throughout such special districts, respectively, separate and apart from the general consolidated city tax.

X. For the exercise of such powers by the consolidated city as may be necessary to enable it to carry on and carry out such municipal and metropolitan powers and functions as the General Assembly may deem advisable and expedient and for the general welfare of the said city and its inhabitants.

Provided, however, That it is the intent of this section that substantial powers be reserved to the cities, boroughs and townships situated in Allegheny County. To this end, the charter shall provide for the continued existence of the said cities, boroughs and townships, as municipal divisions of the consolidated city under their present names and forms of government, subject to the laws now or hereafter provided for government of municipalities of their respective forms and classes and to the powers conferred upon the consolidated city by the charter, and with their present boundaries. Any two or more of said municipal divisions, or portions thereof, may, with the consent of a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of such divisions at any special or general election, be united to form a single municipal division. Wherever a portion of a municipal division is involved, the election shall be held in the entire municipal division of which the said portion is a part.

The said municipal divisions shall have and continue to have the following powers:

I. The constitutional and legal capacity of municipal corporations.

II. The power to levy and collect taxes and to incur indebtedness, subject to the limitations which are or may be imposed by law upon cities, boroughs, or townships of corresponding classification, for the purpose of carrying out any lawful power of said divisions.

III. The power to acquire, own, construct, maintain, operate or contract for all kinds of public property, works, improvements, utilities or services, which shall be within the municipal division and, where authorized by law, without the limits of the municipal division. Subject, however, to the right and power of the consolidated city to construct, acquire, maintain and/or operate public works, improvements, utilities and services of all kinds, including through streets, highways and/or bridges, for the use and benefit of the consolidated city and its inhabitants.

IV. The power to maintain a local police force and local fire department, either paid or volunteer, with the necessary buildings, appurtenances and equipment therefor, which may be independent of or supplemental to the police force and fire department of the consolidated city.

V. All other powers not specifically granted by the charter to the consolidated city: Provided, however, That a municipal division may surrender, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election, any of its powers to the consolidated city, subject to the acceptance thereof by the board of commissioners.

After a charter has been adopted as aforesaid, it may be amended as follows:

I. In matters which relate only to the powers of the consolidated city and which do not reduce the powers of any one or more of the municipal divisions thereof by the General Assembly: Provided, however, That any amendment which changes or modifies the form of government of the consolidated city, or the number of or manner of election of the commissioners thereof, shall not be effective until such amendment shall have been ratified by a majority of the electors of the consolidated city voting thereon at a general or special election to be provided for in said amendment.

II. In matters which reduce the powers of any one or more of the municipal divisions of the consolidated city, such amendment, enacted by the General Assembly, shall not be effective until it shall have been ratified at a general or special election, to be provided for in said amendment, by a majority of the electors voting thereon in all of the municipal divisions affected thereby, and by a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of said municipal divisions so affected. (Amendment of November 7, 1933.)

Acquisition of Land for Highway Construction

<sup>1</sup>Section 5. The General Assembly may authorize cities to take more land and property than is needed for actual construction in the laying out, widening, extending or relocating highways or streets connecting with bridges crossing streams or tunnels under streams which form boundaries between this and any other state, but the additional land and property, so authorized to be taken, shall not be more than sufficient to form suitable building sites on such highways or streets. Nor shall the authority hereby conferred be exercised in connection with the laying out, widening, extending or relocating of any highway or street at a point more than three miles distant from the approach to any such bridge or tunnel. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for such highways or streets as is needed therefor, the remainder may be sold or leased and any restrictions imposed thereupon which will preserve or enhance the benefit to the public of the property actually needed for the aforesaid public use. ## <sup>1</sup> SCHEDULE TO AMENDMENTS OF 1909

ADJUSTMENTS OF TERMS OF PUBLIC OFFICERS TO AMENDMENTS OF 1909

That no inconvenience may arise from the change in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared that—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All Justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

Land Title Registration

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State, or by the counties thereof, and for settling and determining adverse or other claims to and interest in lands the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured, and guaranteed; and for the creation and collection of indemnity funds; and for carrying the system and powers hereby provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature, and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In matters arising in and under the operation of such system, judicial powers, with right of appeal, may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it designated. Such laws may provide for continuing the registering, transferring, insuring, and guaranteeing, such titles after the first original registration has been perfected by the court, and provision may be made for raising the necessary funds for expenses and salaries of officers which shall be paid out of the treasury of the several counties.

HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA CONSTITUTIONS

CONSTITUTION OF 1776

The Constitution of Pennsylvania of 1776, was inspired by the following resolution passed by the Continental Congress:

"In Congress, May 15, 1776.

Whereas, His Britannic Majesty, in conjunction with the lords of commons of Great Britain, has by a late act of parliament, excluded the inhabitants of these United Colonies from the protection of his crown; And whereas, no answer whatever, to the humble petitions of the colonies for redress of grievances and reconciliation with Great Britain, has been, or is likely to be given, but the whole force of that kingdom, aided by foreign mercenaries, is to be exerted for the destruction of the good people of these colonies; and whereas it appears absolutely irreconcilable to reason and good conscience for the people of these colonies, now to take the oaths and affirmations necessary for the support of any government under the crown of Great Britain; and it is necessary that the exercise of every kind of authority, under the said crown should be totally suppressed, and all the powers of government exerted, under the authority of the people of the colonies, for the preservation of internal peace, virtue and good order, as well as for defense of their lives, liberties and properties, against the hostile invasions and cruel depredations of their enemies.

Therefore,
Resolved, That it be recommended to the respective assemblies and conventions of the United Colonies where no government sufficient to the exigencies of their affairs, has been hitherto established, to adopt such government as shall in the opinion of the representatives of the people, best conduce to the happiness and safety of their constituents in particular, and America in general.

By order of the Congress,
John HANCOCK, President."

In accordance with this resolution and a call issued thereunder by the committee of the city and liberties of Philadelphia, 103 deputies were appointed by the committee of the city of Philadelphia and the several counties of the province, to meet in provincial conference. Ninety-seven of the deputies convened at Carpenter's Hall, in Philadelphia, on June 18, and elected Thomas McKean president of the conference. They continued in session until June 25, 1776, and unanimously agreed that a provincial convention should be called for the purpose of forming a new government in the province, and fixed Monday, July 8, as the time for the election of the members of the convention.

The convention was composed of ninety-six members and was in session in Philadelphia from July 15 to September 28, 1776. Benjamin Franklin was president of the body, which provided for freedom from Great Britain and adopted a declaration of rights. The convention then set up a legislature of one house, an executive council of twelve with no power over legislation, and a council of censors to consider the state of the constitution every seven years. The "Bill of Rights and Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" adopted was committed to the charge of the Council of Safety, with directions to deliver the same to the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, at their first meeting immediately after they had chosen their speaker.

CONSTITUTION OF 1790

On March 24, 1789, the General Assembly (then consisting of but one House) adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved that in the opinion of this house alterations and amendments of the constitution of this state are immediately necessary * * * that a convention is necessary * * * That this house, on the pleasure of the people on the premises being signified to them at their next sitting will provide by law for the expenses, etc. * * *"

At the next sitting on September 15, 1789, the committee of the whole reported:

"That having taken effectual measures for satisfying themselves of the sense of the good people of this Commonwealth thereon they are well assured in the petitions referred to them, from inquiries made, and from information given by the several members, that a large majority of the citizens of this state are not only satisfied with the measures submitted to them by the house at their last session, but are desirous that the same should be carried into effect, in preference to a mode by the council of census which is not only unequal and unnecessarily expensive, but too dilatory to produce the speedy and necessary alterations which the late change in the political union and exigencies of the state require."

Pursuant to this report, on the same day, a resolution was adopted calling for the election of a constitutional convention to consist of a like number of members as composed the General Assembly, to convene in Philadelphia on the fourth Tuesday of November.

"* * * that, in the opinion of this house, a convention being chosen and met, it would be expedient, just and reasonable that the convention should publish their amendments and alterations for the consideration of the people and adjourn at least four months previous to confirmation."

Sixty-nine delegates were elected to this convention, which met on November 24, 1789 (Thomas Mifflin, President), and formulated the new constitution embodying a bicameral legislature; concentration of executive powers in the office of Governor, with qualified powers of veto over legislation; and a strengthening of the Bill of Rights. It then took a recess of "at least four months," to gather the sense of the people, reconvened, gave further consideration to complete its labors, declared the new constitution in effect, and adjourned sine die on September 2, 1790. The people never voted on the question of drafting this constitution, nor on its adoption, their franchise extending only to selection of the men who framed it.

CONSTITUTION OF 1838

By an act of the General Assembly approved April 14, 1835, the qualified electors were permitted to vote at the next following general election for or against calling a constitutional convention. The proposition was carried by the people. The act of March 29, 1836, prescribed the time of meeting of the convention and fixed Friday, November 4, 1836, as the day on which delegates should be elected. The convention was composed of 133 members, and assembled at the capitol at Harrisburg on May 2, 1837. John Sergeant, of Philadelphia, was elected president. On November 23, the convention adjourned to meet on November 28, in Musical Fund Hall, in Philadelphia, where on February 22, 1838, the amended Constitution was adopted and signed. It was submitted to the electors and ratified by them at an election held on October 9, 1838, there being 113,971 votes in favor of, and 112,759 against its adoption. The alteration and amendments went into effect on January 1, 1839, although few changes had been made due to the Panic of 1837, which intervened after the convention had been called. Amendments to this Constitution were adopted in 1850, 1857, 1864 and 1872.

1 CONSTITUTION OF 1874

By an act approved June 2, 1871, the question of calling a convention for the purpose of forming a new Constitution was submitted to the people on October 10, 1871, and was favorably decided by a vote of 316,097 for, and 69,715 against. The act regulating the holding of the convention was approved April 11, 1872. The number of delegates was fixed at one hundred and thirty-three, and they were elected on October 8, 1872. The convention met in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg on November 12, 1872, and adjourned November 27, to meet in Philadelphia, January 7, 1873, where the balance of its sessions were held. William M. Meredith, of Philadelphia, was elected president. He died August 17, 1873, during an adjournment. The convention, on reconvening September 16, elected as his successor John H. Walker, of Erie County, who had served during the previous sessions as president pro tem. On November 3, 1873, the convention finished its work of drafting the present Constitution. It was submitted to the people at an election held December 16, 1873, and adopted by a vote of 253,744 to 108,594. This Constitution went into effect January 1, 1874.

* AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION OF 1874

<sup>1</sup> At various times and places this, the present constitution, has been referred to as the "Constitution of 1873." This ambiguity is explained by the fact that it was adopted by the people at the November, 1873, elections, while it went into effect as of January 1, 1874. For the sake of clarity, the date 1874 will be used hereafter to identify the document.

* The amendments, and the original text, will be found in the Sections and Articles specified in the Constitution on the preceding pages.

Miss Penn

The statue on the dome of the State Capitol symbolizes the Commonwealth, just as the statue of Columbia on the national Capitol symbolizes the United States. The nickname of "Miss Penn" for this figure has given rise to the mistaken impression that it represents William Penn's daughter Letitia. This is not the case. The sculptor Roland Hinton Perry is authority for the statement that the statue represents the Commonwealth and that the staff which it holds is the staff of statehood while the right hand of the figure is extended in benediction.

LEGISLATIVE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

TIME OF MEETING

The General Assembly convenes annually on the first Tuesday of January at 12 o'clock noon. At regular sessions convening in even-numbered years the General Assembly shall not enact any laws except laws raising revenue and laws making appropriations.*

OFFICERS OF THE PRECEDING SESSION WHO ARE AUTHORIZED TO BE PRESENT AT THE ORGANIZATION OF THE LEGISLATURE

The Lieutenant-Governor who by the Constitution is made President of the Senate, presides at the opening of the Senate.

ORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE

At twelve o'clock M., on the day fixed for the meeting of the General Assembly, the twenty-five Senators whose terms of office have not expired and the twenty-five Senators elect, together with the returning officers of the Senate, assemble in the Senate Chamber and are called to order by the President of the Senate (the Lieutenant-Governor), in the following form: "This being the day fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, and there appearing to be present a sufficient number of the members of the Senate, together with a number of gentlemen elected to the Senate at the general election to constitute a quorum, the Senate will come to order."

The custom is to call upon the former chaplain or any minister of the Gospel who may be present to open the proceedings with prayer, after which the Secretary of the Commonwealth, being introduced by the Sergeant-at-Arms, presents to the Senate the returns of the election for Senators held at the previous November election. A motion is then made by a member of the Senate that the Clerk proceed to open and read the returns as presented, and upon said motion being agreed to, the Clerk performs said duty. Upon the completion of the reading of said returns the President orders the Clerk to call the roll of Senators by districts, each Senator when his name is called, signifying his presence by answering "present," after which the newly elected Senators present themselves in front of the Clerk's desk, when the requisite oath of office is administered to them by a Justice of the Supreme Court, or a judge of the Court of Common Pleas learned in the law, and is signed by the Senators in a book prepared for the purpose. It is customary for those who swear by the Bible to be sworn first; then those who swear by the uplifted hand; and lastly those who affirm.

The next proceeding is the election of the President pro tempore, a motion being made by one of the Senators that the Senate do now proceed to such election and that the clerks act as tellers; this being agreed to, the President announces that nominations for said office are in order. After the nominations have been made the clerks proceed with the election by calling the roll of the Senate, the Senators voting for their choice by a viva voce vote. The President announces the result of the vote and declares who has been elected; he then appoints a committee of two Senators (usually the defeated candidate, and the Senator who nominated the successful candidate) to escort the President pro tempore to the chair. The next order of business is the election of the Secretary and the other officers, after which the Senate is ready to proceed with any business that may be presented.

ORGANIZATION OF THE HOUSE

The members elected and returned together with the returning officers of the House of Representatives, meet in the Hall of the House of Representatives, on the day fixed for the meeting of the General Assembly, and at eleven o'clock A. M. of that day one of the oldest members, that is, one who has been a member for previous years and returned elected to the present session, announces from the Speaker's rostrum, "that the members of the House of Representatives will meet this day at twelve o'clock M., for the purpose of organization." When that time arrives the Clerk arises and says, "This being the day appointed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, and there appearing to be present a sufficient number of gentlemen elected members to constitute a quorum, the House will come to order."

Following the Invocation the Secretary of the Commonwealth presents himself at the bar of the House. The Sergeant-at-Arms immediately arises and announces: "The Secretary of the Commonwealth." The clerk then announces to the House, "The Secretary of the Commonwealth." When this is done, the Secretary of the Commonwealth advances a few feet within the bar of the House, and says, "Mr. Clerk, I have the honor to present the returns of the late election of members of the House of Representatives for the several cities and counties of this Commonwealth, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and laws relating to the elections of this Commonwealth."

As soon as the Secretary of the Commonwealth retires, some member rises in his place, and presents a resolution "that the returns of the elections be opened and read." This resolution being read by the Clerk, and agreed to by the House, the Clerk proceeds first, with the returns from the city of Philadelphia, and then with those of the several counties in the Commonwealth, in alphabetical order.

When the returns are all read, and the names of the members returned as such announced, the Clerk then calls over the roll of members alphabetically, each member, when his name is called, signifying his presence by answering "present." The oath of office is then administered by a Justice of the Supreme Court or a judge of the Court of Common Pleas learned in the law, and is signed in a book prepared for the purpose.

A resolution is then presented by a member, "that the members present do now, in conformity with the ninth section of the second article of the Constitution, proceed to the election of a Speaker." This being adopted by the House, nominations are made; after which the Clerk proceeds to call over the names of the members, each member announcing distinctly when his name is called, the person for whom he votes. When the call of the roll is gone through with, the clerks add up the number of votes given for each person voted for, and the result is announced to the House by the Chief Clerk. If any one candidate receives a majority of all the votes cast, he is declared elected Speaker.

The Chief Clerk and other officers of the House are then elected, after which Rules are adopted and the House is ready to proceed with the business of the Session. Committees on the part of the House are then appointed to notify the Senate and the Governor that the House is organized.

THE GENERAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE AND THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

There are certain duties pertaining to the offices of President and Speaker which are not necessary to be specified by rule, being so obviously proper and right as to be indisputable.

1. He calls the legislative body to order at the time fixed for the meeting, and ascertains the presence of a quorum.

2. He causes the journal of the preceding session to be read and passed upon by the body.

* See Article II, Section 4, of the Pennsylvania Constitution, as amended.

3. He announces the business and lays it before the body, in the order in which it is to be acted upon.

4. He recognizes members entitled to the floor.

5. He receives any propositions made by members and puts them to the legislative body and declares the determination of the body.

6. He decides all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the legislative body.

7. He preserves order and decorum in debate and at all other times.

8. He is representative of the body itself, in its powers, its proceedings and its dignity.

9. Under the rules he has the general direction of the hall.

10. He receives and announces to the legislative body all messages from other branches of the Government, and also any other appropriate communications.

11. He gives notices and signs in the presence of the body all acts, orders, addresses and joint resolutions.

12. When a legislative body is engaged in its judicial function, it is the duty of the presiding officers to conduct the proceedings, to put questions to parties and witnesses, and to pronounce the sentence or judgment.

13. When the legislative body is engaged in any of its high administrative functions, or in matters of state or ceremony, as, for example, when a member or other person is to be reprimanded or thanked, the presiding officer is the mouthpiece and organ of the body.

14. The President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House are always members, and may present petitions, memorials and remonstrances sent to them. They possess the right to vote as other members, on all questions before the body, and may leave the chair and address the body on any question. The President of the Senate is the Lieutenant-Governor, and he votes only when there is a tie on any question except the final passage of a bill.

BILLS IN PLACE OR INTRODUCED

All bills read in place in the Senate and introduced in the House of Representatives must be presented in triplicate. Before presenting a bill, it is the duty of the member to sign his name to each copy and insert the date of introduction.

FORM OF INDORSEMENT ON BILL COVER:

(Senate or H. R. No.)

Title of the Bill.

Name of the Member.

Date.

In the Senate when the order of business of reading bills in place is reached the Senator who desires to present a bill arises, and, addressing the Chair, says: "Mr. President, I read in my place and present to the Chair, a bill." The President says: "The Senator from . . . County, Mr. . . . reads in his place and presents to the Chair a bill, the title of which the clerk will read" (the title is read), "This bill is referred to the Committee on . . ."

To expedite the business of the House of Representatives, a Member who desires to introduce a bill, first indorses the same as described above and then deposits it, together with the two duplicates properly indorsed, with the Chief Clerk. At the close of each day the Chief Clerk presents all the bills that have been left in his custody during the day to the Speaker for reference by him to appropriate committees. The next succeeding legislative day after the Journal has been approved the bills are reported to the House by the Speaker, with the appropriate committee references written thereon.

All bills and joint resolutions presented in either the Senate or House of Representatives must be presented in triplicate—one copy for the committee, one for press and one for the printer.

RESOLUTIONS

In general, the parliamentary meaning of "resolution" is the expression of the will of the Senate or House in regard to any subject before it, either public or private; as, for example, that the use of the hall be granted for a particular purpose; that the Senate or House will adjourn at a particular time; that certain companies be required to furnish statements, et cetera. If information is desired from any of the departments, or from the Executive, the resolution assumes the form of a request, as for example: "Resolved, That the Auditor General be requested to furnish the Senate or House with a statement," et cetera.

This, however, is but an expression of will; the Senate or House, by the resolution doing nothing more than declaring it to be its will that the Auditor General furnish the statement.

When a member is desirous of bringing before the Senate or House any proposition for its determination, he presents it in the form of a written resolution, and as soon as the President announces that "original resolutions are now in order in the Senate," he arises in his place and says, "Mr. President, I offer the following resolution." The President then says, "The Senator from . . . County offers the following resolution. The resolution will be read by the Clerk."

As soon as the Senate has agreed to the second reading of the resolution, and it has been read by the Clerk, if it be a resolution that can be considered without reference to a committee, it is then subject to amendment, and the amendment while under consideration, is also subject to amendment; but there can be no amendment of an amendment, to an amendment, because this would be an amendment in the third degree, and would tend rather to embarrass than facilitate business. If the resolution contains two or more distinct propositions, it may be divided and a vote had in each division separately. A resolution may be amended by striking out all after the word "Resolved," and inserting different matter, if upon the same subject as the original resolution.

In the Senate, resolutions on the following subjects, after being twice read, must be referred to an appropriate committee without debate (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct), and, if favorably reported by the committee, shall lie over for one day for consideration, after which they may be called up under their appropriate order of business, viz.: All Senate and House concurrent resolutions (excepting resolutions in reference to adjournments and those recalling bills from Governor, which are regarded as privileged); resolutions containing calls for information from the heads of departments, or to alter the rules; and resolutions giving rise to debate, (except such as relate to the disposition of matters immediately before the Senate, to the business of the day on which offered, and to adjournment or taking a recess).

In the House all resolutions (except those privileged under the Rules) are introduced by Members filing them with the Chief Clerk. They are then referred to appropriate committees by the Speaker. When a resolution is reported from committee it may be called up for consideration under the regular order of business for resolutions. All non-privileged resolutions are printed when reported from committee. The only resolutions which are considered privileged and receive the immediate consideration of the House are those:

Recalling from or returning bills to the Governor.
Recalling from or returning bills to the Senate.

Originated by the Committee on Rules.

Providing for a Joint Session of the Senate and House and its procedure.

Discharging committees from consideration of bills and resolutions.

Placing bills negatived by committees on the calendar.

Of sympathy or congratulations, only when they relate to Members and officers of this House and their respective families.

Adjournment or recess.

It is not customary in the House to read non-privileged resolutions a second time unless it is requested by a Member, for the reason that they are printed and placed in the file of each Member and giving him ample opportunity to familiarize himself with it.

Joint resolutions, being in the nature of bills, cannot be submitted to the House under the head of original resolutions. They are deposited with the Chief Clerk, who presents them to the Speaker for reference to committees, after which they follow the same procedure as bills.

Concurrent resolutions are those on which the action of both Senate and House are required, and are treated in each body the same as original resolutions.

LETTERS, PETITIONS, ET CETERA

If a letter, petition, memorial or remonstrance be sent to a member to be presented by him to the Senate or House, his first duty is to fold it up if possible in a neat form (about three and one-half inches by eight and one-half inches) and write on the back in brief, the subject on which it treats, and immediately above this statement he signs his name, gives the name of his county, and the date. For example, a member has a petition for the passage of a bill, et cetera, he indorses it in this way: "The petition of the inhabitants of ..... praying," et cetera.

INDORSEMENT OF PETITION:

Sen. (or H. R.)

In the House of Representatives all petitions, letters, memorials or remonstrances after being properly indorsed are filed by the member with the Chief Clerk, who presents them to the presiding officers, by whom they are referred to appropriate committees.

ACTION ON BILLS BY STANDING COMMITTEES

When a bill has been referred to a standing committee for its consideration, the committee, as soon as it has completed the examination, makes a report of the result of its deliberations to the House and this report varies according to the circumstances of the case.

Suppose, for example, a bill has been, in the usual course of business, referred to the appropriate committee. Should the committee agree to report the bill affirmatively, it would assign it to one of its members to be reported, endorsing thereon his name, the name of the committee and the words "as committed." In case the committee made amendments, he would then endorse on the bill the words "as amended." If a committee recommended that a bill be negatived, he endorses on it the words "neg. rec."

AMENDING BILLS IN COMMITTEE

Whenever a committee to whom a bill has been referred for their consideration makes amendments to it, they should be typewritten and securely attached to the bill. Amendments are usually prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau when requested by the committees.

ACTION ON BILLS IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE

When a bill is reported from committee in the Senate, it is not reprinted unless amended. Bills are usually read for the first time in the Senate on the day they are reported from committee. This is done by motion to read all bills reported from committee for the first time.

When a bill has been reported by a committee in the House, it is reprinted and placed on the calendar of bills on first reading, is read the first time at length, and under the rules cannot be amended or debated, but is simply agreed to and laid aside for second reading. When the order is reached on bills on second reading, the President or the Speaker announces the number and directs the Clerk to read the first section, after which he puts the question upon the section and so on through the whole bill. As each section comes up, it is subject to debate and amendment.

When the last section has been agreed to, the next question is upon the title; that being agreed to, the next step is the transcribing of the bill, and the President or Speaker says, "This bill has now been read a second time, considered and agreed to; the question will be on transcribing the bill for a third reading. Shall the bill be transcribed?" This is usually agreed to, but should opposition to it be manifested, the President or Speaker must take the sense of the body regularly upon it, for the form stated has only been adopted to save time on a question which in most cases, is never opposed. The bill being thus ordered to be transcribed, lies over and comes up on the calendar of bills on third reading.

When a bill is reached on third reading, after the bill has been read through, the President or Speaker says, "This bill has now been read a third time; the question is on agreeing to the bill a third time." If agreed to, the next question is on its final passage, when the President or Speaker says "This bill has been read three times at length on three different days, considered and agreed to, the question is now on its final passage. Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays will be taken on the final passage of the bill." If the bill passes, an order follows, of course, which should always be stated by the Speaker in the case of House bills, "The Clerk will present the same to the Senate for concurrence"; in the case of Senate bills without amendment, "The Clerk will return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment"; in case of Senate bills with amendments, "The Clerk will return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested." If the bill considered should be a Senate bill, and not a House bill, the same proceedings are had, and the form varies in only two particulars: The first is after the title is agreed to on the second reading, instead of the Speaker saying, as in the case of House bills, "Shall the bill be transcribed for a third reading?" he says, "Shall the bill be prepared for a third reading?" because the bill was transcribed before it came from the Senate, each House transcribing its own bills; and second, when the bill comes up on third reading, instead of saying, "This bill has now been read a third time," he says "This bill originated in the Senate; it has been read three times at length and agreed to, the question is on its final passage," and then orders the yeas and nays to be called on the final passage of the bill. In the Senate the same form is followed with House bills.

When a bill in the House is on third reading, suppose it is desirable still further to amend it, the member desirous of doing so arises in his place, and says, "Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be committed to the Committee of the Whole House, for the purpose of amending the same as follows, viz.:" (Here he states the amendment.) If this motion is decided in the affirmative, the House then resolves itself into Committee of the Whole, and the amendment is inserted, and the chairman as in other cases, leaves the chair, goes back to his seat, and says, "Mr. Speaker, the Committee of the Whole House to which was committed, for special amendment, Bill No. . . . . entitled, 'An act . . . . . has instructed its chairman to report the same amended in accordance with the instructions of the House,' and if no further motions of a like character should be made, the question of agreeing to the bill on third reading, is then taken, and the result announced. But if the member desires that the whole bill should be open in committee for amendment, he moves "that the bill be committed to the Committee of the Whole House for general amendment"; and if this motion should be adopted and the bill be so committed, and amendments are made, the chairman merely reports the bill "with amendments"; the Speaker then resumes the chair and puts the question "Will the House agree to the report of the committee?" After decision, the question is again put on agreeing to the bill the third time.

Very similar action is had in the Senate, except when general amendments have been made in Committee of the Whole, and the report is agreed to, the question is put, "Will the Senate agree to the bill as amended?"

A bill in the Senate may also be amended by obtaining unanimous consent, thereby avoiding the necessity of reference to and consideration by the committee of the whole. Amendments to bills in the House on third reading may be considered by unanimous consent or by a majority vote of the members elected.

In case a bill has been amended upon its second or third reading it must be printed with the amendments, before the vote is taken on its final passage.

FORMS OF MESSAGES FROM ONE BODY TO THE OTHER

When the Clerk has but one bill to take from the House to the Senate for concurrence the form is:

"The Clerk of the House of Representatives (being introduced) presented for concurrence, Bill No. 1, entitled 'An act for the protection of laborers.'

If there be two or more bills, the form is:

"The Clerk of the House of Representatives (being introduced) presented for concurrence, bills numbered and entitled as follows:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers.'

"No. 2. 'An act relative to insurance companies.'"

If there be in connection with bills for concurrence, Senate bills, without amendment, the form is:

"The Clerk of the House of Representatives (being introduced) presented for concurrence, bills numbered and entitled as follows:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers.'

"No. 2. 'An act relative to insurance companies.'

"He also returned bills from the Senate, numbered and entitled as follows:

"No. 20. 'An act relative to brokers.'

"No. 21. 'An act relative to banks.'

"With information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment."

If the Senate bills have amendments, the form is:

"The Clerk of the House of Representatives (being introduced) presented for concurrence, bills numbered and entitled as follows:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers.'

"No. 2. 'An act relative to insurance companies.'

"He also returned bills from the Senate, numbered and entitled as follows:

"No. 20. 'An act relative to brokers.'

"No. 21. 'An act relative to banks.'

"With information that the House of Representatives has passed the same with an amendment (or amendments) in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested."

But suppose the Senate has passed a bill from the House, No. 1, for example, with amendments, and the House has concurred in them, the following would be added to the above message:

"He also informed the Senate that the House of Representatives has concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to the bill from the House of Representatives, entitled:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers.'"

Should the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate to the bill then the information is the same, except that the word non-concurred is used instead of concurred.

If the House, however, concurs in the Senate amendments with an amendment, the information in the message is:

"He also informed the Senate that the House of Representatives has concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to the bill from the House of Representatives, entitled:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers.'

"With an amendment (or amendments) in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested."

But suppose the House should concur in one amendment made by the Senate to the bill and non-concur in the other, the information to be given would be:

"He also informed the Senate that the House of Representatives has non-concurred in the first amendment made by the Senate to the bill from the House of Representatives, entitled:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers,' and has concurred in the second."

And if the House should concur with an amendment, then is added: "And has concurred in the second, with an amendment in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested."

Suppose again, that the House of Representatives concur in the amendments made by the Senate to amendments made by the House of Representatives to said bill, the information would be:

"He also informed the Senate that the House of Representatives has concurred in the amendment made by the Senate to the amendments made by the House of Representatives to bill from the House of Representatives, entitled:

"No. 1. 'An act for the protection of laborers.'"

And if the House should non-concur, then the message varies accordingly.

If, in all these cases, the House or Senate should recede, insist or adhere to any amendments made by them, respectively, to a bill then the form used is precisely the same as those already given, except the words recede, insist or adhere, are used, as the case may be.

If the House insists, then follows the appointment of a committee of conference, and the information to be given is:

"He informed the Senate that the House of Representatives insists upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the Senate, to the bill from the House of Representatives, No. 1, entitled (here, state the title) and has appointed Messrs. A. B. and C. a committee of conference, to confer with a similar committee of the Senate; if the Senate should appoint such committee, on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses on said bill."

If the Senate should have already appointed a committee, then the words used, instead of "if the Senate should appoint a committee," change the form to suit the circumstances.

If the House should pass a resolution, which requires the concurrence of the Senate, the form of the message is:

"The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives:"

(Here follows the resolution, with the date of its passage.)

The same form is used by the Clerk of the Senate, using the word "Senate," instead of "House of Representatives," et cetera.

CERTIFICATES ATTACHED TO BILLS PASSED OVER VETO, AND TO BILLS HELD TEN DAYS

The following forms are used when bills become laws, in any of the modes prescribed by the Constitution, other than by the approval of the Governor.

When a bill has not been returned by the Governor within ten days after it has been presented to him for his approval, the following certificate is attached, which, the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives both sign, the clerk of the body in which the bill originated signing first, and they send the bill to the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

"We do certify that the bill (here insert title) was presented to the Governor on the ..... day of ....., one thousand nine hundred and ....., and was not returned within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it had been presented to him; wherefore it has, agreeably to the Constitution of this Commonwealth, become a law in like manner as if he had signed it.

"Clerk of the House of Representatives.

"Clerk of the Senate.

"Harrisburg (date)."

When a bill has been disapproved by the Governor and both bodies have passed it by the constitutional majority of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, there must be two certificates, one for each body signed by the Speaker and clerks, as follows:

"We do certify that the bill, entitled (here insert title), which has been disapproved by the Governor, and returned with his objections to the House of Representatives (or Senate), in which it originated, was passed by two-thirds of all the members elected to the House of Representatives on the ..... day of ....., one thousand nine hundred and ....., and the foregoing is the act so passed by the House.

"Speaker of the House of Representatives.

"Clerk of the House of Representatives.

"Harrisburg (date)."

"We do certify that the bill (here insert title), which has been disapproved by the Governor, and returned with his objections to the House of Representatives (or Senate), in which it originated, was passed by two-thirds of all the members elected to the Senate on the ..... day of ....., one thousand nine hundred and ....., and the foregoing is the act so passed by the Senate.

"President of the Senate.

"Clerk of the Senate.

"Harrisburg (date)."

The Speaker and Clerk of the body in which the bill originated sign the first certificate and then the President and the Clerk of the other body the second.

OATH OF PUBLIC OFFICERS

The oath required by the Constitution to be administered to Senators and Representatives, Judicial, State and county officers, is as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and that I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity; that I have not paid or contributed, or promised to pay or contribute, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing, to procure my nomination or election (or appointment), except for necessary and proper expenses expressly authorized by law; that I have not knowingly violated any election law of this Commonwealth, or procured it to be done by others in my behalf; that I will not knowingly receive, directly or indirectly, any money or valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act or duty pertaining to my office other than the compensation allowed by law."

The foregoing oath shall be administered by some person authorized to administer oaths, and in case of State officers, Justices of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Superior Court shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and in case of the other judicial and county officers, in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which the same is taken. The oath to the members of the Senate and House of Representatives shall be administered by one of the Justices of the Supreme Court, or by a judge of the court of common pleas, learned in the law, in the Hall of the body to which the members shall be elected.

COUNTING THE VOTE FOR STATE ELECTIVE OFFICERS

When the General Assembly meets after an election for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor General, State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs, the two bodies, by a resolution, fix the time and place for opening and publishing the returns of the election. The time is usually the day the General Assembly organizes, and the place—the House of Representatives, in the presence of the two bodies. Each body appoints a Teller and notifies the other in advance of the meeting.

A committee from the House of Representatives waits on the Senate a few minutes before the meeting, and escorts the President and members of the Senate to the place of meeting, when the President of the Senate, or in his absence, the President pro tempore takes the chair of the Speaker of the House, and, after order is restored, says, "This being the day and hour agreed upon for opening and publishing the returns of the election for Governor (held on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November last), the clerk of the Senate will read over the returns from the several counties and the tellers take down the number of votes given for each person voted for as Governor." The clerk then proceeds to read aloud the returns, and the tellers to note down the number of votes, and so on until all the returns from the several counties are read over. A computation is then made. When this is done the result is announced by the President of the Senate, and the certificate of election signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives and attested by the tellers, as follows:

FORM OF CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION OF STATE OFFICERS:

"We, the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do certify that the President of the Senate, did on the ..... day of ....., A. D. one thousand nine hundred and ....., in the Hall of the House of Representatives at the State Capitol, open the returns of the election for Governor of this Commonwealth, and publish the same in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly, conformably to the provisions of the Constitution and law of said Commonwealth, and upon counting the votes by a teller appointed on the part of each House it appeared that ..... had the highest numbers of votes; whereupon the said ..... was declared to have been duly elected Governor of the Commonwealth.

"In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and affixed our seals the day and year above written.

"..... (Seal)
"..... (Seal)"

DISPOSITION OF CERTIFICATE

This certificate is to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and a duplicate, signed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives, and attested by the tellers, transmitted to the Governor-elect.

ACTION AFTER RETURNS ARE ANNOUNCED AND CERTIFICATES SIGNED

The committee of introduction then conducts the President and members of the Senate to their Chamber and retire. The tellers make out a report of the number of votes given for each person voted for, including a copy of the certificate, and this report is made to the Senate and House, respectively, and entered on the Journals. The same form of proceeding is followed in counting the vote for Lieutenant-Governor, State Treasurer, Auditor General and Secretary of Internal Affairs.

INAUGURATION OF GOVERNOR AND LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

The oath of office is administered to the Governor in the presence of the General Assembly and officers of the Commonwealth, by some person authorized to administer oaths (usually the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court), on the third Tuesday of January following his election.

The Lieutenant-Governor takes the oath of office on the same day in the presence of the Senate in the Senate Chamber, but prior to the induction of the Governor.

It shall be his duty to preserve order, prevent personal reflections, confine members in debate to the question and when two or more members rise at the same time, decide who shall be the first heard; but an appeal in all such cases shall lie to the Senate, and a member called to order may extenuate or justify.

Decorum and Debate

4. Members speaking shall address the President, and when presenting a paper shall first state its import. Members shall not speak more than twice on any question without permission of the Senate, nor be interrupted when speaking, except by a call to order by the President, or by a member through the President, or by a call for the previous question.

Motions

5. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall, before debate, be stated by the President. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the President or any member require it; but a motion may be withdrawn by the member making it before amendment, postponement, an order to lie on the table, or decision.

To Be Entered on Journal

6. Every motion shall be entered on the Journal together with the name of the member making it unless it should be subsequently withdrawn.

Question When Interrupted

7. A question regularly before the Senate can be interrupted only by a call for the previous question, for amendment, postponement, to lay on the table, commitment, or adjournment.

Motion to Adjourn—When in Order

8. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, excepting when on the call for the previous question, the main question shall have been ordered to be now put, or when a member has the floor and shall be decided without debate.

Order of Motions—Debates on the Previous Question.

9. Motions shall take precedence in the following order:

  - l. A main motion.

The motion to adjourn, the motion for the previous question, the motion to recess, the motion to lay on the table, the motion to postpone (other than indefinite postponement), the motion to commit, shall preclude debate on the original subject. The previous question shall be moved by not less than four members.

Questions Following

10. When a call for the previous question has been made and sustained, the question shall be upon pending amendments and the main question, in their regular order, and all incidental questions of order arising after a motion for the previous question has been made, and pending such motion shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Debate on Question of Order

11. No debate shall be allowed on questions of order, unless there be an appeal, or reference by the President to the Senate. And on such appeal or reference no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate.

Filling Up Blanks

12. On filling up blanks the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, greatest number, and most distant day.

Powers and Duties of President Pro Tempore

13. In the absence of the President, the President pro tempore shall exercise all the powers and perform all the duties of the President. On all questions, the President pro tempore shall vote last when occupying the chair.

Signing of Bills, Et Cetera, by the President

14. Acts, orders, addresses, and joint resolutions shall be signed by the President in the presence of the Senate, after their titles have been publicly read, and the fact of signing shall be entered on the Journal; and writs, warrants, and subpoenas issued by the Senate shall be signed by him and attested by the clerk.

When Member May Preside

15. During a session of the Senate either the President or the President pro tempore, the other officer being absent, may name a member to fill the duties of the chair temporarily, but the Senate may choose another member to preside during the absence of the President and President pro tempore, if it so desire.

Reconsideration

16. When a question has once been made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any two members of the majority to move the reconsideration thereof. When the Senate has been equally divided on a question, or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, it shall be in order for any two who voted in the negative to move the reconsideration thereof.

Provided, however, that no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, report, amendment or motion upon which the vote was taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate.

Provided, further, that no motion for reconsideration shall be in order unless made on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next five days of actual session of the Senate thereafter.

Bills

17. Every bill shall be read at length on three different days in open Senate. All amendments thereto shall be printed and laid on the desks of Senators before the final vote is taken on the bill. No amendments shall be permitted to a bill on third reading except by unanimous consent. The final vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and the names of the persons voting for and against the same be entered on the Journal. No bill shall be declared passed, or signed by the President unless a majority of all the Senators elected to the Senate shall be recorded as voting for the same.

Amendments

18. No amendment shall be received by the President which destroys the general sense of the original section, clause, or paragraph. No amendment to bills by the House shall be concurred in by the Senate, except by the vote of a majority of the members elected thereto, taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the Journal thereof.

Committee of the Whole

19. The Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole at any time on the motion of a Senator duly seconded and agreed to by a majority of those voting. All amendments made in Committee of the Whole, shall be reported by the Chairman to the Senate, and shall by him be moved to be inserted, and if adopted shall then be entered on the Journal. Every bill shall be read at length in Committee of the Whole, and such reading shall be considered one of the readings required by the Constitution.

Report of Conference Committee

20. Every report of a committee of conference shall be printed together with the bill as amended by the committee, before action shall be had on such report.

Concurrence in Amendments of the House

21. That the vote on concurring in bills amended by the House or on adopting reports of committees of conference, shall not be taken until said bills and reports have been placed on the files of Senators and particularly referred to on their calendars.

Appropriation Bills for Charitable Purposes

22. No bills appropriating money for charitable or benevolent purposes shall be considered finally until after the general appropriation bill shall have been reported from committee.

The President pro tempore shall be ex officio a member of all Standing Committees and included in the number of committee members herein provided.

The members and the Chairman of the said Standing Committees shall be appointed by the President pro tempore as soon after his election as possible. All vacancies occurring in said committees by resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the President pro tempore.

The President pro tempore shall, during the regular session convening in even-numbered years, appoint a Committee on Legislation consisting of two Senators from the majority party and two Senators from the minority party. The President pro tempore shall be ex officio a member of the Committee on Legislation and shall not be included in the number of committee members herein provided.

Duties of Members of Committee

24. Every member of a committee shall attend the call of the chairman, who shall be the first-named person on such committee; and in case of his neglect to call the committee together or in case of his absence by sickness or other cause, the committee shall attend the call of the next person named on the committee.

Rules in Committee of the Whole

25. The rules and proceedings of the Senate shall be observed, in the Committee of the Whole, excepting that a member may speak oftener than twice on the same subject. #### Absence

26. No member shall absent himself without leave of the Senate, first obtained, unless prevented from attending by sickness, or other sufficient cause.

Files of the Senate

27. The files of the Senate may be inspected by the members, but no paper shall be withdrawn therefrom without the consent of the Senate.

Who Privileged to the Floor of the Senate

28. No person shall be admitted within the Senate Chamber (galleries excepted) during its sessions, unless invited by the President or a member of the Senate, except the members and officers of the two branches of the Legislature, the Governor, heads of departments, ex-members of the Legislature, and stenographers to report proceedings of the Senate for publication, under the direction of the President pro tempore. No person or persons shall be permitted to occupy the seats of Senators or pass across the floor of the Senate when the Senate is in session; nor shall any person or persons, at any time, be permitted to enter the room of the transcribing clerks or pass before the President. All obstructions in, and passing across the enclosed space are prohibited.

Dispensing With Rules

29. The consent of a majority of the members elected shall be necessary to suspend any rule except that part of Rule 38 which requires unanimous consent to be given to consider the confirmation of a nomination which has been reported from a committee on that day shall not be suspended.

The consent of a majority of all members elected to the Senate shall be necessary to alter, change or amend these rules.

Division of a Question

30. Any Senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away from the rest may stand entire for the decision of the Senate. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

Reference of Bills

31. Every bill and joint resolution which may be received from the House of Representatives, or which may be read by a Senator in his place, shall, after being presented to the chair, be referred by the President to the appropriate committee, at his convenience but not later than the succeeding legislative day.

31.1. All bills introduced during a regular session convening in an even-numbered year shall be either bills raising revenue or bills making appropriations.

A bill is a bill raising revenue when its primary purpose is to produce income to the State Treasury for use by the State, through taxation, license fees, regulatory fees, special assessments, rentals, royalties or from any other source through which the State may lawfully exact revenue. It may increase or decrease the revenue derived from any source, eliminate any source of revenue, or provide for a new source of revenue. It may contain such provisions of a regulatory character, or provisions making changes in existing law, which are incidental to its primary purpose.

A bill is a bill making an appropriation when its primary and specific purpose is to make expenditure of money from the State Treasury, and which contains no provisions of law other than those which may be lawfully imposed as conditions upon which such money may be expended.

Bills introduced during a regular session convening in an even numbered year shall be numbered consecutively and shall be referred by the President to the Committee on Legislation immediately upon introduction or not later than the succeeding legislative day. If in the opinion of the Committee on Legislation the bill is in accordance with the above definitions, it shall within three legislative days, report the bill to the floor for re-reference by the President to the appropriate Committee, at which time it shall be printed.

Any bill not reported within three legislative days shall be deemed not to be in accordance with this rule. Any bill may be referred to an appropriate Committee upon a motion made and carried by a majority of the Senators elected to the Senate.

This rule shall be deemed to abrogate all other rules of the Senate to the extent that such other rules are inconsistent herewith.

Character of Bills Read in Place, Et Cetera

32. No member shall read in place, nor shall any committee, either standing or select, report any bill for the action of the Senate, granting corporate powers in any case, when the authority of granting such powers has been conferred upon any of the courts of this Commonwealth; or proposing to legislate upon any of the subjects prohibited by the seventh section of the third article of the Constitution; nor shall any bill be read in place or reported from a committee, receiving, amending, or extending the provisions of any law; by reference to its title only, but the whole shall be re-enacted in words by such bill.

Committee of the Whole on a Bill on Third Reading

33. When the Senate shall resolve to go into Committee of the Whole, the question before the Senate, when the President shall have assumed the chair and the chairman of the committee has made a report, shall be "Will the Senate agree to the report of the committee?"

Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure to Govern Senate

34. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern the Senate in all cases in which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate and the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

When Less Than a Quorum Is Present

35. When, upon a call, which may be demanded by not less than four Senators, it is found that less than a quorum is present, it shall be the duty of the President to order the doors of the Senate to be closed, and to direct the clerk to call the roll of the Senate and note the absentees after which the names of the absentees shall be again called, and those for whose absence no excuse or an insufficient excuse is made, may by order of a majority of the Senators present, be sent for and taken into custody by the sergeant-at-arms, or his assistants appointed for the purpose, and brought before the bar of the Senate, where, unless excused by a majority of the Senators present they shall be reproved by the President for neglect of duty.

When Less Than a Quorum Vote But Present

36. When less than a quorum vote upon any subject under the consideration of the Senate not less than four Senators may demand a call of the Senate, when it shall be the duty of the President forthwith to order the doors of the Senate to be closed, the roll of the Senators to be called, and if it is ascertained that a quorum is present, either by answering to their names, or by their presence in the Senate, the President shall again order the yeas and nays, and if any Senator or Senators present refuse to vote the name or names of such Senator or Senators shall be entered on the Journal as "present but not voting," and such refusal to vote shall be deemed a contempt, and, unless purged, the President shall direct the sergeant-at-arms to bring such Senator or Senators before the bar of the Senate, where he or they shall be publicly reprimanded by the President.

Prohibited Legislation

37. No law shall be passed except by bill and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through the Senate as to change its original purpose. No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the members. No local or special bill shall be reported unless the same be accompanied by proof of the publication of the notice thereof, in accordance with law, and of section eight of article three of the Constitution; and proof of such publication shall be certified to by the President or secretary of the committee reporting the bill.

Executive Nominations

38. When nominations shall be made by the Governor to the Senate, they shall after being read by the Chief Clerk, without a motion, be referred by the presiding officer to appropriate committee (except nominations for Notaries Public and Commissioners of Deeds which may be confirmed forthwith), and after having been reported by the committee, the final question on every nomination shall be: "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" Which question shall not be put on the day on which the nomination or nominations are reported from committee, unless by unanimous consent.

All information communicated or remarks made by a Senator when acting upon nominations in committee, concerning the character or qualifications of the person nominated, shall be kept secret. If, however, charges shall be made against a person nominated, the committee may, in its discretion, notify such nominee thereof, but the name of the person making such charges shall not be disclosed.

When the consideration of executive nominations is reached in the order of business, a Senator may make a motion to go into executive session for the purpose of confirming the nominations which have been reported from a committee at a previous session, and, if unanimous consent be given, also those which may be reported on the day the motion is made; and on the motion being agreed to, such nomination or nominations shall be considered the first order of the day until finally disposed of, unless the same shall be postponed by a majority of the Senate; but such business when once commenced shall not be postponed for more than five days, except in case of an adjournment of the Senate for a longer period.

When in executive session, no message shall be received from the Governor, unless it be relative to the nomination under consideration, nor from the House of Representatives, nor shall any other business be considered, except executive business, and the executive session shall not adjourn pending the consideration of the nomination until a time fixed by a majority vote of those present for the next meeting of the executive session to resume the consideration thereof.

When a nomination is confirmed or rejected by the Senate, any two Senators, voting with the majority, may move for a reconsideration on the same day on which the vote was taken, or on either of the next two days of actual session of the Senate; but if a notification of the confirmation or rejection of a nomination shall have been sent to the Governor before the expiration of the time within which a motion to reconsider may be made, the motion to reconsider shall be accompanied by a motion to request the Governor to return such notification to the Senate. A motion to reconsider the vote on a nomination may be laid on the table without prejudice to the nomination.

Resolutions

39. The following resolutions after they have been read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct) and if favorably reported by the committee, shall lie over one day for consideration, after which they may be called up as, of course, under their appropriate order of business:

All Senate and House concurrent resolutions, excepting resolutions in reference to adjournments and those recalling bill from the Governor which shall be regarded as privileged;

Resolutions containing calls for information from the heads of departments, or to alter the rules;

Resolutions giving rise to debate, except such as relate to the disposition of matters immediately before the Senate, such as relate to the business of the day on which they are offered, and such as relate to adjournment or taking a recess.

Resolutions except congratulatory, condolence, adjournment (except sine die), recalling bills from the Governor and procedural resolutions shall be printed in the Senate History.

Loquing in Senate Prohibited

40. That the Librarian of the Senate be directed to keep the doors of the Senate chamber closed on Sunday to all persons except persons who are entitled under the twenty-eighth rule of the Senate; and that he be directed to call on any officer of the Senate to aid him in enforcing this order; and that on other days when the Senate is not in session the officers are hereby required to strictly prohibit any loquing within the Senate chamber by any person not connected with the Legislature, and that henceforth no officer be permitted to occupy the seat of a Senator at any time; that it shall be the duty of the President to see that this rule is enforced, and a persistent disregard of it by any officer shall be cause of dismissal by the President.

Bills Requiring a Two-thirds Vote

41. When bills which require a two-thirds vote are under consideration the concurrence of two-thirds of all the Senators elected shall not be requisite to decide any question or amendment short of the final question; and on any other question short of the final one, a majority of Senators voting shall be sufficient to pass the same.

When Constitutional Majority Not Required

42. When bills which require a vote of the majority of all Senators elected are under consideration, the concurrence of a majority of all the Senators elected shall not be requisite to decide any question or amendment short of the final question; and on any question short of a final one a majority of Senators voting shall be sufficient to pass the same.

Discharging Committees

43. No committee shall be discharged from consideration of any measure within ten calendar days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate or after such ten-day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate.

Negative Bills

44. A majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be required to place upon the calendar a bill reported with a negative recommendation.

Direction of Officers and Employees

45. All officers and employees of the Senate shall be subject to the order and direction of the Chief Clerk, who shall obey the direction and orders of the President and President pro tempore respectively, relative to the conduct of all business of the Senate.

Bills to Be Printed When Introduced, and Weekly History Prepared

46. All bills when introduced in the Senate shall be numbered consecutively, and printed on pink paper. A weekly History showing the status of all bills shall be prepared by the Secretary for the use of the Senate.

Newspaper Correspondents

47. (a) Any person accorded the privileges of a newspaper correspondent must be the telegraphic correspondent of a daily newspaper, or of a recognized press association, who is not engaged in any department of the State government, or in any other business, or must be the official reporter for a Harrisburg daily newspaper; and no more than one representative of each newspaper shall be admitted to the press gallery at one time.

(b) All applications for admission to the press gallery must be made to the President pro tempore. Such application shall state the name of the newspaper, its location, times of publication, and be signed by the applicant.

(c) The President pro tempore shall verify the statements made in such application, and if the application is approved by him, he shall issue a correspondent's card, signed by him and by the President of the Correspondent's Association.

(d) The correspondents shall not visit Members in their seats during the sessions of the Senate, and shall abide by such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Rules Committee of the Senate.

(e) The card issued by the President pro tempore must be presented when required by any Sergeant-at-Arms. It shall not be transferable. The transfer or loan of such card to any one shall be followed by its cancellation and the withdrawal of all its privileges from the correspondent so offending.

(f) The gallery allotted to newspaper correspondents shall be for their exclusive use and persons not holding correspondents' cards shall not be entitled to admission thereto.

48. All bills shall be examined by the Legislative Reference Bureau for correctness as to form and shall be imprinted with the stamp of the Bureau, before being accepted by the President for introduction.

49. All bills reported or re-reported from committee, if amended by the committee, shall be reprinted on white paper and a printer's number assigned thereto.

50. (a) Any person accorded the privileges of a newspaper or television news photographer must be the photographer of a daily newspaper, or of a recognized press association, who is not engaged in any department of the State government, or in any other business, or must be the accredited photographer of a daily newspaper, television station or recognized press association.

(b) All applications for admission to the floor of the Senate must be made to the President pro tempore. Such application shall state the name of the newspaper, television station or press association represented by the photographer, its location, and be signed by the applicant.

(c) The President pro tempore shall verify the statements made in such application and if the application is approved by him, he shall issue a photographer's card, signed by him and by the President of the Pennsylvania Capitol Newspaper Photographer's Association.

(d) The photographers shall not visit members in their seats during the sessions of the Senate, and shall abide by such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Rules Committee of the Senate.

(e) The card issued by the President pro tempore must be presented when required by any Sergeant-at-Arms. It shall not be transferable. The transfer or loan of such card to any one shall be followed by its cancellation and the withdrawal of all its privileges from the photographer so offending.

Similar privileges shall be accorded to the members of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association on the basis of their present credentials.

DECISIONS OF THE SENATE ON POINTS OF ORDER

SECTION 1

ADJOURNMENT

"From Day to Day" by less Than a Quorum Means from Day to Day as Fixed by the Orders

1(a). The Senate having fixed an order for sessions on Tuesdays and Fridays only, on a motion to adjourn, less than a quorum voting, Mr. Gordon submitted the point of order that under the Constitution it was only competent for less than a quorum to adjourn from day to day. The President decided that the phrase "from day to day" signified from day to day as fixed in the regular order of the Senate. Whereupon, the President decided the resolution carried, and adjourned the Senate until Friday morning next, at eleven o'clock. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 157.)

Senate May Adjourn For Three Days, exclusive of Sunday

1(b). The question having been raised on the change of time of the convening of the Senate, the Chair (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) ruled that the Senate may at its pleasure adjourn for any period within three days, Sunday not being regarded as a legislative day. (Legislative Journal, March 14, 1949, pp. 1199, 1200, 1201.)

Adjournment to a Definite Time is Debatable.

1(c). The point of order was raised that the motion to adjourn is not debatable. The President ruled that a motion to adjourn to a definite time is debatable. (Legislative Journal, 1937, pp. 5389-5390.)

Two Succeeding Motions Out of Order

1(d). Mr. Rosenfeld made a motion to adjourn immediately after a previous motion to adjourn was defeated.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled the motion out of order because of a lack of intervening business between the two motions. (Legislative Journal, December 10, 1951, p. 5963.)

Motion to Adjourn Not Debatable

1(e). A point of order being raised that a motion to adjourn was not debatable, the Chair (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler), upheld the motion and ruled that a motion to adjourn was not debatable. (Legislative Journal, March 10, 1949, p. 1188.) (Legislative Journal, March 14, 1949, pp. 1199, 1200, 1201.)

Adjournment, Day of Final, When It Begins

1(f). After midnight of the session which began at eight P. M., June 11, the day of final adjournment having been fixed for twelve M., on June 12, report of a committee of conference was made, when Mr. Kennedy submitted the point of order that the report could not be acted upon at this time, as its consideration is prohibited by joint rule eight, which provides that "no bill, resolution or order to which the signature of the Governor may be required, shall be passed by either House on the day of the final adjournment; and all such bills, resolutions and orders, after they have been duly transcribed and compared, shall be presented to the Governor, for his signature, by the proper committee, before eight o'clock on the morning of the day of the final adjournment." Mr. Reyburn (acting President pro tempore) decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1885, p. 1189.)

SECTION 2

To House Amendments of House Bills, When Not in Order

2(n). Mr. Ealy raised the point of order that made by the House of Representatives, to amendments made by the Senate, to a bill from the House of Representatives. (Senate Journal, 1884, pp. 935-6.)

Amendments made by the House of Representatives (consisting of two new sections) to amendments made by the Senate to a bill from the House of Representatives, having been concurred in by the Senate, a motion was made to amend those amendments by adding a new section. The speaker decided the motion to be not in order. From which an appeal was taken, and the decision sustained by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1850, p. 549.)

Amendments on Third Reading by Unanimous Consent Only

2(b). Senator Dent, having offered amendments to Senate Bill No. 23, which was on the third reading calendar, Senator Tallman objected.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, sustained the objection and ruled that under Rule 17 of the Senate Rules, the amendments could not be considered on third reading in the face of the objection of a Senator. Rule 17 provides "No amendments shall be permitted to a bill on third reading except by unanimous consent. (Legislative Journal, February 9, 1943, pp. 273 and 274.)

To Title in Order, When Concurring in House Amendments

2(c). The Speaker decided that, in concurring in amendments made by the House of Representatives, it was in order for the Senate to amend the title to correspond with the amendments made by the House of Representatives. (Senate Journal, 1861, p. 254. See also Senate Journals, 1874, p. 692, and 1889, p. 364.)

Made on Second Cannot Be Stricken Out on Third Reading

2(d). The Speaker decided that it was not in order to go into Committee of the Whole (the bill being on third reading) for the purpose of striking out the amendment that had been inserted on second reading. (Senate Journal, 1861, p. 547.)

In Order to Strike Out on Third That Which Has Been Inserted on Second Reading if Other Matter Is Included

2(e). Mr. Thompson submitted to point of order that the motion was not in order because it proposed to strike out on third reading an amendment which had been inserted on second reading. The President decided the point of order not well taken, as the proposed amendment included other matter, in addition to the proviso which had been inserted on second reading of the bill. (Senate Journal, 1891, p. 290.)

Negated on Second Reading Can Be Inserted in Committee of the Whole on Third Reading

2(f). The point of order was raised, that an amendment, proposed to be inserted in Committee of the Whole, having been proposed and negated on second reading, could not be offered. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1874, p. 179.)

Cannot Be Made to Bills That Will Change Original Purpose

2(g). The President pro tempore decided that the bill was so amended as to repeal the whole act of 1868, and then to extend it to the whole State, and was so altered in its passage as to be changed from its original purpose, and therefore is unconstitutional. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 389.)

Not Germane to Resolution, Out of Order

2(h). The President decided it out of order to amend a resolution to print the report of the Pennsylvania State College, by adding a provision for the appointment of a committee to investigate its accounts. (Senate Journal, 1875, p. 202.)

The President pro tempore (Mr. Penrose in the chair) was of the opinion that the original resolution of the Senator from Lebanon pertained to a question of law or jurisdiction, whilst the substitute or amendment of the Senator from Bucks raised a question of fact. He therefore decided the point of order raised by the Senator from Lebanon to be well taken and that the amendment of the Senator from Bucks was not germane and therefore not in order. (Senate Journal, Extra Session, 1891, p. 624.)

Can Be Made to Resolution Regulating Senate Business

2(i). A resolution fixing an afternoon session for certain business pending an amendment was offered fixing a session at a different time, on which the President rules that the purpose of both the resolution and the proposed amendment being to regulate the business of the Senate, the amendment was germane, and therefore ruled the point of order to be not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1881, p. 1014.)

Senate Can Re-Insert Matter Stricken Out in Committee of the Whole

2(j). Mr. Gordon submitted the point of order "that the motion of the Senator from Delaware (Mr. Cooper) was not in order, as it proposed to insert in the bill a provision just stricken out in the Committee of the Whole." Decided not well taken. Decision sustained by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 625.)

Bills on Concurring in House Amendments to Be Noted on Senate Calendar

2(k). Mr. Buckman raised the point of order that the Senate Rules provide bills amended in the House shall not be considered until properly noted on the Senate Calendar. The President decided the point of order well taken and ordered the amended bills noted in the Calendar. (Legislative Journal, 1937, p. 1093.)

To Amend Senate Bill Returned from House With Amendments, When in Order

2(l). Mr. Gordon submitted the point of order that, as the question before the Senate was on concurring in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to said bill, and the amendment proposed by Mr. Hughes, not being an amendment to the amendments made by the House, the motion was not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken, and ruled the motion out of order. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 1241.)

Non-Concurred in by the House, to Recede from Affirmative Vote of Less Than All the Senators Elected Sufficient

2(m). Mr. Kennedy submitted the point of order, that the motion to recede from amendments made by the Senate being in effect a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill passed finally, it requires for its adoption, a majority vote of all the Senators elected. Decided not well taken by the Senate. Mr. Kennedy then submitted the point of order, that the motion before the Senate is one of virtual concurrence in the action of the House on this bill, and that, in compliance with the Constitution and Rule 28 of the Senate, it requires a majority vote of all the Senators to so concur. Decided not well taken by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1885, pp. 890, 894.)

House Amendments to Senate Bill

2(n). Mr. Ealy raised the point of order that in considering amendments made by the House to a Senate Bill, the Senate had to consider them as a whole and could not separate them and act upon them in this manner.

The Chair (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) declared the point of order well taken and ruled that the Senate must either concur or non-concur in the bill as amended by the House. (Legislative Journal, May 12, 1941, p. 2083.)

SECTION 3

APPEALS

Chairman May Vacate Chair on an Appeal From a Decision

3(a). Mr. Walker raised the question that on an appeal from a decision of the Chair, the Presiding Officer must vacate the Chair and permit a Member of the Senate to preside.

The Presiding Officer ruled that he may vacate the Chair and that it is within the discretion of the Chair to decide whether he shall step down. (Legislative Journal, December 13, 1951, p. 6188.)

SECTION 4

BILLS

Consideration of, in Numerical Order

4(a). The Senate decided that when bills on first reading are the pending order, it was not in order to proceed to the consideration of a bill not first in numerical order, without dispensing with the orders of the day. (Senate Journal, 1845, pp. 160-70.)

Negating First Section of, Does Not Involve Defeat of Whole Bill

4(b). The Speaker decided that the defeat of the first section of a bill did not necessarily involve defeat of the whole bill, should there be more than one section in such bill, and where such section or sections are sensible and independent of said first section. From which decision an appeal was taken, and the decision of the Speaker sustained by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1848, p. 556.)

Negated by the Senate, Not in Order to Introduce and Consider Similar Ones During the Same Session

4(c). The President decided that it was not in order to consider a certain bill, as one containing similar provisions had been voted down at the present session of the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1878, p. 855.)

Negated by the Senate, Not in Order to Consider Bill of Similar Character from the House During the Same Session

4(d). The President decided that it is not in order to introduce into the Senate from the House of Representatives, or consider a bill which is in substance, in nature, or intent and purpose the same as a Senate Bill which has been defeated in the Senate during the present session. An appeal was taken. The Senate sustained the decision. (Senate Journal, 1878, p. 834.)

House Bill Negated by Senate—Not in Order for Senate to Consider Bill of Similar Import from House at Same Session

4(e). The Senate decided that it was not in order to consider a House bill similar in character to a House bill which had been negated by the Senate at same session. (Senate Journal, 1907, pp. 2116, 2636.)

Postponed for the Present, Not in Order to Consider Bill on the Call of One Senator

4(f). The Speaker decided that it was not in order to consider a bill which had been previously postponed, and which required the vote of a majority of the Senators present to bring up, at a time which had been set apart for the consideration of bills on call, which could be brought before the Senate on the call of one Senator. (Senate Journal, 1873, p. 1014.)

Unanimous Consent Required to Have Bill Go Over in Order

4(g). Mr. Harris submitted the point of order that a request for a bill to go over in its order required unanimous consent. The President decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, 1933, p. 4695.)

Showing No Evidence of Consideration by Committee, Can Be Considered by Senate If According to the Records Regularly Reported

4(h). Mr. Gobin submitted the point of order that there was no evidence or marks on the bill to indicate that it had been regularly considered and reported from committee, and therefore should not have been placed upon the calendar for consideration by the Senate. Whereupon, the President decided that as the absence of marks and date of reporting the bill on the back thereof did not vitiate the fact that, according to the record, the bill had been regularly reported, therefore, the point of order was not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1893, p. 1066.)

When Amendments Can Be Made to—What in Order on Final Passage of

4(i). The Speaker decided that a bill having been reported, it can be amended only when upon its second or third reading, and that, upon the final passage of a bill, nothing is in order but discussion upon it, and the final vote upon it by yeas and nays, as required by the Constitution, except privileged questions, such as motion to reconsider. (Senate Journal, 1874, p. 192.)

Regularly Before the Senate, Can Be Disposed of by a Simple Majority

4(j). The Speaker decided that when a bill was regularly before the Senate, a simple majority could make such a disposition of it as they saw proper. (Senate Journal, 1874, p. 722.)

Passed Both Houses, but Not Sent to the Governor Cannot Be Taken Up

4(k). Mr. White submitted the point of order that a bill having passed the Senate, been sent to the House and returned from that body as having been therein passed without amendment, it is not in order for the Senate to take up the bill and amend it further. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. Bills which have passed both Houses and have not been sent to the Governor cannot be taken up again and acted on. (Senate Journal, 1874, p. 908.)

Sent to Printer, Cannot Be Considered Until Returned to the Senate—Error by Printer in Not Properly Showing Amendments, Prevents Consideration of

4(l). The President pro tempore decided that a bill having been sent to the printer to be printed, it was not in possession of the Senate, and therefore it was not in order to consider it under the rules. (Senate Journal, 1875, p. 477.)

In order to consider bill amended by the Senate which amendments were stricken out by the House and are not shown in bill when returned to Senate by error of printer in omitting brackets. Appealed from decision of Chair that the bill cannot be considered in a committee of conference because it was not the bill that was sent to the House, through error made by the printer. A vote on appeal from decision of chair sustained that decision. (Legislative Journal, June 7, 1923, pp. 4294, 4295.)

Motion to Recommit, for Amending to Change Character of, Not in Order

4(m). The President decided that a motion to recommit a bill to a committee, with instructions to the committee to amend the said bill so as to change its character was not in order. (Senate Journal, 1875, p. 357.)

Merits of, Not Debatable on Motion to Recommit, Postpone or Reconsider

4(n). The President decided that the merits of a bill were not debatable on a motion to recommit (Legislative Journal, 1933, pp. 5644, 3036, 3572, 4123, 6275) nor on a motion to postpone (Legislative Journal, 1933, p. 2133) nor on a motion to reconsider the vote by which a bill passed second reading. (Legislative Journal, 1935, p. 4128; Legislative Journal, pp. 1843, 3190, 5714.) (Legislative Journal, February 28, 1949, pp. 756, 757, 758.) (Legislative Journal, April 13, 1949, p. 3123.)

Negated by Committee, Similar One Can Be Acted on by Senate

4(o). The President decided that it was competent for the Senate to consider a bill similar to one which had previously been reported with a negative recommendation, if the said bill had not been acted upon by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1876, p. 906.)

General, Local and Special—Class Legislation

4(p). The Senate having under consideration "An Act to secure the operatives and laborers engaged in and about coal mines and manufactories of iron and steel the payment of their wages at regular intervals and in lawful money of the United States," the President pro tempore decided that the Constitution prohibits legislation of a local or special character regulating labor, trade, mining or manufacturing. A general law is one that applies to all persons. A local law is one that operates within a limited territory. A special law is one that is not confined in its operation by territory, but is limited to a particular class, sect, trade or interest. Under the Constitution, the Legislature has not the power to make arbitrary distinctions in order to escape the prohibition of the fundamental law, but the subject must have some natural or necessary quality to constitute a class. This view is sustained by Sedgwick on Statutes, and a decision by Judge Folgar, in 4 Heard, New York Report. The bill before us proposes to legislate for a particular and special body to operate in particular localities. Over-ruled by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1879, pp. 667, 695.)

After Reconsideration of Vote on, Can Be Acted on Only When Reached in Their Regular Order, Unless Regular Order Is Dispensed With

4(q). The vote negating a bill on final passage having been reconsidered, the President pro tempore decided that the bill could not be considered until the order of "bills on final passage" was reached, except by two-thirds vote. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 599.)

A bill being on third reading, and the vote by which it passed second reading having been reconsidered, the President pro tempore decided that the bill could not be considered on second reading until that was reached, except by suspending the orders. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 613.)

Objection to Consideration of, Reconsidered Must Be Made at the Proper Time

4(r). The order of business being bills on third reading, the President pro tempore (Mr. Reyburn in the chair) was of the opinion that the objection of the Senator from Elk (Mr. Hall) was raised too late, and the ruling of 1879, cited by him, did not apply, the Senate having already reconsidered the several votes by which the bill had passed, second reading, and the bill being already under consideration, worked a suspension of the orders. He therefore decided the point of order to that effect submitted by the Senator from Venango (Mr. Lee) to be well taken. (Senate Journal 1181, p. 554.)

Amending Laws, Must Recite in Full the Part to Be Amended

4(s). The Senate decided that a bill proposing to amend an act, failing to recite the section in full intended to be amended conflicted with Section 6, Article III of the Constitution, and was, therefore, not in order. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 620.)

Raising Revenue, Must Originate in the House

4(t). A point of order was submitted by Mr. Lee that the amendment of the Senator from Delaware is not in order, because it adds a proviso to the bill which virtually makes it a bill for raising revenue, and all bills for raising revenue, by the Constitution, must originate in the House of Representatives, and the amendment is not germane and changes the purpose of the bill. Decided well taken by Senate. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 711.)

On Final Passage of, Twenty-six Votes in the Affirmative Necessary

4(u). Mr. Adams submitted the point of order that, as there are at present only forty-nine members of the Senate, it requires the vote of only twenty-five Senators in the affirmative to pass a bill finally. Decided not well taken by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 544.)

Appropriating Money for the Erection of Monuments Does Not Require a Two-thirds Vote

4(v). Mr. Stober raised the point of order that the bill under consideration appropriated money for the erection of a monument and required a two-thirds vote. The President decided the point of order not well taken, as this was an appropriation for the erection of a monument and not to a charitable institution of the State. (Senate Journal, 1903, p. 825.)

Objections to Consideration of, Must Be Raised at the Proper Time

4(w). A bill being under consideration, Mr. Lee submitted the point of order that the bill, as amended, was not properly on the calendar, as contemplated by the rules, it having been imperfectly printed, and the bill could, therefore, not be considered at this time. Decided not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 635.)

Merits of, Not Debatable on Motion to Suspend Rule for Purpose of Discharging Committee

4(x). A point of order was raised, that a motion to suspend the rules for the purpose of discharging a committee from a particular bill, is not debatable, and if debatable the particular reason for the consideration of a particular bill is not debatable. The debate can be only upon the reason for the suspension of the rule and not upon the merits of a bill. The chair ruled that the question to suspend the rules is debatable, but that the question can be debated only insofar as the reason for the discharge of the committee may be essential. Therefore, the merits of the bill cannot be discussed on a motion to suspend the rules. (Senate Journal, 1919, pp. 2763-64.)

Merits of, Debatable on Motion to Postpone Consideration of, to a Fixed Time

4(y). Mr. McNeil submitted the point of order that it was not in order to discuss the merits of the main question on a motion to postpone the consideration of the same until a definite time. The President pro tempore decided that the merits of the main question could be incidentally discussed on a motion to postpone to a day fixed, and the point of order was, therefore, not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1885, p. 664.)

Merits of Other Bill Not Debatable

4(z). The President decided that the merits of another bill not under consideration were not debatable, but that the remarks had to be limited to the bill under discussion and related subjects. (Legislative Journal, 1935, p. 5859.)

Constitutionality of, to Be Determined by the Senate

4(aa). Mr. McDonald submitted the point of order "that the bill was not in order for the reason that it was contrary to Article III, section 6, of the Constitution." The President pro tempore decided that as the question of the constitutionality of the bill is a matter which will be decided by the Senate in the consideration and final disposition of the bill, it is not in the province of the Chair; by decision, as to the constitutionality of the bill, to assume the duty and power properly vested in the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1893, p. 209.)

Postponed Cannot Be Called Up the Same Day It Was Proposed

4(bb). Mr. Freed asked if he could call up a bill just placed on the Postponed Calendar.

Carrying Appropriations Need Not Be Referred to Appropriations Committee

4(cc). Mr. Seyler raised the question of parliamentary inquiry as to whether it was customary that any bill which carried an appropriation is referred to the Appropriations Committee before final passage.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis, ruled that this was done in some instances but not in all. Therefore it might be termed customary rather than mandatory. (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 451.)

Over in Order—Reason For Motion Debatable

4(dd). Mr. Seyler raised the point of information if it was in order to debate a motion to put a bill over in order.

The Presiding Officer ruled the reason for the motion is debatable. (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 1251.) (See also Mason's Manual, sec. 494, p. 332.)

SECTION 5

CALL OF THE HOUSE

Is the Order When a Motion to Adjourn Falls, and Less Than a Quorum Vote

5(a). Mr. Gordon submitted the following point of order, viz.: "I raise the point of order that upon the motion to adjourn, fourteen Senators having voted 'no' and eleven Senators have voted 'aye'; the motion to adjourn is therefore lost, and the question disposed of, and that, therefore, the Senate may proceed to consider other business, as under the ruling of the Chair, it is not necessary that a quorum vote upon the motion to adjourn, and that a call of the Senate, as directed in the thirty-sixth rule, is not necessary, as that rule clearly only contemplates subjects before the Senate upon which it was necessary that a quorum vote, in order that the subject might be disposed of, as that rule directs that when a call of the Senate is made and a quorum disclosed to be present, the yeas and nays should be again taken upon the question on which the absence of a quorum was disclosed. In this case that rule would not apply as if the call showed a quorum present, the yeas and nays could not be again taken, for the original question—the motion to adjourn—is disposed of." The President decided that the motion to adjourn was lost, a majority having voted 'no'; but less than a quorum having voted, nothing was in order but a call of the House. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 162.)

Chair May Take Judicial Notice a Quorum Is Not Present

5(b). Mr. Law raised the point of order the Chair should not rule he took judicial notice a quorum was not present as no member from the floor had suggested the absence of a quorum. The President ruled he can take judicial notice to the fact a quorum was not present. (Legislative Journal, 1937, p. 5389.)

SECTION 6

CHANGE OF TIME FOR CONVENING

Senate May Change by Majority Vote

6(a). The question having been raised, it was ruled by the presiding officer that the Senate may by a majority vote change the time for convening after the weekly adjournment from that set forth in concurrent adjournment resolution previously adopted by both Houses. (Legislative Journal, March 14, 1919, pp. 1199, 1200.)

SECTION 7

COMMITTEES

Powers of, Over Bills

7(a). The Speaker decided that the committee to whom a bill had been referred had full power over the same, except that it could not change the title or subject thereof. (Senate Journal, 1857, p. 842.)

Mr. Flinn submitted the point of order, that after a bill has been reported by a standing committee and passed any reading in the Senate and recommitted to a standing committee that such committee has not the power to report such bill with a negative recommendation, because the Senate as a body had acted favorably upon the bill by passing it on a reading, and a part of the Senate, as represented by a standing committee, cannot negative that which the whole Senate has approved by passing through a reading, and that any such bill so reported negatively, by any standing committee should be placed upon the calendar for the consideration of the Senate in regular order. The President decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1899, p. 1933.)

Report of a Bill by a Minority of a Standing Committee in Order Only by Consent of Majority

7(b). Mr. Greer submitted the point of order that a minority of a standing committee cannot make a report from such committee (of a bill) without the consent of a majority thereof. The President decided that the point of order, as a general proposition was well taken; but the bill having been reported, and ordered to be printed and placed upon the calendar, the point of order is submitted too late. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 1030.)

Motion to Recommit, Only, Debatable

7(c). Mr. Henry I. Wilson raised the point of order that the merits of a bill which a Senator had moved to recommit could not be discussed.

The Chair (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) ruled that the point of order was well taken, and that, upon a motion to recommit, the subject matter of the bill may not be discussed. (Legislative Journal, April 8, 1941, p. 1223.)

Reference Cannot Bind Committee

7(d). Mr. Thomas B. Wilson raised the point of order that a motion referring a bill to a committee could not carry with it binding instructions to the committee to report the bill out. The Chair (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) declared the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, February 24, 1941, p. 413.)

Report Objected to Not in Order

7(e). Mr. Holland objected to the reporting of a bill from Committee.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled the gentleman out of order. (Legislative Journal, December 5, 1951, p. 5872.)

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Amendments Just Inserted by, Not in Order to Strike Out

8(a). The Speaker decided that a motion to go into Committee of the Whole to strike out an amendment which had just been inserted in Committee of the Whole was not in order. (Senate Journal, 1873, p. 821.)

Motion to Go Into, When Divisible

8(b). Mr. McFarlane submitted the point of order that the motion to go into Committee of the Whole for special amendment, as indicated, cannot be divided, and, therefore, the call for a division is not in order. Decided not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 748.)

Motion to Go Into for Special Amendment Carries Amendment

8(c). A point of order having been submitted the President ruled that the adoption of a motion to go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment carried with it the amendment. (Legislative Journal, 1933, p. 4753.)

SECTION 9

COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE

Conference Committee Reports to Be Noted on Calendar

9(a). Mr. Buckman raised the point of order that under Rule 21 of the Senate the Conference Committee report cannot be voted upon unless it is noted on the calendar. The President ruled Conference Committee reports would be noted on the calendar in the future. (Legislative Journal, 1937, p. 3435.)

Senate Can Instruct

9(b). The Speaker decided that it was not in order for the Senate to instruct a committee of conference. The Senate reversed the decision. (Senate Journal, 1868, pp. 430-431.)

Report of, Not to Be Considered on Day of Final Adjournment

9(c). A motion was made, on the last day of the session, to proceed to the consideration of the report made by a committee of conference, which the Speaker decided to be out of order, it being in violation of the joint rule, which prohibits any bill, or resolution to which the signature of the Governor may be required from being passed by either House on the day of final adjournment. (Senate Journal, 1872, p. 1154.)

Power of, Over Whole Bill

9(d). The Speaker decided that, in a committee of conference, on the appropriation bill, the difference between the two Houses on said bill extended to the whole bill, and not to any particular parts of it, although both may have separately voted for some parts of it. The Senate sustained the decision. (Senate Journal, 1873, p. 1056.)

Mr. McCracken submitted the point of order that the committee of conference, in amending the bill in certain particulars concerning which no differences existed between the two Houses, exceeded the authority conferred upon it, in violation of joint rule three, which says that a committee of conference "shall not have power or control over any part of a bill, resolution or order, except such parts upon which a difference exists between the two Houses." The Senate decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 75.)

Report of Disagreement of, Discharges

9(e). The question being propounded to the Chair, viz.: Does the report of a committee of conference on its final disagreement operate as a discharge of the committee without further action of the Senate? Decided in the affirmative by the Senate. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 48.)

Being Dissolved, Not Subject to Instruction

9(f). Mr. Cooper submitted the point of order that as the committee of conference on the part of the Senate had been dissolved, the resolution was not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken, and ruled the resolution out of order. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 55.)

Motion to Appoint, Once Negative, Not Again in Order Without Reconsideration

9(g). And the question being, Will the Senate agree to the first division, viz.: "That a committee of conference on Congressional apportionment be appointed?" Mr. McCracken submitted the point of order that the Senate has refused to appoint a committee of conference; and that it is proposed by this resolution to do something that the Senate has already refused to do without reconsidering the previous action of the Senate, and is, therefore, not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 56.)

Power of Senate Over—Motion to Return Bill to House While Considering Conference Report, Out of Order. Reports of, Not Amendable

9(h). Mr. Hughes submitted the point of order that the resolution contains a proposition in violation of the established method of legislation, in that it authorizes a conference committee to consider a bill which has not been presented or considered at this session (extraordinary), in violation of the joint rule three, which expressly says that a committee of conference shall not have power or control over any part of a bill, except such parts upon which a difference exists between the two Houses, and therefore it is not in order. The President decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 61.)

The conference committee having amended the bill in part, a motion was made to return the bill to the House of Representatives. The point of order was raised that the motion is out of order as there is nothing before the Senate but the adoption or rejection of conference report, and the Senate in consideration of such report cannot go beyond an inquiry into the regularity of the proceedings of either House during the passage of the bill, and that when a bill is in committee of conference, it is not in the custody of either House and neither House has the right or authority to transmit the bill back to the other House for any purpose. The President of the Senate ruled the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 12, 1923, p. 4678.)

Mr. Shapiro submitted the point of order that the report of a conference committee was not amendable. The President decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, extra session, 1933, p. 997.)

Discharge of Committee

9(i). Senate members of a conference committee of the House and Senate appointed to consider a Congressional Reapportionment Bill, having stated to the Senate, in reply to questions that the committee had not been able to agree,

Senator Coleman raised the point of order that "the conferees appointed by the President pro tempore on the part of the Senate to consider Senate Bill No. 507, having made their report to the Senate Body that they are hopelessly deadlocked, that the committee is automatically discharged and that the bill is in the physical possession of the Senate and the question recurs on the adoption of the amendments inserted by the House." The Chair (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) ruled that the point of order was not well taken. (Legislative Journal, July 12, 1941, p. 5500.)

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS

Constitutionality of Bills to be Determined by the Senate

10(a). Mr. McDonald submitted the point of order "that the bill was not in order for the reason that it was contrary to Article III, section 6, of the Constitution." The President Pro Tempore decided that as the question of the constitutionality of the bill is a matter which will be decided by the Senate in the consideration and final disposition of the bill, it is not in the province of the Chair, by decision, as to the constitutionality of the bill, to assume the duty and power properly vested in the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1893, p. 209.)

10(b). Mr. Weiner submitted the point of order that "the bill was not in order for the reason that it was in violation of Article III, Section 14 of the Constitution." The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis, decided the point of order not well taken and quoted from Mason's Manual, page 242:

"It is not the duty of the Presiding Officer to rule upon any question which is not presented in the course of proceedings. It is not his right to rule upon the constitutionality or legal effect or expediency of a proposed bill, as that authority belongs to the House."

DEBATE

Inflammatory and Derogatory Remarks May Be Expunged

11(a). The point of order having been raised on a motion to expunge remarks from the record, the President ruled that the motion was in order, and that it was the prerogative of the Senate to expunge inflammatory and derogatory remarks from the record. (Legislative Journal, 1935, p. 1417.)

Speaking More than Twice on a Bill

11(b). The President decided that a point of order that a Senator might not speak more than twice on the same subject was well taken, but recognized the Senator to allow an interrogation. (Legislative Journal, 1935, p. 5639.)

Discussion on Motion Limited—Appeal from Ruling Can be Withdrawn

11(c). Senator Watkins raised the point of order that Senator Holland could not, during consideration of a request that a bill go over in order, discuss other matters on a question of personal privilege.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, sustained the point of order.

Senator Holland and three other Senators joined in an appeal from the decision of the Chair and then requested permission to withdraw the appeal.

The Chair, President Pro Tempore Ely, decided, when objection was raised to the withdrawal, that the appeal could be withdrawn.

Order of Debate on Bills

11(d). On a question of order raised by Senator Watkins, the Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, ruled that a Senator could not under a question of personal privilege debate a bill that had already gone over in order, unless by consent of the Senate.

(Legislative Journal, April 6, 1943, pp. 1940, 1941 and 1942.)

Bill on Second Reading

11(e). On a question of order raised by Senator Seyler as to whether a bill was debatable on second reading, the Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Roy Furman, ruled, in effect, that on second reading the matter of consideration of amendments was the principal subject of discussion. However, in this discussion, it would be only natural and proper to digress at times, and discuss the entire section of the bill. This same procedure could continue until all sections of the bill were amended and approved.

Finally, when the question is put, "Will the Senate agree to and pass the bill on second reading" or "second reading as amended," it is proper then to discuss the entire bill. This can be done by any Senator or Senators who are given recognition by the Chair.

A roll call vote may also be demanded as to each section and/or the entire bill. (Legislative Journal, 1957, p. 321.)

SECTION 12*EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS*When Can Be Read

12(a). A motion to adjourn having been made and lost (less than a quorum voting), a request from the reading of some communications from the Governor was made, upon which Mr. Cooper submitted the point of order that no business could be transacted at this particular time and that the request was out of order. President pro tempore (Mr. Gordon in the chair), decided the point of order not well taken. Mr. Cooper notified the Chair that he would appeal from his decision whereupon the President pro tempore (Mr. Gordon in the chair), ruled the appeal out of order, and decided that nothing was in order at this time but a call of the Senate or a motion to adjourn, and directed the clerk to read the communications, which were read. (Senate Journal, Extra Session, 1833, p. 162.)

SECTION 13*EXECUTIVE SESSION*A Motion to Reconsider Vote on Nominations Not Debatable

13(a). The Speaker, when a motion to reconsider a vote on the executive nomination for president judge was pending, decided that the question was not debatable. (Senate Journal, 1847, p. 337.)

Point of Order Made and Sustained When in, Senate Can Subsequently Reconsider Its Action Sustaining

13(b). A motion was made by Mr. Stewart and Mr. MacFarlane that the vote had yesterday, by which the point of order presented by Mr. Gordon, in executive session, was sustained, be reconsidered. Mr. Gordon submitted the point of order that the motion was not in order; that the motion to reconsider could not be made as if the whole subject matter to which it related has been disposed of, and if the motion to reconsider was carried, there would be nothing before the Senate to consider. The point of order sustained, and which it is now proposed to reconsider, was that the motion to refer the nominations of Messrs. Sensenderfer and Iseminger to a committee, was not in order. After the point was so decided, the nominations were then voted on and rejected, and are not now before the Senate; therefore, the motion to refer them could not be brought before the Senate, by reconsidering the decision, that the motion was not in order. The President pro tempore decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 218.)

Five Day Rule Not Applicable in Executive Session

13(c). The Senate being in executive session, Mr. Humes submitted the point of order that as more than five days had elapsed since the vote was had, under Rule 16 of the Senate, a motion to reconsider is not now in order. The President pro tempore (Mr. Reyburn in the chair) decided the point of order not well taken, as the sixteenth rule, governing the Senate in regular session, has not been applied to the Senate in executive session. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 1056.)

Unanimous Consent For Consideration Must Be Made at Proper Time

13(d). Mr. Fleming asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported from committee and read by the clerk. The motion to go into Executive Session was made and carried.

When the first nominee was called up for consideration, Mr. Weiner rose to a point of order and quoted a part of Senate Rule 38 which states, "... Which question (Shall the Senate advise and consent to this nomination), shall not be put on the day on which the nomination or nominations are reported from committee, unless by unanimous consent. . . ." Mr. Weiner stated that Mr. Fleming should have asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration just prior to the time when the first nominee was called up for consideration.

Mr. Berger then rose and stated that just prior to going into Executive Session Mr. Fleming had asked and obtained unanimous consent to consider the names reported from committee at today's session, and the unanimous consent was given and not objected to.

The Presiding Officer decided the point of order well taken and ruled that at the time when Senator Fleming asked for unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of nominations made by the Governor and reported from committee at today's session, there was a general consent given. Later on after we did go into Executive Session, and the nominees were brought up in individual order, the first one being Mr. McGlinchey, the Chair is of the opinion that unanimous consent again must be granted under the rules. The rules specifically say that the Chair ask that unanimous consent be given for the consideration of this nomination. Because there has been no unanimous consent given at this time for the consideration of this nomination, the Chair feels that the point of order taken by Senator Weiner to be well taken. (Legislative Journal, 1959, pp. 5162-5164.)

SECTION 14*EXTRAORDINARY SESSION*What Resolution in Order in

14(a). Mr. Humes submitted the point of order that, as this special session of the Legislature was called only for the purpose of considering business designated in the proclamation of the Governor convening the same and the resolution being in the nature of legislation requiring the Governor's signature, it is, therefore, not in order. The Senate decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 32.)

When in, Senate Is Governed by the Ordinary Rules of Parliamentary Practice

14(b). The President was of the opinion that the Senate is governed by the ordinary rules of parliamentary practice, and that those rules must govern the body at this time as well as any other rules, and decided that it required a two-thirds vote of the Senate to change any order of procedure or rule of the Senate. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1891, p. 402.)

SECTION 15

INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT

Of Motion to Reconsider Section Does Not Involve Postponement of Bill

15(a). The Speaker decided that the Senate having postponed indefinitely a motion to reconsider the vote by which the Senate agreed to the fourth section, such indefinite postponement did not involve a postponement of the bill under consideration. An appeal was taken. The Senate sustained the decision of the Speaker. (Senate Journal, 1864, p. 1031.)

Motion for, not Capable of Amendment

15(b). The President decided that a motion to postpone, indefinitely, being already in its simplest form, is not capable of amendment. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 868.)

Does Not Preclude Debate upon the Original Subject

15(c). The President ruled that the motion to postpone indefinitely does not preclude debate upon the original subject. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 788.)

Motion for, of Motion to Reconsider Limitation of Debate in Rule 16 Does not Apply to 15(d). Mr. Hall submitted the point of order that the spirit of the rule prohibiting a Senator from speaking longer than five minutes on a motion to reconsider, requires the rule to be applied likewise to a motion to postpone indefinitely such motion to reconsider. The President decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 172.)

SECTION 16

LAY ON THE TABLE

Not Debatable

16(a). The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis, decided that it was not in order to debate the motion to lay on the table. The Chair quoted from Mason's Manual, Sec. 335, p. 235, the following:

"It is a matter of importance to a body that the consideration of a question may be put over to a later date without debate or delay. To permit debate on the motion to lay on the table would defeat this purpose. This motion is not debatable." (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 5162.)

SECTION 17

LEGISLATIVE DAY

Ends When Senate Adjourns

17(a). Mr. Dent raised the question that since the official time was after midnight the Senate could not act on the calendar for the previous day.

The Presiding Officer ruled that a legislative day ends when the Senate adjourns for that day. (Legislative Journal, December 13, 1951, p. 6187.) (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 5225.)

SECTION 18

MAJORITY IS PREVAILING SIDE

18(a). The following point of order made by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante:

"That under Rule 38 of the Senate which requires two members who voted with majority to make the motion to reconsider a vote on confirmation of executive nominations, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, having voted in the negative could not make the motion."

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis, President of the Senate, ruled the point of order not well taken; and stated:

"In this case there were 26 votes for confirmation and 20 votes against confirmation which was 8 votes less than the constitutional majority required.

"The question to be determined is:

"What construction is to be given to the word 'majority' as used in rule 38?"

"Jefferson's Manual, edition of the 76th Congress, page 374, Section 813, says:

"The Provision of the rule that the motion may be made 'by any member of the majority'; is construed to mean any member of the prevailing side either in the case of a tie vote or in the case of a two-thirds vote."

"In Hind's Precedents, Vol. 11, page 1133, paragraph 1650, there appears the following:

"Where a two-thirds vote is required, a member on the prevailing side may move to reconsider, even though he may be one of an actual minority. A majority is required to reconsider a vote taken under conditions requiring two-thirds for an affirmative action."

"Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, page 111, Sec. 87, reads:

"The general parliamentary law requires that a motion to reconsider is made only by a member who voted on the prevailing side of the question."

"Reading further; this authority says:

"In practice, the motion to reconsider is often made by a member who at first voted upon the losing side but who changed his vote to the prevailing side before the announcement of the vote, in order to qualify to move to reconsider."

"It is clear to the Chair, after a careful examination of the question, that the motion to reconsider must be made by two members who were on the prevailing side—which is a majority within the meaning of the rule.

"Rule 38 does not say a majority of the votes cast—it requires any two Senators voting with the majority.

"It is plain that those who voted in the negative defeated the confirmation, and were in the majority on the question. This has been the interpretation in the Congress of the United States (which rules are identical in this respect with ours) and in all Legislative Bodies; therefore the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, were qualified to make the motion to reconsider, both having voted in the negative." (Legislative Journal, 1939, p. 1266.)

MOTIONS

Order of Disposal

19(a). Mr. Dent inquired whether or not his colleague was in order to make another motion while one he has just made is pending.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled the gentleman out of order. (Legislative Journal, November 27, 1951, p. 5779.)

Motion to Drop From Calendar Does Not Take Precedence Over the Motion to Recommit

19(b). Mr. Dent submitted the point of order that a motion to drop a bill from the Calendar takes precedence over the motion to recommit.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled the point of order not well taken.

SECTION 20

ORDERS OF THE DAY

A Single Objection Prevents Suspension of, at a Special Session or a Special Purpose

20(a). The President pro tempore decided that at a special session, for a special purpose, a single objection would prevent the suspension of the orders. (Senate Journal, 1875, pp. 460, 589.)

The President decided that at a special session for a special purpose, a motion cannot be considered without the unanimous consent of the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1875, p. 586.)

Motion to Extend Session Pending Consideration of Bills not in Order

20(b). Mr. Hall submitted the point of order that a motion to extend session was not in order, pending the consideration of a bill. Decided well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 664.)

Two-thirds Vote Necessary to Suspend

20(c). Mr. Kennedy submitted the point of order, as the amendment offered by Mr. Cooper virtually involved a suspension of the special orders fixed for half past eleven o'clock today, it would require a two-thirds vote to adopt the same. Decided well taken. (Senate Journal, 1833, p. 779.)

Mr. Schnatterly submitted the point of order that the resolution involving a suspension of the regular order required a two-thirds vote in the affirmative to pass it. Decided well taken. (Senate Journal, 1887, p. 205.)

Mr. Watres submitted the point of order that, as the motion involved a suspension of the regular order at twelve o'clock, two-thirds of all members voting are required for its adoption. Decided well taken. (Senate Journal, 1889, p. 907.)

Two-thirds Vote Not Necessary to Pass Resolution Changing Time of Daily Adjournment

20(d). The Senate having, by resolution, temporarily, fixed certain hours for meeting and adjourning, Mr. Cooper, when resolutions were in order, offered the following: Resolved, That this day and hereafter the Senate will adjourn only upon motion adopted by a majority. Mr. Reyburn submitted the point of order that the resolution involves a suspension of the regular order, and therefore, a two-thirds vote is required to pass it. Decided not well taken, as the resolution did not suspend any rule. (Senate Journal, 1887, p. 205.)

Suspended by Special Order

20(e). Mr. Cooper submitted the point of order that, as the order for the offering of original resolutions was not completed, the special order fixed by the Senate for half past eleven o'clock was not in order. Decided not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 780.)

Mr. Hughes, then submitted the point of order that, as the resolution was still pending and undisposed of, its consideration could not be interrupted by other business. Decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 780.)

Take Precedence of Call for the Previous Question

20(f). The Chair having decided the call for the previous question in order, and an appeal taken, and the question being, "Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Senate?" The hour of one o'clock having arrived, and the orders of the day being called for the President was about to adjourn the Senate, when Mr. Hall submitted the point of order that the orders of the day cannot be called pending a call for the previous question. The President decided the point of order not well taken and adjourned the Senate. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 172.)

Suspension of, Necessary to Offer Resolution After the Order of Resolution Has Been Gone Through With

20(g). Mr. Cooper submitted the point of order that the order of original resolution having been gone through with today, the motion was not in order at this time, except by suspension of the orders, which required a two-thirds vote. The President pro tempore (Mr. Mylin) decided the point of order well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 208.)

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

21(a). Mr. Fleming raised the point of order as to the nature of the question of personal privilege.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis, ruled that questions of personal privilege are questions affecting the rights, reputation and conduct of Members of the Senate in their representative capacity. They must relate to a person as a Member of the Senate or relate to charges against his character which would, if true, incapacitate him for membership or entitlement to the floor. (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 2059.)

SECTION 22

POINTS OF ORDER

Cannot Be Raised Upon Another Pending Point of Order

22(a). The President pro tempore decided that a point of order could not be raised upon another point of order pending before the Senate for consideration. (Senate Journal, 1876, p. 884.)

Can Be Raised at Any Stage of a Bill

22(b). The President decided that a point of order can be submitted at any stage of a bill, and was always in order. (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 389.)

Cannot Be Raised Upon a Question After Other Business Has Intervened

22(c). The President pro tempore decided that as a recess had been taken (a motion to that effect having been made and carried in the meanwhile), and as the Senate had come together after the recess had expired, it was then too late for a point of order to be raised upon the resolution which had been passed previous to the recess. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1891, p. 487.)

Point of Order Not Debatable

22(d). A point of order having been ruled upon by the presiding officer, is not debatable. Exceptions to the ruling may be taken only by appeal. (Legislative Journal, March 14, 1949, pp. 1200, 1201.)

SECTION 23

PREVIOUS QUESTION

Call for, Can Be Renewed Same Day

23(a). The Senate decided that the previous question, having been called on the pending question of a bill and not sustained, could be called again on the same day. (Senate Journal, 1884, p. 690.)

On Bill, Not Precluded by Motion to Postpone

23(b). A motion for postponement being before the Senate, the previous question was called. The Speaker decided that if the call was sustained, the first question would be on the motion to postpone, and not on the bill pending. From which decision an appeal was taken, and the decision reversed by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1850, pp. 265, 269.)

Cuts Off Motion to Postpone Indefinitely

23(c). The Speaker decided that the previous question cut off a motion to postpone indefinitely. The Senate sustained the decision. (Senate Journal, 1868, p. 914.)

Call for, in Order While a Senator is Speaking

23(d). Mr. Cooper submitted a point of order that, as the Senator from Philadelphia (Mr. Adams) had the floor, the call for the previous question could not be recognized by the Chair at that time. The President decided the point of order not well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 172.)

QUESTIONS

When Not Divisible

24(a). Mr. Hall submitted the point of order that the question was not divisible, for the reason that if the first proposition was defeated the remaining proposition would be incomplete. Decided well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 696.)

Mr. Wallace called for a division of the question, so that a vote could be had upon each of the several sections offered as an amendment to the bill. The President decided that the question was not divisible, because the amendment would be incomplete unless adopted as a whole. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 1225.)

When Divisible

24(b). Mr. Gordon called for a division of the question (on a resolution to appoint a conference committee, and instruct the same), so that a separate vote could be had upon each of the two propositions contained there. Mr. Adams submitted the point of order, that the resolution could not be divided without destroying the sense, and the call for a division of the question was, therefore, not in order. The President decided the resolution could be divided without destroying the sense, and the point of order, therefore, not well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 56.)

When a Part of a Divisible Question Cannot Be Considered

24(c). And the question being: "Will the Senate agree to the second division?" Mr. McCracken submitted the point of order that the first division of the question having been ruled out of order, the second division is incomplete and unintelligible, and, therefore, not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 56.)

QUESTIONS OF PRIVILEGE

Do Not Take Precedence of Special Orders

24(d). During the consideration of the resolution—(Resolved, As the sense of the Senate, that the ruling of the temporary President on the appeal taken from the decision of the President of the Senate on the point of order raised by the Senator from Delaware that amendments inserted on the second reading could not be stricken out on the third reading of House Bill No. 289, known as the repeal of the recorder's act of 1878, was an error, a tie vote having been cast, and the proceedings subsequent to the decision of the President of the Senate be corrected upon the Journal and rescinded)—the hour fixed for a special order having arrived, Mr. Reyburn then submitted the point of order that the question before the Senate was one of the highest privilege, and as such its consideration was in order until finally decided. The President submitted the point of order to the Senate for its decision. Decided in the negative by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1883, pp. 779, 780, 787.)

Do Not Take Precedence Over Roll Call

24(e). Mr. Lane interrupted a roll call by rising on question of personal privilege.

The Presiding Officer ruled the question of personal privilege does not take precedence over the roll call and the gentleman was out of order. (Legislative Journal, December 10, 1951, p. 5963.)

SECTION 25

QUORUM

Senators Announcing "Pairs" to Be Counted in Making Up

25(a). Mr. Lee submitted the point of order that those members of the Senate who responded to the call of the yeas and nays just taken by stating as a reason for not voting that they were paired with absent Senators, are to be counted to ascertain whether there was a quorum present when the vote was taken. The President pro tempore decided the point of order well taken and the resolution agreed to. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 143.)

Senators Announcing "Pairs" and Signing Appeal to Be Counted in Making Up

25(b). An appeal having been taken from the foregoing decision, and the yeas and nays called and the five Senators who signed the appeal declining to vote, Mr. Reyburn (acting President pro tempore), decided that with twenty-three Senators voting the two Senators recorded as present and paired, and the records on the question, a quorum was present, and the question was decided in the affirmative. (Senate Journal extra session, 1883, p. 145; appeal from decision of the Chair, p. 145.)

The Acting President pro tempore (Mr. Reyburn) directed the clerk to call the names of the Senators who signed the appeal from the decision of the Chair, viz.: Messrs. Gordon, Kennedy, Biddis, Ross and Hess, and make a record of the same; which was done. And the acting President pro tempore (Mr. Reyburn) decided that with the Senators voting, the Senators present and paired, and the record on the question, a quorum was present, and the question determined in the affirmative. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 146.)

RECESS

26(a). The President decided it not in order to amend a motion "that the Senate take a recess" by adding thereto an amendment fixing the order of business when again convened. An appeal was taken, and the decision reversed. (Senate Journal, 1877, p. 574.)

A motion "that the Senate take a recess until eleven o'clock," having been amended by adding thereto "and that the Senate then proceed to the consideration of House Bill No. 162," the President decided that the Senate having under consideration bills on third reading, and the bill proposed to be considered after the recess, being on second reading, it would require a two-thirds vote to pass the resolution. An appeal was taken, and the decision reversed. (Senate Journal, 1877, p. 576.)

Motion for, Once Negatived, Cannot Be Made for Special Amendment to Bill

28(e). A motion was made by Mr. Cooper that the vote had by which the recorder's repeal bill, as amended, was agreed to a third time be reconsidered for the purpose of special amendment. The President decided the motion not in order, as a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill, as amended, was agreed to had once been made and negatived. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 788.)

28(f). A motion having been made to reconsider final vote on bill. Mr. Grady submitted the point of order that, as five legislative days had elapsed since the vote on final passage of the bill by the Senate, the resolution is not in order. The President decided that point of order well taken, and ruled the motion out of order. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 1241.)

Of Bill Passed on Third Reading Without Amendment Not in Order a Second Time

28(g). The bill being on final passage and a motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed third reading having been made, Mr. Lee submitted the point of order that, as the vote had by which the bill as amended was agreed to had once been reconsidered, and no amendments having been made to the bill, a motion to again reconsider was not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken, and ruled the motion out of order. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 39.)

Motion for, on Second Reading Having Been Made and Lost, Not in Order a Second Time

28(h). The Bill being on third reading and a motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed second reading having been made and lost. Mr. Shapiro submitted the point of order that a motion to reconsider again was not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken and ruled the motion out of order. (Legislative Journal, 1937, p. 6129.)

Necessary When Instructing a Conference Committee to Do That which the Senate Has Already Refused to Do

28(ii). Mr. Hughes submitted the point of order that it is proposed by the resolution instructing a conference committee to do something that the Senate has already refused to do, without reconsidering the previous action of the Senate, and is, therefore, not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken, and ruled the resolution out of order. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 62.)

A Motion for, Always In Order

28(j). An objection having been made to the motion for the reconsideration of the vote by which a resolution was defeated, the President decided that a motion to reconsider is always in order. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1891, p. 04.)

Conclusion for, Opens Main Question to Debate

28(k). Mr. Weiner raised the point of order that under the motion to reconsider only that motion was debatable.

The Presiding Officer decided the point of order not well taken and quoted from Mason's Manual, Sec. 471, p. 322, the following:

"... When the question to be reconsidered is debatable, the entire question is opened to debate by the motion to reconsider."

Not in Order After Five Legislative Days

28(d). Mr. Cooper submitted the point of order that, as five legislative days had elapsed since the vote was had by which the amendment was agreed to, under the provisions of the sixteenth rule of the Senate, the motion was not now in order. Decided well taken. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 737.)

SECTION 29

RESOLUTIONS

Not in Order to Strike Out and Insert New Subject Matter in

29(a). The resolution relative to the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia, being before the Senate, the Speaker decided that an amendment striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting the words as follows, viz.: "That the energies of the government should be devoted to the suppression of the existing rebellion, and to the maintenance of the Union and the Constitution, and it is inexpedient at this time for the Congress to legislate upon the subject of abolishing negro servitude, either in state, territory, or the District of Columbia and that our Senators in Congress be, and they are, hereby instructed, and our representatives requested to vote for such legislation as will best carry out the spirit and meaning of the foregoing resolution" was not in order. (Senate Journal, 1862, p. 283.)

Two-thirds Vote Necessary to Pass Resolution Changing Rules by Imposing Special Work on a Standing Committee

29(b). On the passage of a resolution authorizing the Committee on Mines and Mining, of the two Houses, to make certain investigations, the President pro tempore (Mr. Grady in the Chair), decided that as all committees of the Senate were to be appointed by the President pro tempore, and as the resolution provided for the appointment or naming of a committee, it involved a suspension of the rule and required a two-thirds vote to pass the same; an appeal was taken from said decision and the Chair sustained. (Senate Journal, 1897, pp. 803, 811.)

Merits of Resolution Not to Be Debated When Presented

29(c). The point of order was raised by Mr. Huffman that it is a violation of the rules of the Senate for a debate to be presented by a Senator offering a resolution. President decided point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, 1937, p. 129.)

Discharge Resolution Is Not a Privileged Resolution

29(d). Mr. Dent raised the question as to whether or not a discharge resolution was a privileged resolution.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled that it is not and quoted from Section 400 of Jefferson's Manual the following:

"The motion to discharge a committee from the consideration of an ordinary legislative proposition is not privileged." (Legislative Journal, May 7, 1951, p. 1873.)

Discharge Resolution, Vote on, Not a Vote For or Against a Bill

29(e). Mr. Van Sant inquired as to whether a vote on a discharge resolution constitutes a vote for or against a bill. The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis, ruled that the vote is to decide whether or not to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill. The vote is on the resolution (only). (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 4174.)

Discharge Resolution Not Debatable

29(f). The question was raised as to debate on a discharge resolution. The Presiding Officer quoted the following from Section 491, p. 329, of Mason's Manual:

"It is not in order to discuss the merits of a bill upon a motion to discharge a committee or withdraw a bill from committee. Debate in such cases must be confined strictly to the purpose of the motion, for if this were not true, the merits of any question could be forced under discussion merely by such a motion."

RESOLUTIONS CONCURRENT

Necessary to Provide for Printing of Report of an Investigating Committee—Cannot Be Considered Until Referred to Proper Committee

30(a). Mr. Gobin submitted to the point of order, that a concurrent resolution is necessary to provide for the printing proposed in the resolution, and a concurrent resolution, which originated in the Senate, of the same character, having been defeated in the House, the resolution is not in order. The President pro tempore decided that the resolution was not in order. (Senate Journal, 1891, p. 860.)

A concurrent resolution creating a commission to be known as a commission to investigate the disbursement of the Commonwealth, having been introduced the President decided that under Rule 39 of the Senate, it must be referred to an appropriate committee before consideration by the Senate. (Legislative Journal, June 11, 1913, p. 4522.)

From House Recalling a House Bill Which Is on Second Reading Calendar Out of Order

30(b). A resolution having been presented to the Senate recalling a House Bill, Mr. Lyon submitted the point of order, that said bill having been regularly presented to the Senate as having passed the House of Representatives, committed to the proper Senate committee, considered by the same and reported to the Senate, and having passed first reading and now being on second reading calendar, the position of the bill is such that the request of the House contained in the resolution could not be complied with under the rules of the Senate. Whereupon, the President of the Senate decided the point of order well taken and ruled the resolution out of order. (Senate Journal, 1893, p. 1136. See also Legislative Journal, 1921, p. 1295.)

ROLL CALL

Verification Cannot Be Asked for After Vote Announced

31(a). Mr. Reed submitted the point of order that after the roll call was announced by the Chair it was too late to ask the verification of the roll. The President decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, 1933, p. 5640. See also Legislative Journal, 1937, pp. 397, 398.)

Announcement of Roll Call Cannot Be Delayed for a Day

31(b). A roll call having been completed and the announcement thereof being next in order, Senator Dent requested the results be postponed until the following day to allow Senator Barr, who was absent, to register his opposition to the bill.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, the only order of business in order is the announcement of the roll call and the request is out of order. (Legislative Journal, December 17, 1951, p. 6294.)

SECTION 32

RULES

Defeat of Motion to Suspend, Carries with It Whole Proposition

32(a). A point of order was submitted by Mr. Cooper that, as the first division had been defeated, and the Senate had decided not to suspend the rules the second division was not in order. The President decided the point of order well taken, and ruled the question out of order. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1833, p. 64.)

SENATORS

Before Qualification, Cannot Present Papers

33(a). The Speaker decided that it was not in order for a Senator-elect to present a paper to the Senate before he was qualified. (Senate Journal, 1866, p. 6.)

The Speaker decided that it was not in order to receive a paper from persons elected as Senators previous to their being qualified. The Senate sustained the decision. (Senate Journal, 1867, p. 6.)

Constitutional Order in Organization of Senate

33(b). Senator Barr, at the meeting for the organization of the Senate, and after the Senators-elect from the even-numbered districts had been declared elected but prior to the roll call, asked leave to present a resolution.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis, ruled that the resolution was out of order and stated:

"Motions at this time are out of order because of the lack of a quorum as provided in Section 10, Article 2, of the Constitution, which reads as follows:

"A majority of each House shall constitute a quorum."

"Until the oath of office has been administered to the Senators whose election has just been certified to the Senate by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the required quorum of twenty-six (26) members is lacking.

"In the absence of a quorum, the only thing before the Senate is the administering of the oath of office to the certified newly elected Senators and the calling of the roll to ascertain if a quorum is present."

(Legislative Journal, January 5, 1943, pages 3 and 4.)

May Vote on Question Affecting Seat of 33(c). The Speaker decided that an amendment, directing that the name of a Senator, whose seat was contested, be omitted in calling the yeas and nays on the resolution before the Senate relating to the right of such Senator to a seat in that body, was not in order. An appeal was taken and laid on the table. (Senate Journal, 1871, p. 125.)

A question of order was raised that a Senator should not vote upon a question affecting his seat in the Senate. The Speaker submitted the question to the Senate, and it was decided that the question of order was not well taken. (Senate Journal, 1871, p. 127.)

Formal Resignation of, Necessary to Preclude Their Voting

33(d). The yeas and nays having been called and taken, before the result was announced, Mr. Gordon submitted the point of order that the two Senators from Allegheny (Messrs. Arnhold and Upperman) having resigned their seats, were not entitled to a vote, and their vote should not be counted in ascertaining the result of the pending question. The President pro tempore (Mr. MacFarlane in the Chair) decided the point of order not well taken, the Senate having no official knowledge of the resignation of the Senators named. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 209.)

Debate Limited

34(a). Mr. Walker raised the question that if a bill is made a special order of business at 2:45 o'clock and another bill is made a special order of business at 3:00 o'clock, are the proceedings, although unfinished, stopped at the termination of the time allotted to the bill which was made a special order of business at 2:45 o'clock when the Senate clock shows the hour of 3:00 o'clock.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled they very definitely would be. (Legislative Journal, September 25, 1951, p. 5356.)

Privilege of 34(b). Mr. Weiner raised the point of order that the motion to make Executive Nominations a Special Order of Business immediately, while the Senate was under the Order of Business of Original Resolutions was out of order.

The Presiding Officer decided the point of order not well taken, and quoted from Mason's Manual, Sec. 264, p. 203, the following:

"The purpose of a special order is to expedite important business and set a definite time for its consideration, which gives such a special order privilege over other pending business. Whenever the making of a special order sets aside the general rules regarding the order of business it requires the same vote as would be required to specifically suspend the rules."

The Chair is of the opinion that the motion made by Senator Fleming is in order at this time.

An appeal was taken and the decision of the Chair was sustained. (Legislative Journal, 1959, p. 5226.)

SPECIAL SESSION

For a Special Purpose Being Fixed, a Two-thirds Vote Not Necessary to Pass Resolution for General Business

35(a). A special session of the Senate being already fixed for the afternoon, for taking the vote on United States Senator, the President decided that a two-thirds vote was necessary to pass a resolution—"That when the Senate adjourns this A. M., it will be to meet at three o'clock this P. M." An appeal was taken and the decision reversed by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1877, p. 521.)

SECTION 36

TIE VOTE

On Appeal Sustains Decisions of the President

36(a). An appeal having been taken from the decision of the President of the Senate, and the vote of the Senate on the question of sustaining the decision, resulted in a tie, the President directed that a decision of the Chair on a point of order stands until reversed by a majority vote of the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1877, p. 163.)

Chair Obligated to Break Tie Vote

36(b). Mr. Shapiro raised the point of order that a majority of those present had not voted on the motion to go into Committee of the Whole and that the Chair therefore is not entitled to a vote. The President disagreed with Mr. Shapiro as the Senate was not voting in Committee of the Whole. The President, however, ruled that under the Constitution the Chair is obligated to break a tie vote whether there is a constitutional majority or not. (Legislative Journal, 1937, p. 5949.)

On Appeal Reverses Chair's Ruling

36(c). An appeal having been taken from the decision of the Chair, a motion was made to lay the appeal on the table. Not agreed to. On sustaining the decision of the Chair, the yeas and nays were taken and resulted in a tie vote. The acting President pro tempore (Mr. Hall) decided that the appeal was sustained, and the decision of the President overruled by the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1883, pp. 749-750.)

President Not Entitled to Vote to Break Tie on Final Passage of Bill

36(d). The President is not entitled to cast a deciding vote in case of a tie where it means the passage of a bill. The Constitution requires a majority vote of the members elected to the Senate, which means twenty-six Senatorial votes. (Legislative Journal, April 28, 1949, p. 4808.)

VOTE

Cannot Be Recorded After Result Is Announced by the Chair

37(a). The yeas and nays having been called on the passage of a resolution, the names of Senators voting for and against it having been read by the clerk, the result announced by the President pro tempore, a Senator demanded that his vote, which he alleged had been cast but not recorded, should be recorded and counted. The President pro tempore decided that the Senator should have corrected the vote after it was read by the clerk, and before announced by the President pro tempore, and it could not be recorded and counted now. (Senate Journal, 1878, p. 615.)

Cannot Be Recorded After the Call of the Yeas and Nays Has Been Completed, Except by Consent of the Majority

37(b). The President pro tempore decided that the call of the yeas and nays having been completed in calling the name of the President pro tempore and recording his vote, the vote of the Senator from Cambria (Mr. Bobbs) could not be recorded without the consent of the Senate. (Senate Journal, 1885, p. 195.)

Can Be Changed on a Misapprehension of the Question

37(c). The yeas and nays having been taken, and before the list of those voting had been read by the clerk, and the result announced by the Chair, two Senators asked leave to change their votes from the affirmative to the negative, whereupon the President pro tempore inquired of them whether they had voted under a misapprehension. Upon a point of order being raised, the Senate decided that the proper question to put to each of the two Senators is "Has the Senator voted under a misapprehension of the question?" (Senate Journal, 1879, p. 948.)

Change of Vote by Reason of Misapprehension Only

37(d). Senator Crowe having requested permission to change his vote from "aye" to "no" upon a pending bill, Senator Shapiro raised the point of order that no Senator has a right to change his vote unless he states that he voted under a misapprehension.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, ruled that the point of order was well taken and that, under Senate Decision No. 123, in the State Manual, a Senator cannot change his vote without stating that he voted under a misapprehension. (Legislative Journal, March 23, 1943, p. 1957.)

Of Twenty-six Senators in the Affirmative Necessary to Pass a Bill Finally

37(e). The President decided that the constitutional requirements relative to the final passage of a bill is intended to apply to the whole number of Senators provided for by the Constitution, which would be fifty, and that the number required to be recorded in favor of a bill upon its final passage is a majority of the whole number of Senators elected, which would be twenty-six. (Senate Journal, 1881, p. 479.)

Too Late to Correct on Bill After Other Business Has Intervened

37(f). Mr. Grady rose to a question of privilege and made the statement that the vote on House Bill No. 35, as taken, was incorrect; that the vote of Mr. Moyer, in the affirmative had not been recorded, and if recorded, the bill would have received twenty-six affirmative votes, and would have passed the Senate. He then, upon leave given, moved that the vote be again taken on said bill. Mr. Merrick raised the point of order that the motion of Mr. Grady was not in order, the vote having been already taken and the result of said bill announced, and that other business had intervened. The Chair decided the point of order well taken. (Senate Journal, 1897, p. 1799.)

Right to Change Vote

37(g). After the verification of a roll call, but before announcement of the vote, Senator Geltz requested that his vote be changed from "aye" to "no." Senator Shapiro objected, raising the point of order that "since the Chair has already verified the negative vote and declared it to stand, there can be no change in the vote" and suggested that "nothing is in order until the vote has been counted and there is nothing before the Chair except an announcement of the vote. Anything else that comes up now, after the vote has been verified, is out of order."

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) ruled the point of order was not well taken and stated that "in the absence of a Senate Rule or a joint House and Senate Rule governing the question, the Chair, under Rule 34 of the Senate, quotes from the House Rules and Manual of the 76th Congress, Rule 15, Paragraph 766, page 349:

"Before the result of a vote has been finally and conclusively pronounced by the Chair, but not thereafter, a member may change his vote."

The Chair also quoted from page 193, Roberts Rules of Order:

"A Member has the right to change his vote, up to the time the vote is finally announced." (Legislative Journal, May 10, 1941, pp. 2438 and 2449.)

Misapprehension on Confirmation

37(h). Mr. Barr raised the question as to whether a member can vote under a misapprehension on the confirmation of a cabinet member.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled that a member may change his vote any time before it is announced. (Legislative Journal, February 19, 1951, p. 363.)

Senator Must Vote if Present

37(i). Mr. Walker raised the point of order that since Senator Kephart was in his seat and had not voted when his name was called, he was obliged to vote under the rules of the Senate.

The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, December 4, 1951, p. 5855.)

Senator Must Vote on Confirmation if Present

37(j). Senator Barr asked if he was required to vote on a confirmation.

The Presiding Officer ruled that a Senator must vote if present. (Legislative Journal, December 21, 1951, p. 6747.)

SECTION 38

YEAS AND NAYS

Call of, Out of Order, When Senators Demanding Same Decline to Vote

38(a). On the completion of the call of the yeas and nays, and before the result was announced by the Chair, it appearing that less than a quorum had voted, the President pro tempore ruled the call out of order, because the Senators requiring the same had not voted. (Senate Journal, 1883, p. 1228.)

Call of, Cannot Be Interrupted After First Senator's Name Is Called

38(b). Mr. Humes submitted the point of order that the motion was not in order at this time, the Chair having ordered the call of the yeas and nays, and the clerk having called the name of Mr. Adams. The President decided the point of order well taken. (Senate Journal, extra session, 1883, p. 174.)

In case of failure to make an appointment, the House shall elect a Speaker Pro Tempore to act during the absence of the Speaker.

The Speaker Pro Tempore shall perform all the duties of the Chair during the absence of the Speaker, except, he shall sign bills only with the consent of the House.

Taking the Chair; Journal

2. The Speaker shall take the Chair and call the Members to order on every legislative day at the hour to which the House adjourned at the last sitting. On the appearance of a quorum, the Speaker shall proceed to the regular order of business as prescribed by the rules of the House.

The Journal of the proceedings of the last day's session shall not be read unless so ordered by a majority vote of the House.

Order and Decorum

3. The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum. He may clear the galleries and lobby in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct.

Questions of Order

Questions involving the constitutionality of any matter shall be decided by the House. On questions of order, there shall be no debate except on an appeal from the decision of the Speaker or on reference of a question by him to the House. In either case, no Member shall speak more than once, except by leave of the House.

Unless germane to the appeal, a second point of order is not in order while an appeal is pending, but when the appeal is disposed of, a second point of order is in order and is subject to appeal.

Signature of Speaker

5. The Speaker shall sign all bills and joint resolutions in the presence of the House, after their titles have been publicly read. The fact of signing shall be entered upon the Journal. (Constitution, Article III, section 9.)

49. When a bill has been defeated by the House, it shall not be re-introduced nor shall it be in order to consider a similar one, or to act on a Senate bill of like import, during the same session.

Reconsideration

50. A motion to reconsider shall be made by two Members who voted on the prevailing side on the original question, or in case of voice vote by any Member. The motion shall be considered only under the order of business in which the vote proposed to be reconsidered occurred.

A motion to reconsider any vote must be made on the same day on which the vote proposed to be reconsidered was taken, or within the succeeding five days in which the House is in session.

A motion to reconsider the vote by which a bill was defeated shall be in writing.

A bill, resolution or other proposition on which a vote had been taken must be in the possession of the House to be reconsidered.

The vote on a bill or resolution recalled from the Governor may be reconsidered at any time after the bill or resolution has been returned to the House.

No question shall be twice reconsidered. If the motion to reconsider is lost, it may not be renewed.

When a motion to reconsider is decided in the affirmative, the question immediately recurs on the proposition reconsidered.

MOTIONS—Presentation and Withdrawal

51. When a motion, which is in order, has been made, the Speaker shall state it, or (if it is in writing), cause it to be read by the Clerk. It shall then be in the possession of the House, but may be withdrawn by the maker, at any time before decision or amendment.

The Speaker shall put the question in the following form, viz: "Those in favor of the motion will say 'aye.'" After the affirmative is expressed, "Those who are opposed, will say 'no.'"

All motions, except for the previous question and reconsideration, may be made without a second.

No dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker.

Privileged Motions

52. When a question is under debate, or before the House, no motion shall be received but the following, which shall take precedence in the order named:

- First: To adjourn, or recess;
- Second: To lay on the table;
- Third: For the previous question;
- Fourth: To postpone;
- Fifth: To commit, or recommit;
- Sixth: To amend.

Debate on the motion to postpone shall be confined to the question of the postponement and shall not include discussion of the main question.

The motion to commit or recommit is open to debate only as to the reasons for or against reference to committee and shall not include a discussion of the merits of the main question.

Debate on the motion to amend shall be limited to the amendment and shall not include the general merits of the main question.

Adjourn.

53. A motion to adjourn or recess is not debatable. It cannot be amended and is always in order, except:

- (a) When another Member has the floor;
- (b) When the House is voting.

When a motion to adjourn is made, it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit the Majority and Minority Leaders or, in their absence, Members designated by them to state to the House any act relating to the condition of the business of the House which would seem to render it inadvisable to adjourn. These statements shall be limited to two minutes and shall not be debatable.

Motion to Lay on the Table

54. A motion to lay on the table is not debatable, is not subject to amendment and carries with it the main question and all other pending questions which adhere to it, except when an appeal is laid on the table.

Motion to Take From the Table

55. A motion to take from the table, a bill or other subject, is in order under the same order of business in which the matter was laid on the table. It shall be decided without debate or amendment.

Previous Question

56. A motion for the previous question, seconded by twenty Members and sustained by a majority of the Members present, shall put an end to all debate and bring the House to an immediate vote on the question then pending, or questions on which it has been ordered.

A motion for the previous question may be made to embrace any or all pending amendments or motions and to include the passage or rejection of the bill.

Amendments to Bills or Resolutions

57. No bill shall be amended so as to change its original purpose. (Constitution, Article III, Section 1.)

No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Any Member may move to amend a bill or resolution, provided the proposed amendment is germane to the subject.

Before consideration, eight typewritten copies of a proposed amendment, signed by its sponsor, shall be presented to the Speaker, one copy of which shall be delivered to the Newspaper Correspondents.

Form for Printing Amendments

58. In printing amendments to bills and resolutions, all new matter added shall be in CAPITAL LETTERS, and matter to be eliminated shall be indicated by strike-out type.

In reprinting House bills previously amended by the House, and in reprinting Senate bills previously amended by the Senate, but not in Senate bills previously amended by the House, all matter appearing in strike-out type shall be dropped from the new print and all matter appearing in CAPITAL LETTERS shall be reset in lower case Roman type.

Division of a Question

59. Any Member may call for a division of a question by the House, if it comprehends propositions so distinct and separate that one being taken away, the other will stand as a complete proposition for the decision of the House.

A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

Decorum

60. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House, and during debate, or voting, no Member shall disturb another by talking or walking up and down or crossing the floor of the House.

Debate

61. When a Member desires to address the House, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker." Upon being recognized, he may speak, confining himself to the question under consideration and avoid personal reflections.

When two or more Members rise at the same time and ask for recognition, the Speaker shall designate the Member who is entitled to the floor.

No Member, except the Majority and Minority Leaders, may speak more than twice on any question, without the consent of the House.

Interruption of Member Who Has the Floor

62. A Member who has the floor may not be interrupted, except for questions of order, or by a motion for the previous question.

With his consent, a Member may yield the floor for questions related to the subject before the House.

Debate of Committee Proceedings Not Permitted

63. A member shall not relate in debate what was done or said in committee, except such as is contained in the written report, or is authorized by the committee; nor shall a Member, in debate, discuss a bill, resolution or other matter not yet reported by a committee to the House.

Personal Privilege

64. Any Member may by leave of the Speaker, rise and explain a matter personal to himself, but he shall not discuss a pending question in his explanation. Questions of personal privilege shall be limited to questions affecting the rights, reputation and conduct of Members of the House in their representative capacity.

Transgression of House Rules

65. If any Member in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the Rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any Member may, through the Speaker, call him to order; in which case, he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted by the House to explain.

The House shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate. If the decision is in favor of the Member, he may proceed. If the case requires it, he shall be liable to censure or other punishment as the House deems proper.

VOTING—Members Required to Be Present and Vote

66. Every Member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused by the House, or unavoidably prevented, and shall vote for or against each question put, unless he has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the determination of the question, or unless he is excused by the House.

Member Having Private Interest in Bill Not to Vote

67. A Member, who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House, shall disclose the fact to the House and shall not vote thereon. (Constitution, Article III, Section 33.)

Member Must Be Within the Hall of the House to Vote

68. No Member shall be permitted to vote and have his vote recorded on the roll unless he is present in the Hall of the House during the first call of the yeas and nays.

The Hall of the House is defined as the floor space within its four walls and does not include the adjoining conference rooms, the lobbies or the upper gallery of the House. The Legislative Journal shall show the result of each roll call by yeas and nays and those absent and not voting.

Call for Yeas and Nays—Reasons for Vote

69. The yeas and nays of the Members on any question shall, at the desire of any two of them, be entered on the Journal. (Constitution, Article II, Section 12.)

A Member may submit the reasons for his vote in writing immediately after the roll has been called and have them printed in the Journal.

Roll Call Not to Be Interrupted

70. When the names of the Members are called, it shall be done in alphabetical order, except that "Mr. Speaker" shall be called last. When once begun, the roll call shall not be interrupted.

Verification of the Roll and Challenging of Votes

71. Upon completion of a roll call and before the result is announced, if there appears to be need for verification, the Speaker may direct the Clerk to verify it, or three Members may demand a verification.

Any Member may challenge in writing the vote of other Members. The allegations made shall be investigated by a committee composed of the Speaker, a Majority Member and a Minority Member appointed by the Speaker, who shall submit a report to the House, not later than its next session. The House shall then decide whether the challenged vote shall be recorded or not.

If the challenged vote would change the result, the announcement of the vote shall be postponed until the House decides the case.

Changing Vote

72. No Member may change his vote, or have his vote recorded after the vote has been announced, nor after an affirmative or negative roll has been declared verified.

Members Prohibited at Clerk's Desk During Roll Call

73. No Member or other person shall be allowed at the Clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being recorded, or the vote counted.

Vote by Division

74. The Speaker, or any Member may call for a division of the House, when the Speaker shall again put the question distinctly and in the following manner, viz:

"Those in favor (as the question may be) will rise and remain standing until counted."

After the affirmative, he shall put the negative side of the question: "Those opposed will rise and remain standing until counted."

MESSAGES—Senate and Governor

75. Messages from the Senate and communications from the Governor shall be received and read when the House is in session.

Bills passed, concurrent resolutions adopted, and all other communications required to be sent to the Senate, shall be messaged forthwith, if the Senate is in session—otherwise not later than its next sitting.

House Bills Amended by the Senate

76. When a House bill or joint resolution has been amended by the Senate and returned to the House for concurrence, it shall not be considered until placed on the calendar and copies thereof are on the desks of the Members.

When acting on bills or joint resolutions amended by the Senate, the amendments shall be read and the question put, on the concurrence in the amendments.

A majority vote of the Members elected to the House, taken by yeas and nays, shall be required to concur in amendments made by the Senate; except for appropriations to charitable and educational institutions not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, where a vote of two-thirds of all the Members elected to the House shall be required to concur. (Constitution, Article III, Sections 5 and 17.)

Bills Vetted by the Governor

77. When the Governor has returned a bill to the House, with his objections, the veto message shall be read and the House shall proceed to reconsider it. (Constitution, Article IV, Section 15.)

MISCELLANEOUS RULES—Journal, Transcribing and Document Rooms

78. No person, except Members and employees of the House having official business, shall be permitted in the Transcribing, the Legislative Journal and the Bills and Documents Rooms of the House without the consent of the Chief Clerk.

Newspaper Correspondents

79. The privileges of a Newspaper Correspondent may be accorded by the Speaker to a telegraphic correspondent of a daily newspaper or recognized press association or to an official reporter for a Harrisburg daily newspaper, who is not engaged in any department of the State Government or in any other business. Not more than one representative of each newspaper or press association shall be admitted to the press gallery at one time.

Applications for admission to the press gallery shall be made to the Speaker. The application shall state the name of the newspaper or press association, its location, times of publication and be signed by the applicant.

The Speaker shall verify the statements made in each application. If the application is approved by him, he shall issue a correspondent's card, signed by him and by the President of the Legislative Correspondents' Association.

The correspondents shall not interview Members at their desks during the sessions of the House, and shall abide by the rules and regulations adopted by the House.

The House, by majority vote, may suspend or revoke the privileges of any legislative correspondent upon the recommendation of the Committee on Rules.

The card issued by the Speaker shall be presented when required by any Sergeant-at-Arms. It shall not be transferable. Any card transferred or loaned to any one shall be cancelled and all privileges withdrawn from the offending correspondent.

The gallery allotted to newspaper correspondents shall be for their exclusive use. Persons not hold-

Photographers, Radio and Television

80. Accredited photographers of newspapers, wire and newsreel services may be authorized by the Speaker, subject to the approval of the House, to take photographs during the sessions of the House.

Reporters of news, disseminated by radio or television, desiring to report debates and proceedings of the House, or public hearings of its committees, shall make application to the Committee on Rules, whose recommendations shall be submitted to the House for action.

Visitors

81. Persons admitted to the House floor, other than Members and attaches, shall not be permitted to stand while the House is in session, but shall be seated in chairs provided for them.

Visitors shall not sit at the desks of the Members, or confer with them while the House is in session.

Sergeant-at-Arms

82. The Sergeant-at-Arms, under the direction of the Speaker, shall, while the House is in session, maintain order on the floor and its adjoining rooms. He shall enforce the Rule with respect to the conduct of visitors.

He shall at all times prevent persons from peddling in the Hall of the House and its adjoining rooms.

Soliciting Prohibited

83. No officer or employee of the House shall solicit any Member, other officer or employee of the House for any purpose.

Supervision of Hall of the House and Committee Rooms

84. Subject to the direction of the Speaker, the Chief Clerk shall have supervision and control over the Hall of the House, the caucus and committee rooms and all other rooms assigned to the House.

Except by consent of the House, the Hall of the House shall not be used for any public or private business, other than Legislative matters during the sessions of the Legislature.

RULES—Suspending and Amending Rules

85. Any Rule of the House, which is not required by the Constitution, may be temporarily suspended at any time for a specific purpose by a majority vote of the Members elected to the House.

A motion to suspend the Rules may not be laid on the table; postponed; committed; amended or debated.

No Rule of the House shall be amended except by a majority vote of the Members elected to the House, and no resolution proposing an amendment to the Rules shall be considered until it has been referred to the Committee on Rules, reported therefrom, printed, filed on the desk of each Member and placed on the calendar.

The Committee on Rules shall report to the House any resolution proposing an amendment to the Rules with an affirmative or negative recommendation within five Legislative Days from the date the resolution was referred.

Parliamentary Authority

86. Jefferson's Manual supplemented by Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall be the Parliamentary Authority of the House, if applicable and not inconsistent with the Constitution of Pennsylvania Rules of the House.

DECISIONS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ON POINTS OF ORDER<sup>1</sup>

Not in Order to Entertain Two Consecutive Motions to

1. The Speaker decided that it is not in order to entertain two consecutive motions to adjourn, if no other business of the House has intervened at the time the motion is made. (Journal H. R. 1843, p. 361.) (See also Journal H. R. 1885, p. 920.)

Motion to, in Order Immediately Following a Motion for Recess

2. A motion that the House take a recess having been defeated, a motion was immediately made to adjourn. The point of order was raised that no other business having intervened, a motion to adjourn is not in order. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, stating the previous motion was for a recess. (Legislative Journal, April 17, 1913, pp. 2019 and 2020; Journal H. R., p. 2724.)

Motion to, Pending No Other in Order

3. A motion to suspend the rules was made while a motion to adjourn was pending. The point of order was raised that no motion is in order while a motion to adjourn is before the House. The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken—motion to suspend a rule is not in order while a motion to adjourn is pending and a motion to adjourn takes the place of all others; the House cannot be kept sitting against its will. (House Journal 1936, p. 318. Also Legislative Journal May 7, 1956, p. 7837.)

Motion to, Takes Precedence Over Motion to Adjourn to a Stated Time

4. The point of order was raised that a motion to adjourn takes precedence over a motion to adjourn to a stated time. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1889, p. 938.)

From Wednesday Until the Following Monday, Not in Contravention of Constitution

5. A motion was made that when the House adjourns this Wednesday evening, it be to meet on next Monday evening at 9 o'clock. The point of order was submitted that it was unconstitutional for the House to adjourn for more than three days without the consent of the Senate. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken; that an adjournment of the House from Wednesday till the succeeding Monday was not an adjournment for more than three days as provided by the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Sunday being a dies non. See Buckalew on the Constitution of Pennsylvania, edition 1883, p. 52. Construction: It has long been held that the three days' limitation in this section (Section 14, Art. 2) is exclusive of Sundays, and such is the settled construction. Therefore, whether natural or secular days were intended by the authors of the limitation is not now a question of practical importance. Judicial Opinion: West Philadelphia Passenger Ry. Co. v. Union Passenger Ry. Co., and Bancroft v. Same, 29 Legal Intel. 1964, Leg. Gaz., 193. (Journal H. R. 1897, p. 114, House Journal 1872, pp. 156-7. See also Senate Journal, 1913, p. 1127.)

Second to Motion Not Required

6. A motion was made to adjourn. The point of order was raised that the motion had not been seconded. The Speaker ruled the point of order not well taken for the reason the motion to adjourn does not require a second under the Rules of the House. (Legislative Journal, Feb. 20, 1933, p. 675.)

FINAL ADJOURNMENT

Motion to Amend Resolution for

7. The Speaker decided that a motion to amend a resolution for the final adjournment of the Legislature by adding thereto the following: "Provided, That in order to avoid the expense attendant upon the meeting of the convention of the two Houses, in October next, to which it stands adjourned, the members of the two Houses shall assemble previous to the final adjournment of the Legislature, for the purpose of electing a person to represent this Commonwealth in the Senate of the United States, in accordance with the Constitution of the United States, and the laws of the Commonwealth" was in order. The House overruled the decision of the Speaker. (Journal H. R., 1855, p. 826.)

Amendment to Resolution Fixing Date of, in Order

8. On the question of agreeing to an amendment to a resolution fixing the date for adjournment sine die, the point of order was raised that the amendment to the resolution is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order was not well taken for the reason that the amendment provides for a recess and not for an adjournment. (Legislative Journal, 1913, 4168; Journal H. R., p. 4729.)

Date of, Must be Specific

9. On the question of adopting a resolution relative to final adjournment of the House, the point of order was raised that the resolution is out of order because the date of final adjournment is not specific. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 5, 1913, p. 3951.)

Constitution Does Not Contemplate, House Shall Fix Time of

10. On the question of adopting a report from the Committee on Rules, relative to the adjournment of the House sine die, the point of order was raised that the Constitution of Pennsylvania does not contemplate that the House shall adjourn sine die. The Speaker pro tempore decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 10, 1913, p. 4168; Journal H. R., p. 4729.)

AMENDMENTS

In the Second Degree in Order

11. The Speaker decided that a bill originating in the Senate and passed by the House of Representatives with amendments, which are concurred in by the Senate with amendments, and returned to the House, was still subject to amendments by the House, the proposed amendments being, in his opinion, only in the second degree. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1849, p. 525.)

Amendments Germane—Therefore Constitutional

12. On the question of agreeing to a bill on third reading the point of order was raised, that:

Journal H. R., 1893, p. 1016; Legislative Record, January 23, 1893, p. 321; Legislative Record, February 8, 1906, p. 439; Journal H. R., p. 200; Legislative Record, February 13, 1906, p. 579; Journal H. R., p. 246; Legislative Record, April 10, 1907, pp. 2413, 2414.)

To Amend Bill on Final Passage, Vote on Third Reading Must First Be Reconsidered

19. On the question whether a bill which has passed third reading and being, as required by the Constitution upon final passage, is subject to amendment, the Speaker pro tempore decided "that when a bill has passed three separate readings, and been agreed to each time, the only thing which remains is to take the vote required by the Constitution, unless postponed, and the vote agreeing to the bill the third time must be reconsidered in order to amend the bill." (Journal H. R., 1878, p. 424; see also, Legislative Record, February 8, 1909, p. 351.)

Defeated Cannot Be Offered Again

20. The point of order was raised that "the amendment is out of order, because it had been offered and voted down when the section was under consideration, April 29." Decided well taken by the Speaker. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 903; House Journal, 1891, p. 961.) (See also Legislative Record, May 14, 1907, p. 5429; Legislative Journal, April 4, 1911, p. 1152.)

Similar to One Defeated, But Not to Same Section Is in Order

21. The point of order was raised that inasmuch as this amendment is similar to one already voted down and provides for the very same thing, it is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken because the amendment offered is to another section of the bill. (Legislative Record, March 28, 1907, p. 1845.)

To Senate Amendments, Must Be Printed Before Senate Amendments Are Concurred In

22. A House bill having been returned from the Senate with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested, said amendments were amended by the House and upon the question of concurring in the Senate amendments as amended, the point of order was raised "that the question could not be considered at this time." The Speaker decided that the amendments made by the House to the bill must first be printed and placed on the files of the House before the final vote on concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate as amended by the House could be taken. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 1473.)

Striking Out a Portion of Bill Does Not Require Reprinting

23. A House Bill, having been amended on third reading by striking out a portion of the bill, the point of order was raised that the bill having been amended must lie over for printing. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, the amendment being a strike out, the bill is properly before the House for consideration on final passage. (Legislative Record, April 5, 1909, p. 2477; Legislative Journal, 1923, p. 4120.)

Manner of Offering and Adopting, Where Entire Sections Are Stricken Out

24. The Speaker decided "that a motion to amend by striking out all of a section and inserting a new one was not in order; that where a section is voted down there is nothing left to amend; that if an entire new section is offered as a substitute it is in order, but amendments to the substitute cannot be considered until the substitute is adopted." (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 1012 and Legislative Record 1893, pp. 1461 and 1463.)

Rejected. Not in Order to Discuss

25. The point of order was raised that the amendments having been rejected by the House, a discussion of the same is not in order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, April 12, 1915, p. 1492.)

Discussion of, on Third Reading, Not in Order Until Unanimous Consent Is Obtained

26. A bill was on third reading, when unanimous consent was asked for the insertion of amendments. The point of order was raised that there is nothing before the House but the obtaining of unanimous consent, and discussion of the amendments is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, March 2, 1921, p. 373.)

Withdrawn and Presented at a Later Time Is in Order

27. Amendments were offered on second reading to a House Bill. The point of order was raised that the amendments offered had been previously withdrawn, therefore, the offering of them at this time is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 3, 1913, p. 3819.)

Fixing Salaries of State Officers by Appropriation Is in Order

28. On the question of agreeing to an amendment to the General Appropriation Bill reducing the amount appropriated to pay salaries of certain State officers, the point of order was raised that the State salaries are fixed by law and we cannot change them by appropriations, therefore, the amendment is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 17, 1913, p. 4416.)

Consistency of Amendments for House to Decide

29. The Speaker ruled that the House, rather than the Speaker should decide on the consistency of amendments and their legislative effect. It is not a question of order. He quoted Jefferson's Manual, Section 459. The question as to the consistency of the amendments was submitted to the House. (Legislative Journal, April 24, 1935, p. 2716.)

Amendments to Appropriation Bills, Committee Action Not Required

30. The point of order was raised that an amendment to a bill increasing the amount of an appropriation must first be referred to the Appropriations Committee. The Speaker ruled the point of order not well taken. An amendment acted upon by the whole House does not require action by any committee of the House. The Speaker cited Article III, Sections 2 and 4 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania as the authority for his ruling. (Legislative Journal, December 21, 1952, p. 6787.)

AMENDMENTS BETWEEN THE HOUSES

Motion to Concur in Senate, Not in Order After House Has Non-Concurred

31. On a motion to concur in the amendments made by the Senate to a House Bill, the point of order was raised that this motion is out of order because the House has already non-concurred. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 27, 1913, p. 5409; Journal H. R., p. 5834.)

Not in Order to Discuss Bill Not Properly Before the House

32. On bill not properly before the House, the point of order was raised that a House Bill which was amended in Senate, returned and

House declined to concur in amendments, is not properly before the House. The Speaker ruled point well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 14, 1923, p. 5144.)

Reconsideration of Vote Non-Concurring in, Not in Order After Five Days

33. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which the House non-concurred in the Senate amendments to a House Bill, the point of order was raised that the House non-concurred in these amendments more than five days ago and the motion is out of order for that reason. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 27, 1913, p. 5424; Journal H. R., p. 5852.)

A Motion to Recede from Non-Concurrence in, After Notice Given to Senate, Not in Order

34. After information has been given to the Senate, that the House insists upon its non-concurrence in an amendment by the Senate, a motion to recede from the non-concurrence is not in order. (Journal H. R., 1827-8, p. 781.) (The same principle is decided in Journal 1816-17, p. 708.)

Receding from, Requires a Constitutional Majority Vote

35. The Speaker having decided a motion that the House recede from amendments, non-concurred in by the Senate was defeated, the point of order was raised that the motion just decided was defeated, did have the required number of votes to pass it. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken inasmuch as to recede from the amendments made by the House, it requires a constitutional majority. (Legislative Record, June 26, 1901, p. 3895.)

APPEAL

Not Entertained from Response to Parliamentary Inquiry

36. A parliamentary inquiry having been made as to the reading of section one of a bill at length on second reading.

The Speaker stated that the Journal shows that the section was read. That could mean nothing other than it was read at length. The record having been made, the House cannot go behind the record.

An appeal was taken and the Speaker ruled that the question was a parliamentary inquiry made to the Speaker from which there is no appeal and quoted as follows from Jefferson's Manual:

"The right of appeal insures the House against the arbitrary control of the Speaker and cannot be taken away from the House; but appeal may not be entertained from responses to parliamentary inquiries." (Legislative Journal, May 2, 1939, p. 2318.)

Speaker Pro-Tem, Not to Interpret Question Which Has Been Referred to House

37. In reply to a parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker pro-tempore stated it was not proper for him to interpret a question of parliamentary law, which has been specifically referred to the House as a result of an appeal. (Legislative Journal, May 1, 1939, p. 2194.)

BILLS

Under Control of Speaker While in the Possession of the House

38. The Speaker decided that all bills were under his control while in the possession of the House. An appeal was taken, which was laid on the table. (Journal H. R., 1859, pp. 292, 293, 294.)

Under Control of Speaker

39. In reply to a parliamentary inquiry the Speaker stated bills which were in the possession and jurisdiction of the House were, in his opinion, under the control of the Speaker. (Legislative Journal, July 27, 1955, p. 2961.)

Passed Finally Must Be Messaged to Senate

40. The point of order was raised that it was not within the province of the House to hold a bill, inasmuch as it passed finally. The Speaker ruled the point of order not well taken, inasmuch as the Senate would not be in session until the next Tuesday and therefore, the bill would remain in the possession of the House until that time. (House Journal, 1931, pp. 1262-63.)

Defeated in House, Not in Order to Consider Similar One from Senate

41. The House decided that when a bill has been considered and defeated in the House, it is not in order subsequently to consider a similar bill which had passed the Senate, and introduced into the House. (Journal H. R., 1865, pp. 802-894; House Journal, 1870, p. 1197. (See also Journal H. R., 1887, p. 1434; Journal H. R., 1891, p. 1694; House Journal, 1893, p. 507; Legislative Record, 1891, p. 2749; Legislative Journal, May 24, 1911, p. 3500.)

Defeated, Not in Order to Consider Another Bill Containing Same Provisions

42. The point of order was raised that a House Bill containing the same provisions as one previously defeated could not be considered. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (House Journal, 1911, p. 4122.)

Notations on Headings of Bills Only for Convenience of Members

43. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether it is required that the print of a bill, which was recommended to a committee, must show that it was before the committee. The Speaker stated that notations printed on bills are for the information of the members and are not required either by law or rule. The Journal which is the official record of the House shows the course of the bill. (Legislative Journal, April 27, 1939, p. 2079.)

Negated by a Committee, Similar One Cannot be Considered

44. The point of order was raised whether a bill which was substantially the same as another bill which had been negated was out of order. The Speaker submitted the question to the House, and it was decided in the affirmative. (Journal H. R., 1873, p. 624.)

Subject Matter Which Is Part of a Bill Negated by Committee, Can Be Considered

45. The point of order was raised "that the bill cannot be further considered the subject matter being similar to that of another bill which had been negated by the committee." The Speaker decided that the subject matter of the bill under consideration being only a part of the bill referred to, the point of order was well taken. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 507.)

Printing of Senate, Not a Question for House to Decide

46. On the question of agreeing to a resolution requiring the Senate to have printed all bills introduced in the Senate, the point of order was raised that it is not within the power of the House to direct the Senate what to do with their bills. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, January 31, 1907, p. 352.)

Senate, Referred and Reported with Amendments, Must Be Reprinted Before Considered

47. The Speaker decided that a bill introduced into the House from the Senate, referred to a committee, and reported from the committee with amendments must be reprinted as amended before it can be considered in the House. (Journal H. R., 1874, p. 218.)

Re-reported from Committee as Committed May Be Passed Finally on Same Day

48. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry, as to whether a bill reported from committee on one legislative day could be considered the same day. The Speaker decided that the House by unanimous consent had dispensed with printing the title of the bill on the Calendar, the bill having been read twice before it was recommitted and was printed and on files of the members; therefore, the House could consider it on third reading and final passage the same day it was re-reported in compliance with Article III, Sections 2 and 4 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. (Legislative Journal, 1941, pp. 5595 and 5596.) (See House Decision 55.)

Not Properly Before the House Until Printed and on the Files of Members

49. On a motion to recommit a House Bill to committee, the point of order was raised that this bill is not properly before the House, as it has not been printed, it is not on the calendar or the files of the House and under the rules of the House cannot be recommitted at this time. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken for the reason that the bill is not properly before the House. (Legislative Record, March 8, 1901, p. 735; Journal H. R., p. 669.) (See also, Legislative Record, March 18, 1901, p. 855; Legislative Record, March 18, 1909, pp. 1278, 1281, 1282.)

Not in Order to Consider Senate When House Bills Have Been Fixed as the Order of Business

50. On the question of agreeing to amendments offered to a Senate Bill, the point of order was raised that this Senate Bill is identical with a House Bill on the House second reading calendar, and the hour of twelve o'clock having arrived under the report of the Committee on Rules, adopted by the House, the order of business shall be House bills first for the balance of the week, therefore, consideration of this bill is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, April 21, 1921, p. 2594.)

Second Reading Bills, Constitutional Majority Vote Not Required

51. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked does it require a constitutional majority vote to agree to a bill on second reading. The Speaker replied that a constitutional majority was not required, only a simple majority was necessary to agree to a bill on second reading. (Legislative Journal, July 7, 1953, p. 2903.)

Appropriation to University of Pennsylvania, Requires a Two-thirds Vote

52. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which a House Bill was defeated on final passage, the point of order was raised that the University of Pennsylvania being a State institution the majority required by the Constitution of Pennsylvania to pass this bill is 103 votes. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Record, June 20, 1901, p. 3615; Journal H. R., p. 2544.)

Making Appropriation to Private Institutions, a Two-thirds Vote Not Necessary on Each Reading

53. The point of order was raised that a bill appropriating money to any institution not entirely under the control of the State would require a two-thirds vote to agree to the bill on each of its several readings. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken. (Journal H. R., 1874, pp. 280, 558.)

Adoption of One Section Containing Several Articles Not Sufficient to Pass the Bill

54. A House Bill was being considered on second reading. The point of order was raised that inasmuch as the bill under discussion contains but one section composed of twenty-seven articles, the adoption of the first section carries with it the passage of the whole bill with the exception of the title. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Record, April 6, 1909, p. 2763; Journal H. R., p. 2552.)

Amended, Final Passage Same Day

55. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether a bill amended on third reading could be considered on final passage on the same day. The Speaker replied the requirement for passage of bills is that they be printed and read at length on three different days as provided in the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article III, Section 4. (Legislative Journal, September 19, 1951, p. 5121.)

Sponsors of Bills and Resolutions

56. In response to a parliamentary inquiry whether it was permissible for a member to add his name to a bill after it had been introduced. The Speaker stated it was not permissible after a bill was introduced and referred. (Legislative Journal, 1941, pp. 736 and 823.)

CALNDAR

Proceedings Placing Bill Upon, Regular

57. A Senate Bill was on final passage. The point of order was raised that this bill is improperly and illegally on the third reading calendar for the reason that the doors of this House were locked and members on the outside were unable to gain entrance to the hall during the time that action was taken on the resolution discharging the Committee on Municipal Corporations from further consideration of the bill, and the first reading thereof. The Speaker ruled that the proceedings, when that motion was adopted, were entirely regular in the opinion of the Chair, and the proceedings of that meeting have been approved by the House, and ratified by the refusal of a majority of the members elect to expunge from the records the proceedings referred to, therefore, the point of order is not well taken. (Legislative Journal, April 27, 1921, pp. 3132, 3137.)

Bill Carrying an Appropriation Is Properly on the Appropriation Calendar

58. A Senate Bill was on final passage. The point of order was raised that the Senate Bill, not being an appropriation bill, is falsely placed upon the third reading calendar. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, as the bill carries an appropriation and is properly placed upon the calendar. (Legislative Journal, April 19, 1921, p. 2317.)

Bill Out of Place on, Cannot Be Considered

59. A House Bill was on third reading. The point of order was raised that the bill is out of place on the calendar and objected to its consideration. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 20, 1917, p. 4002.)

Bill Must Be Considered in Committee, Before Appearing on

60. The Speaker decided that a bill would be improperly on the calendar, if not having been considered in committee. (Journal H. R., 1875, p. 317.)

Second Reading Bills Must Be Called Up from, Before Action Can Be Taken

61. On the question of recommitting a House Bill to committee, the point of order was raised that this bill not having been called up from the second reading calendar, a motion to postpone for the present or recommit is not in order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, March 2, 1903, p. 1100; Journal H. R., p. 770.)

Motion to Strike Bills from, Without Having Been Called Up Is Not in Order

62. A motion was offered to have several bills (including a House Bill), stricken from the calendar. The point of order was raised that the first bill mentioned (a House Bill) in said motion having been stricken from the motion, and none of the other bills in said motion having been called up, the motion is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 7, 1917, p. 3277; Journal H. R., p. 3149.)

Defective Title On

63. In reply to a parliamentary inquiry that the title of a bill as printed on the calendar, was defective at the time of passage, the Speaker stated the calendar does not govern. It is the bill placed on the Members' desks that governs. The Members vote on the bills not on the titles as they appear on the calendar. (House Journal, 1937, p. 4912.)

CALL OF THE HOUSE

When Quorum Present, Speaker to Order Vote to Be Again Taken

64. The Speaker decided that when a call of the House is made, and a quorum appears to be present, it is the duty of the Speaker to order the vote to be again taken. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1864, p. 1024.)

Members Actually Present Will Be Recorded as Being Present Whether Voting or Not

65. Under a question of information concerning members not answering to a call of the House, when present in the House, the point of order was raised that when a session of the House is called and a member is present when the roll is called to ascertain the presence of a quorum, that gentleman should be recorded whether he votes or not. The Speaker pro tem. decided the point of order well taken, and ruled that when any member of the House is actually present in the House on the call of the House, he will be recorded as being present. (Legislative Journal, April 25, 1921, p. 2859.)

COMMITTEE

Select, Appointed by House, Must Report to House

66. The Speaker decided that a select committee appointed by the House was required to report to the House by which the committee was appointed. (Journal H. R., 1857, p. 131.)

Select, in Order to Instruct to Report at a Specified Time

67. The House decided that it was in order to instruct a select committee not to make a report until a specified time. (Journal H. R., 1857, p. 201.)

Select Having Been Ordered by Joint Resolution to Report Within Three Days of Final Adjournment, House Cannot Extend the Time

68. The Speaker decided that the Senate and House having by joint resolution determined that the Legislature would adjourn sine die on the eleventh day of April, instant, and that all select committees of each House shall report within three days of that time, and this committee having made their report, is not now in order for this House to extend the power and function of the committee for a longer time, or for any such committee to sit longer than the time specified in the joint resolution above referred to. (Journal H. R., 1862, p. 803.)

Select, Has Right to Proceed After Final Adjournment if Instructed by the House

(Note: Pa. Supreme Court Decisions supersede Ruling 69.)

69. On a motion to discharge an investigating committee authorized by the House, the point of order was raised that this motion is out of order. The investigating committee has been authorized under a resolution of the House and ceases to exist after this House adjourns sine die. "In a ruling of the Catlin Commission it was held that a Committee acting under a resolution of one of the Houses of Assembly would have no right to subpoena witnesses and no right to insist upon that subpoena being obeyed during the recess or interim of the General Assembly. Therefore, the Committee would be without power," and the motion would be futile. The Speaker overruled the point of order for this reason: There is no parallel between the Catlin Commission and this Committee. The Catlin Commission was appointed to investigate matters over which the Senate had no particular jurisdiction above or other than the jurisdiction of the House. This committee is solely and exclusively within the jurisdiction of the House. The question is whether or not the House shall prefer charges. The Attorney General has given an opinion in which he says: "There is no doubt of the right of the committee to proceed with the investigation after the adjournment of the House," and it is likewise the opinion of the Chair. (Legislative Journal, June 27, 1913, pp. 5372 and 5373; Journal H. R., p. 5773.)

On Rules, Can Designate Bills as Special Orders of Business

70. On the question of adopting a report from the Committee on Rules making bills Special Order of Business, the point of order was raised that the Committee on Rules has not the right to make any single bill a special order in advance of other bills. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken under rules of the House. (Legislative Record, May 21, 1901, p. 2544.)

Standing, Power of, Over Bills

71. The point of order was submitted that in line sixteen, of section three, the word "ten" is improperly in the section, for the reason that on second reading the word "ten" was stricken out, and the word "five" inserted by the House. The bill was afterwards recommitment, and the committee improperly restored the word "ten" and so reported it. An amendment inserted by the House is direct instructions to a committee and should not be disobeyed by such committee. Decided well taken. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 543.)

The point of order was raised that as when the bill under consideration was recommitment to the Committee on Agriculture, it contained several amendments, inserted on the floor of the House, which were stricken out afterwards by the Committee without authority, the House must insist on the amendments being replaced before proceeding with the further consideration of the bill. Decided well taken. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 585.)

Power Over Bills

72. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether the Committee on Appropriations has the power to amend the amount in a bill. The Speaker replied that it had, if the amendment had not been placed in the bill by the House. (Legislative Journal, May 6, 1957, p. 1598.)

Has Right to Reverse Its Original Recommendations

73. A House Bill was re-reported from Committee with a negative recommendation. The point of order was raised that when a committee has reported a bill affirmatively to the House, and it is placed on the calendar of the House, and read, then is recommitted to the Committee for the purpose of a hearing, the committee cannot thereafter report the bill with a negative recommendation. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, a committee has full power over any bill committed to it except when such bill is committed with specific instruction from the House. Further, the Committee has the right to reverse its original recommendation based upon additional information obtained at a hearing or otherwise. (Legislative Record, April 22, 1907, p. 3066; Legislative Record, April 17, 1907, p. 2810. Journal H. R., p. 1925.) (See also Legislative Journal, 1917, p. 4308); Journal H. R., 1907, pp. 1763-1925; Journal H. R., 1889, p. 1026; Journal H. R., 1889, p. 1388.) (See also Legislative Journal, April 29, 1931, pp. 2740-2741, and Legislative Journal, May 27, 1931, p. 5935.)

Powers of Subpoena

74. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether a clause specifically conferring the power of subpoena is necessary in a resolution, or does a committee have that power? The Speaker replied that the House must confer power of subpoena on any of its committees. The House itself has the power to compel witnesses to appear and testify before any of its committees, to punish for contempt for refusal to do so, but only if the matter of inquiry is properly in connection with legislative business. The Speaker cited Article II, Section 2, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. (Legislative Journal, January 28, 1947, p. 253.)

To Report Bills from, When Not the Order of Business, a Suspension of the Rules Necessary

75. A motion being made to permit the reporting of a bill after the order, "Reports of Committees" has been passed, the point of order was raised that to permit such report the rules would have to be suspended. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1891, p. 1712.)

Objection to a Report of, Must Be Made at Proper Time

76. A motion was offered to drop a House Bill from the calendar and substitute therefor a Senate Bill for the reason that the two bills are identical, and having reached that stage, where one can be substituted for the other, the point of order was raised that the Senate Bill is improperly on the calendar for the reason that the bill was reported irregularly by the Committee, no notice of the meeting having been given to the Committee Members of the meeting at which this bill was considered. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken as an objection at this time comes too late. (Legislative Record, April 10, 1903, p. 3444; Journal H. R., p. 2096. Legislative Record, June 4, 1901, p. 2914.)

Proceedings of, Not to Be Divulged on the Floor of the House

77. On a motion to discharge a Committee from further consideration of a House Bill, the point of order was raised that the gentleman divulged to the House the conduct or action of the Committee, which took place in the committee room. The Speaker ruled that it is out of order to divulge the proceedings that take place within the doors of a committee room, and decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, March 16, 1921, p. 705.) The Speaker also ruled that whatever occurs before a committee at a public hearing, is proper to be considered on the floor of the House. (Legislative Journal, March 16, 1921, p. 705.) (See also Legislative Record, 1907, p. 4174, and Legislative Journal, 1919, pp. 3258-3259.) (See also House Journal, 1927, p. 3044.) (Legislative Journal, August 2, 1932, p. 779.) (Legislative Journal, April 10, 1933, pp. 2445, 2594 and 2595.)

Not Permitted to Sit During Sessions of the House Without Leave

78. A bill was reported from committee. The point of order was raised that the action of the committee in reporting this bill is irregular and out of order for the reason that the meeting yesterday was held during the session of this House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, stating that under the Rules of the House, no committee shall sit during the session of the House without leave. The bill was ordered returned to the committee with the recommendation that they consider it in the regular way. (Legislative Record, April 4, 1907, p. 2144.)

Bill Reported by, Not Competent for Chair to Go Behind the Records Concerning Action In

79. The Speaker decided that a bill having been regularly reported by a committee, it is not competent for the Chair to go behind the records for the purpose of inquiring how it was acted upon in committee. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1868, pp. 713, 714; also Journal H. R., 1901, p. 303.)

Irregularly Considered by, No Cause for Rejection

80. The Speaker decided that the House cannot reject a bill because of alleged irregularity in its consideration by a committee. (Journal H. R., 1876, pp. 236, 241.)

Merits of Bill Cannot be Discussed Under Motion to Discharge

81. On a motion to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill, the point of order was raised that the Member was speaking on the bill and not the motion. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken and ruled that the merits of a bill could not be discussed when a motion was made to discharge a committee. (Legislative Journal, May 5, 1931, p. 3067.)

Legally Constituted Whether Organized or Not

82. A member inquired of the Speaker whether a standing committee of the House which had never organized was a legal committee of the House. The Speaker stated that under Rule 27 of the House, the committee is a duly constituted standing Committee of the House, and that all its members were regularly elected by the House. The fact that it had not organized had nothing to do with it being a legally constituted committee. (Legislative Journal, April 25, 1945, p. 3022.)

Responsibility for Consideration of Bills

83. Replying to a question of information with reference to a standing committee and considering bills referred to it, the Speaker read Article 3, Section 2 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania:

"No bill shall be considered, unless referred to a Committee, returned therefrom and printed for the use of the Members."

Also Rule 30 of the House:

"Rule 30 of the House provides that, Each Committee shall have full power over the bill, resolution or other paper committed to it, . . ."

The Speaker stated:

"The responsibility for the consideration of bills before being acted upon by this House is placed under the provisions of the Constitution and Rules of this House directly upon the Committees of the House and not upon the Chairmen. The Chairman acts only as the organ of the Committee in precisely the same manner as the Speaker of the House acts as the instrument of the House. It is the function of both to carry out the wishes of the body over which they respectively preside." (Legislative Journal, April 25, 1945, p. 3032.)

Meetings, Call of

84. Replying to a question of information as to what action the members of a committee should take to compel a meeting where the Chairman refuses to call a meeting, the Speaker stated that:

"There are only two methods: one is a call by the Chairman, the other is a request signed by the majority of the members of the Committee asking for a meeting of the Committee." (Legislative Journal, April 30, 1945, p. 3032.)

Meetings, Call of

85. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry, it was asked in the event a Chairman declines to convene his committee and the members themselves fail to call a meeting, what is the jurisdiction of the House to require the committee to meet and act, or if the committee declines to act, to gain possession of the bills in the Chairman's keeping. The Speaker stated the only method would be for the House to discharge the Committee from consideration of the bill. (Legislative Journal, April 25, 1945, p. 3032.)

Chairman, Removal of

86. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry it was asked whether a committee Chairman could be replaced if there was reason to question his conduct. The Speaker stated the appointment of Committee Chairmen is in the control of the Speaker and the power to appoint carries with it the power to remove. (Legislative Journal, April 25, 1945, p. 3032.)

Fixes Its Own Quorum

87. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked, whether the rules of the House provided for the number of Members constituting a quorum of both major and minor committees. The Speaker replied that there is no provision in the Rules of the House providing the number of Members constituting a quorum in a committee. It is entirely within the power of the committee itself to fix its quorum. (Legislative Journal, February 11, 1947, p. 363.)

COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE*Motion to Discharge and Recede, Not in Order

88. The Speaker submitted to the House for decision, "Is the motion to discharge the committees of conference and recede from its non-concurrence in order?" The House decided in the negative. (Journal H. R., 1840, p. 360; Legislative Journal, 1933, pp. 101.)

Proceedings of, Not to Be Discussed

89. In reply to a parliamentary inquiry whether a Member of a Committee of Conference could be interrogated relative to matters that have taken place in a Conference Committee. The Speaker stated that it would be out of order to interrogate a Member of a Committee of Conference relative to proceedings of the Committee. (House Journal 1936, pp. 573-4.)

Report of Must Be Printed Before Action

90. The Speaker decided that a report of a committee of conference must be printed before action can be taken by the House. (Journal H. R., 1874, p. 436.)

Cannot Be Appointed Until Senate Has Been Notified of the Non-Concurrence of the House in Senate Amendments

91. The point of order was raised that a committee of conference could not be appointed until after the Senate had been notified that the House had not concurred in the Senate amendments. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1891, p. 876.)

Motion to Appoint, Cannot Include Instructions Not to Agree to Matters in Dispute

92. The Speaker decided that it was in order to couple with a motion to appoint a committee of conference, instructions for the said committee not to agree to certain matters in dispute. (Journal H. R., 1871, p. 1294.)

Proper Time to Instruct—Must Be in Writing

93. Under a parliamentary inquiry, the question was asked when was it appropriate for the House to give specific instructions to a conference committee on the part of the House. The Speaker advised that the proper time to instruct a committee on conference is at the time the committee is appointed and such instructions should be in writing. (Legislative Journal, May 29, 1939, p. 5222.)

House Can Instruct Its Own Conferees

94. On a motion to instruct a Conference Committee to make certain amendments to a House Bill, the point of order was raised that this motion is out of order because the House cannot instruct the conferees. This is a joint conference committee of the House and Senate and this body has no power to instruct such conferees. It can reject their report and the House has the power to name new conferees or the present conferees can be requested to reconsider the matter but this House cannot instruct joint conferees. The Speaker ruled that the question is not whether this House can instruct the joint conferees, but whether this House can instruct its own conferees to express its wishes, therefore, the point of order is not well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 28, 1917, p. 4734.)

Instruction of

95. In response to a parliamentary inquiry as to whether the House can instruct its own conferees, the Speaker stated that the House has power to instruct its own conferees by written motion. (Legislative Journal, 1941, p. 3388.)

Not in Order for a Standing Committee to Act as a Committee of Conference

96. The conference committee having failed to agree and the House Committee having been discharged, a motion was made that the bill be referred for any further conference to the Committee on Labor and Industry. The point of order was raised that the motion was out of order, as it changed the joint rule, and the rule must first be suspended. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1903, p. 2337.)

Failure of, to Agree, Does Not Defeat Bill

97. A motion was offered to commit a House Bill to a committee after a Committee of Conference had been discharged from further consideration of said bill. The point of order was raised that the Committee of Conference having failed to agree and having been discharged, the bill falls. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Journal H. R., April 15, 1903, p. 2337.)

Confined to Differences Between House and Senate

98. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry as to whether a conference committee was confined only to the consideration of the questions of difference between the House and Senate. The Speaker stated that under Rule 33 of the House, a Conference Committee is confined to consideration of the amendments which are in disagreement between the Houses. (Legislative Journal, 1941, pp. 5152-5153.)

Vote Required from House Prior to Senate

99. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether the House was required to vote upon a Report of a Conference Committee prior to the Senate's taking action on the same report. The Speaker replied that the Conference Report being on a House Bill, the House should first act upon the Report. (Legislative Journal, December 12, 1951, p. 6127.)

Report of, Embracing Subjects Not Appertaining to Bill, Out of Order

100. The Speaker decided that a report of the Committee of the Whole, embracing subjects not appertaining to the original bill, is out of order. (Journal H. R., 1850, p. 1120.)

Reconsideration of Vote, Refusing Leave to Sit Again Not in Order

101. The House having refused the Committee of the Whole House leave to sit again upon a bill, the bill again before the House, pending the question "Will the House agree to the first section?" a motion was made to reconsider the vote refusing the Committee of the Whole leave to sit again. The Speaker ruled the motion out of order. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 1015.)

Cannot Sit at Time Fixed for Another Special Order

102. The Speaker decided that a bill pending in Committee of the Whole having been made the special order of the day for this day, and having been proceeded with during the morning session, the committee having risen and leave to sit again granted, a majority of the House cannot give the committee leave to sit at a time which the House has fixed for the consideration of another special order subsequently made by a two-thirds vote. (Journal H. R., 1873, p. 715.)

Amendments Made in, Fall When Committee Reports Progress and Leave to Sit Again Is Refused

103. Amendments made in Committee of the Whole are not parts of bills when the committee reports progress, and leave to sit again is not granted by the House. (Journal H. R., 1820-21, p. 913.)

Made in Committee of the Whole, Fall When Leave to Sit Again Is Refused

104. The Speaker decided that when the Committee of the Whole rises, reports progress, and is refused leave to sit again, the amendments made in Committee of the Whole are not parts of the Bill, unless so ordered by a vote of the House. (Journal H. R., 1858, p. 463.)

Special Amendment, Offered in, Can Be Amended

105. That when a motion is made that the House go into Committee of the Whole for special amendment, the amendment is indicated, and is not subject to amendment. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 984.)

Motion to Go Into, Is Debatable

106. On the question of agreeing to a motion to go into the Committee of the Whole House for the purpose of special amendment to a Senate Bill, the point of order was raised that this motion is not debatable. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Record, May 13, 1907, p. 5228.)

Motion to Go Into, Immediately Following Defeat of Like Motion, Not in Order

107. A motion that the House resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment to a House Bill, was offered immediately following the defeat of a similar motion. The point of order was raised that the House having refused to go into the Committee of the Whole we cannot entertain the same motion a second time. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, March 6, 1907, p. 1044; Journal H. R., p. 825.)

Motion to Go Into, Is a Privileged Motion

108. On the question of agreeing to a motion to go into the Committee of the Whole for the purpose of Special Amendment to a Senate Bill, the point of order was raised that this being a Senate bill it cannot be considered for the reason that the orders for the day have been fixed by the House. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken as this is a privileged motion. (Legislative Record, May 8, 1901, p. 2288.)

Motion to Go Into, Not in Order After Bill Has Been Agreed to on Third Reading

109. A House Bill was being considered on final passage, and when a motion was made that the House resolve itself into Committee of the Whole, for special amendment, the point of order was raised that this bill having been agreed to on third reading and now being under consideration on final passage, the House cannot go into the Committee of the Whole. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, April 12, 1915, p. 1492.)

Recess May Be Taken Only With Consent of the House

110. A motion was made that the Committee of the Whole recess for the purpose of having printed amendments for the information of the Members to a bill which the Committee had under consideration.

The Chairman declared the motion out of order, when the point of order was raised, that the Chair erred in his ruling.

The chairman of the Committee of the Whole ruled the point of order not well taken. An appeal was taken from the ruling of the Chair. The Committee of the Whole sustained the ruling of the chairman. (Legislative Journal, Nov. 21, 1933, pp. 139-40.) (Note: Chairman of the Committee of the Whole stated the Committee could not recess, but must proceed with the business before it and report to the House or report that it cannot finish the business referred to it.) (Legislative Journal, Nov. 21, 1933, p. 157.)

Motion to Recommit to Committee of the Whole May Only Be Made in the House

111. A motion was made in the Committee of the Whole that the Committee rise and report to the House a bill as amended.

An amendment was offered to add to this motion, that the bill be recommitted to the Committee of the Whole, for the purpose of taking up further amendments.

The chairman ruled the amendment to the original motion out of order for the reason that it was not within the power of the Committee to pass upon such a motion. The House alone has the power to resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole. (Legislative Journal, Nov. 12, 1933, p. 159.)

Reprinting Bill Not Required to Pass on Second Reading

112. The report of the Committee of the Whole having been adopted by the House, the Committee having inserted amendments in the bill referred to them.

A question of parliamentary inquiry was raised, as to whether the House could pass on the bill as amended before it was reprinted and distributed to the Members.

The Speaker stated it was in order under Rules of the House to consider the bill on second reading after which it would be printed. (Legislative Journal, Nov. 21, 1933, p. 129.)

COMMITMENT AND RECOMMITMENT

Motion for, Not in Order When Reports from Committees Are Being Made

113. Reports of committees being in order, the Speaker decided that it would require a suspension of the rules to make a motion to recommit a bill. (Journal H. R., 1870, p. 343.) Legislative Journal, March 16, 1925, p. 1611.)

Motion for, With Instruction to Change Character of Bill, Not in Order

114. A point of order was raised that a motion to recommit a bill, with instructions to amend so as to change the object of the bill, was not in order. The Speaker decided the point to be well taken. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1875, pp. 314, 315.)

To Another Committee, When Motion for, in Order

115. On the question whether a motion to recommit a bill to a different committee from the one which reported it is in order, the Speaker decided that the rule permits a motion to be made to recommit a bill which means that it be returned to the committee which reported it and a motion to commit to another committee should be made as an independent motion, when original resolutions are in order, or when the bill is properly before the House. (Journal H. R., 1879, p. 295.)

Motion for, Not in Order Until Bill Is Before the House

116. A bill being on the postponed calendar and a motion to recommit to committee having been made, the point of order was raised that the motion was not in order as the bill was not before the House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1901, p. 843.) (See also Legislative Record, February 13, 1905, p. 458; Journal H. R., p. 464.)

Motion for, Not in Order, Until Vote on Third Reading Is Reconsidered

117. On a motion to recommit a House Bill to committee, the point of order was raised that the bill could not be recommitted until the vote by which the bill passed third reading be reconsidered. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, May 1, 1913, p. 2528; Journal H. R., p. 3183.)

Motion for, Not in Order, When Bill Is Not on File

118. The point of order was raised that the bill is not on file, and, therefore, under the rules it cannot be recommitted. Decided well taken. (Journal H. R., 1901, p. 669; see also Legislative Record, 1901, p. 855.)

Motion for, Not in Order Until Bill Has Been Read for the First Time

119. On the question of agreeing to a motion to recommit Senate Bill to committee, the point of order was raised that a bill cannot be recommitted until it has been read before the House for the first time, this bill has not been read before the House at all. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, June 3, 1901, p. 2862; Journal H. R., p. 1976.)

An appeal was taken from the decision of the Chair. The House sustained the ruling of the Speaker. (Legislative Record, June 3, 1901, p. 2862.)

Motion for, Precludes Amendment

120. A motion was made to recommit a House Bill while an amendment to the bill was under consideration. The point of order was raised that a motion to recommit precludes action on the question before the House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. Legislative Journal, February 15, 1915, p. 207.)

Motion to, Carries With It Bill and Pending Amendments

121. On a motion to recommit a bill on second reading, together with the amendments, the point of order was raised that the motion should apply solely to the bill as it appears on the calendar and does not affect the amendments which the House has not adopted; because if the House has not adopted the amendments they do not appear in the record as anything that can be referred to committee. The Speaker ruled that under Rule 15 of the House, the motion to recommit takes precedence over the question on the amendment. The only thing that can be done with the amendments is to allow them to be recommitted with the bill, if the House decides to recommit the bill. The motion to recommit facilitates the motion to amend. (Legislative Journal, April 1, 1947, p. 1088.)

Merits of Bill Cannot be Discussed Under Motion to

122. The point of order was raised that a Member was discussing the merits of the bill under a motion to recommit. The Speaker ruled that the merits of a bill are not open to discussion on a motion to recommit. (House Journal, 1929, p. 4369.) (Legislative Journal, April 27, 1931, p. 2541; also Legislative Journal, April 29, 1931, p. 2738.) (Legislative Journal, March 31, 1931, p. 1393.) (Legislative Journal, Jan. 31, 1933, p. 352; also April 3, 1933, p. 1926.)

Motion to, Stops Debate on the Merits of the Main Question

123. A motion had been made to recommit a bill to committee on the second reading; in debate on the motion, a member was discussing the merits of the bill, when the point of order was raised that he was not limiting his debate to the motion to recommit.

The Speaker ruled:

"When a motion to recommit is made it stops debate on the main question and the debate is limited to the propriety of committing the bill. It has been uniformly held by former Speakers of this House that the merits of the main question cannot be debated when a motion to recommit is before the House.

"Rule 54 of the House specifically shuts out the original question when a motion to recommit is made.

"Rule 15 of the House provides that a motion to recommit is privileged and interrupts the question before the House. The motion to recommit must, therefore, be first decided by the House before consideration or debate of the main question is resumed." (Legislative Journal, 1943, p. 2031.)

Unanimous Consent Given to Recommit Precludes Any Other Action

124. The point of order was raised that the House having given its unanimous consent for the purpose of recommitting a bill to Committee, the motion stopped there, and, therefore, further consideration of the bill for any other purpose is out of order. The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken for the reason that the unanimous consent of the House was given only for the purpose of recommitment. (Legislative Journal, April 29, 1931, pp. 2740-2741.)

CONSTITUTION

Advertisement of Notice of Local or Special Bills Must Be Published in Two Papers in Each of Counties Affected, as Required by

125. The point of order was raised that advertisement of local or special bills shall be in at least two newspapers, published in each of the counties to be affected. The Speaker submitted the question to the House for its decision. The House decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1876, p. 190.)

On third reading of a House Bill the point of order was raised that the bill affects the counties of Allegheny, Westmoreland, Fayette, Greene and Washington; that the notice of this bill was only advertised in Allegheny, in one paper, and in two papers in Washington, and not published in Westmoreland, Fayette or Greene, and, therefore, not properly advertised, the principal office of the corporation being situated in the city of Pittsburgh. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. The House sustained the decision of the Chair. (Journal H. R., 1876, pp. 825, 826, 827.)

The Speaker ruled that a bill is not properly before the House, if affecting two counties, when notice for the proposed application has not been advertised in the two counties (the locality affected thereby), as required by section eight of the third article of the Constitution. (Journal H. R., 1878, p. 837.)

Proof of Publication of Advertisement, Must Be Exhibited Before Final Vote Is Taken on Local Bill

126. A local bill being under consideration on second reading, the point of order was raised that the bill could not be considered as it had never been advertised. The Speaker decided that before the bill passed finally, proof of advertisement must be shown, but that he could not rule it off the calendar on second reading. (Journal H. R., 1887, p. 1256.) (See also, Legislative Journal, March 29, 1915, p. 978; Journal H. R., p. 1234.)

Special or Local Legislation Violates Article III, Section 7

127. On the final passage of a House Bill the point of order was raised that this bill is unconstitutional being special and local legislation prohibited by Article III, section 7, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. The Speaker submitted the point of order to the House. The House sustained the point of order. (Legislative Journal, March 31, 1913, pp. 1301, 1302, 1303, and 1304; Journal H. R., p. 2009.) (See also Legislative Record, May 5, 1907, p. 963; Journal H. R., p. 782; Legislative Journal, May 5, 1915, p. 2845; Journal H. R., p. 3098.)

Seal of the Court Not Necessary to Verify Signatures of Justice to Affidavit of Publication of Advertisement

128. The Speaker decided that the signature of the justice, or other persons before whom affidavit of the publisher of the notice required in case of local or special bills is made, is not necessary to be verified by the seal of the Court. (Journal H. R., 1879, p. 490.)

Bill Amending Local Laws, Unconstitutional

129. The point of order was submitted that this Act is in conflict with article three, section seven of the Constitution, in that it is a supplement of a local law regulating the opening and repairing of roads and bridges. A local law, the enactment of which is prohibited, cannot be amended. Decided well taken by the House. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 972.)

Amendments to, Proposed by One Legislature, Not Subject to Amendment by Succeeding

130. The Speaker decided that the proposed amendments to the Constitution agreed to by one Legislature, were not subject to amendment in the Legislature next afterwards chosen. (Journal H. R., 1857, p. 891.)

Proposing Amendments to

131. Joint resolution of the State proposing amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, being before the House, a question order was raised, as follows, viz.: The second part, or section nine, of the amendment now under consideration, having been before the House on the 2d day of March, and on the call of the yeas and nays, a majority of the members elected not having agreed to the same, it was negative, is it in order for this House again to consider and again to determine the question, whether it will agree to or negative the same question or part of said amendment. The Speaker decided that it was in order, and assigned for the decision the following reasons, viz.: "The manner of agreeing to or negative amendments to the Constitution is prescribed by that instrument itself. It directs that any proposed amendment or amendments, to be operative, shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House. When the proposed amendments to the Constitution were before this House, on the 2d day of March, the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Smith), being temporarily in the chair, directed that the yeas and nays should be called, not only on the second amendment, but upon its separate parts severally. This the House had no power to do under the Constitution. It could take no constitutional action, only in obedience to the specific requirements of that instrument. The action of the House in this voting separately on two parts of one amendment, being without authority, was void and of no effect and could not affect the right of this House to do that which was its duty to do—to vote on the amendments. The amendment now before the House has not been negative. The vote now demanded of this House, is on the whole amendment, and not on a part of it, and is not the same proposition as that which was negative on the second day of March by this House. It is, therefore, in order for the House to proceed to consider and vote upon the proposed amendment now before the House." The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1864, p. 371.)

Requires That Bill Must Recite Acts Proposed to Revise or Amend

132. The point of order was raised that a House Bill is in violation of section six, article three, of the Constitution, as it attempts to revise or amend a law without reciting the bill amended. The Speaker decided the point of order to be well taken. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 1080.)

To Repeal a Law by Its Title Is a Constitutional Act

133. The point of order was raised that section two of a House Bill is not constitutional, it being in violation of section six, article three, of the Constitution, as follows, viz.: "No law shall be received, amended, or the provisions thereof extended, or conferred by reference to its title only, but so much thereof as is revived, amended, extended or conferred, shall be re-enacted and published at length." The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, as the second section merely repealed an act, but did not revive, amend, or extend the provisions of any law. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 291.)

Bill Repealing Local and Enacting General Laws, Constitutional

134. The point of order was raised that the amendment was out of order, because an act to repeal an act could not be amended. The Speaker pro tempore decided the point not well taken, as the bill not only repealed an act, but enacted a new law. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 940.)

Bill Regulating Trade, Labor, et cetera, Unconstitutional

135. The point of order was raised that the amendment to a House Bill is not in order, being in violation of the seventh section of the third article of the Constitution which says: "No law shall be passed regulating labor, trade, mining or manufacturing." The Speaker decided the point of order to be well taken. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 533.)

Right of Eminent Domain Under Provisions of, Can Only Be to Public or Quasi Public Corporations

136. A Senate Bill was under consideration on second reading. The point of order was raised that this bill is unconstitutional because it is against the provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania to grant the right of eminent domain to any one but public or quasi public corporations. The Speaker submitted the point of order to the House. The House sustained the point of order. (Legislative Journal, May 18, 1915, p. 3703.)

Bill Exempting Private Property from Taxation, Unconstitutional

137. The point of order was raised that this bill is unconstitutional in that it exempts from taxation real estate, in conflict with article nine, sections one and two, of the Constitution. Decided well taken by House. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 918.)

Bill Falls When Declared Unconstitutional By the House

138. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked if by majority vote, a bill is decided to be unconstitutional, does the House then vote on the Bill? The Speaker replied, if a bill is declared unconstitutional by the House, the bill falls. (Legislative Journal, July 7, 1953, p. 2908.)

Bill Unconstitutional, House Competent to Amend, Making Constitutional

139. A point of order was raised that a bill "to increase the revenue and impose a tax on all crude petroleum shipped outside the Commonwealth," was unconstitutional, could not be amended, and should be stricken from the calendar. The Speaker decided that while the bill might be unconstitutional it was certainly competent for the House to amend it so as to make it constitutional. (Journal H. R., 1883, p. 1085.)

Bills Providing for Settlement of Private Claims, Unconstitutional

140. The point of order was raised that a bill which confers the right upon certain persons of presenting a claim against the Commonwealth in the courts of Dauphin county, which right is now possessed by other citizens of the State, confers a special privilege upon said persons, and is, therefore, contrary to section seven, article three, of the Constitution. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken, as the bill confers simply the right to test the validity of an individual claim against the Commonwealth, which is not provided for by law. The House reversed the decision. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 833.)

Constitutional Question Not in Order When Bill Is Not in Possession of the House.

141. The Speaker ruled that a question of constitutionality of bills which had passed the House and not in possession of the House could not be submitted to the House, nor was it in order to discuss the bills. (Legislative Journal, May 27, 1931, p. 5978.)

Bill Prescribing New Duties for Public Officers of a Single County, Unconstitutional

142. The point of order was raised that the bill was unconstitutional in that it prescribed new duties for public officers of a single county. Speaker pro tempore decided point well taken. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 917; Legislative Record, 1885, p. 1654.)

Bill Regulating Duties of Judges Constitutional

143. The point of order was raised that a: "House bill entitled 'An act to permit the judges of the several courts of common pleas in all counties in which there are two or more such courts, at the request of any of the other courts of common pleas in the same county, to perform judicial duties in the other courts,' is unconstitutional, because contrary to article five, section six of the Constitution, which says: In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any such suit shall be assigned shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law. In Allegheny each court shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all proceedings at law and in equity, commencing therein, subject to change of venue as may be provided by law." Decided not well taken. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 111.)

Legal Classification of Cities, Necessary to Legislate for, Under Provision of

144. The point of order was submitted that the present amendment to the amendment proposes to legislate for all the cities and towns of this Commonwealth upon the basis of population, without first being classified as required by the Constitution, in order to make it general, in place of special legislation. Point sustained by the House. (Journal H. R., 1885, p. 757.)

Delegating Legislative Powers to People Is in Violation of

145. On the question of going into the Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment, the point of order was raised that the special amendment is unconstitutional for the reason that it proposes to delegate legislative powers to the people. The Speaker Pro Tempore decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, April 1, 1903, p. 2652; Journal H. R., p. 1606.)

Right of Jury Trial Not Limited by Bill, Therefore, Not in Violation of

146. A House Bill was being considered on final passage; the point of order was raised that this bill is unconstitutional because its puts limitations upon the right of trials by jury. The Speaker submitted the point of order to the House. The House did not sustain the point of order. (Legislative Journal, April 27, 1915, pp. 2223 and 2224.)

Payment of Expenses Incurred by Members for Extra Services, Not Unconstitutional

147. On the question whether the section of a bill to provide for the ordinary expenses of executive, legislative and judicial departments of the Commonwealth, et cetera, is unconstitutional, the Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, the section not providing compensation, but only making an appropriation for the expenses of the commission, which had been directed to act by prior provisions of law. (Journal H. R., 1879, p. 743.)

Pensioning Individuals for Military Service, Not Unconstitutional

148. On the question whether a bill granting an annuity and a gratuity to James Osterhout, of Susquehanna county, late member of Company F, One Hundred and Forty-first Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, is in violation of section eighteen, of article three of Constitution, the Speaker decided that in absence of a general law upon the subject, it was proper for the Legislature to pass acts pensioning any person who has served in the military service, and in this case the proof of military service is furnished. (Journal H. R., 1879, p. 733.)

Providing for Centennial Buildings, Constitutional

149. The point of order was raised that under section eighteen, article three, of the Constitution, a bill to provide for a permanent centennial exposition building is unconstitutional. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1874, p. 556.)

CONTESTED ELECTION*What Regarded as a Certificate of Election by the House, in Case of

150. On a resolution which recited that "it appears from the certified copy of the record of the court of common pleas, of Westmoreland county, duly transmitted to this House in accordance with the Act of 1874; that W. N. Porter and A. D. Hunter were duly elected members of the House of Representatives instead of Eli Waugaman and W. R. Barnhart, who, on the face of the returns, appear to be elected, and resolved that the said W. N. Porter and A. D. Hunter be sworn in as members of the House in conformity with the decision of the court, and that their names be placed on the roll of members." During the debate on the resolution a number of points of order were submitted to the effect that the resolution could not at that time be considered, as the court record was not a certificate of election, et cetera. The Speaker decided the points of order not well taken, for the reason that the record presented is regarded as a certificate of election under the Act of 1874, and under the decision of the court the contestants, in whose favor the decision has been made, are prima facie entitled to their seats. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 666, and Legislative Record, 1893, p. 855.)

The Sitting Member Is Entitled to Vote During Contest

151. A resolution having been offered that neither the contestants nor respondent in the contested election case of Higby vs. Andrews be entitled to vote until a decision is reached by the House as to which is the member elected and qualified, to the end that legislation may not be imperiled thereby, the point of order was raised "that the resolution was res judicata and would invalidate the whole proceedings of the organization of the House." The Speaker decided the point of order well taken for the reason that the right of a member to be called and cast a vote was a constitutional right, which he could not be deprived of except for actions in violation of the Constitution or laws of this Commonwealth. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 397.)

Subpoenaed Before Contested Election Committee, Witness Must Be Paid

152. The Speaker decided that witnesses regularly subpoenaed, before a contested election committee, must be paid according to law. (Journal H. R., 1869, p. 597.)

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS*Members May Raise Whether or Not a Personal Interest in Bill

153. The point of order was made that a member could not raise a question as to the constitutionality of a bill until he declared to the House whether or not he had any personal interest in the bill. Rule 72 of the House makes it obligatory for members to declare whether they have a personal interest. Speaker ruled that point of order not well taken, stating that any member of the House whether he has a personal interest or not has the right to raise a constitutional question. (Legislative Journal, April 1, 1939, pp. 1345 and 1346.)

DEBATE*Member May Not Criticize Senate

154. A member was criticizing the action of the Senate in defeating a bill—

When the point of order was made that comment on the part of any member of the House concerning the deliberations of the Senate are distinctly out of order. The Speaker sustained the point of order, stating while the Senate may be referred to properly in debate, it is not in order to discuss its functions or criticize its acts or to refer to a Senator in terms of personal criticism or read a paper making such criticism. The Chair cited Jefferson's Manual as authority for his ruling. (Legislative Journal, December 20, 1933, p. 949.)

Executive Officers May Be Criticized but Personal Abuse Not Permitted

155. In response to a Parliamentary Inquiry—The Speaker stated that it was in order for a Member to criticize the official acts of the Governor and executive officers, but that personal abuse is not permitted in debate—quoting from Jefferson's Manual. (Legislative Journal, February 13, 1933, p. 583.)

Criticizing Federal Official

156. The point of order was raised that a member in debate was criticizing a Member of the President's Cabinet. The Speaker ruled that a member was within his right in criticizing any public official. (Legislative Journal, 1941, p. 4044.)

Senate Proceedings, May Not Be Read in

157. Amendments were being considered to a section of a bill on second reading, when a member in debate proceeded to read from the Legislative Journal record of the Senate a statement by a member of the Senate on the same subject. The Speaker stated that the member was out of order in reading from the record of the Senate, which is an independent body and its proceedings should not be read into the record of the House. In support of his ruling, the Speaker quoted the following from Jefferson's Manual:

"It is a breach of order in debate to notice what has been said on the same subject in the other House, the particular votes or majorities on it there; because the opinion of each House should be left to its own independence, not to be influenced by the proceedings of the other; and the quoting of them might beget reflections leading to a misunderstanding between the two Houses." (Legislative Journal, May 1, 1939, p. 2193.)

On Second Reading in Order

158. The point of order was raised that a bill was being debated on second reading. The Speaker ruled that it was in order to debate a bill on second reading, the question before the House being "Will the House agree to the bill on second reading as amended?" (Legislative Journal, 1941, p. 1365.)

On a Bill on Second Reading in Order

159. A bill was being considered on second reading when the point of order was raised that debate should take place on the third reading of the bill. The Speaker ruled that bills may be debated on second reading. (Legislative Journal, 1943, p. 476.) April 2, 1907, p. 2014. See also Pennsylvania Manual, Legislative Practice and Procedure under heading Action on Bills.

Confined to Question Before the House

160. An Amendment was being debated to section one of a bill on second reading. The point of order was raised that the member who has the floor was not confining his remarks to the Amendment—which the Speaker sustained. After ruling the member out of order, during his debate on the Amendment, the Chair stated that our House Rule was similar to that of the National House of Representatives and he read the following as an interpretation of the rule:

"He shall confine himself to the question under debate. Much meat is packed into this simple statement, and if the discussion is to be kept from aimless wanderings over an indefinite territory, this rule must be observed. If it is not, the debate ceases to be a logical discussion on the particular subject and becomes a rambling and incoherent medley of unrelative statements. Of course, discretion is called for. Where there is plenty of time for debate and its of a general character more leeway is necessarily expected and allowed." (Legislative Journal, 1943, pp. 1702-1703.)

DIVISIBLE QUESTIONS

When Not Divisible

161. The Speaker decided that a question although embracing different propositions, could not be divided after these propositions had been amended and acted upon separately and independently, and the question thus blending them together, was presented for the final action of the House. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1853, pp. 655, 656, 657.)

Division of, If Divisible Call for in Order Before or After Main Question is Ordered

162. The point of order was raised that a call for a division of the question is not in order, if not made before the previous question was moved by the proper number of members, as required by rule. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken, as any member may call for a division of a question before or after the main question is ordered which shall be divided, if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that one being taken away a substantial proposition shall remain for the decision of the House. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 962.)

JOURNAL

One Objection Prevents Dispensing with the Reading of

163. An objection was made to dispensing with further reading of the Journal of the previous day's session. The point of order was raised that one objection will compel the reading of the Journal under the Rules of the House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, February 13, 1906, p. 573; Journal H. R., p. 240.)

Reading and Approval of

164. The point of order was raised that it is contrary to parliamentary practice for the House to approve the preceding day's Journal before it was in print and an opportunity to inspect it. The Speaker ruled that the question of the approval of the Journal, is for the House to decide. (Legislative Journal, February 7, 1951, p. 260.)

Motion to Expunge

165. A motion was made to expunge remarks from the record. The Speaker stated a motion to expunge from the record is not in order until the main question is disposed of. (House Journal, 1906, p. 407.)

Proceedings Relative to, May Be Expunged from Record

166. The question was raised whether the House could expunge from the record, proceedings relating to a resolution under consideration. The Speaker stated that all proceedings relating to the resolution could be expunged from the record by action of the House. (Legislative Journal, February 14, 1933, p. 253.)

LAY ON THE TABLE

To Consider Resolution Placed on the Table, Motion Must Be Made to Take It from the Table

167. The point of order was raised that inasmuch as the resolution was placed on the table by a vote of the House, that a motion to now proceed to its consideration is not in order for the reason that a motion must first be made to take it from the table. Decided well taken. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 977.)

Motion to Lay on the Table Is Not Debatable

168. A motion offered to lay a resolution on the table was being debated when the point of order was raised that a motion to lay on the table is not debatable. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, February 11, 1907, p. 516.)

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Objected to

169. An objection was made to a request for a leave of absence and, in reply to a parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker stated that if the House refused to grant a leave of absence to Members who are absent without leave and in contempt, it would also be for the House to decide whether the Member shall be brought before the House at the earliest possible moment. (Legislative Journal, September 12, 1955, pp. 3575-77.)

May Be Revoked

170. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry the Speaker was asked if it was within the power of the House to revoke, rescind or recall leaves of absence granted? The Speaker stated that it is within the power of the House to revoke, rescind or recall leaves of absence. (Legislative Journal, April 11, 1945, p. 2329.)

MEMBER

Expulsion of, in Order to Reconsider Vote for

171. The Speaker submitted to the House for decision: Whether a motion to reconsider the vote given for the expulsion of a member by the constitutional majority, and his seat declared vacant, is in order? The House decided in the affirmative. (Journal H. R., 1840, pp. 859-61.)

Qualification of Members

172. Proceedings, with relation to, under Article II, Section 5, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. (Legislative Journal, 1949, pp. 55, 113, 114, 321 and 322.)

Under Arrest for Contempt of the House, Nothing in Order Until Purged

173. The Speaker decided that when a member of the House was under arrest for contempt, nothing was in order until the contempt was purged, or the matter otherwise disposed of by the House. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1875, p. 177.)

Motives of, Not to Be Questioned

174. During the debate on Senate bill, the point of order was raised that the gentleman is impugning the motives of another member of the House, without any evidence, and furthermore, he is saying that which is to be the derogation of a member's private character, and he should, therefore, be stopped. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, and directed the gentleman to confine his remarks to the issue. (Legislative Journal, April 27, 1921, p. 3118; Legislative Journal, 1935, p. 4141; Legislative Journal, March 21, 1956, p. 7053.)

Of Previous Session Not to Be Referred to by Name by Committee in Report

175. The Speaker decided that it is not in order for a committee, in a report, when referring to a report made at a previous session of the Legislature by a member of this House to call said member by name. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1843, p. 594.)

Not Permitted to Speak More Than Twice on Same Subject Without Consent of the House

176. A House Bill was being debated on second reading. The point of order was raised that the gentleman has spoken twice on this subject. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, stating that under the rules the gentleman cannot proceed without the consent of the House. (Legislative Record, April 2, 1907, p. 2014.)

Cannot Be Excluded from the House

177. A request was made during the verification of the roll that the Sergeants-at-Arms be placed at the doors of the House and that no member be allowed to enter. The point of order was raised that a member cannot be excluded from the House. The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken, stating that it is a member's constitutional right to come into the House at any time. (Legislative Journal, 1943, p. 1764.)

Member Being a Member of a Commission, Not Considered Personal Interest

178. On the question of agreeing to amendments offered to a House Bill, the point of order was raised that the gentleman has personal interests in the bill and is, therefore, not entitled to vote. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, stating that being a member of a Commission is not a personal and private interest. (Legislative Journal, June 3, 1913, p. 3819; Journal H. R., p. 4503.)

Member Himself Must Determine Whether He Has Private Interest in a Bill

179. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry, a member asked whether the House rule prevented a member having a private interest in a bill to vote thereon. The Speaker stated that it was a matter entirely within the conscience of the individual member as to his right to vote. (Legislative Journal, December 12, 1933, p. 574.)

Personal Interest in Member Voting Defined Under Provisions of Article III, Section 33, of Constitution

180. Honorable Presley N. Jones, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Lawrence, duly elected to the General Assembly for the Session of 1941 and 1942, on February 3, 1941, presented Resolution Number Nine to the House of Representatives alleging that the Honorable Don Wilkinson, a duly elected member of the House of Representatives from the County of Luzerne for the Session of 1941-1942, did while serving as a member of the House of Representatives during the Session of 1939 and 1940, introduce and sponsor legislation defining the rights, powers and duties of County Tax Collectors as will be found in Act Number 277, approved the 20th day of June, 1939, P. L. 508, and that said Don Wilkinson, at the time of introduction of said Bill, was a Tax Collector, that the Bill was introduced by the said Don Wilkinson for his private and pecuniary profit and that the said Don Wilkinson voted upon the said piece of legislation and that after passage of same received contracts from certain school districts, townships and boroughs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the collection of taxes under said Act.

On February 10, 1941, the Resolution was returned to the House of Representatives by the Committee on Rules and referred to the House Judiciary General Committee for action. The House Judiciary General Committee thereupon

Subsequent to the appointment of the sub-committee, the Petitioner, Presley N. Jones, submitted a Bill of Particulars to the Committee, which Bill of Particulars stated in substance that said Don Wilkinson, as a Tax Collector, had secured certain contracts from the School Board of the City of New Castle for the collection of delinquent per capita taxes, which contracts provided for the payment to the said Don Wilkinson of fees and charges set forth in the Act of 1939 above referred to. To the Bill of Particulars the Respondent, Don Wilkinson, filed a demurrer alleging that the present Session of the House of Representatives had no jurisdiction in that the House of Representatives is not a continuous body and that Article 3, Section 33 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania dealing with the question of personal or private interest had not been violated. To the demurrer, the aforesaid Petitioner filed an answer stating that the Respondent had violated Article 7, Section 1, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania dealing with the oath of Senators, Representatives, the Judiciary and State and County Officers, and Article 3, Section 33, the personal and private interest section of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, as it applies to members of the General Assembly.

1. The first question raised by the demurrer filed by the Honorable Don Wilkinson is that the present House of Representatives has no authority to take jurisdiction of the matter alleged in the Resolution and in support of this question the Respondent cited a number of precedents recorded in Hinds' Precedents of the House of Representatives of the National Congress to the effect that the House of Representatives not being "a continuous body but an entity that dies at the expiration of the term of each of its members":

"It is a rule of the House of Representatives of Congress that a House may not try to punish one of its members for an offense alleged to have been committed against a preceding House." See Hinds' Precedents of the House of Representatives, Vol. 2, section 1283; also sections 1284 and 1285.

Our Committee, while not attempting to overrule the Hinds' Precedents, are of the opinion that the better view is to effect that misconduct on the part of a member of the House of Representatives in a previous term may constitute grounds for his removal and impeachment in a succeeding term, especially where the offending party is his own successor and that re-election would not condone the offense. See State v. Welsh, 109, Iowa, 19, 79 N. W. 369:

"The very object of removal is to rid the community of a corrupt, incapable, or unworthy official. His acts during his previous term quite as effectively stamp him as much as those of that he may be serving. Re-election does not condone the offense. Misconduct may not have been discovered prior to election, and, in any event, had not been established in the manner contemplated by the statute * * * The commission of any of the prohibited acts the day before quite as particularly stamps him as an improper person to be intrusted with the performance of the duties of the particular office as those done the day after."

See also the case of Throop Borough's School Directors, 298 Pennsylvania, 453, page 357:

"Wrong doing cannot be overlooked and approved by the act of the people in re-electing them to office for the ensuing term, and such attempted condonation does not prevent the legally constituted authorities from visiting on the offending persons the results of conduct expressly prohibited by the Act of Assembly."

and on pages 458, 459:

"Offenses committed during a previous term are generally held not to furnish cause for general removal, but where removal carries with it a disqualification to hold office in the future, the rule is otherwise, 45 Corpus Juris 96."

11. The offense alleged in the Bill of Particulars submitted by the Petitioner, primarily charges the Respondent with violating Article 3, Section 33 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which article reads as follows:

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon."

Believing that this Session of the Legislature has jurisdiction over the subject involved in the pending Resolution, we now proceed to discuss whether or not the Respondent, Don Wilkinson, is guilty of violating Article 3, Section 33, aforementioned and it becomes necessary to discuss the important provision of this Section of the Constitution in order to define and explain the meaning of the words: "personal or private interest."

A perusal of the debates of the Constitutional Convention that concluded its work November 3, 1873, reveals that it not only failed to adopt a sanction of penalty for Article 3, Section 33, but likewise omitted to make clear the meaning of the important language embodied in this Section. Much was said about the practice of individuals representing corporations seeking special and local legislation and special favors, but the Section was finally adopted without a clear distinction as to its meaning.

The Committee is fortunate to cite as an authority in defining the aforementioned words, the interpretation of the able Parliamentarian of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, the Honorable S. Edward Moore, and quotes in its entirety his review of this subject, which has been handed to the Committee:

"The Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article 3, Section 33, provides: 'That a Member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House shall disclose the fact to the House and shall not vote thereon.'"

The right of a Member to represent his constituency, is of such major importance that a Member should be barred from voting on matters of direct personal interest only in clear cases and when the matter is to be voted upon is particularly personal.

When the matters under consideration affect a cause rather than individuals, the personal interest belongs to that cause and is not such as to disqualify a Member from voting.

As for instance a Member may have a personal interest in a particular hospital seeking an appropriation—The Pennsylvania Commission on Constitutional Revisions said—"It was not the intent of Article III, Section 33, that a Member should expose such a personal interest to the House of which he is a Member."

Rule VIII of the National House of Representatives reads in part:—"Every Member shall vote on each question put unless he has a personal or pecuniary interest."

In interpreting this rule of Congress which is similar to our own—it has been held that the disqualifying interest must be such as affects the Member directly and not as one of a class (Hinds' Precedents, Vol. V, Sections 5952, 5954, 5955 and 5963.)

Senator Robert C. Winthrop of the Massachusetts House discussed the subject of Personal Interest exhaustively in 1840 and was of the opinion: "That an interest which a Member holds in common with thousands of others could hardly be regarded as a private interest."

Speaker James G. Blaine when the matter of personal interest came up in 1893 in the National House, said: "You can go through the whole round of business and find upon this floor gentlemen, who in common with many citizens outside of this House, have an interest in questions before this House. But they do not have that interest separate and distinct from a class."

Speaker Talbot of the Pennsylvania House of 1933, in response to a parliamentary inquiry stated: "That the right of a Member to vote where a question of personal interest was involved was a matter entirely within the conscience of the individual member."

In conclusion the question is definitely one upon which each individual Member must satisfy his conscience. He must settle it for himself."

The view of the able Parliamentarian is supported by many authorities. See Luce-Legislative Procedure, page 366; Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, section 323 and Jefferson's Manual on Rules of the House of Representatives, 651. For the purpose of brevity, we quote only the following:

"In one or two instances the Speaker has decided that because of personal interest, a member should not vote (V.5955, 5958); but usually the Speaker has held that the Member himself should determine this question." (V.5950, 5951.) And one Speaker denied his own power to deprive a member of the constitutional Right to Vote." (V.5956.)

"It is a principle of 'immoral observation' that a member should withdraw when a question concerning himself arises (V.5949); but it has been held that the disqualifying interest must be such as affects the member directly (V.5952)." Jefferson's Manual on Rules of the House of Representatives, section 651.

The Committee finds that this matter has been the subject of interpretation by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, as will be found in the case of Wilson v. New Castle City, 301 Pa. 359, pages 362 and 363. The Court saying in this case:

"The question hinges upon what is known as personal or private interest. The 'interest' in a matter which will disqualify a public official acting in an executive capacity must be certain pecuniary or proprietary acts and capable of proof. It must be direct, not contingent nor depending on an indirect benefit as that of contract may or may not affect other independent transactions. A sentimental interest or a general interest is not enough."

111. The Petitioner, Presley N. Jones, in his argument asking for expulsion of the Respondent, Don Wilkinson, contends that the said Respondent violated Article 7, Section 1, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, said Article having to do with the Oath of Senators, Representatives and all Judicial, State and County Officers; and provides inter alia the following:

"And any person who shall be convicted of having sworn or affirmed falsely or of having violated said oath or affirmation, shall be guilty of perjury, and be forever disqualified from holding any office of trust or profit within this Commonwealth."

and in support of his argument asserts, that under this Section, the Respondent could be found guilty without trial by jury; citing as his authority the opinion of the learned Chief Justice in the case of Commonwealth v. Walter, 83 Pa. 103, where the Court in construing Article 8, Section 9, of our Constitution, used the following language:

"The word 'guilty' is defined by our lexicographers to meaning 'having guilt'; 'chargeable with a crime'; 'not innocent'; 'criminal'. Hence we say a man is guilty of an offense when he has committed an offense. We say he has been convicted of an offense when he has been found guilty by the verdict of a jury."

Article 8, Section 9, supra, cannot be interpreted in the same manner as Article 7, Section 1; and we believe the latter Article presupposes that a person must be convicted of perjury in Court of proper jurisdiction before being disqualified from holding any office of trust or profit within this Commonwealth. However, a member violating his oath of office could be punished by the Legislature under Article 2, Section 2 of our Constitution, without first having been tried in Court of proper jurisdiction:

"Each House shall have power to determine the rules of its proceedings and punish its members or other persons for contempt or disorderly behavior in its presence to enforce obedience to its process, to protect its members against violence or offers or bribes or private solicitations, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member, but not a second time for the same cause, and shall have all other powers necessary for the Legislature of a free State. A member expelled for corruption shall not thereafter be eligible to either House, and punishment for contempt or disorderly behavior shall not bar an indictment for the same offense." Article 2, Section 2.

CONCLUSION

Your Committee is of the opinion from the argument above given that the House of Representatives of the Session of 1941 has jurisdiction to punish a member for an offense committed in the 1939 Session provided that offense is one which affects the right of the member to hold office in the present term and that if such offense were established it would be a violation of the oath of the member to the extent that the present Session of the House of Representatives would have the power to punish said member under Article 2, Section 2, of the constitution. However, we find that the matters alleged in the Petitioner's Bill of Particulars and Brief do not come within the meaning of the "personal and private interest" section contained in Article 3, Section 33 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania for the following reasons:

1—The matters alleged, namely the voting upon legislation in Act 277, approved the 20th day of June, 1939, P. L. 508, affected the Respondent, Don Wilkinson, as a member of a class, to wit—Tax Collectors.

2—The passage of said Act 277, by the House of Representatives in the absence of bribery, fraud or corruption would not make the Respondent's vote a violation of the Constitution notwithstanding the fact that he may have received a pecuniary benefit from the results of the Act of Assembly.

We have omitted in argument any discussion concerning paragraph ten (10) of the Petitioner's Bill of Particulars which charges the Respondent with violating Section 895 of the Act of 1939, P. L. 872, of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, making it a misdemeanor to disperse any paper purporting to be a legal process or process or summons of a Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is our opinion that charges of this nature should be made in the Court of proper jurisdiction where the Respondent would have the constitutional protection afforded Defendants charged with violating our Criminal Laws. If the Legislature undertook to try each member on matters submitted to it of this nature, the accused member might be at the mercy of a Legislature unsympathetic to his political views, which alone might be the factor in determining his guilt or innocence. We believe that except in the case of impeachment and for crimes of bribery, perjury, corruption in office and closely related matters, the Legislature should not invade the field of Criminal Law to invoke the provisions of Article 2, Section 2, of our State Constitution.

The procedure asked for by the Petitioner, Presley N. Jones, is a most extraordinary one and should only be used in a case or cases where the evidence admits of no doubt as to guilt of the Respondent. To hold otherwise would turn an orderly, and free House of Representatives into a chaotic and despotic body; and members might be allowed to hold office only by the will of two-thirds (2/3) of its membership. In this connection, we quote with approval the able argument presented in the dissenting opinion of Mr. Justice Dean in Commonwealth v. Moir, 199 Pa. 534:

"The time is not very remote in the past in English politics when the victorious political party, as soon as it was seated in power, promptly proceeded to cut off the physical heads of their leading antagonists and confiscate their property, it is not very remote in the future when the victorious political party will promptly proceed to cut off the political heads of its opponents where they held office by the municipal vote of cities."

Your Committee therefore, urges that the Prayer of the Petitioner that the House of Representatives authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee of five members of the House of Representatives to inquire into the matter concerning the official conduct of Don Wilkinson and further inquire whether he is guilty of misconduct as grounds for expulsion from the House of Representatives, be refused.

This is a Report of the Judiciary General Committee submitted to the House of Representatives by the Honorable Homer S. Brown, Chairman, June 2, 1941. The Report was unanimously adopted by the House of Representatives. (Legislative Journal, 1941, pp. 3114 to 3124, inclusive.) Note: Exhibit A of the Report is House Resolution No. 9, introduced in the House January 28, 1941.

Entitled to Recognition Before Call of Role

181. The point of order was raised that nothing was in order but the calling of the roll. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. A Member is entitled to recognition before the roll call has actually begun. (House Journal, 1937, p. 2943; July 28, 1938, p. 440.)

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Objections to, Must Be Made Before Decision Is Given to Proceed With

182. The Chair decided that after an agreement to proceed with certain orders had been partially carried out, it was too late to make objections. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1868, pp. 906, 907.)

Bill Under Consideration at Time of Last Adjournment, No Quorum Being Present Not the First Order at the Next Session

183. The point of order was submitted that when the House adjourned Friday last it had under consideration a Senate Bill and there was no quorum present, that said bill should be the first order of business for this evening. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken, as he had exhausted all available means of procuring a quorum and was, therefore, compelled to adjourn the House and that said bill would come up in its order with Senate bills on second reading. (Journal H. R., 1895, p. 2295.)

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Resolutions Fixing Special Orders of Business Are Privileged

184. A resolution was presented, fixing as a special order of business, a time for the House to resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole to hear the Governor and department heads, etc., submit a plan on unemployment relief.

Unanimous consent having been denied its immediate consideration—

The point of order was made that this resolution did not come within the purview of the rule of the House requiring certain resolutions to lie over for printing, for the reason that it is in effect a motion regulating the business of the House permitted at any time.

The Speaker sustained the point of order, the rules provide that the House may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole at any time, further Rule 14 provides that any subject may by a majority vote, be made a special order of business, the resolution is, therefore, privileged for the reason that it establishes an order of business for the House and its immediate consideration is in order. (Legislative Journal, July 25, 1932, p. 580.)

Motion Fixing, in Order

185. On a motion to make a House Bill a Special Order of Business, on second reading, the point of order was raised that this motion being in the nature of a resolution, is out of order. The Speaker ruled that the motion being a mere motion, is in order. (Legislative Journal, February 19, 1913, p. 362; Journal H. R., p. 917.)

House by a Majority Vote on Recommendation of Committee on Rules Can Fix, for One Bill in Advance of Others

186. Mr. Bedford submitted the point of order that the Committee on Rules had not the power to take out any single bill and make it a special order in advance of other bills. The Speaker read for the information of the gentleman, the rule and decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Record, 1901, p. 2544.)

Committee of Whole Report Having Been Made Special Order for Second Reading

187. The report of the Committee of the Whole having been adopted, the House proceeded to the second reading of the bill.

When a motion was made to fix a later time for its second reading—

The Speaker ruled the motion out of order, for the reason it should have been made before the House proceeded to the consideration on second reading of the bill and the rule requires that the House immediately proceed to the second reading of a bill after it has acted upon the report of the Committee of the Whole. (Legislative Journal, November 21, 1933, pp. 129-130.)

Hour for, Having Arrived, Must Proceed With

188. The Speaker decided that the House having agreed to "proceed to the final vote upon a resolution at ten o'clock this evening," and that hour having arrived, nothing was in order but the vote on the final passage of the resolution. (Journal H. R., 1869, p. 767.)

Day Fixed for Consideration of, Cannot Be Called Up Prior to

189. The point of order was raised that the House having fixed a day for the consideration of a bill, that bill cannot be called up before the time fixed upon by the House for its consideration. The Speaker decided the point of order to be well taken. The House sustained the Speaker. (Journal H. R., 1876, pp. 612, 613, 614.)

Of a Bill, Adoption of a Resolution to Proceed to, at Certain Time in Order

190. The Speaker decided that the House having, on yesterday, adopted a resolution by a vote of two-thirds, that it would proceed to the reconsideration of a certain bill when it met the next morning, the bill is, therefore, in order. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1840, pp. 946-50.)

Consideration of, in Order Even Though the Time Fixed for, Has Passed

191. Consideration of a House Bill was resumed on second reading, as a Special Order of Business. The point of order was raised that the special hour of eight-thirty fixed for consideration of this bill having passed there is now nothing in order but the regular order of business. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. (Legislative Record, April 7, 1909, p. 2968.)

Special, Takes Precedence Until Disposed of

192. The Speaker decided that the House having, by a vote of two-thirds, determined that it would, at a certain specified hour upon a particular day, proceed to the consideration of a certain question and the time having arrived, the House must proceed to its consideration, and any other business before the House stands postponed until the question is disposed of by the House, either by adoption, rejection or postponement. (Journal H. R., 1861, p. 131.)

One Special Order Must Be Rescinded Before Making Another for Same Proposition

193. A motion was made to suspend the rules for the specific purpose of considering a resolution.

The point of order was made that the House had fixed as a special order of business for the consideration of a bill today which this resolution proposes a public hearing for a later time, therefore, the special order would have to be rescinded before the resolution could be considered.

The Speaker sustained the point of order, the proper procedure being for the House first to rescind its action fixing the bill as a special order of business. (Legislative Journal, July 13, 1932, p. 352.)

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Must Be Confined to Integrity of the Member of the House

194. A Member rose to a question of personal privilege and the Speaker ruled that unless the question of personal privilege related to the integrity of the Member or the integrity of the House, it is not in order. (Legislative Journal, May 20, 1931, p. 4677.)

Question Confined to Rights of the House or of the Member

195. A member rose to question of personal privilege.

The point of order was raised that the gentleman was not speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The Speaker ruled that questions of privilege are first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the right, reputation and conduct of its Members individually in their representative capacity only. (Legislative Journal, March 20, 1933, p. 1251; also January 23, 1933, p. 247.)

Member Not to Discuss Merits of a Bill Under Question of Personal Privilege

196. The Speaker ruled that a decision of the merits of a bill is not permitted under a question of personal privilege. (Legislative Journal, April 23, 1935, p. 2598.)

Confined to Remarks Concerning Himself

197. A member was addressing the House under a question of personal privilege, when the point of order was made, that the gentleman was not speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken and in response to a parliamentary inquiry stated the following:

"Questions affecting the rights, reputation and conduct of members of the House in their representative capacity are questions of personal privilege.

"Questions affecting the rights, reputation relate to a person as a member of the body, or relate to charges against his character, which would, if true, incapacitate him for membership, therefore he is not entitled to the floor on a question of personal privilege unless the subject which he proposes to present relates to him in his representative capacity.

"A person who raises the question of personal privilege must confine himself to remarks which concern himself personally, and when speaking under personal privilege a member has no right to defend any person other than himself.

"If the gentleman from Allegheny will confine himself to a question of personal privilege, he has a right to be heard." (Legislative Journal, March 13, 1939, p. 611.)

POINT OF ORDER

Question for Speaker to Decide and Not the House Unless Submitted to It

198. On the question of adopting a resolution, declaring subjects not enumerated in the Governor's proclamation out of order the point of order was raised that the resolution is not in order because under parliamentary rules a point of order is a question for the Speaker and not for the House to decide unless submitted to the House. The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, January 22, 1906, p. 60; Journal H. R., p. 36.)

Members May State Reasons for Raising

199. A point of order having been raised that amendments to a bill were unconstitutional was being debated when another point of order was raised that the gentleman is debating the point of order which he has raised and, therefore, is out of order until the Chair has given his decision. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken as a gentleman has a right to give his reasons for raising a point of order and refer to authorities. (Legislative Journal, February 13, 1917, p. 202.)

Constitutional Points of Order for House to Decide

200. A bill was on final passage when the point of order was raised, that it was unconstitutional in violation of Art. III, Sec. 7.

The Speaker stated that it was his opinion that any question affecting the constitutionality of a bill is for the House itself to determine and not for the Speaker to decide.

This principle is supported by uniform rulings of Speakers of the House of Representatives of the United States and Pennsylvania, which will be found in Hinds' Precedents, Vols. 2 and 5. (See also Legislative Journal of Pa., 1913, pp. 1301, 1304.)

Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, Vol. 1, Chap. 4, p. 99, says: "The decisions for the construction of the Constitution must be made by the body upon whom the duty is imposed, or from whom the act is required."

The rules of this House give the Speaker the authority to submit the question to the House, which he does.

The bill was declared unconstitutional by the House. (Legislative Journal, Dec. 13, 1933, pp. 638, 639.) (Legislative Journal, June 5, 1935, p. 4805.) (Legislative Journal, 1949, April 27, p. 4703.)

Decision on, Postponed for Purpose of Obtaining Information

201. The Speaker postponed making a decision on a point of order for several days in order to obtain information upon which to make his decision. (Legislative Record, March 19, 1907, p. 1450. Decision made March 28, 1907, pp. 1834-35. Also Legislative Record, April 17, 1907, p. 2810. Decision made April 22, 1907, p. 3066.)

Point of Order Must Be made at Time Offense Is Committed

202. A point was raised that a bill was considered out of its regular order. The Speaker decided that the question was not subject to a point of order because it is business that has already passed. A point of order must be made at the time the offense is committed. (Legislative Journal, March 1, 1955, p. 537.)

Constitutionality of Bills, Question for House to Decide

203. Under parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether the House may determine the question of the constitutionality of legislation before it? The Speaker replied that it could. (Legislative Journal, July 7, 1953, p. 2098.)

Constitutionality of Bills, Attorney General May Not Be Summoned to Decide Upon

204. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked could the House summon the Attorney General to appear before it for an opinion on the constitutionality of a bill? The Speaker replied—it could not—the Attorney General being the legal advisor to the Governor of the Commonwealth and not the advisor to the House. (Legislative Journal, July 7, 1953, p. 2909.)

POSTPONEMENT

Bill Properly on Regular Calendar and Not on Calendar of Postponed Bills When Reported by Committee

205. A Senate Bill was on second reading. The point of order was raised that when this bill was recommitted to committee it was on the postponed calendar, it should, therefore, go on the postponed calendar when re-reported from committee. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken as the vote of the House to recommit took the bill from the postponed calendar and when re-reported from committee would properly be placed on the regular calendar. (Legislative Record, April 4, 1905, p. 2349; Journal H. R., p. 1494.)

Bill Not on Calendar, Motion for Is Not in Order

206. On a motion to postpone a House Bill, the point of order was raised that the Bill is not on the calendar, therefore, it cannot be postponed. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, April 4, 1905, p. 2291.)

Motion to, Precludes Commitment

207. An amendment to recommit was offered to a motion for indefinite postponement of a House Bill. The point of order was raised that a motion to recommit has preference over a motion for postponement. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. The Rule of the House provides that a motion to postpone shall preclude a motion for commitment. (Legislative Record, April 17, 1907, p. 2516.) (See also Legislative Journal, June 11, 1913, p. 4216.)

Bills on Postponed Calendar Must Be Called Up Under Their Regular Order of Business

208. A request was made to call up from the postponed calendar a House Bill. The point of order was raised that the order of business is bills on first reading, therefore, consideration of this bill is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, March 29, 1909, p. 1843.)

Senate Postponed Bills Do Not Require Extension of Time

209. The point of order was raised that Senate Bills remain on the postponed calendar without an extension of time. The Speaker ruled that Senate Bills would not be dropped from the House Postponed Calendar under the rule. (Legislative Journal, March 18, 1931, p. 1084.)

Extension of Time for

210. A point of order was raised as to the extension of the time limit for House bills on the postponed calendar. The Speaker stated the extension of time is a matter for the decision of the House. (Legislative Journal, October 14, 1955, p. 4276.)

Must Be by Action of the House

211. In response to a parliamentary inquiry as to whether the House could proceed to act upon a bill which was on the calendar before the report of a Select Committee had made its report to the House appointed to investigate this subject. The Speaker stated that the question of postponement of the bill was for the House to decide—the Chair has no jurisdiction and cannot stop consideration of a bill on the Calendar. It must be done by motion from the floor. (Legislative Journal, 1941, p. 750.)

Call for, in Order During Pendency of an Appeal

212. The Speaker decided that a call for the previous question is in order during the pendency of an appeal from the decision of the Speaker. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 840, pp. 946-8.)

Call for, While Member Is Addressing the House, In Order

213. The Speaker decided that the previous question could be called while a member was addressing the House. (Journal H. R. 1858, p. 347; also p. 539.)

When Exhausted

214. The point of order was raised that the previous question having been ordered, no further amendments are in order to the bill, and the previous question is not exhausted until the bill is gone through with. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken, for the following reasons, viz.: The previous question having been called on an amendment to the third section of the bill, and the main question ordered to be put, the previous question exhausted itself on the amendment and amendments to subsequent sections are in order. (Journal H. R., 1881, p. 1414.)

When Moved on Third Reading of a Bill, the Final Passage of Same Is a Part of the Main Question

215. The bill being on third reading and a motion made to go into Committee of the Whole for special amendment, the previous question was moved. Upon the bill being agreed to on third reading, the point of order was submitted that the previous question had been exhausted on agreeing to the bill on third reading. The Speaker decided the point of order to be not well taken, and that the main question was on agreeing to the bill on third reading and final passage. (Journal H. R., 1895, p. 2013.)

Cuts Off Motion to Go into Committee of the Whole

216. The point of order was raised that as a motion had been made to go into Committee of the Whole for special amendment that said motion took precedence over a motion for the previous question which had been previously offered. Decided not well taken. (Legislative Record, 1901, p. 581.)

Debate May Continue Only If Previous Question Is Voted Down

217. The point of order was raised that the House having given a Member permission to speak, the previous question is not in order. The Speaker ruled that the previous question having been moved and seconded, this question would have to be voted down to permit the gentleman to continue in debate. (Legislative Journal, March 4, 1935, p. 799; also June 11, 1935, p. 5212.)

Previous Question Is Not Debatable

218. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker stated that the motion for the previous question was not debatable and having been made, nothing is in order but the question—"Shall the main question be now put?" It is for the House itself to determine whether it wants the main question. Rule 68 of the House, and Jefferson's Manual, Section 454, were cited as authority. (Legislative Journal, June 11, 1935, p. 5212; also pp. 5219, 5220.) (See Jefferson's Manual, Section 785; also Hinds' Precedents, Vol. V, Sections 5410-5411.)

May Not Be Laid Upon Table

219. The previous question having been moved and seconded. A motion was made to lay the motion for the previous question on the table. The Speaker ruled that the motion for the previous question could not be laid upon the table. (Legislative Journal, May 2, 1939, p. 2317.)

Interrogation Not Permitted, Is a Form of Debate

220. A motion was made and seconded for the previous question, a member under a question of parliamentary inquiry asked if it was permissible under the rules to interrogate the gentleman who made the motion for the previous question. The Speaker stated that he was of the opinion that an interrogation would be a form of debate and read for the information of the House Rule 68, relative to interrogation on an undebatable motion. (Legislative Journal, 1943, p. 2295.)

RECONSIDERATION

Of Bills Twice Negated, a Motion for, not Again in Order

221. The Speaker pro tempore decided that a bill having been negated then reconsidered, and again negated, motion to again reconsider is out of order. (Journal H. R., 1878, p. 611.) The point of order was raised that the bill having been once defeated, reconsidered and again defeated could not be reconsidered the second time. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1891, p. 1033.)

Bill Negated on Final Passage, Only Those Voting in the Negative Competent to Move for

222. The point of order was raised that when a bill fails on its final passage, for want of a constitutional majority, does it require those who voted for the bill, who may be of a majority of the votes cast, or those who voted against the bill, although of a minority of the votes cast, to move to reconsider. The Speaker ruled that it would require the motion to reconsider to be made by those voting against the passage of the bill. (Journal H. R., 1874, p. 725.)

Motion for, Having Once Been Defeated, Not Again in Order

223. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which a House Bill was defeated on final passage, the point of order was raised that this bill having been defeated twice, it cannot be considered again. The Speaker pro tempore decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, April 2, 1903, p. 2712; Journal H. R., p. 1667.) (See also Legislative Journal, April 19, 1921, p. 2320. Legislative Journal, June 23, 1919, p. 3719. Legislative Record, April 7, 1903, p. 2878; Journal H. R., p. 1767.)

Members Voting on Prevailing Side Required to Make Motion

224. A motion having been made and seconded to reconsider the vote by which a bill was defeated. When the question was raised that the Members making the motion voted with a majority of the votes cast but the bill failed on passage, therefore, they did not vote on the majority side of the question which would be in the negative. The Speaker ruled the motion to reconsider must be made by those who voted with the majority on the original question. (Legislative Journal, Dec. 14, 1933, p. 690.) (Legislative Journal, April 12, 1933, p. 2946.)

Member Voting on Prevailing Side Required to Make Motion

225. An inquiry was made as to whether the Member who seconded a motion to reconsider a vote by which a bill was defeated, voted on the prevailing side. Upon being questioned by the Speaker, the gentleman seconding the motion stated he voted "Aye," the vote being 95 "Ayes" to 86 "Nays." The Speaker stated the gentleman was not on the prevailing side because the bill fell and was not qualified to second the motion to reconsider. (Legislative Journal, April 9, 1956, p. 7511.)

Motion for, Must Be Made by Members Voting in the Majority

226. A motion was offered to reconsider the vote by which a House Bill was defeated on final passage. The point of order was raised that the gentleman who made this motion did not vote in the negative, therefore, he cannot move for reconsideration. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, April 3, 1907, p. 2087.)

Members Voting With the Minority Competent to Move for, When Yeas and Nays Are Not Called

227. The point of order was submitted that when section twenty-nine of a House Bill was under consideration, an amendment was offered allowing fishing with nets and baskets. The amendment was adopted. Immediately after its adoption a motion was made for the reconsideration of the vote—the motion being made by the gentleman who voted with the minority, and, therefore, not entitled to the privilege. The proceedings being irregular and contrary to the rule, the motion and action of the House relative thereto should be stricken from the Journal and the amendment should remain as part of the section. The Chair decided the point of order not well taken, as there was no record of the vote. (Journal H. R., 1897, p. 1059.)

When Yeas and Nays Are Not Taken Any Member May Make a Motion for

228. On the question of agreeing to a motion to reconsider the vote by which an amendment was defeated, the point of order was raised that the gentleman who offered this motion voted in the minority when the amendment was first before the House, therefore, is incompetent to make the motion to reconsider. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken for the reason that on the amendment first offered the yeas and nays were not called. (Legislative Record, February 4, 1903, p. 484; Journal H. R., p. 410.)

Omnibus Motion to Reconsider Vote to Reinstate Bills Not in Order

229. A motion was offered to reconsider the vote by which several bills had been dropped from the calendar. The point of order was raised that the bills could not be reinstated by an omnibus motion, but that the motion should designate the number of each bill and the page of the calendar. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, stating that each individual bill should be acted upon separately. (Legislative Journal, April 5, 1925, p. 3766.)

Members Making Motion for, Must Have Been Present and Voted

230. On a motion to place a House Bill on the calendar which was defeated on final passage, the point of order was raised that the gentleman making the motion was not present when the vote was taken, therefore he cannot make this motion. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, June 24, 1913, p. 4911; Journal H. R., p. 5288.) (See also Legislative Journal, April 7, 1921, p. 1526.)

Of Bill by Senate After Being in Possession of the House Not in Order

231. After a bill incorporating a railroad company had passed the Senate and been received by the House, the Senate reconsidered the vote on its final passage and notified the House of the same. The bill being on the House private calendar of Senate bills, a question of order was raised that inasmuch as the Senate had reconsidered its vote on the final passage, and notified the House thereof, the bill was, therefore, not in order. The Speaker submitted the question to the House. The House decided the question of order not well taken. (Journal H. R., 1870, p. 1173.)

After Bill Has Passed House and Is Messaged to Senate Not in Order to

232. A motion was made to reconsider the vote by which a House Bill passed finally. The point of order was raised that this Bill has already passed the House and sent to the Senate for concurrence and is no longer the property of the House. The Speaker pro tempore decided the point of order well taken. An appeal was taken from the decision of the Chair. The House sustained the decision of the Speaker pro tempore. (Legislative Journal, March 21, 1917, p. 732; Journal H. R., p. 948.)

Of Vote on Indefinite Postponement of Motion to Reconsider, Not in Order

233. The Speaker decided that a motion to reconsider the vote on indefinitely postponing a motion to reconsider the vote on the final passage of a bill, was not in order. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1862, p. 778.)

Of Vote Defeating Bill, May Be Made Within Five Days of Actual Session

234. The point of order was raised that five legislative days had not intervened since the bill was defeated. The Speaker ruled that the bill was defeated on the seventeenth instant, last Monday. The House was in session Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. This will be the fourth day in which the House is in session. The point of order is not sustained. (Journal H. R., 1913, p. 6045, and Legislative Journal, 1913, p. 3072.)

Motion for, in Order Until Defeated

235. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which a Senate Bill was defeated on final passage, the point of order was raised that a motion has once been made for the reconsideration of this bill. The Speaker ruled that a motion to reconsider is always in order until the motion to reconsider has been defeated. (Legislative Record, April 15, 1909, p. 4096.)

Brings Bill Before the House as It Was Originally

236. A motion to reconsider the vote by which a Senate Bill was recommitted to Committee, having been agreed to, amendments were then offered to the bill when the point of order was raised that the offering of amendments is out of order because this bill is not on second reading and the motion passed upon by the House is merely placing this bill back to its position on the second reading calendar. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. The reconsideration of the vote brings the bill before the House as it was when the motion to recommit was adopted. An appeal was taken from the decision of the chair. The House sustained the ruling of the Speaker. (Legislative Journal, April 7, 1913, pp. 1525, 1526, 1527; Journal H. R., p. 2215.)

Of Vote Not in Order Until Other Business Has Intervened

237. On the motion to reconsider a vote by which a bill was defeated on final passage, the point of order was raised that this motion is not in order until other business has intervened. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken; the motion is not in order until some other business has intervened. (Legislative Journal, April 13, 1931, p. 1893.)

On Second Reading—Title and Several Sections Acted on Separately

238. A motion was made to reconsider the vote by which a bill passed second reading. The Speaker ruled that the House must go through the same procedure to reconsider that was gone through with when the bill was agreed to on second reading, i. e., the vote by which the House ordered the bill transcribed for third reading; agreed to the bill on second reading as amended; the title and several sections. (Legislative Journal, April 29, 1931, p. 2741.)

Resolution Must Be in Possession of the House to Reconsider

239. A motion was made to reconsider the vote by which a resolution passed the House. The Speaker ruled the motion out of order for the reason that the resolution was not in the possession of the House. (Legislative Journal, Jan. 23, 1933, p. 247.)

Placing Bill Not Reported from Committee on Calendar, Not in Order

240. On the question of adopting a resolution to place a Senate Bill on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee, the point of order was raised that this bill has not been reported to the House, and is not in the possession of the House, therefore, this resolution cannot be entertained. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, May 6, 1907, p. 4176; Journal H. R., p. 2597.)

Laid Upon the Table by a Majority Vote of the House Cannot Be Taken from the Table Except by a Majority Vote

241. A resolution which was laid on the table was called up by a member. The point of order was raised that the resolution was laid on the table by a vote of the House, therefore, must be taken off by a vote of the House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, stating that it will require a motion agreed to by a majority of the members present to take the resolution from the table. (Legislative Record, February 11, 1907, p. 513; Journal H. R., p. 498.)

Act of Assembly Cannot Be Changed or Repealed by

242. On a motion to refer a Concurrent Resolution abolishing the printing of the Legislative Record to the Committee on Printing the point of order was raised that the publishing of the Legislative Record is provided for by an Act of Assembly and an Act of Assembly cannot be repealed by a Concurrent Resolution. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, April 2, 1907, pp. 1941 and 2034; Journal H. R., p. 1385.) (See also Legislative Record, March 12, 1901, p. 785; Journal H. R., p. 727; also Legislative Record, Feb. 15, 1906, p. 695; and Journal H. R., p. 303.)

Acts of Assembly Cannot Be Amended by Concurrent

243. On the question of adopting a concurrent resolution, the point of order was raised that this resolution is unconstitutional. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, holding that an Act of Assembly cannot be amended by a concurrent resolution. (Legislative Journal, June 7, 1917, p. 3273; Journal H. R., p. 3143.)

Not Concerning the House, Out of Order

244. On the question of adopting a concurrent resolution, the point of order was raised that the House is not concerned in this resolution because there is no charge in it affecting a member of this House but the charge relates entirely to a Senator. The Speaker submitted the point of order to the House. The House sustained the point of order. (Legislative Record, May 6, 1907, p. 4180; Journal H. R., p. 2600.)

Requesting Certain Information from the Banking Department, Not in Order

245. On the question of adopting a resolution requesting information from a department, the point of order was raised that the Banking Commission or any deputy officer or employee of this department shall not divulge the contents of the reports called for in this resolution. The Speaker suspended decision of the point of order until he has had a consultation with the Banking Department. (Legislative Record, March 19, 1907, p. 1450.) The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, March 28, 1907, p. 1834.) (See Decision of Attorney General, Legislative Record, 1907, p. 1835; Journal H. R., p. 1298.)

Requesting a Clerk in a Department to Furnish Information, Not in Order

246. On a motion to commit a House Resolution to the Committee on Ways and Means, the point of order was raised that the resolution is out of order, because Mr. Lewis, being an employee and not an officer of the Auditor General's Department, cannot be called upon to furnish information from that Department. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, and declared the resolution out of order. (Legislative Journal, April 13, 1921, p. 1836, and April 18, 1921, p. 2037.)

Recalling Bill from Senate Must Be Acted Upon by the Senate

247. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which the resolution recalling a House Bill from the Senate was adopted, the point of order was raised that the House cannot recall a bill from the Senate after it has passed second reading in the Senate. The Speaker ruled that the resolution recalling the House Bill is a Concurrent Resolution, therefore, the question of returning the bill to the House is for the Senate itself to determine. (Legislative Journal, April 5, 1921, p. 1308.)

Reconsideration of Vote Adopting, After Bill Has Been Messaged to Senate, Not in Order

248. On a question to reconsider the vote by which the House adopted a Resolution to return a House Bill to the Governor, the point of order was raised that the resolution authorizing the return of this Bill to the Governor, was adopted by the House and messaged to the Senate before the gentleman presented his motion to reconsider the vote on the resolution, therefore, his motion is out of order, the resolution no longer being in the possession of the House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, stating that the resolution has already been messaged to the Senate and is not in the House, therefore, the motion is out of order. (Legislative Journal, June 16, 1919, pp. 3110 and 3111.)

Recalling Bill from Governor Is in Order After Bill Has Been Signed by Presiding Officers of Both Houses

249. On the question of concurring in a resolution of the Senate to recall a Senate Bill from the Governor, the point of order was raised that this bill has not yet been messaged to the Governor, therefore, the House cannot consider a resolution to recall it. The Speaker ruled that this bill has been signed by the Speaker and is no longer in the possession of the House. (Legislative Journal, June 19, 1917, p. 3842.)

Consideration of a Similar, Previously Acted Upon, Not in Order

250. On the question of adopting a resolution, the point of order was raised that the House has acted upon a similar resolution yesterday and that this resolution was not in order. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., February 15, 1901, p. 458.)

Consideration of, Not in Order Until Printed

251. A concurrent resolution was offered and ordered laid over for printing when the point of order was raised that the resolution is out of order. The Speaker decided that until the resolution is printed its consideration is not in order and until its consideration is in order a point of order cannot be raised against it. (Legislative Journal, May 5, 1913, p. 2604.)

Amendment to, Restraining Persons from Leaving the State, Not in Order

252. An amendment was offered to a resolution restraining certain persons from leaving the State, the point of order was raised that the amendment undertakes to give powers that the Legislature does not have. No legislative body has the power to restrain any person from leaving the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth before process is served. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, January 28, 1907, p. 267; Journal H. R., p. 303.)

Is Not Dual in Its Purpose When Embracing Two Districts

253. On the question of adopting a resolution, the point of order was raised that this resolution embraces two election districts or two subjects and it is, therefore, dual in its purpose. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken for the reason that both the contests referred to in the resolution are before the Committee on Elections. (Legislative Record, January 29, 1903, p. 314; Journal H. R., p. 324.)

Discharging a Committee from Further Consideration of a Bill, in Order

254. On the question of adopting a resolution discharging a Committee from further consideration of a bill, the point of order was raised that the Committee did not report the bill when that order of business was reached and under the Rules of the House, no such order will be reached until tomorrow, therefore, the resolution is out of order. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. An appeal was taken from the decision of the Chair. The House sustained the ruling of the Speaker. (Legislative Record, March 20, 1905, p. 1205; Journal H. R., p. 938.)

Concurrent, Continuing an Old Commission, Is in Order

255. A concurrent resolution was offered providing that the school code be referred to the Educational Commission, and providing for the continuance of the Commission. The point of order was raised that a commission cannot be recreated in this manner and further the House cannot refer any bills to a commission which has no existence. The Speaker ruled that inasmuch as the resolution merely continues the old commission it is proper, therefore, the point of order is not well taken. (Legislative Record, March 31, 1909, p. 2065.)

Concurrent, Does Not Require Three Readings

256. The point of order was raised that a concurrent resolution required three readings under Rule 32 of the House and is, therefore, not properly before the House. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken for the reason that the Resolution before the House is a concurrent resolution and not a joint resolution and does not take the course of a bill. (Legislative Journal, February 3, 1931, p. 219.)

Motion to Adopt Negatived, Not in Order

257. A motion was offered to adopt a resolution which had been reported by Committee with a negative recommendation. The Speaker ruled the motion out of order, stating that the proper parliamentary practice is to offer a motion to have this resolution (which is in the nature of a bill) placed upon the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee. An appeal was taken from the decision of the Chair. The House sustained the ruling of the Chair. (Legislative Journal, February 7, 1911, pp. 176, 179 and 180; Journal H. R., pp. 450 and 453.)

A Majority of All the Members Not Necessary to Pass Concurrent Resolution Entailing Expense to the State

258. The Speaker decided that a concurrent resolution to appoint a commission, which read: "The expenses of said commission shall be paid upon warrants drawn by the chairman upon the State Treasurer and approved by the Auditor General, and each of said commissioners shall be allowed the sum of ten dollars per day, said expenses and compensation to be paid out of such moneys as may by law be hereafter appropriated for such purposes" did not require one hundred and one votes (a majority of all the members of the House) to pass, as the resolution did not appropriate money. On an appeal, the House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1878, p. 1394.)

House, Not Privileged, Lay Over for Printing

259. The point of order was raised that a resolution being a resolution of the House of Representatives only under the rules need not be laid over for printing. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken for the reason that it was a simple House Resolution and did not come within the purview of any of the privileged resolutions under Rule 84 of the House and, therefore, must lay over for printing. (Legislative Journal, February 16, 1931, p. 303.)

House May Print Senate Resolutions for Its Own Use

260. A question of parliamentary inquiry was submitted, whether the House could require a Senate resolution under consideration printed. The Speaker replied that it was within the power of the House to have the resolution printed if it so decided. (Legislative Journal, February 20, 1933, p. 674.)

Resolutions to Be Submitted to Governor

261. The point of order was raised that the resolution under consideration is out of order, for the reason that the resolution it proposes to recall is improperly in the hands of the Governor and is, therefore, not subject to recall.

The Speaker. In ruling on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair read for the information of "Every order, resolution or vote, to which the concurrence of both Houses may be necessary, except on questions of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor and before it shall take effect, be approved by him."

In an opinion by Attorney General Brown, 1915, page 2, he stated:

Attorney General Woodruff approved the conclusions of Attorney General Brown above cited in 7 D. & C. 672.

The second resolve clause proposes a committee of three members of the House, and three members of the Senate, together with the Executive Director of the Emergency Relief Board (who is an administrative officer appointed by the Governor), to perform administrative duties of passing on salary increases and personnel and all other matters pertaining to the State Emergency Relief Administration.

The Chair is, therefore, of the opinion that Resolution 143 very definitely commits the State to certain action pertaining to the administration of relief and directly affects the administrative branch of Government; furthermore it requires the Governor to appoint members of a committee which could not be done without his consent, and that the resolution is legislative in character for these reasons this resolution was properly submitted to the Governor for his approval and the point of order is not well taken. (Legislative Journal, May 8, 1935, pp. 3346-3347.)

Call of, Under Call for Previous Questions in Order

Not in Order After Question Has Been Determined
263. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which a resolution recalling a House Bill from the Senate, was adopted, a viva voce vote was taken, and the Speaker decided the motion was not agreed to. The point of order was raised that several members of the House called for a division of a yea and nay vote before the final

270. The point of order was raised that a member is privileged only to question the affirmative roll under a verification after the affirmative roll is read and to question the negative roll only after the negative roll is read. The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, April 30, 1935, pp. 2938-2939.)

RULES

Of Last House Do Not Continue in Force

271. On motion to proceed to the election of a chief clerk, the point of order was raised that the nomination and election of an officer on the same day was a transgression of the rules of the House. The Speaker decided the point of order was not well taken, as the House was not yet organized, and there were no rules in force. (Journal H. R., 1889, p. 10.)

Organization of the House, Before Adoption of

272. Under a parliamentary inquiry during the organization of the House, the question was asked whether there were any rules governing debate. The Speaker replied there were no rules except those rules which by usage and custom have prevailed in the House. (Legislative Journal, January 3, 1939, p. 44.)

Organization of the House, Before Adoption of

273. Under a parliamentary inquiry during the organization of the House, the question was asked that since the House was proceeding without having yet adopted rules, are we not in the status of a committee of the whole. The Speaker replied we were not in the committee of the whole, but were members who had been elected and sworn, organizing the House, having selected a Speaker, and proceeding with selection of other officers. (Legislative Journal, January 3, 1939, p. 44.)

Joint Rules Not Binding on Succeeding House Unless Adopted

274. Joint rules adopted by a former Senate and House were included in a current issue of a Legislative Directory.

A question of parliamentary inquiry was raised, asking whether they were binding on the present House.

The Speaker stated that they were not binding on the present House, for the following reasons:

Under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Art. II, Sec. 2, "Each House shall have power to determine the rules of its proceedings."

Quoting from Jefferson's Manual, "It has been determined that one House may not continue its rules in force and over its successor. * * *

The Speaker further stated, "That the principle is well settled that it is not within the province of one House to adopt rules which are binding upon a subsequent House and the same principle applies to joint rules." (Legislative Journal, March 6, 1933, p. 925.)

Report from Committee on, Has Preference at All Times

275. On the question of adopting a report of the Committee on Rules, the point of order was raised that the report should lie over one day. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, stating that a report of the Committee on Rules has preference at all times. (Legislative Journal, May 22, 1911, p. 1227.)

Motion to Suspend Must State a Specific Purpose

276. On a motion to suspend House Rule No. 57 for the remainder of the session, the point of order was raised that the motion is out of order for the reason that it violates House Rule No. 43, which requires that a motion to suspend a rule of the House must state a specific purpose. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, April 20, 1921, p. 2645.)

Suspension of, for a Specific Purpose Is in Order

277. A Senate Bill was being considered on third reading. The point of order was raised that Rule No. 3 was suspended under the motion offered which rule provides for the method of suspending rules. That motion did not suspend Rule No. 8, which is, therefore, in force and there is no provision for the consideration of third reading bills at this time. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken; the purpose of the motion was clearly stated, that it was for the purpose of proceeding to the consideration of this bill. (Legislative Journal, June 25, 1917, p. 4131.) (Legislative Journal, April 13, 1925, p. 3460.)

Suspension of, for a Specific Purpose Is in Order

278. Rule No. 43 of the House was suspended for the specific purpose of consideration on third reading of a Senate Bill. The House proceeded to the consideration of the bill. The point of order was raised that the consideration of this bill is out of order at this time, for the reason that Rule No. 8 of the House does not provide for consideration on Monday nights of bills upon third reading. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, stating that the rules of the House provide that the majority of those voting can at any time alter the rules of the House. (Legislative Journal, June 25, 1917, p. 4131.)

Motion to Suspend Debatable, If Rule Is Debatable

279. In reply to a parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker stated that a motion to suspend a rule is debatable, if it is not for suspension of an undebatable rule. (House Journal, 1936, p. 634.)

Suspension of, Required Before Motion to Place Bill on Calendar After Five Days Have Elapsed Can be Considered

280. On a motion to place a House Bill on the calendar notwithstanding the fact that it has been dropped therefrom by reason of not having been called up from the postponed calendar within five days of such postponement, the point of order was raised that before this motion can be considered, the rule must be suspended. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, May 21, 1913, p. 3274; Journal H. R., p. 3866.)

SESSION

Continued After Midnight, Competent to Proceed with Business Pending Before the House

281. The session of the House having continued after twelve o'clock midnight, the Speaker decided that it was in order to proceed with the business before the House. An appeal was taken. The House sustained the decision. (Journal H. R., 1864, p. 1025.)

The hour of midnight having arrived, the Speaker decided that it was in order to proceed with the business under consideration. (Journal H. R., 1872, pp. 622, 623.)

The hour of midnight having passed, the Speaker ruled that a legislative day extends until the House is adjourned. (Legislative Journal, April 27, 1931, p. 2543.)

Legislative Day Ends When House Adjourns

282. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry as to when does a legislative day end—

The Speaker ruled a legislative day ends when the House adjourns. (Legislative Journal, Nov. 27, 1933, p. 230.)

Extends Until House Is Adjourned

283. The point of order was made that the House is governed by Eastern Standard Time, we are, therefore, in a new legislative day. (The hour of twelve midnight having passed.)

The Speaker ruled the point of order not well taken:

"A Legislative day is not governed by the hour of the day or the day of the week, but extends until the House adjourns. The Chair will refer the gentleman to decisions of the House as follows—

"The session of the House having continued after midnight, the Speaker decided it was in order to proceed with the business before the House. An appeal was taken and the House sustained the decision. Journal of the House of Representatives, 1864, page 1025.

'The hour of midnight having passed the Speaker decided it was in order to proceed with the business then under consideration. Journal of the House, 1872, pp. 622 and 623.

'The hour of midnight having passed the Speaker ruled that the legislative day extends until the House is adjourned. Legislative Journal, April 27, 1931, page 2543.

In addition the Chair would read to the gentleman from Cambria, from Jefferson's Manual, Section 6:

"Legislative rather than calendar days are observed by the House of Congress."

The Speaker further stated that the rule of the House referred to governs the convening of the House but not the adjourning of the House. (Legislative Journal, May 25, 1939, p. 4524.)

Special, for a Special Purpose, No Other Business Can Be Considered

284. The point of order was raised that this being a special session for a special purpose, no other business could be considered. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Journal H. R., 1891, p. 1443.) (See also, House Journal, 1879, p. 788.)

Special, Subjects Not Enumerated in Governor's Proclamation, Out of Order

285. A point of order was raised that the subject of the bill was not germane to the proclamation of the Governor. The House sustained the point of order. (House Journal, 1906, p. 70.)

SPEAKER

Viva Voce Decision By, Not in Error

286. A Concurrent Resolution recalling a House Bill from the Senate was adopted by a viva voce vote. The point of order was raised that the Speaker erred in his decision on the viva voce vote on the Concurrent Resolution recalling House Bill No. 269 from the Senate. The Speaker submitted the question on the point of order to the House. The House sustained the Speaker in his decision on the viva voce vote. (Legislative Journal, April 5, 1921, p. 1309.)

Interrogation of

287. Under a parliamentary inquiry, the question was asked whether it would be in order to interrogate the Speaker of the House. The Speaker replied that if the interrogation was a proper one, it would be in order. (Legislative Journal, February 9, 1956, p. 5927.)

VETO MESSAGE

Motion to Postpone Consideration of, for the Present, in Order

288. A motion having been made to postpone consideration of the veto message for the present, the point of order was raised "that under the provisions of the Constitution the House could not postpone the consideration of the communication." The Speaker pro tempore decided the point of order not well taken. (Journal H. R., 1893, p. 530.) (See also similar decision, same Journal, p. 532.)

VISITORS

Attention Not to Be Directed to, During Debate

289. A member was addressing the House, when he paused in his remarks to ask a visiting constituent, whom he had invited to the hall of the House, to rise and face the members—to emphasize a point he was making in debate. The Speaker interrupted and advised the member that such procedure was out of order. (Legislative Journal, April 24, 1939, p. 1708.)

VOTE

Challenge of Members, When Result Is Affected Announcement of the Vote Is Withheld

290. A House Bill was on final passage, the roll was taken and on verification of the roll, a member's vote was challenged which changed the result of the vote. The Speaker pro tem, decided under Rule 65 of the House, the result of the vote will be withheld until the challenge is investigated. (Legislative Journal, May 7, 1913, pp. 2763-4, also Journal H. R., p. 3344.)

After investigation by the Speaker the challenge was not sustained as the gentleman was present and voted. (Legislative Journal, 1913, p. 2764.)

Challenge of Vote Must Be Made Before Vote Is Announced

291. Under parliamentary inquiry the question was asked whether the challenge of a Member's vote must be made in writing before the vote is announced? The Speaker stated that under House Rule 80, the challenge must be submitted before the result of vote is announced. (Legislative Journal, April 14, 1953, p. 1285.)

Challenge of Member's Vote Must Be in Writing

292. A member stated that another member who was recorded as voting was not present. When the point of order was made, that under the rules of the House the challenge of a member's vote must be in writing, the Speaker sustained the point of order. (Legislative Journal, July 19, 1932, p. 507.) (House Journal, 1935, p. 2699.)

Member Cannot Be recorded After Result of, Is Announced

293. On a motion to reconsider the vote by which a bill was defeated on final passage, a roll was taken, verified and the result announced, and when a member asked to be recorded, the point of order was raised that the roll had been called, the verification made; and the vote announced. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken, and the member's vote was not recorded. (Legislative Journal, May 5, 1913, p. 2618; Journal H. R., p. 3238.)

Member Not Permitted to, Who Arrived in House During Verification of Roll

294. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry the Speaker stated that a member who arrived in the House during the verification of the roll call was not qualified to vote on the question. (Legislative Journal, April 18, 1945, p. 2578.)

Member's Right to, Defined

295. Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was asked as to the interpretation of the rules governing a Member's right to vote? The Speaker replied that a Member was entitled to vote if he was in the Hall of the House during the first call of the roll and had asked to be recorded prior to the affirmative or negative roll being verified under the provisions of House Rule 80. (Legislative Journal, July 21, 1953, p. 4009.)

Member Entitled to, If Within the Hall of the House When Roll Is Called

296. On the final passage of a House Bill, the point of order was raised that when an objection is raised to a member voting, after his name has been passed on the roll, under the rules of the House, he shall then not be permitted to vote, whether he is in the House or not. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, stating that if the gentleman desiring to be recorded, is within the Hall of the House when the roll is called, he is entitled to vote. (Legislative Journal, March 31, 1913, p. 1291; Journal H. R., 2004.)

Member Entitled to Vote If Within the Hall of the House

297. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry, whether members who have not answered to their names will be recorded on the roll. The Speaker stated that every member who is within the Hall of the House has the constitutional right to vote. He may rise and state to the Chair that he did not hear his name called or that he voted under a misapprehension whatever statement or reason the gentleman sees fit to give, the Chair must accept that statement. (Legislative Journal, December 6, 1933, p. 465.)

Member Entitled to, if Present in the House

298. The Speaker was asked whether a member who had been granted leave of absence after a stated hour was officially present and entitled to vote on questions before the House after that hour. The Speaker stated that the member's presence in the House determines that he is officially present and entitled to vote. (Legislative Journal, April 11, 1945, p. 2336.)

Member Required to, Unless Excused by the House

299. A member asked to be excused from voting, which was objected to.

Under a question of parliamentary inquiry as to what is the parliamentary procedure requiring a member to vote, the Speaker read Rule 71 of the House as follows:

"Every member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused by the House or necessarily prevented, and shall vote for or against each question, unless he has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the determination of such question or unless he be excused by the House."

The Speaker also read to the House the following precedents in which the House had acted when members declined to vote:

"House Competent to Excuse a Member from Voting Decision 244. The Speaker decided that it was at all times competent for the House to excuse a Member from voting." Journal of the House of Representatives 1858, p. 813.

The Chair also read Article 2, Section 11, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

"Powers of Each House—Expulsion. Each House shall have power to determine the rules of its proceedings and punish its Members or other persons for contempt or disorderly behavior in its presence, to enforce obedience to its process, to protect its members against violence or offers of bribes or private solicitations.

The Speaker stated that if every Member of this House should decide to refuse to vote it would stop the legislative process of this House."

A point of order was then raised, that there being no rule prescribing penalties to be imposed and no process established under the rules by which a member can be disciplined for not voting, it is without the province of the House under the rules to require the gentleman to vote.

The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry as to what the course of procedure would be and under what rule would a penalty be imposed upon a member refusing to vote.

The Speaker replied that House Rule 71 and Article 2, Section 11, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania established the procedure and that it would be for the House to decide the penalty to be imposed. (Legislative Journal, March 27, 1945, p. 1702.)

Member Required to Under Provisions of the Constitution and House Rules

300. In reply to a parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker recited the following provisions of the Constitution and House Rules requiring Members to vote on questions before the House:

With the help of the Parliamentarian we have assembled the following information which the Chair thinks will be of interest to all the Members, and in the opinion of the Chair this information should be made a part of the record of the House.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania prescribes the method of voting on the passage of bills in Article III, Section 4, which reads:

(a) "... the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the persons voting for and against the same be entered on the journal ..."

This is a Constitutional provision.

Article 11, Section 12, provides that:

"... the yeas and nays of the members on any question shall, at the desire of any two of them be entered on the journal."

Article 11, Section 11, of the Constitution confers upon the House the power to determine the Rules of its proceedings and punish members for contempt.

Rule 71 provides, "Every Member shall vote for or against each question put, unless he has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the determination of such question, or unless he be excused by the House."

Rule 78 provides, "The Legislative Journal shall show the result of each roll call by Yeas and Nays and not voting."

Rule 10 provides, "When less than a quorum vote on any subject under the consideration of the House, it shall be the duty of the Speaker forthwith to order the doors of the House to be closed, and that the roll of Members be called by the Clerk, and if it is ascertained that a quorum is present, either by answering to their names or by their presence in the House—the Yeas and Nays shall again be ordered by the Speaker, and if any Member present refuses to vote, such refusal shall be deemed a contempt, and unless purged, the Speaker shall order the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove said Member or Members without the bar of the House, and all privileges of membership shall be refused the person so offending until the contempt be duly purged."

The Chair saved the gentleman from Philadelphia from proceedings under that Rule recently.

Rule 10 in its present form was first adopted, so the Parliamentarian tells me, by the House April 2, 1858, nearly a hundred years ago, to prevent the stoppage of legislative processes by Members refusing to vote. It has continued all through the years without any change to be a Rule of the House. It is interesting to note that at the time of the adoption of this Rule, an amendment to it was rejected by the House, and the proposed amendment reads, "Such Member shall be noted on the Journal as present; and not voting, and be considered a portion of a quorum." (The House Journal, April 2, 1958.)

The Legislative Journal of the House of Representatives of June 7, 1935, in response to a question of parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker replied that a Member could not be recorded as voting "present" on a bill, for the reason that the Constitution requires the vote be taken and recorded by yeas and nays.

Incidentally, Jefferson's Manual, one of the parliamentary authorities, states, "Every member must give his vote one way or the other."

If a Member is not prepared to vote, the correct parliamentary recourse to him, under the Rule, is to request the House to excuse him. He should not willfully and deliberately violate the Rule, by keeping silent or to refuse to vote and subject himself to possible contempt.

It should be also noted when a fixed number of votes is required to take action, such as is the case under our Constitution, a failure to vote reduces by one the vote available to take action—that would be in the case of the institution bills where it requires a two-thirds majority of the House in order to approve the appropriation—and, therefore, the vote "present" would have the effect of being a vote "no."

It is true the Members of the House are bound by their oath which they take initially to obey the constitutional mode of proceedings, which, under the Rules adopted by the House, do not permit a Member to be recorded as voting "present" where the Yeas and Nays are required or where the Yeas and Nays are demanded.

The Speaker. There is one other aspect of the general problem which perhaps deserves some consideration. That is, a Member strictly speaking, is not voting as an individual, he is not primarily an individual he is a voice, a voice which presumably expresses the wishes of the constituency which he represents. So if one voted "present," the particular constituency which he represented would have no voice in the proceedings of this body.

(Legislative Journal, August 2, 1955, pp. 3204-5.)

Member Cannot Be Recorded as Voting Present on a Bill

301. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry, the Speaker stated a member cannot be recorded as voting present on a bill for the reason that the Constitution, Article III, Section 4, requires that the votes be taken by yeas and nays. (Legislative Journal, June 17, 1935, p. 5750.)

House Competent to Excuse Members from

302. The Speaker decided that it was at all times competent for the House to excuse a member from voting. (Journal H. R., 1857, p. 813.)

Call for a Division of, Must Be Made Before Speaker Renders Decision

303. An amendment to a House Bill was declared not agreed to by the Speaker, and when a division was called for, the point of order was raised that the call came too late as the Chair had already rendered its decision. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Journal, March 22, 1911, p. 947.)

Constitutional Majority Vote

304. The question was raised as to what vote constituted a constitutional majority of the House. The Speaker replied 105 votes was a constitutional majority. (Legislative Journal, December 9, 1933, p. 875.)

Tie Vote, Defeats Bill

305. A roll call was taken on agreeing to a bill on second reading which resulted in a tie vote. A point of order was raised, and since the bill did not receive a majority of all the votes cast, it was lost. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, March 12, 1907.) (Also Dec. 1951.)

SESSION OF 1960*

REPORT AND SUGGESTIONS OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO STUDY THE AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE II, SECTION 4, OF THE CONSTITUTION, PROVIDING FOR ANNUAL SESSIONS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Presented pursuant to House Resolution No. 132, Printer's No. 2070 (Serial No. 138), which directed the committee to define the types of legislation to be considered and limitations thereon for the 1960 annual session and the "fiscal" sessions occurring in even-numbered years thereafter; and to make a report of its findings, together with its recommendation for appropriate rules to the General Assembly.

Pursuant to the provisions of House Resolution No. 132, Printer's No. 2070, the committee held several meetings. At the first meeting the committee directed the Joint State Government Commission and the Legislative Reference Bureau to conduct a study of the legal authorities and the experience of other states which have similar constitutional provisions and to make a report to the committee. The Governor was requested to direct the Attorney General to conduct a similar study. At subsequent meetings, the committee discussed these reports and the legal authorities cited therein.

As a result of these meetings, the committee drafted a rule which is designed to define the area within which the General Assembly may enact legislation during a regular session convening in an even-numbered year.

A copy of this rule, drawn for the House of Representatives, is made a part of this report.

It is suggested by the committee that the House of Representatives adopt this rule and that the Senate adopt a rule incorporating the definitions of "bills raising revenue" and "bills making appropriations" contained in this rule.

The Senate members of the committee preferred that this committee make no suggestions concerning procedural matters in the Senate.

The committee agrees that the limitation contained in the constitutional amendment applies only to legislation and that any other action which the General Assembly, or either House thereof, may lawfully take or consider, may also be taken or considered during a "fiscal" session.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES S. BERGER
RAYMOND P. SHAFER
STEPHEN McCANN

SENATE

The Senate of Pennsylvania convened at 12 noon on January 5, 1960, in its first annual session under the amendment to Section 4 of Article II of the Constitution of 1874. Meeting for seven legislative days, a recess until June 6, 1960, was agreed to on February 8, 1960.†

*In the course of the session, eleven bills were introduced, all of which were referred to committees for consideration at the time of reconvening. Three appropriation bills which came over from the House of Representatives were passed by the Senate and subsequently signed by the Governor.***

In the Senate, January 26, 1960.

RESOLVED, That Senate Rule 23 be amended by adding the following paragraph:

The President Pro Tempore shall, during the regular session convening in even-numbered years, appoint a Committee on Legislation consisting of two Senators from the majority party and two Senators from the minority party. The President Pro Tempore shall be ex-officio a member of the Committee on Legislation and shall not be included in the number of committee members herein provided.

and be it further

RESOLVED, That the following new rule be inserted after Rule 31:

Rule 31.1

All bills introduced during a regular session convening in an even-numbered year shall be either bills raising revenue or bills making appropriations.

A bill is a bill raising revenue when its primary purpose is to produce income to the State Treasury for use by the State, through taxation, license fees, regulatory fees, special assessments, rentals, royalties or from any other source through which the State may lawfully exact revenue. It may increase or decrease the revenue derived from any source, eliminate any source of revenue, or provide for a new source of revenue. It may contain such provisions of a regulatory character, or provisions making changes in existing law, which are incidental to its primary purpose.

A bill is a bill making an appropriation when its primary and specific purpose is to make expenditure of money from the State Treasury, and which contains no provisions of law other than those which may be lawfully imposed as conditions upon which such money may be expended.

Bills introduced during a regular session convening in an even-numbered year shall be numbered consecutively and those which are bills raising revenue or bills making appropriations shall be referred by the President to the Committee on Legislation immediately upon introduction or not later than the succeeding legislative day. If in the opinion of the Committee on Legislation the bill is in accordance with the above definitions, it shall within three legislative days, report the bill to the floor for re-reference by the President to the appropriate Committee, at which time it shall be printed. Any bill not reported within three legislative days shall be deemed not to be in accordance with this rule. Any bill may be referred to an appropriate Committee upon a motion made and carried by a majority of the Senators elected to the Senate.

This rule shall be deemed to abrogate all other rules of the Senate to the extent that such other rules are inconsistent herewith.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENTS' ASSOCIATION

The Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association is the oldest legislative correspondents' association in the nation. It was organized by 25 newspapermen at the Capitol in January, 1895.

The late Colonel Henry Hall, of the old Pittsburgh Times, was the first presiding officer of the Association.

Official recognition is given to the Association in the Rules of the Senate and House of Representatives. Press galleries in the House and Senate Chambers are restricted to accredited correspondents of daily newspapers and press associations.

The Capitol News Room is maintained by the Commonwealth for the use and convenience of the newspaper men who represent Pennsylvania's daily newspapers and press associations in the state's capitol. It is located at the rear of the E floor in the central wing of the Capitol and is Room Number 524.

A main working room and a cloak room comprise the accommodations for the press.

Present quarters for the News Room were assigned in 1907 and enlarged and improved in 1940.

POWERS AND DUTIES

The Legislative Reference Bureau was created by the Act of April 27, 1909, P. L. 208. It was reorganized as a legislative agency by the Act of May 7, 1923, P. L. 158, which was subsequently amended by the Acts of May 10, 1927, P. L. 876, May 17, 1929, P. L. 1803, May 6, 1931, P. L. 95, and July 5, 1947, P. L. 1299. The bureau was created for the use of the members of the General Assembly, the Governor, the heads of agencies of the state government, and such citizens of the Commonwealth as desire to consult it.

The primary purpose was to provide an agency, with trained personnel, to draft and pass upon legislative bills and resolutions for introduction in the General Assembly; to advise members of the Legislature and legislative committees; from time to time to prepare for adoption or rejection by the General Assembly, codes, by topics, of the existing general statutes; and to engage in research work on legislative questions and the history of legislation. The bureau does not give legal advice to private citizens, but upon request, furnishes copies of statutory laws on particular subjects where available.

The bureau is in charge of the director who is elected biennially, before the first day of February in each odd-numbered year, by the Senate and House of Representatives in joint session, and is subject to removal by the General Assembly. The director must be an attorney at law and qualified by experience, knowledge and ability to conduct the work of the bureau. He appoints the assistant director and all other legal assistants and employes of the bureau and fixes their salaries.

EXECUTIVE ORGANIZATION

Bureaus and Divisions

All departments and independent administrative boards and commissions, subject to the approval of the Executive Board, may establish bureaus and divisions required for the proper conduct of their work. In the case of the Department of the Auditor General, the Department of Internal Affairs, and the Treasury Department, approval of the Executive Board is not required.

Deputies

Deputies to the Auditor General, the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and the State Treasurer are provided for by statute. All other heads of departments have the power, with the approval of the Governor, to appoint and fix the compensation of a deputy or such number of deputies as the Executive Board shall approve. Deputies so appointed have the right to perform all the duties of the respective heads of their departments in the absence of such heads, except that they cannot appoint employees or exercise any function which the constitution requires the department head to exercise personally. Deputies may also, at any time, exercise such powers and perform such duties as the department head may prescribe.

Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of the head of any department, such deputy as the Governor designates in writing may act as the head of the department until the Governor fills the vacancy.

With the Governor's approval in writing, any department head may authorize a named deputy to serve in his stead on any departmental administrative board or commission (except the Board of Pardons) of which such department head is a member ex officio. In the Department of Military Affairs, the deputy Adjutant General must possess the same qualifications required by law of the Adjutant General.

Employees

Department heads and independent administrative boards and commissions, subject to the approval of the Governor, appoint and fix the compensation of all employees of their agencies. Compensation must be fixed in accordance with standards established by the Executive Board. In all cases where standard compensation for any class of service or employment has been established, appointments by the Auditor General, Secretary of Internal Affairs and the State Treasurer and certain State "authorities" are not subject to the approval of the Governor, and their compensation is not controlled by any Executive Board standards.

Except in a few instances, agency heads appoint and fix the compensation of employees of all departmental administrative boards and commissions and of all advisory boards and commissions in their respective departments, subject to approval and compensation standards as in the case of other employees of the departments.

Employees of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, of the Office of Public Assistance, of the State Board of Public Assistance, of the county boards of assistance, of the State Civil Service Commission, professional, technical, and executive personnel in the Department of Health, and those employees of the Department of Labor and Industry assigned to the unemployment compensation and employment service divisions, are, by statute, subject to merit system provisions.

Certain other employees of the Department of Health, Public Welfare, Labor and Industry, Forests and Waters, and the Parole Board, receiving and spending Federal moneys are also under the merit system by virtue of Federal requirement.

In years past the Executive Board has extended merit system coverage to professional and technical positions in the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria. During the last administration this type of coverage was extended to approximately ten thousand additional professional and technical positions throughout the state service.

Overtime Compensation

No employee of any department, board or commission, hired at a fixed compensation may be paid for overtime services unless expressly authorized by the Executive Board prior to the rendering of such services.

Fidelity Bonds

All department heads must be bonded in such amounts as the Executive Board fixes, upon recommendation of the Governor, but not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) each. Similar bonds in such amounts as shall be fixed by the Executive Board must be filed by such members of independent administrative boards and commissions as the Executive Board determines, such members, officers and employees of departmental administrative boards and commissions as the heads of the departments with which they are connected may determine, with the approval of the Executive Board, and such officers and employees of departments and of independent administrative boards and commissions as the department heads or the boards or commissions may determine, with the approval of the Executive Board.

All fidelity bonds must be approved by the Department of Justice, and filed with the State Treasurer. All such bonds are procured by the Department of Property and Supplies.

Departmental Offices

All departments and independent administrative boards and commissions must maintain central offices at Harrisburg. Branch offices outside of Harrisburg for such departments, boards and commissions, and for departmental administrative and advisory boards and commissions in such departments, may be established with the approval of the Executive Board, in quarters obtained by the Department of Property and Supplies.

Office Hours

All offices of the state government must be open for the transaction of the public business at least eight hours each day, except Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays. The hours when all offices shall open and close are determined from time to time by the Executive Board.

Work Hours and Vacations

The work hours of all employees of administrative departments, of independent administrative boards and commissions, and of departmental administrative boards and commissions that are employed for continuous service, are fixed by the head of the department, or by the board or commission, but shall be at least thirty-five hours per week. Salaried employees are entitled to fifteen days annual (vacation) leave with full pay each calendar year. Hourly employees are entitled to one day of annual leave for each one hundred and forty hours they work. Up to thirty days of unused annual leave may be carried over from one calendar year to the next. Employees are entitled to the same number of days sick leave as they are annual leave, but sick leave may be used only under specified circumstances involving sickness or death. Up to ninety days of unused sick leave may be carried over from one calendar year to the next. Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays occurring during the time an employee is on annual or sick leave are not charged against his leave entitlements.

Reports

The head of each department, and each independent administrative board and commission, is required to report to the Governor not later than October first of each even-numbered year. These reports, except when impractical, are for the two-year period ending May thirty-first of the year in which they are made. Each departmental administrative board and commission, and each advisory board and commission, is required to report to the heads of the departments with which it is connected, not later than September first of each even-numbered year. All such reports are attached as exhibits to the report made by the department head.

Purchases

The Department of Property and Supplies makes all purchases required by any agency of the Executive branch of the state government with the following exceptions:

1. Any department board or commission, having charge of a state institution, may purchase independently of the Department of Property and Supplies, perishable food-stuffs and also any other article identical with an article included in the effective supply contracts of the Department of Property and Supplies, if after inviting competitive bids, the institution finds that it can purchase the article directly f. o. b. the institution for a price less than the Department of Property and Supplies can furnish it f. o. b. the institution.

2. Any department, board or commission, with the written approval of the Department of Property and Supplies may make purchases in the field not exceeding an amount specified by the Department of Property and Supplies. If practicable, such purchases should be made from those having supply contracts with the Department of Property and Supplies.

Under the provisions of Act No. 116, approved May 7, 1943, the Department of Property and Supplies is authorized, whenever a state of war exists between the United States and any other nation, and whenever such war makes it impossible, because of continually changing prices to obtain contracts for commodities, supplies and equipment, to purchase commodities, supplies and equipment in the open market without advertising for bids, and to authorize, in writing, any other department, board or commission to make such purchases.

Buildings

The Department of Property and Supplies has direct charge of the erection of all buildings, or the alteration, repair or addition thereto, if the amount involved in such erection, alteration, repair, or addition thereto exceeds four thousand dollars ($4,000), and in any case in which any other department, board or commission is authorized to erect, alter, repair or make additions to buildings involving an expenditure of less than four thousand dollars ($4,000), such erection or construction may be generally supervised by the Department of Property and Supplies.

All plans and specifications for new buildings and for alterations or additions to existing buildings, are subject to the approval of the Department of Property and Supplies, the State Art Commission, and the department, board or commission using or intending to use such building.

Oaths

All department heads, all deputy department heads, all members of independent administrative and departmental administrative boards and commissions, the Commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police, the Secretary of the Workmen's Compensation Board, all workmen's compensation referees, and such employees of the several departments, boards and commissions as the respective department heads, boards or commissions shall designate, have the power to administer oaths or affirmations with regard to any public business properly coming before such departments, boards, commissions or officers, as the case may be.

Meetings of Boards and Commissions

Independent administrative boards or commissions, departmental administrative boards and commissions and advisory boards and commissions, meet upon the call of their respective chairmen or presidents, at such times and places as the chairmen or presidents shall designate or at such times and places as the respective boards and commissions may fix by rule.

Rules and Regulations

All department heads and all boards and commissions, except advisory boards and commissions, have the power to prescribe rules and regulations not inconsistent with law, for the government of their respective departments, boards or commissions, the conduct of their employees, the distribution and performance of their business, and the custody, use and preservation of the documents, books and papers pertaining thereto.

Subpoenas

All departments, boards and commissions, and the several workmen's compensation referees, have the power to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers pertinent to any hearing before such departments, boards, commissions, or officers, and to examine such witnesses, books and papers.

Budget

Each year, it is the duty of the Budget Secretary to obtain and prepare information necessary for the preparation of a state budget for the fiscal year beginning June first of the following year. Not later than August fifteenth, it is his duty to distribute to the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, all departments, boards, and commissions, the chief clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the prothonotaries of the various courts, and all institutions and agencies which may desire state appropriations to be made to them, blanks necessary for the preparation of budget estimates with a request that such forms be returned with the desired information not later than December first of the same year.

After the budget forms are returned, the Budget Secretary may, under direction of the Governor, make further inquiries with regard to the financial needs of any department, board, commission, institution or other agency, and the Governor may, after giving to departments, boards, commissions, institutions or other agencies, an opportunity to be heard, approve, disapprove, or alter the estimates.

On or before January first of each year, the budget secretary is required to submit to the Governor in writing the information which he has collected, and any additional information requested by the Governor as a basis for the Governor's budget.

As soon as possible after the organization of the General Assembly, it is the Governor's duty to submit to it a state budget, embracing therein the amounts recommended by him to be appropriated to the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government, to institutions within the state, and for all other public purposes, together with the estimated revenues or receipts from any and all sources, and an estimated amount to be raised by taxation or otherwise. It is the Governor's duty to transmit with the budget the various estimates of receipts and expenditures received by the budget secretary from the officers in the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments.

Fiscal year

The fiscal year of the Commonwealth begins on June first of each calendar year, and ends on the thirty-first day of May succeeding.

He is Commander-in-Chief of the Army, and Air National Guard, the Navy, and of the Militia of the Commonwealth, except when they are called into the actual service of the United States, and takes care that the laws of the Commonwealth are faithfully executed. He may also convene the Senate in extraordinary session by proclamation for the transaction of executive business. He shall from time to time give to the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he may judge expedient; and he may require information in writing from the officers of the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

Budget. The Governor is required under the provisions of The Administrative Code to present to the General Assembly at each biennial session a state budget.

Signing Laws. All bills and concurrent resolutions except for adjournment must be submitted to the Governor for his approval. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly, by their adjournment, prevents its return, in which case it shall be a law, unless he shall file it with his objections, in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and give notice thereof by public proclamation within thirty days after such adjournment.

Appointments. The Governor nominates and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoints the heads of all departments, except the Auditor General, the State Treasurer and the Secretary of Internal Affairs; he appoints in like manner the members of all independent administrative boards and commissions, the members of all advisory boards and commissions, with few exceptions the members of all departmental administrative boards and commissions and Workmen's Compensation Referees, all under the Administrative Code; also the members of the Executive Board, and Anthracite Mine Inspectors and Bituminous Mine Inspectors. He also appoints members of various other state boards, commissions, committees and agencies not under The Administrative Code.

Interim Appointments. The Governor fills all vacancies in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which expire at the end of their next session. He has power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill.

If the Governor does not approve the estimate submitted, it is required to be revised in accordance with the Governor's desires and resubmitted for approval. After he has approved the estimate, it is unlawful for the department to expend any part of its appropriation except in accordance with such estimate, unless the same be revised with the Governor's approval. Upon the failure of any department to submit an estimate when requested to do so, the Governor may notify the Auditor General, in writing, of such failure, and after receipt of such notice it is unlawful for the Auditor General to draw any warrant in favor of the delinquent department until the Governor has received and approved the requested estimate.

It is headed by a Secretary of Administration of cabinet rank, who reports to the Governor and the Governor's Executive Secretary. The Office is divided into four bureaus, budget, accounts, personnel, and program and management, directed overall by the Secretary of Administration.

The Budget Bureau, authorized by The Administrative Code of 1929, is headed by a budget secretary, who is also deputy Secretary of Administration and a member of the Governor's cabinet. The bureau has responsibility for preparing the Governor's budgets, co-ordinating capital improvements, and maintaining liaison between the Governor's Office and the several state authorities. It reviews and approves certain personnel transactions and purchase requisitions, allocates and allots appropriated funds, analyzes fiscal trends, and helps departmental and agency comptrollers and other officials in financial matters.

The Bureau of Accounts was created as a centralized accounting office for all agencies and departments under the Governor's jurisdiction. It is assigned three major functions: (1) recording and reporting, (2) supervision of comptroller operations, and (3) accounting systems development. The bureau maintains centralized control accounts and prepares general accounting statements and financial reports. Detailed accounts are maintained in the various departmental comptrollers' offices, which are under the supervision of the Governor's Office through the Bureau of Accounts. The bureau performs periodic internal audits of the comptrollers' offices. The bureau also assists comptrollers' offices and line departments in the development of improved accounting and records-keeping procedures.

The Bureau of Personnel was set up to put into effect a constructive personnel program for all agencies under the Governor's jurisdiction. Co-operating with the Governor's Personnel Secretary and the State Civil Service Commission, it develops and maintains classification and compensation plans, recruits qualified personnel, classifies positions, administers training programs, and develops state-wide policies affecting employee relations. The bureau also reviews and processes all non-civil service personnel transactions to assure compliance with classifications, payrolls, and regulations.

The Bureau of Program and Management has the general function of studying and developing improved management methods and procedures throughout state government. The bureau has directed the establishment and growth of methods units in the various departments and agencies. It allocates space, conducts requested studies, and carries out management improvement projects involving one or more agencies.

The bureau determines the feasibility of converting procedures to electronic data processing and helps to implement such conversions. It also studies agency programs, evaluates them and makes recommendations in relation to need, new legislation and monetary requirements.

State Planning Board

By Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1955, the State Planning Board was transferred from the Department of Commerce to the Governor's Office where it became an advisory board. By this same plan, there was transferred to the Department of Commerce the board's administrative functions in regard to local and regional planning, recreational and community development activities, the administration of state programs for the provision of housing and the administration of state laws governing housing and redevelopment authorities. The reorganization plan also transferred to the Department of Commerce the balance of appropriations and other funds to assist in the preparation of plans for local or regional development in critical areas and also any unexpended funds for the administration of the Housing and Redevelopment Assistance Act of 1949.

Duties. The primary duties of the State Planning Board are unchanged by the reorganization. They include the following:

To conduct and stimulate research and to collect, compile and analyze data bearing upon all industrial, commercial, social and physical factors which may influence the present and future welfare of the state, including industrial and agricultural productivity, resources of soil, minerals, water and forest products, population growth, employment, income, transportation, housing, recreational facilities, protection from floods, and other natural hazards, public construction, stream pollution, highway protection, and other fields vital to the public welfare.

To prepare plans or programs for the physical and economic development of the state, by the state, its agencies and political subdivisions.

(Such plans may include, among other subjects, programs for encouragement of industry and commerce, for community development, for parkways, bridges, waterways, port facilities, flood prevention work, parks, reservations, forests, wild life refuges, airports, drainage or sanitary systems and works, motor vehicle routes, public buildings, and other public works, which by reason of their function, size, extent, location or legal status are of state-wide as distinguished from merely local concern.)

To advise with the various state departments and bureaus and with local authorities and individuals with a view to the coordinating of all physical and economic development plans of the state, its agencies and political subdivisions.

To prepare, amend and keep up to date a long term development program of all major state improvement projects. In addition to the citizen members, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Highways and the Secretary of Forests and Waters are ex officio members of the board. ## Board of Finance and Revenue

L. 177), the Secretary of the Commonwealth was constituted an ex-officio member of the Board of Finance and Revenue. ## Pennsylvania State Police Retirement System

The Pennsylvania State Police Retirement System was created by the Act of July 29, 1937, P. L. 2423, and became effective January 1, 1938. It is administered by the State Employees' Retirement Board, and generally accords with the state employees' system. As of June 1, 1959, it was made part of Act No. 78, approved June 1, 1959, which is known as the "State Employees Retirement Code of 1959." The following variations however, are to be noted:

Under the state police system, superannuation retirement age decreased gradually from age 60 in 1938 to age 50 in 1948. Experience has shown that few persons are able to stay in this service to age 60, which is the superannuation retirement age under the state employees' system. This earlier superannuation age lessens, under mortality tables, the member's annuity purchasable with the member's contribution. Consequently, the state adds to its annuity an amount equal to the difference between the member's annuity which the contributions actually purchase and the annuity such contributions would purchase at age 60. Disability retirement allowances are granted without regard to the amount of service, and an allowance is also granted for medical, surgical and hospital services if other funds, such as workmen's compensation, are insufficient to pay for the services. Provision is also made for death benefits to dependents.

State Employees' Retirement System

The State Employees' Retirement System was established by the Act of June 27, 1923, P. L. 858. As of June 1, 1959, it was made part of Act No. 78, approved June 1, 1959, which is known as the "State Employees Retirement Code of 1959." As variously amended, this act requires all persons employed by the state (with certain exceptions) and paid on a yearly or monthly basis or employed regularly on a per diem or hourly basis to become members of the system immediately upon the date of employment. Certain other groups have been made eligible such as employees of the Pennsylvania State University; the Delaware River Joint Commission; Delaware River Basin Commission; Turnpike Commission; Pennsylvania Tunnel Commission; the General State Authority; the State Highway and Bridge Authority; the State Public School Building Authority; State Board of Law Examiners and members of the General Assembly. Since 1930, judges also come within the terms of the act.

Officers and employees of the state teachers colleges, Thaddeus Stevens Trade School, Pennsylvania State Oral School for the Deaf and Scotland School for Veterans' Children may elect to become members of either the State Employees' Retirement System or the Public School Employees' Retirement System.

The retirement fund, which is built on a sound actuarial basis, consists of moneys contributed by the state, and other groups, the employees and interest earnings on these contributions. The amounts contributed by the state and the employee are substantially equal except that the state makes the entire contribution for service prior to January 1, 1924, the date the system became effective. As to judges, the state makes the entire contribution for services prior to the expiration of the terms of office of those in office prior to the second Monday of January, 1930, unless judges joined before such date, in which case the contribution for prior service runs to the date of joining the system. This extension of prior service for judges was granted in return for giving up their rights under the non-contributory system established as early as 1901. Judges elected or re-elected after the second Monday in January, 1930, must join the system in order to receive any retirement allowance.

State employees are eligible for annuities upon retirement voluntarily at or after age sixty or after twenty-five years of service. However, the actuarial system is built on superannuation retirement at age sixty and where a person retires at an earlier age his annuity is reduced to its equivalent value.

Employees having ten years or more of service who are retired involuntarily may elect to take an annuity or to take a refund of their contributions with interest earnings.

All voluntary and involuntary retirement allowances are calculated upon length of service, salaries, amount contributed to the fund, and age. The allowance consists of two annuities, the state annuity and the member's annuity. The state pays a definite annuity, which consists of one one-hundredth, or one one-hundred-sixtieth in the case of those members remaining in that class, of the final average salary for each year of total service and each year of prior service. Where the retiring employee is less than age sixty, the state annuity beginning immediately is reduced to its equivalent value. The member's annuity is calculated on the amount contributed together with the interest additions and the age of the member upon retirement.

Where an employee dies while in service, or leaves service when not entitled to an annuity, his contributions to the fund, with interest at 4% compounded annually, are paid to his beneficiary or estate or to the employee.

Contributions by members in the case of those entering the retirement system prior to June 1, 1948, vary from 4.28% at age 20 to 10.18% at age fifty-nine of the salary received and in the case of those entering on and after June 1, 1948, from 5.08% to 9.77% at like ages. The rate of contribution is fixed as of the age at the time of joining the system and remains constant thereafter.

Employees who have been members of the system five years or more may be retired for disability, but they cannot retire for disability after age sixty. If disabled after such age, they must retire for superannuation. The disability retirement allowance, while varying in certain cases, usually is 30% of final salary.

At the time of retirement an employee has a right to exercise one of a number of options including the payment of a retirement allowance, after the death of the employee, to a person having an insurable interest in the life of the employee, or the payment to a beneficiary or to his estate of the excess of the initial present value of the annuity which the member was receiving over the annuity payments actually made to the member. In such cases the annuities are adjusted on an actuarial basis.

At the time of retirement, in lieu of a superannuation retirement allowance, a member may elect to withdraw the full amount of his accumulated deductions but without a state annuity or its equivalent.

If a state employee, who separated from state service without retiring, returns to state service he may reinstate his former membership in the retirement system.

Through amendment of 1945, after September 1, 1945, or the later date of separation from state service, no further interest is added to the accumulated deductions of former state employees.

Final salary means the highest average annual salary earnable by a member as a state employee during any five years of service preceding retirement.

If the member's annuity is less than the state annuity for the period of membership service an additional state annuity is provided to make up the difference in the annuities.

If the member is in the one one-hundredth class and has twenty-five or more years of credited service and his superannuation retirement allowance is less than twelve hundred dollars, a supplemental state annuity will be provided to build the retirement allowance up to the twelve hundred dollar minimum. For lesser periods of service the twelve hundred dollar minimum will be correspondingly reduced.

If a member is entitled to retire because of having completed twenty-five years of total service or of reaching age sixty, he may file with the Retirement Board an application for retirement to become effective as to the option elected as of the time of his death in active service. However, if such member dies without having filed such application with an election, it will be considered that he filed an application and Option No. 1 will prevail as if it has been elected by the member.

A state employee who became a member of the State Employees' Retirement System on or before May 28, 1957, had the privilege of filing with the State Employees' Retirement Board a written statement electing to remain a "Single Coverage Member" under the original retirement system or to become a "Joint Coverage Member" under a system with social security coverage integrated with the State Employees' Retirement System. A large majority voted for the joint coverage on a 40% offset plan, under which in no case will the "offset" exceed 40% of the member's social security pension amount.

On August 30, 1957, an agreement was entered into by the Commonwealth with the federal Secretary of Health Education and Welfare, integrating social security with the State Employees' Retirement System, the social security coverage being effective as of January 1, 1956.

All state employees (with certain exceptions) employed by the state on and after September 1, 1957, must become members of the "Joint Coverage System" as of the effective date of employment.

Municipal Employees' Retirement System

The Municipal Employees' Retirement System was established by Act of the General Assembly approved June 4, 1943, P. L. 886. This Act created an agency through which any city, borough, town, township, county or an institution district of the Commonwealth might pension its employees. The system has not been put into operation as the required minimum number of municipalities have not elected to join. The Secretary of the Commonwealth is designated as chairman of the five member board.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

The Department of Justice is the law office of the Commonwealth. It is required by the Administrative Code to furnish legal advice to the Governor and to all departments, boards and commissions of the state government and to represent the Commonwealth in litigation to which it is a party.

The department is headed by the Attorney General, the chief law enforcement officer of the Commonwealth. He is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the Governor. By virtue of his office he also is a member of the Board of Pardons, the Board of Finance and Revenue, the Board of Property and the Board of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws. With the approval of the Governor, he has the power to appoint deputy attorneys general and other counsel to assist him in representing the Commonwealth in legal matters.

Legal

Organizationally, the department can be considered as being composed of two branches: the legal and the correctional. The staff of the former is headed by approximately twenty assistant attorneys general in the Harrisburg office (State Capitol Building). Each of these deputies is primarily responsible for rendering legal services to particular administrative departments and agencies of the state. In most instances he supervises one or more attorneys who are assigned directly to the department or agency and who handle the daily legal work which arises. For example, the deputy attorney general assigned to represent the Department of Labor and Industry is the final legal authority for the work of approximately thirty attorneys. These latter, assigned to the State Labor Relations Board, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund and the Bureau of Employment Security by the Attorney General, decide legal matters arising daily in each of those agencies and refer to the deputy attorney general in instances of more involved matters.

In addition to these attorneys the department maintains a staff of attorneys throughout the Commonwealth. These special assistant attorneys general are assigned generally in the larger counties where the volume of work is sufficiently large to make direct supervision from Harrisburg impracticable. The department also keeps on hand a list of attorneys in every other county of the state for occasional special work on cases which may arise in that county. These attorneys are remunerated on a fee basis for each case since the volume is insufficient to require designation of salaried counsel.

Although the Attorney General may supersede local district attorneys in the prosecution of criminal actions, this power is exercised rarely. Occasionally, as the result of an investigation conducted by the department, or of a request from a judge, the department will participate directly in a criminal prosecution; but its major criminal activity involves habeas corpus and extradition matters. The great volume of litigation, however, is civil in nature and includes every variety of legal action.

Out-of-court activity constitutes the bulk of the department's work. During a session of the General Assembly, much time and effort goes into the drafting of legislation, consideration of the effect of pending bills on existing law and advising the Governor on constitutional and legal consequences of bills passed by the legislature. Under the Attorney General's power to examine the books and records of state agencies and local authorities, the department occasionally conducts a review program designed to establish standards of efficient operation in these areas. As both the common law and statutory protector of charitable trusts, the Attorney General also has the power to supervise their effectuation. However, the routine daily work of the department consists in supplying legal advice to the Governor and the various state departments and agencies on innumerable matters affecting the operation of the department or agency.

Correctional

The Bureau of Correction, responsible under statute for administering the state's correctional program, is the other branch of the department. Directly responsible to the Attorney General for such administration is the Superintendent of the Bureau who supervises a staff of officers highly trained in penology. The institutions operated by the Bureau are the following: Eastern State Penitentiary, Western State Penitentiary, State Penitentiary at Rockview, State Penitentiary at Graterford, State Penitentiary for Defective Delinquents at Huntingdon, State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy, and the State Industrial School at Camp Hill. In addition the bureau operates the division of correctional industries which supplies manufactured and farm products to state-supported and state-aided institutions and the division of municipal and county correctional institutions inspection which makes an annual survey of local penal establishments.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

The position of Auditor General of Pennsylvania was originally an appointive office. The Constitution of 1776, Section 9, provided that the General Assembly of representatives should have the power to choose their Speaker, the Treasurer of the State, and other officers. Under the Constitution of 1790, Article II, Section 8, the Governor was given the power to appoint all officers, "whose duties are established by the Constitution, or shall be established by law, and whose appointments are not herein provided for."

The precursors of our present Auditor General were the Comptroller General and the Register General. Prior to 1789, and particularly during the later years of the Revolution, it will be recalled that paper currency of all kinds was issued by our state government, and the fiscal affairs thereof were in a constant state of chaos and confusion.

The office of Comptroller General was created by the Act of April 13, 1782, 2 Smith Laws, 19, which recited that it was for the purpose of "liquidating and settling claims against the Commonwealth, for services performed, monies advanced, or articles furnished during the revolutionary war."

The Comptroller General apparently was unable to fulfill the duties entrusted to him, and the accounts of the Commonwealth, "having become complicated and confused," the office of Register General was created by the Act of March 28, 1789, 3 Bioren 351, to assist in the final settlement of public accounts, which had increased largely by reason of the different kinds of certificates and paper currency issued during said period.

The Legislature subsequently passed several acts of limitation, barring further claims against the Commonwealth after a certain date and, by the year 1805, the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth "returned to the simple state in which they were at the commencement of the Revolution, easy to comprehend and requiring but small labor to transact."

Finally, the Legislature, by the Act of March 17, 1809, P. L. 46, abolished the offices of Comptroller General and Register General, and created the office of Auditor General, investing the latter with all the powers and duties heretofore possessed by the Register General and some of the powers and duties heretofore possessed by the Comptroller General. In 1821 the office of Escheators General was abolished and duties added to the Auditor General.

The Act of 1809, supra, conferred additional powers and duties upon both the Auditor General and State Treasurer, and further provided that the Auditor General should be appointed by the Governor for the term of three years and receive a salary of $1,333.33 annually as full compensation for his services.

The Act of 1809, supra, was repealed by the Act of March 30, 1811, P. L. 145, which is entitled, "An Act to amend and consolidate the Several Acts relating to the Settlement of the Public Accounts and the Payments of Public Monies, and for Other Purposes." Herein the powers and duties of both the Auditor General and the State Treasurer are minutely defined. A reading of the 54 sections of said act will justify the expression that the Auditor General is the "Watchman of the Treasury."

With the exception of changes made by the Constitution of 1874, relating to the election and tenure of the Auditor General, and by the passage of the Administrative and Fiscal Codes of 1929, hereinafter more particularly referred to, the Act of 1811, supra, governs the operation of the office of Auditor General today.

The adoption of the Constitution of 1838 made no change in the manner of the designation of the Auditor General or in the powers and duties of said office, as defined in the Act of 1811, supra. Article VI, Section 8, of the Constitution of 1838, provided that "all officers whose election or appointment is not provided for in this Constitution shall be elected or appointed as shall be directed by law."

The Auditor General continued to be appointed and commissioned by the Governor for the term of three years pursuant to the provisions of Section 42 of the Act of 1811, supra. This section obtained until the passage of the Act of April 9, 1850, P. L. 434, which provided for the election of the Auditor General by the people at the general election every third year and further provided that he should assume the duties of his office on the first Tuesday of May following his election.

The Auditor General became a constitutional officer with the adoption of the Constitution of 1874. Article IV, Section 1, of the Constitution designated the Auditor General as an executive officer of the Commonwealth. Article IV, Section 21 thereof, originally provided that the term of the Auditor General shall be three years, but by an amendment thereto adopted on November 2, 1909, the term of the Auditor General was changed to four years.

Said section further provides that the Auditor General shall be elected at the general election and shall be ineligible to hold said office for two consecutive terms. Article IV, Section 8, provides that the Governor shall have the power to fill any vacancy that may happen in the office.

Powers and Duties. The Auditor General has the power to appoint deputies and other employees necessary to administer his department. During the Auditor General's absence, inability, or in case of vacancy, deputies perform the duties of the Auditor General until a successor is duly qualified.

The duties of the Auditor General are mainly statutory, although Article III, Section 12, of the Constitution imposes certain duties with respect to the approval of contracts for printing, binding, and repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms used for the meetings of the General Assembly.

His duties may be considered under the following heads:

1. Audits of Accounts of Debtors and Agents of the Commonwealth.
2. Audits of departments, boards and commissions and other agencies receiving state appropriations.
3. Disbursement of Moneys.

4. Adjustment of Claims Against the Commonwealth.

5. Tax Settlements.

6. Miscellaneous Duties.

Audits of Accounts of Debtors and Agents. Under Section 401 of the Fiscal Code, the Department of the Auditor General has the power and duty (a) to audit all accounts for taxes, or other moneys due to the Commonwealth, which shall have been settled by the Department of Revenue, to approve the same if found to be correct, and to return them to the Department of Revenue with a request for a settlement in the event that any error or discrepancy be found in such accounts; (b) to audit the accounts of city and county officers insofar as may be necessary to determine whether such officers have reported and transmitted all moneys payable by them to the Commonwealth; and to furnish the Department of Revenue a report in such detail as shall be sufficient for said department to state and settle an account covering any delinquency; (c) to audit the accounts of magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, burgesses, mayors, and court clerks, for the purpose of ascertaining whether all fines and penalties collected by them and payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, have been correctly reported and promptly transmitted, and to furnish the Department of Revenue a report in such detail as shall be sufficient for said department to state and settle an account covering any delinquency; (d) to audit the accounts and records of all agents of the Commonwealth charged with the duty of assessing, appraising, or collecting state taxes or license fees, and (e) to audit all other accounts between the Commonwealth, acting through any administrative agency thereof, and any person liable to pay money thereto for any purpose or reason whatsoever.

Audits of State Agencies. Under Section 402 of the Fiscal Code, there is imposed on the Department of the Auditor General the duty of making all audits which may be necessary in connection with the administration of the financial affairs of the state government. At least one audit shall be made each year of the financial affairs of every department, board and commission of the executive branch of the government; and all collections made by departments, boards, or commissions, and the accounts of every state institution shall be audited quarterly.

Special audits of the affairs of all departments, boards, commissions, or officers, except the State Workmen's Insurance Board, may be made whenever in the Auditor General's judgment such audits may appear necessary, and shall be made whenever the Governor shall call upon the Auditor General to make them. Copies of all audits made by the Department of the Auditor General are required to be submitted promptly to the Governor and to the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Under Section 306, Act of July 18, 1935, P. L. 1246, it is the duty of the Department of the Auditor General to make all audits which may be necessary in connection with the administration of the financial affairs of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and the Pennsylvania liquor stores operated by the board.

At least one audit each year is required to be made of the affairs of the Liquor Control Board, and all collections made by the Pennsylvania liquor stores are required to be audited quarterly. Provision is made for special audits at the instance of either the Auditor General or the Governor. Copies of all audits made by the Department of the Auditor General are required to be submitted promptly to the board and to the Governor.

Under Section 403 of the Fiscal Code, the Department of the Auditor General is required to audit the accounts and records of every person, association, corporation, and public agency receiving any appropriation of money payable out of any fund in the State Treasury, or entitled to receive any portion of any state tax for any purpose whatsoever. The purpose of such audits is to satisfy the department that the money so received was expended for no purpose other than that for which it was paid. It is under this provision of The Fiscal Code that the Department of the Auditor General is making audits of local school districts, of the receipt and expenditure of State reimbursement for public schools and also of funds distributed for firemen's relief and police pension fund purposes.

Disbursement of Moneys. The Auditor General authorizes by warrant upon the State Treasurer the payment of salaries and expenses of all judicial officers and all other officers and employees of the Commonwealth, disbursements from appropriations made to departments, boards, and commissions of the Commonwealth, when proper requisition and itemized statement of claim has been filed with him and carefully audited. He authorizes the disbursement of appropriations to state-aided homes, hospitals, penal, medical, and educational institutions, upon receipt and audit of their detailed quarterly reports.

All appropriation acts provide a sum "or so much thereof as may be necessary"; consequently, it is the duty of the Department of the Auditor General to have all requisitions, claims, quarterly reports, etc., itemized in detail in order to determine what may be necessary, and whether the proposed expenditure is legal.

The Department of the Auditor General keeps appropriation ledgers in which all appropriations are entered in separate accounts, with the beneficiaries thereof, to which are charged all sums authorized to be expended.

Under the amendatory act of June 28, 1895, P. L. 408, and subsequent amendments, the Auditor General authorizes and distributes for firemen's relief and pension fund purposes, the entire net amount received from the 2% tax paid upon premiums by foreign fire insurance companies. This tax is payable to the Commonwealth annually on or before March 15 by the foreign fire insurance companies. The moneys thus collected are according to law distributed each year to the treasurers of the eligible municipalities of the Commonwealth and by them to the relief fund association or pension fund covering employees of the fire department or of such fire company or companies, paid or volunteer, as serve the municipalities.

Under the act of May 12, 1943, P. L. 259, as amended, the Auditor General authorizes and distributes for police pension fund purposes, the entire amount received from the 2% tax paid upon premiums by foreign casualty insurance companies. The tax is payable to the Commonwealth annually on or before March 15th. The moneys thus collected are distributed each year to the treasurers of the participating municipalities and counties of the Commonwealth for police pension purposes and to the State Employees' Retirement Fund for State Police pension and retirement purposes. Provision was made by Act No. 246 of July 19, 1951, for deducting from the tax received an amount sufficient to defray the expense of auditing the accounts of those participating in the distribution of this money.

Adjustment of Claims. Under Sections 6 and 7 of the Act of March 30, 1811, P. L. 145, and Sections 405, 1003, and 1004 of the Fiscal Code, it is the duty of the Auditor General, in conjunction with the State Treasurer, acting as a Board of Claims, to examine and adjust, according to law and equity, the accounts of all persons, associations, and corporations having claims against the Commonwealth. An appeal may be taken to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from any decision of this board.

Board of Arbitration of Claims. This board, created by the Act of May 20, 1937, P. L. 728, by amendment of June 26, 1939, P. L. 1081, was constituted a departmental administrative board of the Department of the Auditor General. This board has jurisdiction to hear and determine all claims against the Commonwealth arising from contracts where the amount in controversy is $300.00 or more. The decision of this board is final and no appeal to any court shall be allowed. The Auditor General is not a member of the Board of Arbitration, but the Governor designates an employee of the Department of the Auditor General as secretary of the board.

Taxes and Tax Settlements. The greatest amount of revenue obtained by the Commonwealth from any single source is derived from corporation taxes. The settlement of all such taxes is based upon reports filed with the Department of Revenue by the taxable person, association or corporation. Under the Fiscal Code, tax settlements are made initially by the Department of Revenue and then transmitted with all papers pertaining thereto to the Department of the Auditor General, whereupon the latter department is required to audit and return the same to the Department of Revenue with its approval or disapproval expressed in writing within sixty days after the receipt thereof.

If any settlement is disapproved by the Department of the Auditor General the specific reasons for such disapproval must be set forth, and in such case it becomes the duty of the Department of Revenue to reconsider it, to confer with the Department of the Auditor General, and to endeavor to agree with the latter upon the settlement to be made.

After the Department of Revenue revises the settlement, it is again submitted to the Department of the Auditor General for approval or disapproval. In the event that the Department of Revenue and the Department of the Auditor General fail to agree within four months after the original submission of the settlement by the Department of Revenue to the Auditor General, the settlement must be submitted by the Department of Revenue to the Board of Finance and Revenue.

For the proper performance of his duties in connection with the approval or disapproval of settlements and of accounts of any nature whatsoever, the Department of the Auditor General has inquisitorial powers to examine all pertinent books and records, to issue subpoenas, and to compel attendance at hearings of those subpoenaed, as well as the production of all books and records subpoenaed.

Departmental Resettlements. Section 1105 of the Fiscal Code of 1929, as amended in 1945, permits the resettlement, within two (2) years after date of such settlement, of any tax which has been settled or resettled. Such resettlement may be made by the Department of Revenue with the concurring approval of the Department of the Auditor General.

Whenever such resettlement shall have been made, the Department of Revenue shall credit or charge, as the case may be, the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the party with whom or with which it is made.

In case the Department of Revenue and the Department of the Auditor General fail to agree on such settlement the question shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue for decision. There is one exception to the above procedure and that is with regard to resettlement of domestic corporation bonus taxes. Under Section 1102 of the Fiscal Code, as amended by Act No. 435 (1947), such resettlements are disposed of solely by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Resettlement Board. Section 1102 of the Fiscal Code provides that any corporation against which a tax settlement has been made may, within ninety (90) days after such settlement, petition for resettlement for cause shown. The petitioner is granted a hearing before the Resettlement Board, an interdepartmental board consisting of two taxing officers of the Department of Revenue and two taxing officers of the Department of the Auditor General. The hearings on these petitions are held weekly and in the event that the representatives of the two departments are unable to agree, the case shall be submitted by the Department of Revenue to the Board of Finance and Revenue for decision.

Section 1103 of the Fiscal Code provides that within sixty (60) days after notice of the action of the Resettlement Board, the taxpayer may by petition request a review of such action by the Board of Finance and Revenue. The Auditor General is a member of the Board of Finance and Revenue.

Compromise Claims. Section 1410 of the Fiscal Code of 1929 provides that if any corporation which has carried on a business in this state and is indebted to the Commonwealth shall have gone into liquidation, become insolvent, ceased to carry on business or has no other property that may be seized, the Department of Revenue, with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General and the Department of the Attorney General, may compromise and settle Commonwealth claims against such corporation, on such terms as may be adjudged to be for the best interests of the Commonwealth.

Miscellaneous Duties. Under the Fiscal Code, the Auditor General performs numerous duties of a minor character in addition to those herein specifically outlined, but most of them are in connection with interdepartmental procedure.

Under the provisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act all purchases by the board of liquor and alcohol shall be subject to the approval of the Auditor General or his designated deputy.

By acts of the General Assembly, the Auditor General is a member of the General State Authority, State Highway and Bridge Authority, State Public School Building Authority, Board of Finance and Revenue, the State Council of Defense, the Delaware River Port Authority, the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, the Joint Commission for the Acquisition of Bridges over the Delaware River between Pennsylvania and New York, the Joint Commission for the Acquisition of Bridges over the Delaware River between Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings and the Board of Trustees to Invest Funds of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The State Treasurer is elected by the people to a four-year term at the general state election, following the gubernatorial election, the term of office commencing the first Monday of May succeeding his election.

The Treasury Department deposits all moneys of the Commonwealth received by it, including moneys not belonging to the Commonwealth but of which the Treasury Department or State Treasurer is custodian, in state depositories approved by the Board of Finance and Revenue.

The Treasury Department shall:

(a) Safely keep all securities delivered to it, or to the State Treasurer as custodian thereof, by any department, board or commission, under authority of any act of the General Assembly;

(b) From time to time, collect dividends, interest, or any income accruing on such securities, and credit the proceeds of such collections to the proper fund;

(c) In proper cases, surrender such securities for redemption, and credit the proceeds thereof to the proper fund;

(d) Upon receipt of written authorization from the department, board, or commission, which deposited them, make delivery of any such securities lawfully sold by such department, board, or commission;

(e) Safely keep all short-term obligations of the United States government, purchased under the provisions of the Fiscal Code from time to time, collect interest or other income accruing on such short-term obligations, and credit the same to the proper funds;

(f) Collect from all state depositories interest on state deposits; and

(g) From time to time, to advise the Department of Revenue, and the departments, boards, or commissions affected, of amounts credited to any funds.

It is the duty of the Treasury Department to issue its receipt to the Department of Revenue for all moneys transmitted by the Department of Revenue to the Treasury Department.

The Treasury Department cooperates with the Department of Auditor General in the examination and audit of requisitions for disbursements, and in the examination and adjustment of claims against the Commonwealth.

No money may be paid from any of the funds of the State Treasury, without a warrant of the Auditor General, issued pursuant to law, except moneys in several special funds, which may be disbursed by check of the State Treasurer upon requisition of the proper person delegated by law to administer these funds.

The State Treasurer submits to the Auditor General, quarter-annually, a statement giving in detail the different sums which make up on that day the total amount in the Treasury belonging to the sinking fund, the general fund and all other funds. These statements give the names of all banks, trust companies, corporations, firms or individuals with whom the funds are deposited, and the amounts of such deposits, and must be verified by the Treasurer's oath.

The State Treasurer is the statutory custodian of the Public School Employees' Retirement Fund, the State Employees' Retirement Fund, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Fund, and a number of other funds, and all payments made from said funds are made by the State Treasurer in the manner prescribed by the particular acts of the General Assembly creating these funds and providing for their distribution.

The State Treasurer is chairman of the Board of Finance and Revenue, a member of the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings, the State Workmen's Insurance Board, the Public School Employees' Retirement Board, the State Employees' Retirement Board, the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, the Delaware River Port Authority, the Board of Claims, General State Authority, State Public School Building Authority, State Highway and Bridge Authority, and Board of Trustees to Invest Funds of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Board of Finance and Revenue

The Board of Finance and Revenue consists of the State Treasurer, who is chairman of the board, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Revenue, the Auditor General and the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Three members of the board constitute a quorum and all of its powers and duties must be exercised and performed by a majority of the board. The board is a combination of, and successor to, three boards known as the Board of Public Accounts, the Board of Revenue Commissioners and the Sinking Fund Commission. Its duties are:

(a) To revise any settlement made with any person, association, corporation, body politics, or public officer, by the Department of Revenue, or by the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department.

(b) To hear and determine any petition for the refund of taxes, license fees, penalties, fines, bonuses or other moneys alleged to have been paid to the Commonwealth as a result of an error of law or of fact, or of both law and fact, and, upon the allowances of any such petition, to refund such taxes, license fees, penalties, fines, bonuses, or other moneys, out of any appropriation or appropriations made for the purpose, or to credit the account of the person, association, corporation, body politic, or public officer entitled to the refund.

(c) To authorize the refund of moneys escheated to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which have been paid into the State Treasury.

(d) To select and designate state depositories. When exercising this function the board is authorized to invite the Secretary of Banking to sit with and advise it.

(e) To administer the State Sinking Fund, as provided in the various codes.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

The Department of Internal Affairs was created by the Pennsylvania Constitution of 1873 through the merger of the former Office of the Surveyor General and the former Bureau of Statistics. The Constitution directed the department to "discharge such duties, relating to corporations, to the charitable institutions, the agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interest of the state as may be directed by law." The current powers and duties of the department are defined in the Administrative Code and in many separate laws, some of which are cited below in the paragraphs outlining the duties of the department's bureaus.

The Secretary of Internal Affairs is chosen by the voters of Pennsylvania at the general election every fourth year, and is commissioned by the Governor to serve four years from the first Tuesday of May following election. (Act No. 69, 1874, P. L. 135, Section 2.)

To assist the Secretary of Internal Affairs in performing the duties imposed by the Constitution and by statute, the department is organized into these divisions: a Bureau of Administration, a Bureau of Land Records, a Bureau of Statistics, a Bureau of Municipal Affairs, a Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures, a Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey, a Bureau of Publicity and Information, and a Board of Property.

Duties of the Secretary. The duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs is to administer the affairs of the department in accordance with the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Administrative Code. As an independent elected officer, the secretary has the sole power to appoint a deputy and other employees of the department and to fix their compensation.

The Constitution also designates the secretary as one of the four members of the Board of Pardons; and the secretary is the chairman of the Board of Property, an administrative board within the Department of Internal Affairs. By law, the secretary is also a member of the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission of the City of Erie, the General State Authority, the State Highway and Bridge Authority, and the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority. By designation of the Governor, the present secretary also serves as a member of the Executive Board and of the Governor's Cabinet. She has also recently served, by designation of the Governor, as a member of the State Government Reorganization Commission, the Commission on Constitutional Revision, and as Pennsylvania's representative on the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

The Bureau of Administration directs the preparation of the department's budget, audits departmental expenditures, controls departmental operations to assure that budgetary limitations are observed, makes purchases, and exercises general administrative supervision of the activities of the department as a whole. It is also responsible for office management, accounting, the ordering and allocating of supplies, and the initiation of methods to increase office efficiency. It is headed by the deputy secretary.

The Bureau of Land Records is the present-day successor to the land office through which William Penn and his heirs and, later, the Commonwealth conveyed the original titles to the various tracts of land which today comprise Pennsylvania. It today is the depository for the early land records of Pennsylvania. Its older holdings include records of the first titles acquired by the proprietaries and by the Commonwealth to all lands within its boundaries; records of all grants and conveyances from the proprietaries and from the Commonwealth to the purchasers of land, including original surveys, warrants, and patents; papers relating to surveys of the state and of the county lines; reports of the commissioners as to state boundary lines and monuments; maps and other documents pertaining to Pennsylvania's colonial history; minutes of the canal commissioners; records of and relating to the public works, together with other documents which, by statutory requirements or otherwise, have been deposited with the bureau.

It may be generally stated that original title to land within its boundaries has long since passed from the Commonwealth. Occasionally, however, small unpatented tracts are discovered. In such cases, the Commonwealth, through the Bureau of Land Records, sells and gives title to the applicant under prescribed rules and procedures.

The business of the bureau includes conducting search in its records for data of historical, genealogical, or technical nature as needed in the work of the bureau itself or in response to requests from the general public or from other governmental agencies; compiling warrantee township tract maps as required by statute; constructing connected drafts under order; processing applications for patents; recording, indexing, and filing deeds and related papers applying to land owned or to be acquired by the Commonwealth as such documents are transmitted to the bureau by other state agencies; and furnishing photostatic copies of its records upon payment of prescribed fees.

In the summer of 1957, the Bureau of Land Records began a large laminating-microfilming project to restore and to preserve some 650,000 of its irreplaceable papers. The project was completed in 1959; the bureau's holdings are protected against further deterioration and their safety is assured and further protected through the depositing of the microfilm outside of the Harrisburg area. Similar projects will be initiated as funds become available.

By the Constitution of 1873, the duties of the Surveyor General of the Commonwealth were imposed upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The Act of April 15, 1873, as amended, which set forth the various services to be furnished by the Bureau of Land Records and the official fees to be charged therefor by the Department of Internal Affairs was repealed by Act No. 117 approved June 30, 1959, P. L. 492, effective September 1, 1959, which fixes the fees to be charged at a rate more nearly in keeping with actual costs.

By the Act of June 13, 1907, as amended, the Secretary of Internal Affairs was authorized and directed to construct connected warrantee tract maps of each of the counties of the Commonwealth, a free blue print reproduction to be furnished to the county commissioners and to the recorder of deeds of the several counties.

By the Act of April 4, 1919, the Secretary of Internal Affairs was made custodian of all title papers relating to property owned or to be acquired by the Commonwealth.

Act No. 137 approved July 9, 1959, P. L. 510, known as the Pennsylvania Public Lands Act, codifies the statutes pertaining to Commonwealth-owned land and repeals conflicting statutes.

The Bureau of Statistics is the only centralized, general purpose statistical bureau in Pennsylvania, or in any of the 50 states. The bureau supplies statistical information to members of the General Assembly, to agencies of state government, to local planning and promotional groups, to private industry, to research organizations, and to educational institutions.

The most important publication of the bureau is the annual Pennsylvania Statistical Abstract which presents in one volume a wide variety of data assembled from governmental and other sources. The bureau also publishes statistics collected in annual censuses of manufacturers, mineral industries, public utilities, and municipal authorities. A series of releases on county and urban population estimates are also prepared by the bureau.

Directories for industrial establishments and municipal authorities are published every third year with supplements in the intervening years.

An Index to State Sources of Statistics for Pennsylvania is prepared annually by the bureau.

Bureau of Municipal Affairs. The primary responsibility of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs, as outlined in the Administrative Code of 1929, is to assist local units of government in the effective performance of their responsibilities. The Code authorizes the bureau to gather, classify, index, make available, and disseminate data, statistical information, and advice which may be helpful to these local units in improving their methods of administration.

The Division of Research in the bureau supplies answers to inquiries submitted by local government officials and other citizens. It prepares publications to assist local governments in providing better services for residents and maintains a library with the latest publications in the local government field.

Recently, the bureau has issued such studies as the following: Manual for Pennsylvania Tax Collectors; Assessors' Handbook; A Guide to Pennsylvania's Municipal Borrowing Act; An Analysis of Local Tax Collection Costs in Pennsylvania; Manual for Pennsylvania Burgesses; and Selected Areas of Intergovernmental Cooperation.

The bureau issues weekly Legislative Bulletins during each legislative session and, at the end of each session, publishes a summary of all new acts affecting Pennsylvania local government.

A list of local officials is kept up to date in bureau files, and a Directory of Pennsylvania State and Local Government Officials, Agencies, and Associations is published periodically.

By law, Pennsylvania political subdivisions are required to file their budgets, financial reports, and tax collector reports with the Bureau of Municipal Affairs. The Division of Local Government Financial Statistics in this bureau edits and compiles the statistics contained in the reports and makes them available for reference purposes. The division also prepares and distributes these budget and financial report forms for use by the political subdivisions.

The Act of March 31, 1927 (P. L. 91) directs the Department of Internal Affairs to supervise the incurring or increasing of debts by local government units. The Bond Division of the bureau examines proceedings initiated by local governments to incur or increase their indebtedness and ascertains whether or not such proceedings are in conformity with law.

Through the Division of City Planning and Landscape Architecture, the Bureau of Municipal Affairs provides assistance to local governments in their planning for public buildings, parks, and playgrounds.

In the fall of 1957, the Department of Internal Affairs released a sound motion picture film, "Decision at Laurel Falls", which is designed to stimulate interest in local government and to depict the important decisions which must be reached by officials at the local level. In 1958 this film received the "Chris Award" from the Film Council of Greater Columbus, Ohio, for excellence of production in the information-education category. Bookings of "Decision at Laurel Falls" may be arranged by writing to the Department of Internal Affairs.

Following the enactment of the Third Class City Optional Charter Law of 1957, the Department of Internal Affairs established in the Bureau of Municipal Affairs a Clearing House for the Charter Commissions which have been established under this law. The Clearing House has given advice, assistance and guidance to the ten third class cities which have established Charter Commissions.

The Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures is the custodian of the state standard weights and measures, standardized in conformity with the laws of Congress and the General Assembly, and verified by the United States Bureau of Standards.

It is the duty of this bureau to compare, test and regulate all weights and measures of all city and county sealers with the state standards, and the head of the bureau must certify to their correctness by issuance of a certificate of approval. City and County sealers report to the bureau monthly. It is the duty of the state inspectors and the county sealers to inspect and test instruments and devices used in connection with weighing coal at the mines. Only state inspectors, however, test the heavy duty scales throughout the Commonwealth on which trucks suspected of overloading may be properly weighed and kept within the limits of the law.

The Act of July 24, 1913, P. L. 965, and its amendments, defines commodities, regulates their sale, establishes weights per bushel, provides for the marking of the net weight of commodities if sold in package, can or bottle form, and empowers the head of the Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures to make rules and regulations permitting tolerances.

The Act of May 5, 1921, authorizes the bureau "to pass upon each type of weight and measure and weighing and measuring device manufactured, offered or exposed for sale or sold or given away, for the use in trade or commerce, or used in trade or commerce, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and to approve or disapprove of said type."

The same law directs that the bureau "approve each type of weight and measure and weighing and measuring device, submitted to it for approval by any person, if such type is so designed and constructed that it conforms to, or gives correct results in terms of, standard weights and measures or in terms of values derived therefrom, and is reasonably permanent in its indication and adjustment, and does not facilitate the perpetration of fraud, otherwise the bureau shall disapprove the same.

By Act of January 2, 1934, the bureau is empowered to issue licenses to weighmasters engaged in weighing coal and other solid fuels sold in the Commonwealth. The Act provides that no coal in excess of 100 pounds may be delivered without a weighmaster's certificate, carload and boatload excepted.

The Act of June 23, 1941, requires persons selling merchandise to place weighing and measuring devices in full view of the purchaser and imposes the duty of enforcement on the Department of Internal Affairs and the several county and city inspectors of weights and measures.

The Act of June 24, 1941, amended the present solid fuel law of Pennsylvania. Many new features were added that eventually almost entirely eliminated short-weight practices in the sale of solid fuel, the main feature being the control of weighmasters' certificates by the department. Weighmasters' certificates must be printed on forms prescribed by the department and procured by weighmasters or their employers under the supervision and control of the department.

Effective April 2, 1956, the department officially promulgated the specifications, tolerances and regulations for commercial weighing and measuring devices as adopted by the National Conference on Weights and Measures and published in National Bureau of Standards Handbook 44, 2d Edition, 1955. The adoption of Handbook 44 changed the farm milk tank regulations previously promulgated by this bureau, and new motorized equipment was purchased which will make it possible to check two or three tanks in one day whereas only one tank could be checked under former regulations. Pennsylvania is the first state in the east to acquire special equipment to check farm milk tanks.

The Act of September 29, 1959 amends the present Fuel Oil Law of Pennsylvania. The Act provides that each vehicle delivering domestic fuel oil be equipped with a meter of a type capable of furnishing a printed delivery ticket. It further provides that a meter printed delivery ticket be rendered to the customer at the time of delivery or with the invoice.

Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey. The duty of the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey is to make a thorough study of the geology and topography of the state. Detailed geologic maps, showing the type of rock found in the area concerned, and detailed studies of individual mineral commodities are made and published. Laboratory examinations of the rocks encountered during field studies are also made. Topographic mapping, groundwater, and additional studies of mineral resources are conducted in cooperation with the United States Geologic Survey. The results of these studies are published.

The bureau supplies general geologic and topographic information to the public and technical information regarding geologic and groundwater problems to local governments and to many state agencies, such cooperation being especially close with the Departments of Commerce, Forests and Waters, Highways, and Mines and Mineral Industries.

Bureau of Publicity and Information. This bureau prepares and edits the Internal Affairs Monthly Bulletin, assists in the preparation of other publications of the department, and disseminates information obtained by the Department of Internal Affairs through its various bureaus.

Board of Property

The Board of Property is composed of the Secretary of Internal Affairs (chairman), the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the Attorney General. The Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs serves as secretary-clerk to the board.

The duty of the board is to hear and determine all cases of dispute concerning the validity of original titles given when the Commonwealth or the Proprietaries conveyed the land concerned. Its jurisdiction embraces all cases of controversy that have arisen, or may arise, in transacting the business of the Land Office, which is now the Department's Bureau of Land Records.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

The State Constitution declares "The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public schools wherein all the children of the Commonwealth above the age of six years may be educated * * *."

To carry out this mandate the General Assembly has established a public school system and set up the Department of Public Instruction as a part of the state government to administer the school laws and assist the 2,277 school districts, some of which form 436 joint boards, in conducting their educational programs. The present organization and status of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction are the result of many years of evolution.

Following passage and signing of the Free School Law on April 1, 1834, the Secretary of the Commonwealth acted as head of the Common School System until 1837. In that year a separate department of schools was created with a Superintendent of Common Schools as its chief officer.

In 1873, the title was changed to Superintendent of Public Instruction, and greater responsibilities were assigned to that official and to the department. Various activities have been added since then, until the department is now charged with administration of every educational activity in state government, ranging from minimum courses of study for the public schools and the examining and licensing of practitioners in certain professions and occupations, to apportionment of state appropriations to school districts, to supervision of fourteen state colleges and three state-owned schools, which are a part of the public school system. State appropriations to nineteen state-aided, degree-granting institutions of higher learning and nine other educational institutions are included in the budget of the department.

Administration of the department is conducted by the First Deputy through five deputies, 14 bureaus, and a number of other agencies within the department.

The six deputies as approved by the Executive Board of the Commonwealth supervise: administration, school administrative services, curricula, special services for pupils, teacher and higher education, and professional licensing.

The bureaus in charge of various aspects of the program carried on by the Department of Public Instruction include: curriculum development, curriculum administration, curriculum services, special services for pupils, instructional material and mass media, program leadership, research, teacher education, higher education, school business services, school district organization, school buildings, private schools and veterans' education and professional licensing.

Other agencies coming under the jurisdiction of the department include the State Council of Education, State Library, 16 professional examining boards, Public School Employees' Retirement Board, 14 state colleges, Scotland School for Veterans' Children, Thaddeus Stevens Trade School, State Oral School for the Deaf and the Public Service Institute.

In addition the department cooperates with these four independent groups concerned with public education: State Tax Equalization Board, State Public School Building Authority, General State Authority and Joint State Government Commission.

State Council of Education

The State Council of Education is an advisory and legislative body within the Department of Public Instruction and consists of nine members, appointed by the Governor. It gives assistance and guidance to persons who are seeking teaching positions in the elementary and secondary schools and institutions of higher learning.

The duties of the Division of Credentials Evaluation are to determine, value, standardize, and regulate the preliminary education, both secondary and collegiate, of those to be licensed to practice any profession or work at any trade or occupation in this Commonwealth for which licenses are issued.

Bureau of Private Schools and Veterans' Education. The Private School Division of the bureau places additional emphasis on coordinating the various elements of private school licensure by standardizing and unifying procedures and policies.

In the revision of the county plans for administrative units and attendance areas it acts as a survey agency for the State Council of Education.

Bureau of School Buildings. The Bureau of School Buildings assists school districts of the state in providing adequate modern facilities for their pupils.

The bureau is composed of the Division of Records and the Division of Architectural Services. The Division of Records receives all applications for school building projects and acts as information center for all communications regarding such applications. The Division of Architectural Services reviews preliminary and final plans and specifications of school building projects to determine compliance with room schedules and with minimum standards of health, safety, and educational specifications. It suggests improvements in design and materials, analyzes cost estimates to determine their reasonableness, and recommends approval of plans.

Bureau of Professional Licensing. Sixteen administrative boards in the Bureau of Professional Licensing have powers to perform under the licensure laws of the Commonwealth. Among these are such matters as approval or disapproval of professional schools, the processing of applications for licenses, conducting examinations, authorizing the issuance of licenses and exercising police powers. Lawrence named a Citizens' Committee in March 1960 to study Pennsylvania's educational program and to make comprehensive recommendations for its improvement and expansion during the next decade. Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis is chairman of the 35 business, labor, professional, and governmental leaders who will review past policies and procedures, compare them with practices in other sections of the Country, and finally relate them to the aids and goals which can be established to give Pennsylvania the best possible education program. The Committee will be supported in its inquiries by eight research and administrative task forces to facilitate efficient and thorough consideration of curriculum, school district organization, teacher training and relations, school administration, counseling and guidance, school construction, higher education, and financing. The Committee and each task force is empowered to use consultants and to hold public hearings. Its conclusions will be presented by January 31, 1961. The Study is financed by a $300,000 allocation from the State School Fund approved by the State Council of Education.

State Board of Motion Picture Control

The General Assembly in 1959 enacted legislation to provide a system of listing the first showing of each film and a system of registration of exhibitors, sellers, lessors, and users of films, reels or views; to provide disapproval of those which are obscene or unsuitable for children and of advertising matter used in connection therewith; to provide penalties for violation of this act. The 1959 legislation repealed the Act of May 15, 1915 which created a Board of Censors but which was declared unconstitutional in 1956.

The Board consists of a chairman and two members appointed by the Governor for a term of four years. Their jurisdiction includes films, reels and views exhibited in theaters and public places of entertainment, but does not apply to those containing current news, events or happenings or to those used purely for educational, charitable, fraternal, family or religious purposes or to those known as industrial, business, institutional, advertising, or training films.

National Defense Education Act

The expressed intent of this legislation is to improve the quality of education by providing instructional facilities and materials by means of which schools can be helped to find and encourage talent, and to improve ways and means of teaching. In 1958, Congressional committees heard overwhelming evidence to support the contention that schools were lagging in three respects: (1) a neglect of science, mathematics and modern foreign languages in the curriculum; (2) an evident inferior quality of instruction in too many cases; and (3) an inadequate budget for laboratory equipment and audio-visual materials.

School expenditures for such facilities and materials are reimbursed with federal funds in the amount of 50% of purchases. In addition, provision is made in the Act for fellowships, language centers and institutes, guidance institutes, science information service, and in-service training to help teachers improve the quality of their work.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS

The Adjutant General's office, established by Act of April 11, 1793, is the headquarters of the Department of Military Affairs of Pennsylvania, custodian and office of record, property, finance, account and military records of the Pennsylvania National Guard, and the war records of Pennsylvania organizations and veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World Wars. The Adjutant General, as head of this department, is Chairman of the Armory Board of the State of Pennsylvania, ex-officio member of Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania Soldiers' and Sailors' Home; and is a member of the State Military Reservation Commission, State Veterans' Commission, Military Advisory Commission, and Chairman of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission.

Pennsylvania National Guard

Of the various duties and responsibilities of the Adjutant General as head of the Department of Military Affairs, the most important is the administration of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Authorized by federal and state laws the Pennsylvania National Guard consists of members voluntarily enlisted therein and of commissioned officers and warrant officers armed, equipped and federally recognized by the Departments of the Army and Air Force.

When not in the service of the United States, the National Guard is a state force, the command of which is vested in the Governor of Pennsylvania as commander-in-chief.

In time of national emergency, the President of the United States has the authority to order the Pennsylvania National Guard, as a component of the Army and the Air Force of the United States, into the active military service of the United States, whereupon the Governor releases the Guard for service wherever the President shall direct.

In the service of the Commonwealth, the Pennsylvania National Guard carries on the militia tradition established by the early American frontiersman. It is a continuation of the principle that every able-bodied male residing within the Commonwealth is obligated to render military service to his state and country.

The Pennsylvania National Guard is organized into the Army and Air units similar to that of the regular services. The Adjutant General administers the Guard through two deputies, one for Air, one for Army.

The complex methods of modern warfare require a well trained force ready at any time to assume its place in the Army and Air Force of the United States and with minimum training, participate in the defense of the United States. The strength of the Guard, Army and Air is over 21,000 officers and enlisted men.

The Adjutant General administers, supplies, and supervises the training of the Pennsylvania National Guard. The Department of Defense through the Chief, National Guard Bureau and the Commanding General, Second Army for Army and the Commander, Fourteenth Air Force for Air Units furnish advisors, members of the regular establishment to assist in accomplishing the training mission.

The units of the Pennsylvania National Guard, Army and Air, are required to participate in a two-week encampment period annually and not less than forty-eight armory drill periods of a minimum of two hours' duration. Each unit after meeting requirements in so far as strength and facilities are concerned is granted federal recognition, after which equipment is issued and the personnel of the units are entitled to receive pay and allowances as authorized for the personnel of the regular establishment. The federal property is issued in accordance with provision of law (USC, Title 32) and accounted for by the United States Property and Fiscal Officer under the direction of the Adjutant General.

The Pennsylvania National Guard, located in some 112 communities throughout the Commonwealth, is a strong, well organized force capable to cope with any emergency which may arise within the State. The troop list includes all types of units, infantry, armor, armored cavalry, field artillery, engineer, ordnance, transportation, medical, fighter-interceptor, and air transport units. The equipment issued to the various type units would enable the units to render many types of service to communities. In addition, emergency equipment, strategically stored through the state, could be issued in a very short period of time and be transported to all sections of the state in a matter of hours. The manpower to operate this equipment is organized, well trained and available.

The State Maintenance Shop is the combined field maintenance facility of the Pennsylvania National Guard and comes under the direct control of the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania.

This installation, located in state-owned, well-equipped shops, is based at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

It is responsible for the proper utilization, care and maintenance of all federal equipment issued to the Pennsylvania National Guard, including material of chemical, engineer, medical, ordnance, quartermaster and signal technical branches.

In addition to the facilities available at the State Maintenance Shop, there are seventeen organizational maintenance centers located at selected sites throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to assist organizations within their immediate area in the performance of organizational maintenance support of vehicular equipment. These organizational maintenance centers are located in Philadelphia, Allentown, Harrisburg, Coraopolis, Altoona, Kingston, Scottsdale, Erie, Norristown, Lock Haven, Johnstown, New Castle, Pittsburgh, Punxsutawney, Carlisle, York, and Lewistown.

The engineering section is charged with providing all needed architectural and engineering services for the department. Its prime function is to assist the State Armory Board in the preparation of plans and specifications, receiving bids and inspection of construction for maintenance work and construction repairs, being performed on contract basis. However, the engineering section also renders like service to the United States Property and Fiscal Officer for the construction work being paid for with federal funds.

The land which now comprises the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation was purchased from appropriations made by the 1929 legislature. The reservation was named "Indiantown" which was adopted by virtue of the numerous Indian towns of the Susquehannock tribes who resided in the proximity about 1600, and is located on the first range of the Blue Ridge Mountains in this part of Pennsylvania. The land for the reservation was purchased in 1931, and the first military exercise was conducted in 1932 and subsequently during the pre-war years to the year 1940. The fact that Indiantown Gap Military Reservation possesses many desirable characteristics and facilities for use as a major military training camp was recognized at the onset by the National emergency early in 1940.

It covers approximately 20,000 acres and has 110 miles of roads, 43 miles of sewer lines, and 155 miles of water lines. The 1,552 buildings include barracks, mess halls, officers' quarters, headquarters buildings, store and administration buildings, day rooms, infirmaries, post exchanges, guard houses, motor repair shops, gasoline stations, fire stations, recreation buildings, theatres, a service club, guest house, incinerator, bakery, cold storage plant, warehouses, utility shops, dental clinics, radio and communication buildings, and a station hospital of 91 buildings that cover 60 acres of ground. The cantonment is capable of adequately housing 25,000 troops. One hundred twenty-five miles of power and light supply current.

The Memorial Lake covers 80 acres of ground, with a water capacity of 250,600,000 gallons of water. This lake is a memorial to the service men and women from Pennsylvania who participated in World Wars I and II and is protected sanctuary for fish and wild life that inhabit the area.

Among the training facilities on the reservation are an artillery range, 7½ miles long and 2½ miles wide, and 10 small arms ranges.

During the Korean Emergency the reservation was reactivated as a Federal installation, and

During the summer months of each year the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation is utilized for the purpose of training units of the Pennsylvania National Guard, Maryland National Guard, District of Columbia National Guard, Virginia National Guard, components of the Organized Reserve Corps, and various other military organizations that are required to undergo summer encampments for their training.

The home is located in Erie, Erie County, Pennsylvania, was established by authority of the State Legislature, Act P. L. 62, June 3, 1885. Its purpose is to maintain and care for indigent, invalid or disabled members of the Regular Army, National Army, Organized Militia, Organized Reserves, U. S. Coast Guards, Sailors, and National Guard, called into Federal Service, who are residents of Pennsylvania. Section 202, of the Administrative Code of 1929, as amended, makes the Board of Trustees of the Home an administrative Board within the Department of Military Affairs.

During the period June 1, 1953 to May 31, 1955 the home accommodated an average of 221 veterans per day.

This Commission shall consist of the Governor, the Adjutant General, the Commanding General of the Pennsylvania National Guard Division, the Commanding General of the Pennsylvania National Guard Non-Divisional Troops, members of the Governor's Military Advisory Commission, and two other civilian members appointed by the Governor. ### Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission

The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission was created by Acts 199, 200 and 201 of the 1943 General Assembly as an administrative board of the Department of Commerce; in 1953, however, it was transferred to the Department of Military Affairs by Act of August 26, 1953, P. L. 1468, 71 PS 62. It operates under the provisions of the Aeronautical Code, Act of May 25, 1933, P. L. 1001, as amended, which provides that the commission shall administer the provisions of the Aeronautical Code, and, for such purpose, is authorized and directed to promulgate such regulations as are necessary to execute the powers invested in it by this act and other applicable laws.

The duties of the commission are to provide for the regulation of airports, landing fields and air navigation facilities, to establish and protect necessary air space reservations, to designate civil airways and to investigate causes of accidents.

The commission consists of the Adjutant General, who acts as chairman, and eight other members appointed by the Governor. Two of the members are chosen from the House of Representatives and two from the Senate. The executive offices of the commission are located at the Harrisburg-York State Airport, New Cumberland.

Office of the United States Property and Fiscal Officer for Pennsylvania

An integral part of the Department of Military Affairs, under the direct jurisdiction of the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, is the Office of the United States Property and Fiscal Officer for Pennsylvania, supervised and controlled by an officer known as the United States Property and Fiscal Officer. This officer, a federally-recognized commissioned officer of the National Guard of the United States, appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army, receipts and accounts for all funds and property belonging to the United States in possession of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and makes returns and reports as required by State and Federal regulations. Appointment of the USP&FO for Pennsylvania is governed by Section 67, National Defense Act of June 3, 1916.

The Secretary of the Army has delegated to the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania authority to employ at fixed rates of pay, establish duties and work hours, and to discharge employees of the Officer of the United States Property and Fiscal Officer within laws and regulations established by the Chief, National Guard Bureau. These employees, paid solely by federal funds and under the direct supervision and control of the United States Property and Fiscal Officer, are responsible for requisitioning, receiving, warehousing, and issuing all United States property required for use of the National Guard and Air National Guard of Pennsylvania within allowances as established by the Secretary of the Army and Chief, National Guard Bureau. This office is likewise charged with the operation of the state distribution point for United States property and for the maintenance of all property records pertaining thereto. All federal funds allotted to the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania for support of the Pennsylvania National Guard are administered by this office. These funds include federal allocations for the construction of motor vehicle storage buildings, warehouses, maintenance shops, hangars, air field facilities, and for providing security and maintenance for United States property in state-owned armories. Also included are federal allocations for transportation of supplies, travel of military and civilian personnel and salaries for employees in the office of the United States Property and Fiscal Officer, state maintenance shops, staff assistants and unit technicians, as determined by the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

The Insurance Department, which is charged with the execution of the laws of the Commonwealth in relation to insurance, was established under the Act of Assembly of April 4, 1873, P. L. 20. It was reorganized under the Insurance Department Act of May 17, 1921, P. L. 789. The departmental organization includes an administrative bureau, bureau of examinations, bureau of rate regulation, licensing bureau and the liquidation division.

The Insurance Commissioner is the head of the department. He is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate and holds office for the term of four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified. He is a member of the Board of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund and administers "The Stock Workmen's Compensation Security Fund," and "The Mutual Carrier and Reciprocal Exchange Workmen's Compensation Security Fund," commonly known as "The Stock Fund" and "The Mutual Fund," created by the Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2532 for the purpose of assuring to persons entitled thereto the compensation provided by the Workmen's Compensation Law for employees insured in companies which later become insolvent. In addition to the duties outlined in the various divisions and bureaus, he is charged with the collection of fees and with the enforcement of penalties for violation of the insurance laws.

Administrative Bureau. This bureau coordinates the work of the department. It performs administrative activities that include personnel, management methods and public relations; determines and implements departmental policy.

It includes an accounting section which is responsible for the collection of fees for transmittal to the State Treasury, the preparation of the department's Annual Report of receipts and expenses and serves as the watchdog of the department's budget.

There is also a legal section entrusted with representing the Insurance Commissioner in all legal matters and advising him and his staff in connection with their duties and responsibilities.

Inquiries about and complaints against licensed and unlicensed companies, agents and brokers are investigated by the department through its complaint offices in Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Bureau of Examinations. Not less than once every three years the department must examine all domestic insurers and may examine foreign insurers. The department participates in a zone examination system established and operated by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, under which the insurance departments of all states in which the insurer is licensed to do business, jointly examine such insurer, thereby making one examination acceptable to all such states.

The condition of insurers, as disclosed by examination, determines their right to continue to do business within the Commonwealth. The expenses incurred in making examinations are charged to and collected from the insurer.

This bureau examines insurance companies and similar organizations for financial soundness, compliance with the law, treatment of policyholders, income, disbursements and loss payments. It analyzes company failures, searches company records for escheatable items and other matters.

This Bureau also supervises and examines title insurance companies and the title insurance departments of banks and trust companies authorized to transact a title insurance business.

Another important function of this bureau is the annual audit and examination of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

The life actuarial section of this bureau calculates the reserve liability of each company, association and society incorporated in Pennsylvania, as well as the Pennsylvania School Employees' Retirement System. The verification of actuarial reports of fraternal societies is a function of this section, and it also prepares the valuation balance sheet and statistical report each year for the Pennsylvania School Employees' Retirement System.

Bureau of Rate Regulation. The primary function of the Bureau of Rate Regulation is the review of rates for fire, inland marine, casualty, title, life and accident and health lines of insurance as submitted by the individual companies or their associated rate making bureaus. All rates, rating plans and schedules and statistical plans in connection with rates are reviewed and analyzed to determine the statutory requirement that they not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory. Directly related with this function of the bureau is the necessity of maintaining files of all approved rates for public inspection and providing the public, upon request and at a statutory charge, copies of such filed rates. The bureau permits companies to promulgate and submit rates independently or by licensed bureaus representing a combination of companies. Through the approval of adequate rates the solvency of companies is maintained thereby protecting both the public and the company.

This bureau is also charged with the review of advertising material used by insurance companies to preclude violations of the Uniform Trade Practices Act.

The Workmen's Compensation Section approves the classification of risks, underwriting rules, premium rates and the schedule of merit rating plans for insurance of employers and employees under the Workmen's Compensation Act, together with the policy forms and endorsements applicable to Workmen's Compensation Insurance. The Workmen's Compensation Actuary, under the supervision of the Insurance Commissioner, represents the department in administering the Workmen's Compensation security funds.

Licensing Bureau. This bureau licenses Pennsylvania companies and out of state companies, agents, broker and adjusters; considers charter amendments, mergers and consolidations of insurance companies; approves the formation of domestic insurance companies and annually audits statements filed by authorized insurers. For these services and others rendered by the bureau a fee is assessed and collected.

For the protection of the public, all insurers, other than domestic, must constitute the Insurance Commissioner as attorney-in-fact for acceptance of service of process upon admission to transact business in the Commonwealth. All such services are filed in this bureau.

Liquidation Division. This division supervises the liquidation of insolvent insurance companies, associations, or exchanges, which come into the possession of the Insurance Commissioner pursuant to orders of court.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

This department was created by the Act approved June 8, 1891, P. L. 217, and its powers were enlarged and extended by the Act approved April 11, 1895, P. L. 4. Both of these Acts were repealed by the Act of May 21, 1919, P. L. 209. The Act of May 21, 1919, was repealed by "The Banking Act of 1923," approved June 15, 1923, which Act was in turn superseded by the Department of Banking Code, approved May 15, 1933.

The Secretary of Banking is the chief officer, who is appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of four years.

The deputy secretary, by reason of the absence or incapacity of the Secretary, performs the duties of the Secretary.

It is the duty of the department to take care that the laws of the Commonwealth in relation to persons and institutions under its supervision are faithfully executed. Supervision extends and applies to the following:

(1) All corporations and persons which are authorized to receive or which do receive in this Commonwealth money on deposit or for safekeeping, or which are authorized to engage or which do engage in this Commonwealth in a banking business, and all corporations which are authorized to act or which do act in this Commonwealth as trustees, guardians, executors, administrators, or in other fiduciary capacities, including banks, bank and trust companies, trust companies, private banks, employees' mutual banking associations, savings banks, and mutual savings funds; but not including hotels or clubs, which receive money from guests or members for temporary safekeeping, express, steamship, or telegraph companies which receive money for transmission and attorneys-at-law, real estate agents, and attorneys-in-fact, who are not engaged in the business of receiving moneys in this Commonwealth for deposit or for transmission but receive and transmit moneys only as an incident to their general business or profession, brokers licensed under the laws of this Commonwealth, holding membership in a lawfully constituted brokerage exchange, who do and have authority to do only such banking as is incidental to their brokerage business;

(2) All building and loan associations authorized to transact or transacting business in this Commonwealth;

(3) Credit unions organized under the provisions of the Act of May 26, 1933, as amended;

(4) Small loan companies engaged in the business of lending in sums of $600 or less organized under the Act of June 17, 1915, as amended;

(5) Consumer discount companies engaged in the business of lending sums of $2,000 or less, organized under the Act of April 8, 1937;

(6) Pawnbrokers licensed to do business under the Act of April 6, 1937; and

(7) Installment sellers, sales finance companies and collector-repossessors licensed to engage in the retail selling of motor vehicles and financing thereof as provided by the Act of June 28, 1947.

However, when any corporation subject to the supervision of the Department of Banking is also engaged in a title insurance business, a mortgage guarantee business subject to the supervision of the Insurance Department, such branch of its business is not subject to the supervision of the Department of Banking.

Expenses of the Department. All of the expenses of the department, including the cost of examinations, are charged to and paid by the corporations and persons subject to the supervision of the department either by direct assessment or by license fees, at such times and in such manner as the department shall by general rule or regulation prescribe.

Examinations. The department is required to examine all state banking institutions, building and loan associations and credit unions thoroughly at least once each year, and more frequently if it deems such action necessary or advisable to safeguard the interests of depositors, other creditors, or shareholders of such institutions.

The department may also make special examinations or investigations of the aforesaid institutions at any time the department deems such action necessary or advisable to protect depositors, other creditors, or shareholders thereof.

The department is also empowered to make examinations and investigations of all small loan companies, consumer discount companies, pawnbrokers and motor vehicle sales finance act licensees which it deems necessary or advisable for the protection of the public against unreasonable rates and other practices in violation of the law.

In connection with any examination or investigation the department has power to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of, or the production of pertinent books and papers by the officers, directors, agents, employees, or members, respectively, of any corporation or persons which the department is authorized to examine. The department also has the power to question such witnesses under oath or affirmation, and to examine such books and papers.

The Department of Banking also has the power to supervise, regulate, limit, or prohibit the activities of corporations or persons affiliated with institutions to the same extent as such activities of corporations affiliated with national banking associations, or with members of a Federal Reserve Bank, are, or shall be, supervised, regulated, limited, or prohibited by general law, or by regulations issued by any federal authority pursuant to law.

Powers of Receiver. When the Secretary has taken possession of the business and property of any corporation or person he has all the rights, powers and duties of a receiver appointed by any court of equity in this Commonwealth, and is vested, in his official capacity, with all the property of such corporation or person. He is the representative of the creditors.

Banking Board

The Banking Board is vested by the Legislature with four distinct powers. It may upon recommendation of the Secretary of Banking and after hearings, remove any officer, director, trustee, attorney or employee of any banking institution under the jurisdiction of the department found guilty of unsound banking practice or violation of the law.

The board must approve the establishment of branch offices, changes in the location of principal offices or established branch offices as provided by Act No. 284 approved December 30, 1955.

Rules and regulations regarding the establishment and administration of common trust funds may be promulgated by the Department of Banking only with the approval of the Banking Board.

The board and the Department of Banking must fix the amount and the composition of the required legal reserve fund of state banking institutions and has the power with the Department of Banking to approve changes in reserve fund requirements, with certain limitations.

The act creating the board provides that six of the eleven members must be appointed by the Governor from a panel of nominees presented by the Pennsylvania Bankers Association. These members can be removed only for absence from six consecutive meetings of the board without excuse. If any member is removed, the Governor must appoint a substitute from the same geographical area from which the original member came.

The five other members consist of four appointed by the Governor at large and the Secretary of Banking, who acts as chairman and ex-officio member.

Building and Loan Board

The Building and Loan Board is vested by the Legislature with the power, upon recommendation by the Secretary of Banking and after hearings, to remove any director, officer, attorney or employee of any savings and loan association under the jurisdiction of the department found guilty of violation of the law relating to building and loan associations, or of unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business thereof.

The board must approve the establishment of branch offices, changes in the location of principal offices or established branch offices as provided by Act No. 285 approved December 30, 1955.

The act creating the board provides that six of the nine members thereof shall be appointed by the Governor from a panel of nominees presented by the Pennsylvania League of Savings and Loan Associations. These members can be removed only for absence from six consecutive meetings of the board without excuse. The three other members consist of two appointed by the Governor at large and the Secretary of Banking, who acts as chairman and ex-officio member.

Pennsylvania Securities Commission

The Pennsylvania Securities Commission was created by an amendment to the Administrative Code approved April 13, 1927, and is vested with the administration and enforcement of the provisions of "The Pennsylvania Securities Act." The Pennsylvania Securities Commission is composed of three commissioners, one of whom is designated chairman by the Governor, and the Secretary of Banking is an ex-officio member of the commission. All of the employees, agents and investigators for the commission are appointed by the Secretary of Banking with the approval of the Governor.

A reenacted and amended Pennsylvania Securities Act was passed by the 1940-41 session of the Legislature and approved by the Governor on July 10, 1941. "The Pennsylvania Securities Act" provides for the registration of dealers and salesmen who are engaged in the business of offering securities to the public in Pennsylvania or undertaking to dispose of securities for the public and, with the amendment, now provides for the registration and regulation of persons and entities engaged in the business of investment advisers and of solicitors for investment advisers.

"If the commission at any time has reason to believe that any registered dealer or investment adviser has become of bad repute, that his plan of business has become unfair, unjust or inequitable, or is being conducted in an unfair, unjust or inequitable manner, that he has become of insufficient financial responsibility to deal with the public, that he has in any way violated, or is violating, or is about to violate, any of the provisions of this act, or has been guilty of any fraud or fraudulent practice, then the commission may, after hearing and having reasonable cause to so believe, refuse to renew or revoke said dealer's or investment adviser's registration." From this action of the commission, provisions are made for an appeal to the Dauphin County Court.

The commission is also invested with authority to institute criminal prosecution for violation of the provisions of "The Pennsylvania Securities Act" and may bring an action in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against any person to enjoin such person from doing any act or acts in violation of the provisions of "The Pennsylvania Securities Act."

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture is essentially a service agency created by legislative enactment to deal with administrative, regulatory, investigational and educational problems pertaining to the state's agriculture which can best be solved through public rather than individual action. The department is charged by numerous laws to encourage the development and successful pursuit of agriculture, to control animal and plant diseases and insect pests, and to safeguard the public against impure or misrepresented foods, principally through the enforcement of essential legal measures.

The department is administered by the Secretary of Agriculture, who is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for a term of four years. The department proper is composed of four bureaus: animal industry, foods and chemistry, markets, and plant industry. The Secretary of Agriculture also has administrative supervision of the executive bureau, the State Farm Products Show Commission, the State Soil Conservation Commission and provides cooperation with the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service.

History. Although the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture was not established as a separate division of state government until the year 1895, legislation of the Commonwealth from the earliest colonial period shows more than passive interest in the agricultural industry. Among the conditions and concessions agreed upon between William Penn and those who were the "adventurers and purchasers" in the province, it was decreed that "every man shall be bound to plant or man so much of his share of land and shall be set out and surveyed within three years . . . or else it shall be lawful for newcomers to be settled thereupon . . ." and that "in clearing the ground care be taken to leave one acre in trees for every five acres cleared . . ."

Initial steps in state-wide recognition for agricultural enterprises came in 1820 when the General Assembly made provision for the formation of county agricultural societies, and a special county tax was levied to assist these societies. Additional legislation in 1823 and 1851 provided for annual state fairs and formation of a state agricultural society to operate them.

The first attempt to provide a separate state agency for the administration of agricultural laws came in 1876 when the General Assembly created a State Board of Agriculture. This board was composed of the Governor, the Secretary of Internal Affairs, Secretary of Public Instruction, the Auditor General, the president of the Pennsylv-each organized agricultural society of the state, and three other persons appointed by the Governor. The board was authorized to prescribe the duties of the secretary, who became the first Secretary of Agriculture. The act was largely concerned with securing a central agency to oversee the numerous agricultural societies which had been created in different parts of the state. Later activities include the beginning of supervised agricultural experimental work at the Pennsylvania State University in 1877, the enactment of the first state legislation to regulate the sale of oleomargarine in 1878, and the passage in 1879 of the first state fertilizer law to protect farmers from fraudulent and misrepresented commercial fertilizers.

The Department of Agriculture was established as such in the year 1895. This department was to be administered by a Secretary of Agriculture appointed by the Governor, and the secretary so provided for was made the ex-officio Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, and succeeded to all the powers and duties of that officer. This act imposed upon the Secretary of Agriculture the duty "to encourage and promote the development of agriculture, horticulture, forestry and kindred industries, to collect and publish statistics and other information in regard to agricultural industries and interests of the state, to investigate the adaptability of grains, fruits and grasses and other crops to the soil and climate of the state, together with the diseases to which they are severally liable, and the remedies therefor; to obtain and distribute information on all matters relating to the raising and care of stock and poultry; and the best methods of producing wool and preparing the same for market."

The Board of Agriculture was also to give special attention to questions relating to the valuation and taxation of farm lands, to the variation and diversification in the kinds of crops and methods of cultivation and their adaptability to changing markets, and to ways and means and rates of transportation. In the Act of 1895, the Secretary was given the enforcement of all laws for the protection of forests, which jurisdiction was later vested in the Department of Forestry, and subsequently in the Department of Forests and Waters.

Since 1895 the various acts of the General Assembly have provided for many additional activities in the state's agricultural program, conferring upon the Department of Agriculture various duties and powers which were continued by the Administrative Code of 1923. The Code brought all laws relating to agriculture directly under the supervision of the department of enforcement. The organization of the department provides for coordination and cooperation with the Pennsylvania State University and the United States Department of Agriculture.

The Department of Agriculture administers its chief functions through its various bureaus, boards and divisions. Summarized statement of activities follow.

✓ The Bureau of Animal Industry is a regulatory body charged by law with the prevention, control and eradication of transmissible diseases of domestic animals and poultry.

The bureau is divided into six divisions: Laboratory, Dog Law, Miscellaneous Diseases, Meat Hygiene, Brucellosis and Tuberculosis.

The Laboratory Division consists of a central laboratory at Summerdale, near Harrisburg, and five regional laboratories which have been established at the College of Agriculture, The Pennsylvania State University; the New Bolton Center, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, near Kennett Square in Chester County; Tunkhannock, Wyoming County; Butler, Butler County and the National Agriculture College near Doylestown. The Summerdale Laboratory carries out the most work and performs all the agglutination tests on blood samples for the diagnoses of brucellosis, rabies and other special tests are conducted at Summerdale. The role of the Regional Laboratories is basically the diagnoses of poultry and other farm animals and to perform other incidental work.

The Dog Law Division consists of officers who enforce the law requiring the licensing of dogs and provide for the protection of livestock and people from attacks of uncontrolled dogs; the division appraises and determines values of damages done by dogs and pays damages to owners of livestock and poultry.

The Miscellaneous Disease Division supervises the control and eradication of all diseases in livestock and poultry, with the exception of Tuberculosis, Brucellosis and Paratuberculosis. This includes the control of Rabies in dogs and other species of livestock and wildlife vectors, diseases of swine such as hog cholera, swine erysipelas, vesicular exanthema, atrophic rhinitis and parasitic diseases, trichinosis, vibriosis, leptospirosis, anaplasmosis and other diseases of cattle.

Practicing veterinarians are constantly alerted as to the possible danger of the introduction, either by accident or sabotage, of diseases foreign to this country, such as foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest in cattle and fowl plague in poultry.

The Meat Hygiene Division supervises and controls sanitary conditions in slaughter houses and meat markets; conducts ante- and post-mortem examinations of food animals, and provides inspection of meat and meat food products that might affect their wholesomeness for human consumption; administers the laws requiring licenses for livestock dealers and brokers, abattoirs, horse slaughtering establishments, disposition of dead animals and provides for the inspection of livestock offered at community sales.

The control and eradication of Brucellosis are functions of the Brucellosis Division. All of the counties, and consequently the state, has earned a status of being Modified Certified Brucellosis Free, and in order to maintain this rating, the division carries out a number of programs. Free vaccinations against this disease are furnished by the Commonwealth for calves in order to immunize them against Brucellosis. The testing program is carried out in two basic parts: every six months milk samples are checked from the dairy plants throughout the Commonwealth and are tested for the presence of Brucellosis. If there is an indication from a milk sample that the herd is diseased, blood samples are then drawn from each animal in the herd. For the owners of animals and herds who are not selling milk to dairy plants, a blood sample is taken from each animal every three years.

The Tuberculosis Division has a definite schedule of county wide tuberculin retests of all cattle, either on a three- or six-year basis. If the percentage of infection is 2/10 of one percent or less, the county is retested every six years, and if it is over 2/10 of one percent but less than 5/10 of one percent, the county is retested every three years. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is a Modified Accredited Tuberculosis-Free area. Straight slaughter cattle showing lesions of Tuberculosis on post mortem reports are traced to the herds from which they originate, and the herds are placed under quarantine and tuberculin tested until they have passed three negative tuberculin tests.

All disease control and eradication programs in Pennsylvania are given full support by practicing veterinarians of the Commonwealth. Bureau veterinarians, when requested, hold consultation with practicing veterinarians in aiding them in the diagnosis of animal or poultry diseases.

Bureau of Foods and Chemistry. Two chief functions assigned to the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry are: safeguarding of the public health through rigid supervision of the food supply; and the prevention of fraud and deception in the manufacture, distribution and sale of food and food products and materials used for agricultural purposes.

These functions are performed through enforcement of the General Food Law of the Commonwealth which protects consumers in Pennsylvania against adulterated, misbranded, harmful, deleterious, or unwholesome food by sampling, analyzing, and, where warranted, instituting prosecution against the violator. This statute is reinforced by special legislation applying to many types of food, a few of which are for bakery products, butter, carbonated and still non-alcoholic drinks, coffee and chicory, cream, eggs, fruit syrups, ice cream, lard, meat, milk, oysters and sausage.

Through the Milk Sanitation Division, the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry supervises the operation of dairy plants throughout the state. Control is also maintained over the inspection of all farm facilities used in the production of milk. The division also supervises laboratories engaged in the bacteriological examination of milk and milk products.

In addition, the bureau is charged with enforcement of the agricultural products law, covering fertilizers, feeding stuffs, liming materials, insecticides and fungicides, linseed oils, paints and naval stores. These laws are designed to prevent deception and to maintain standards and quality.

The bureau regulates, and issues licenses for, the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine; it licenses and regulates egg-opening plants, carbonated beverage and still drinks plants, bakeries, ice cream plants, and cold storage warehouses, and maintains regular systematic inspections thereof.

The bureau also protects manufacturers, importers, selling agents, and ultimate users of feeding stuffs, fertilizers, liming materials used for agricultural purposes, linseed oils, paints, putty, turpentine, and insecticides and fungicides, by means of periodical inspections and analyses, prosecutions where warranted, and by the publication of the results of the analyses of the first three commodities named. It provides for registration of feeding stuffs, fertilizers, liming materials, and insecticides and fungicides by animal license.

Bureau of Markets. The major function of the Bureau of Markets is to assist producers of farm products to promote efficient marketing in every way possible, chiefly for fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs and potatoes. The bureau also is responsible for enforcement of certain laws pertaining to agricultural marketing cooperatives.

These objectives are obtained through furnishing advice and assistance with reference to the marketing of farm products; by compiling and distributing timely information concerning the supply, demand, prevailing prices, and commercial movement of farm products; by assisting in the organization and conduct of public markets and cooperative marketing associations; by establishing standards for grading of the principal farm products and maintaining an inspection service which assures the purchaser of a high quality product; and by certification of the grades of farm products at farms, shipping points, receiving points and canneries to meet the needs of intrastate, interstate and foreign commerce.

Enforcement of the state fresh egg law and baby chick regulations is handled by the Bureau of Markets. The licensing of dealers in agricultural products is a function of this bureau. It also enforces the apple, peach, grape, and potato marketing laws.

The Official Pennsylvania Egg Laying Test has accommodations for ninety-nine pens of birds. It is now (1959-61) in its 28th year. Through this annual test and a flock selection service the bureau assists in promotion of the state's outstanding poultry industry.

Bureau of Plant Industry. The Bureau of Plant Industry is charged with the duty of inspecting nurseries, orchards, farms, gardens, parks and similar places, both public and private, for the presence of plant pests. The bureau may establish and enforce plant pest control quarantines, enforce orders and regulations, and make investigations for the control of these pests. Control of such plant pests as the Japanese beetle, gypsy moth, oak wilt, potato wart, and several other destructive insects and diseases are problems of this bureau.

Annually, all the nurseries in the state growing plants for sale for distribution are inspected, and if found free from serious pests are so certified. Nurserymen located in other states are required to file certificates with the bureau before they may legally sell plants within the state. Persons dealing in nursery stock and taking orders for nursery stock are, after examination, issued permits.

The bureau inspects the apiaries of the state for the control of bee diseases, and enforces the laws relating to beekeeping.

Each year the Bureau checks for purity and germination the agricultural and vegetable seeds offered for sale in the state. These include such important crops seeds as clover, timothy, corn and the small grains. Purity examinations and germination tests are made of farm crop seeds for individuals requesting such service.

Growing farm crops are inspected for purity of variety and freedom from disease to provide an adequate supply of superior seed for the farmers of the state. Such crops, after passing rigid requirements, are certified for seed purposes. State certified seed thus made available includes wheat, hybrid corn, oats, barley, potatoes, soybeans, tobacco, tomatoes and peppers.

Field tests are made of certain insecticides and fungicides which may be offered for sale in the Commonwealth. This work is carried on in cooperation with the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry in enforcement of the Insecticide Act.

Information is given to citizens of the Commonwealth concerning the identify and control of harmful insects which may attack man, other animals, stores products, or which may invade buildings or property. Studies are made to determine the value of beneficial insects or other organisms which may contribute to the control of plant pests.

Plant specimens are identified; field surveys are made for the presence of certain plants, particularly those which may be harmful to man or poisonous to livestock, or may become serious weeds; herbarium and insect specimens are collected for study, identification and preservation in state collections.

Crop Reporting. From weekly and monthly reports rendered by hundreds of volunteer crop correspondents throughout the state, the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service assembles and disseminates essential statistics and facts pertaining to the agriculture of the state. The information gathered is of such character that it assists the producer in his sales and at the same time provides an effective aid to all industries which deal in agricultural products.

This division cooperates with Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture in crop and livestock reporting and publishes summaries of the data, as follows: An annual "Crop and Livestock Report" giving county estimates; semi-annual reports on the pig crop; quarterly reports on grain stocks in all positions; monthly national and state reports on crops, livestock, livestock slaughter, hatcheries, dairy and poultry products, prices received and paid by farmers; special seasonal reports on potatoes, fruits, grapes, tobacco and truck crops; periodic reports on honey, maple products, potato stocks, grass seeds, and farm real estate, and occasional reports on turkeys, broilers, feeder cattle, farm income, and agricultural outlook.

In cooperation with the United States Weather Bureau and the Agricultural Marketing Service, the division compiles and releases a weekly weather and crop report through the growing season, also weekly reports on hatchings and placements of broiler chicks and turkey poult. With the Department of Internal Affairs and the Agricultural Marketing Service cooperation is given in compiling and releasing an annual report of manufactured dairy products.

Public Information. All publications and public information materials and releases for the department, including a Weekly News Bulletin and the official periodic Bulletin of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, are cleared through the Division of Public Information.

Comptroller's Office. The comptroller is the chief fiscal officer of the department, in charge of accounting procedures. He keeps the books of accounts, prepares periodical financial and statistical statements and interprets them to the secretary and all other levels of management, prescribes accounting procedures for departmental activities, prepares background material for all cases which appear to be in conflict with legality or propriety. He is responsible to and appropriation and allotment requests, examines commitment and expenditure requests, reporting reports to the Governor through the Secretary of Administration, but in the ordinary conduct of day-to-day transactions he is under the direct supervision of the Secretary of Agriculture.

State Farm Products Show Commission

The General Assembly of 1927 created by the State Farm Products Show Commission of nine men who are charged with the responsibility of staging the annual Pennsylvania Farm Show and with the management of the Farm Show building and property. The commission consists of the Governor, Secretary of Agriculture (chairman), Dean of the School of Agriculture of The Pennsylvania State University, Director of Agricultural Extension of The Pennsylvania State University, one appointee each from the Pennsylvania State Department of Agriculture and the Department of Public Instruction, and three appointees of the Governor selected by him from six nominees who may be designated by the Farm Show Committee. The Farm Show Committee comprises representatives of the approximately 50 state-wide farm organizations in Pennsylvania.

State Soil Conservation Commission

Creation of the State Soil Conservation Commission in the Department of Agriculture was provided by the General Assembly of 1945 which repealed the 1937 act establishing a State Soil Conservation Board. The present act is known as the "State Soil Conservation Law of 1945." Commission members are the State Secretary of Agriculture, chairman; Secretary of Forests and Waters; Dean of the College of Agriculture, The Pennsylvania State University; and three farmer members appointed for two-year terms by the Governor from six nominated by the Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations.

The Act of 1945 provides for the establishment of county soil conservation districts by resolution of the Board of County Commissioners of any county when it is determined that conservation of soil resources and prevention of erosion are problems of public concern in the county and that a substantial proportion of rural land owners favor such resolution for the purpose of carrying out the policy and provisions of the Act. A County Soil Conservation District Board of Directors is appointed by the Board of County Commissioners. Farmer members, serving terms of four years each, are appointed by the county commissioners from a list of at least double the number of farmer directors submitted by delegates from each of the county-wide organizations designated by the State Soil Conservation Commission.

The 1945 Act is purely voluntary and aims toward conservation of soil and soil resources by control and prevention of soil erosion, maintenance of projects to safeguard and conserve local water supplies, assistance on a community basis in drainage projects, conservation of wild life, forest management, etc. The State Commission approves county plans, apportions any funds allotted from state or federal sources, takes responsibility for expenditures by county districts, and cooperates with government agencies. Chief among 12 listed powers and duties assigned county districts is responsibility for carrying out preventive and control measures within the county through cooperation with land owners on a voluntary basis.

As of December 1, 1959, the following 51 counties have been established as county-wide soil conservation districts: Adams, Allegheny, Bedford, Berks, Bradford, Cambria, Carbon, Centre, Chester, Clarion, Clinton, Columbia, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Erie, Fayette, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh, Lycoming, Mercer, McKean, Mifflin, Monroe, Montgomery, Montour, Northumberland, Perry, Pike, Potter, Schuylkill, Snyder, Somerset, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Westmoreland, Wyoming and York.

DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

The Department of Property and Supplies purchases equipment and supplies for every department, board, commission, and agency of the state government, including institutions supervised by the various departments of the Commonwealth; acquires, disposes of, and maintains Commonwealth-owned automotive vehicles; processes printing requests for all departments, boards, commissions, and agencies of the state government; processes all leases and conducts all real estate transactions for the Commonwealth with the exception of the acquisition of highway rights-of-way and park areas; acquires and administers all insurance and bonds required for the conduct of Commonwealth affairs; supervises the design and construction of Commonwealth-owned structures other than those financed by state authorities and reviews and approves building plans and specifications developed by the General State Authority; operates and maintains state-owned office buildings in Harrisburg, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh, including the provision of security forces for such buildings; distributes federal surplus foods and property; disposes of surplus state property; provides centralized electronic data processing services to all departments, boards, commissions, and agencies of the state government; and develops uniform purchasing standards and specifications for materials and commodities purchased by state agencies and tests items purchased or to be purchased for compliance with such standards and specifications.

The Secretary is by law a member of the State Public School Building Authority and the General State Authority.

The department is administered by a secretary and three (3) deputy secretaries. The organization of the department follows the natural grouping of functions for which the department is responsible, state properties, procurement and central services. A deputy secretary is responsible to the secretary for each of the three functional groupings of the department. In addition to the three deputies, the directors of the bureaus of Central Electronic Data Processing and Standards report directly to the secretary and as do the heads of the department's legal, management methods and publicity units.

The deputy for procurement is responsible for the bureaus of purchases, publications, automotive and surplus state property division. The directors of the bureaus of Real Estate and Insurance, Engineering and Construction, and Grounds and Buildings, report directly to the deputy secretary for state properties. The bureaus of administrative and general services as well as the bureau of Surplus Foods and Surplus Federal Property are the responsibility of the deputy secretary for central services.

Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings

The Board consists of the Governor, Auditor General, and State Treasurer. Its powers are derived from the State constitution in The Administrative Code. This Board is responsible for final action on lease negotiations, sale of Commonwealth-owned automotive equipment, purchases where there is an absence of competitive bidding, as well as passing on a variety of transactions which are departures from established purchasing or contractual procedures.

State Art Commission

This Commission consists of five citizens of the Commonwealth appointed by the Governor. The Governor designates one member as chairman and another as secretary. The duties of this Commission include the examination and approval of the design and proposed location of all public monuments, memorials, buildings or other structures except for those in cities of the first and second class.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS

The Department of Forests and Waters acquires, controls, protects, and manages state forest lands; develops and maintains state parks; performs advisory services in technical forestry problems, assists private timberland owners in forestry matters; furnishes forest fire prevention and suppression measures to both state and private forest lands; develops and uses mineral resources on state forest lands; constructs emergency and permanent flood control projects; assists in the development of the state's harbors; provides technical advice on water problems; makes studies and records of stream flows; regulates the placing of encroachments and the design, construction and maintenance of dams in, along, across or projecting into all streams and bodies of water having a drainage area of one-half square mile or more; and allocates water to public supply agencies.

The present Department of Forests and Waters was created under the Administrative Code of 1923 and now operates under the Administrative Code of 1929 as amended in 1939. This Department emerged from the Division of Forestry in the Department of Agriculture and later the Department of Forestry as established in 1901, and the former Water Supply Commission.

The department is administered by a secretary, a state forester and a chief engineer.

The secretary is chairman of the State Forest Commission, Flood Control Commission, Water and Power Resources Board, Geographic Board Interdepartmental Committee on Natural Resources, and, by designation of the Governor, is president of the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River. He is also a member of the Sanitary Water Board, the State Planning Board, the Soil Conservation Commission, the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River, State Council of Civil Defense, the Commission on Interstate Cooperation, the Great Lakes Commission, the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River, the Delaware River Survey Co-ordinating Committee, and the Governor's appointee to the Joint Legislative Committee to study and examine various plans developed for distribution of water from the Delaware River. He is a member ex-officio of the Washington Crossing Park Commission, the Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission, the Valley Forge Park Commission, the Bushy Run Battlefield Commission, and the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission of Erie.

The organization, administered by a secretary, consists of the following divisions: accounts, land acquisition, legal, dams and encroachments, flood control, hydrography, administration, information and education, protection, forest advisory services, parks, and minerals.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES AND MINERAL INDUSTRIES

The Department of Mines and Mineral Industries was established as a separate department by the Act of April 14, 1903. Prior to that time it had been the Bureau of Mines in the Department of Internal Affairs.

The Secretary. The head of this department is the Secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries, who is appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to serve for four years and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified. The department is charged with the supervision of the execution of the mining laws of the Commonwealth and the care and publication of the annual reports of the mine inspectors and to transmit a synopsis of them, together with such other statistical data compiled therefrom, and other work of the department, as may be of public interest, properly addressed to the Governor.

The organization of the department, under the Secretary, consists of four deputy secretaries, fifty-six mine inspectors, six oil and gas inspectors, five electrical inspectors, six first-aid and mine rescue instructors and nine mining engineers together with the office organizations and the miscellaneous personnel required to fulfill the duties placed upon the department. The mine inspectors are appointees selected from a list of persons certified to the Governor by boards of examiners provided for by statute.

It is the duty of the Secretary to see that the mining laws of the Commonwealth are faithfully executed. He is to give such aid and instruction to the mine inspectors from time to time as he may deem best calculated to protect the health and promote the safety of all persons employed in and about the mines. He is authorized to make such examinations and investigations as may enable him to report on the various systems of coal mining and all other mining practices in the Commonwealth, methods of mine ventilation, the circumstances and responsibilities of mine accidents, and such other matters as may pertain to the general welfare of coal miners and others connected with mining, and the interests of mine owners and operators.

Mine Inspection. The mine inspectors are required, under the law, to give their whole time and attention to the duties of their office. They must see that every necessary precaution is taken to secure the safety of the workmen and that the mining laws are obeyed; give special attention to mines generating explosive gas and to other mines where unusual dangers may be suspected to exist; to keep in their offices a record of all examinations of mines; to keep a record of all fatal and serious accidents, showing the nature and cause thereof; and to make an annual report to the Secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries.

Each anthracite mine inspector is a member of the mine foreman's examining board appointed for his district. The board is required to examine applicants for mine foreman and assistant mine foreman certificates. Bituminous inspectors are appointed members of the mine foreman's examining board, which board examines applicants for mine foreman, assistant foreman, fire boss and electrician certificates. Bituminous inspectors, under the direction of the Secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries, are also required to examine applicants for shot-firer and mining machine runner certificates.

The department has three well equipped mine rescue and first-aid trucks located at strategic points in the coal regions. These trucks travel throughout the coal regions instructing mine workers in mine rescue and first-aid practices, and are used in case of emergency or catastrophe when they are rushed to the scene of the disaster.

Restoration, Sealing and Waste Disposal. The Bituminous Coal Open Pit Mining Conservation Act and the Anthracite Strip Mining Law, which require strip mine operators operating in the state of Pennsylvania to file bonds calculated at the rate of $300.00 for each acre to be affected, are administered by the Department of Mines and

Oil and Gas Division. The 1955 Session of the General Assembly enacted the Gas Operations, Well-Drilling, Petroleum and Coal Mining Act.

Coal Research. During the 1955 Legislative Session, a bill was introduced requesting an appropriation of $500,000 for the purpose of conducting comprehensive research studies and programs in the technology, economics and marketing of Bituminous and Anthracite coal, and their by-products, for the purpose of developing new uses and increased markets for coal mined in this Commonwealth. This bill was passed, and required the appointing of two Anthracite operators, two Bituminous coal operators, one representative of The Labor Collective Bargaining Agency from the Anthracite and a similar person from the Bituminous Region, with the Secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries as Chairman, to act as a Board and administer the research program. Grants were made from this appropriation to the Anthracite Institute in Wilkes-Barre covering research work on Anthracite only, Pennsylvania State University, for Anthracite and Bituminous research, the Bituminous Coal Research, Incorporated in Pittsburgh on Bituminous, and the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh on Bituminous. During the 1957 Legislative Session an appropriation of $25,000 was received and allocated for research work. These institutions are proceeding with these technical and complicated studies. The 1959 Session of the General Assembly approved of an appropriation of $375,000 to be used for this purpose. Another appropriation of $150,000 has been approved to be used in conducting research on the use of coal in road building materials. This is the first step made by the Commonwealth relative to research for its coal industries.

Revenues are available to the Department of Highways to carry on its work from three sources: motor vehicle registration fees, liquid fuels taxes;

State highway routes are established by legislative enactment which fixes the terminal points and the locations through which the highways pass. In addition, certain state highways may be established by the Secretary of Highways, in accordance with legislative authority, as follows:

1. The Secretary of Highways may, with the consent of the Governor, add to the state highway system any road leading from a state highway to any state property maintained as an historical park, or used for military purposes. The 1925 Session of the Legislature authorized the Secretary of Highways to accept on behalf of the Commonwealth certain roads located within the limits of the National Park at Gettysburg, where such roads formed a continuation of a state highway route, and specified that these roads should be constructed, reconstructed, and maintained under the general statutes governing state highways.
2. The Secretary of Highways is authorized to take over as state highways connecting roads one mile or less in length between two state highway routes under certain conditions.
3. The Secretary of Highways has the authority, with the approval of the Governor, to take over as state highways, roads and streets in cities, boroughs, and townships which parallel existing state highways to relieve congestion on state highways.
4. The Secretary of Highways has the power, with the consent of the Governor, in case he finds any part or portion of a state highway as described by law dangerous or inconvenient to the traveling public, either by reason of grades, dangerous turns, or other local conditions, or that the cost of construction or of maintenance could be reduced by divergence from the course defined by law, to relocate a state highway route, and the portion of the old road which is abandoned by the relocation may be declared vacated and closed to the public. In such case, the Secretary of Highways is authorized to construct and maintain spur or branch roads to reach all the points named in the legal description of the state highway route which has been relocated.
5. The Secretary of Highways is directed by statute to construct, reconstruct, and maintain roads designated as state highways, and also any bridges on state highway routes which were or should properly have been built by the several townships prior to the passage of the Act of May 31, 1911, P. L. 468 (The Sproul Highway Act).
The Act approved July 15, 1935, P. L. 1035, which amended the County Bridge Act of 1931, transferred to the Department of Highways the responsibility for all county and township bridges on state highway routes, except those in cities.
The Act approved July 12, 1935, P. L. 946, amended Section 10 of the Sproul Highway Act by transferring to the Department of Highways responsibility for borough-owned bridges over streams on state highway routes.
6. The Secretary of Highways is also authorized to improve or repair roads or highways lying within the area of state forest lands.
The Secretary of Highways is empowered, with the approval of the Governor, to establish the width, lines, location and grades of any state highway.
By the Act approved April 13, 1933, which amends Section 16 of the Sproul Highway Act approved May 31, 1911, P. L. 468, the Commonwealth is made responsible for property damages incurred by reason of change of lines or location of state highways, unless the county in which the highway is located agrees to assume such damages.
The Secretary of Highway has, under the Administrative Code, general supervision over all township highways and bridges constructed, improved, or maintained, in whole or in part, by the aid of state moneys, and to approve all contracts made by township supervisors for the expenditure of moneys appropriated by the state for road purposes. He may at all reasonable times be consulted by local officials and, when requested, shall advise and give information to such officials relative to the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges.

7. Under the Act of 1943, approved by the Governor May 21, the Secretary of Highways, to facilitate the war effort, upon the request of the Commissioner of Public Roads of the United States, is authorized to cooperate with the Public Roads Administration of the United States in the construction and maintenance of flight strips and roads and streets leading to or serving military or naval reservations and defense industries and enter into agreements with the Public Roads Administration for the payment of the costs of the same. The Secretary of Highways, with the approval of the Governor, is authorized to establish the widths of such roads, streets or bridges in excess of the width now provided by law, but not to exceed 200 feet, and may also lay out and establish flight strips to such agencies.

8. The Department of Highways has the power under the Act, approved May 27, 1943, to rent state-owned road building equipment to political subdivisions of the Commonwealth or to any agency, bureau or department of the federal government upon whatever term established by the rules and regulations of the department with the approval of the Governor.

The department may sell to any bureau, agency, or department of the federal government any road or bridge building material for which the department has no immediate need. The department shall publish maps showing complete surveys of each county, which shall be kept on sale in the department at the cost of publication. Maps may be furnished free to any agency, bureau or department of the federal government.

9. The Act approved May 21, 1943, provides that when highways or portions thereof are abandoned as state highways, they shall be maintained by and at the expense of the township, borough, incorporated town or city wherein it is located, but the Department of Highways shall in each case, before abandoning such portion of public road or highway, improve and repair the same so that it shall be in first-class condition when taken over.

10. The Department of Highways may, with the consent of the federal government, take over and adopt as state highways such public roads or highways taken over, located, extended or constructed by the federal government in the exercise of the war power, and thereafter maintain and reconstruct such highways as now provided by law.

11. The Department of Highways has the power to take and condemn rights-of-way over private property as agent for the federal government, where such rights-of-way are not a part of the system of state highways and where satisfactory provisions for reimbursement for the expenses thereof have been made by the federal government.

The 1945 Legislature enacted what is known as and is to be cited as the "State Highway Law." This Act is in reality a code of existing laws relating to roads, streets, highways and bridges; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws administered by the Secretary of Highways and by the Department of Highways relating thereto and which generally restates the laws referred to above. The effective date of the Act is June 1, 1945. The Act, while amplifying and expanding in some degree the powers and duties of the Secretary of Highways, is in the main a restatement of existing laws.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

The Department of Health was created by the Act of April 27, 1905, P. L. 312. It superseded the State Board of Health with largely increased powers. The basic Act has been modified to a certain extent by the Administrative Code of 1929. The Secretary of Health is the head of the department with full executive control. He is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for a term of four years, and is by virtue of office a member of the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure, Dental Council and Examining Board, Water and Power Resources Board, Anatomical Board, and Chairman of the Sanitary Water Board and the Advisory Health Board.

On June 21, 1957, the Executive Board approved a new organizational plan for the Department of Health which establishes six broad areas of administration—the executive office, the office of the deputy secretary, and the four bureaus of preventable diseases, local health services, environmental health, and public health nursing. Within the executive office are the staff functions of the comptroller and the office of the Secretary of Health. The office of the deputy secretary encompasses staff services to the department.

The remaining functions and operations of the Department of Health are carried on through the four bureaus. Preventable diseases involves the divisions of behavioral problems, maternal and child health, chronic diseases, dental health, communicable disease control, tuberculosis control and nutrition. Local health supervises the activities of the department's regional offices, and maintains a consultative and advisory relationship with municipal and county health departments. Environmental health is concerned with the control of environmental factors through the divisions of occupational health, sanitation, sanitary engineering and environmental safety. Public health nursing administers all nursing functions.

Advisory Health Board

It is the power and duty of the Advisory Health Board to advise the Secretary of Health on all matters as he may bring before the board, and to make such rules and regulations as may be deemed by the board necessary for the protection of the lives and health of the people. These regulations have the force of the law throughout the state.

Further responsibilities of the Advisory Health Board include the setting up of standards for county departments of health and the adoption of rules and regulations for personnel administration based on merit and fitness. The latter include standards of recruitment, selection, tenure, removal and working conditions. Qualifications are also prescribed by the board for professional, technical, and executive personnel, appointed or employed by the state Department of Health and by departments or boards of health of counties, or other political subdivisions.

Sanitary Water Board

The Sanitary Water Board administers the sewerage and anti-pollution laws of the state. The Department of Health, through the division of sanitary engineering, is the investigatory, recommending and enforcement agent of the board. Meetings are held once each month or at the call of the chairman. The Secretary of Health is chairman of the board.

Members of the board are the Secretary of Mines, Secretary of Forests and Waters, Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, and three members from the general public appointed by the Governor and approved by the Senate.

Legislative and Executive Powers

The state Department of Health has authority, subject to basic legislation, to enforce all statutes pertaining to public health and, in addition, the rules and regulations of the Advisory Health Board with regard to sanitation in general, public water supplies, water pollution, sewage disposal, public health nuisances, and communicable diseases.

The field agents necessary to carry out the above functions are organized on a regional basis, and they are appointed and paid by the state. They are to an extent a mobile force subject to change of station or to concentration in times of disaster.

Five counties are served by full-time county health departments. All other counties receive public health services directly from the state Department of Health except in those municipalities that maintain independent status.

In its administration of health laws and regulations, the department acts indirectly through local boards of health in cities, boroughs, and first and second class townships. These boards must enforce as a minimum the legislative health laws and regulations of the Advisory Health Board, but may in certain cases make the regulations more rigid through local ordinance. The 1951 Session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly permits county commissioners to establish county departments of health. This legislation is not mandatory. In the event county departments of health with staffs meeting the approval of the state Department of Health are established, the responsibility for public health work in any such county is turned over to the county department of health.

The department has a graduated control over the local boards, with power in certain classes of political units of abolishing the board and taking direct control, surcharging the expense to the municipality. The financial support of these local boards comes from the municipalities themselves.

It is the duty of the Department of Health to protect the health of the people of the Commonwealth, and to determine and employ the most efficient and practical means for the prevention and suppression of disease.

Office of the Comptroller. The comptroller of the department is advisory to the Secretary of Health on fiscal matters. This office is responsible for fiscal control in all matters. Monies appropriated by the Legislature and by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare are posted to account cards. Expenditures are then watched carefully to avoid overspending in any account.

The comptroller's office supplies regular accounting reports to all bureau or division heads and to the Secretary and deputy Secretary of Health as guides to the administration of their units.

Division of Planning and Evaluation. The division of planning and evaluation, established in 1957, is responsible to the Secretary of Health for the public health plan of the department. It provides help in planning in all program areas of the Department of Health. It formulates methods for determining the need for a given program; it helps plan programs to meet specific objectives; it evaluates programs while in progress and at their completion; and it provides better coordination of existing and new functions both within and outside the departments. This division advises the Secretary of Health on priorities for needed programs; has a major concern with studies, surveys and research activities of the department; provides consultation in the behavioral sciences and area planning, and cooperates with teaching or research institutions and governmental agencies in planning programs and research.

Division of Statistics and Records. The division of statistics and records coordinates the functions of the section of vital statistics and the section of statistical methods. The section of vital statistics is responsible for the collection, permanent binding, filing and indexing of records of birth, death, adoption, marriage, divorce, annulment of marriage and annulment of adoption.

Notifications of birth registration are forwarded to the mothers by the local registrars after the original birth certificate has been filed with the local registrar. The section of vital statistics issues certifications of birth and death records for the statutory fee of one dollar. In addition, plastic wallet-size birth cards are issued when an applicant indicates he would rather have such a card than the full size certification.

Division of Laboratories. The division of laboratories with its headquarters and central laboratory in Philadelphia, and branch in Pittsburgh, assists the department and the physicians of the Commonwealth in the investigation, diagnosis and control of diseases and conditions which are or may become of public health importance. It operates sections of general bacteriology, enteric bacteriology, tuberculosis, bacteriology of water, virology, serology, parasitology, entomology and mycology. The Virus Diagnostic Laboratory, Childrens Hospital, 1740 Bainbridge Street, Philadelphia, serves the department in the diagnosis of viral and Rickettsial diseases. No work is done in clinical chemistry since such work is hardly ever of public health importance.

Division of Civil Defense. The division of civil defense coordinates medical civil defense matters between the Department of Health and the State Council of Civil Defense. This coordination falls into the following major operational categories: (a) casualty, non-casualty and evacuee care, (b) blood program, (c) radiological defense, (d) biological warfare defense, (e) chemical warfare defense, (f) emergency sanitation, (g) health services.

Division of Professional Training. The division of professional training promotes, conducts or assists in training programs to meet the needs of the professional staff of state and local health agencies. Because public health is a comparatively new specialty among the professions employed in the department, it is necessary to provide public health training in addition to the basic education of the physician, dentist, nurse, engineer, sanitarian, health educator, nutritionist, statistician, bacteriologist or chemist. The program includes provision of graduate study in schools of public health; undergraduate study of public health nursing for staff nurses; authorization of single courses, on the campus or in extension, in subjects related to the individual's work, and in service training activities.

BUREAU OF PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING. The bureau of public health nursing conducts a generalized public health nursing service. The nurse performs such services in homes and clinics as will contribute to the health of the individual, the family, and thus of the community. Direct nursing service is given to patients on a demonstration basis.

Public health nursing services are used to implement the following programs of the department: tuberculosis control, venereal disease control, crippled children, cleft palate, convulsive disorders, rheumatic heart, child health, maternal care, communicable disease control, home accident prevention, migrant labor, and chronic diseases.

Consultation is provided to local agencies, school districts, nursing homes, county homes, hospitals, and physicians to interpret the scope of the various programs of the department and to coordinate these programs with local activities.

BUREAU OF LOCAL HEALTH. The bureau of local health is responsible for administering the various public health programs of the department throughout the state. Under full-time medical leadership, services in public health nursing, preventable disease programs, environmental health, and health education are directly provided to about 30 per cent of the state's total population through the facilities of seven major regional offices located at Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport, Meadville, Pittsburgh, Lewistown, Reading, and Philadelphia. Clinical and administrative office units are available to the public in every county not having a county department of health. Advisory and consultative services are available through the regional offices for municipalities having their own health department facilities. These services are also available to independent county departments of health that serve another 40 per cent of the state's total population.

BUREAU OF PREVENTABLE DISEASE. The bureau of preventable disease is comprised of several divisions, each of which is further subdivided into a number of sections. This bureau is responsible for the planning aspects of the administration of public health programs, including such studies and research as may be necessary to define program objectives, policies and functions.

Included in this preventable disease group are the divisions of maternal and child health, dental health, nutrition, communicable disease control, tuberculosis control, chronic diseases, and behavioral problems.

Division of Maternal and Child Health. The division of maternal and child health consists of six sections: preschool, school, orthopedic, heart, cleft palate, and the crippled children's hospital.

The preschool section maintains 171 child health centers, chiefly in rural areas, to educate parents in better methods of child care and to provide continuous health supervision of the preschool child.

The school health section carries out the department's responsibility in providing for health services to school children in the Commonwealth.

The orthopedic section provides clinic, hospital, convalescent, foster home care, and orthopedic appliances for crippled children under 21 years of age.

The children's heart section provides diagnostic services for children with, or suspected of having, rheumatic or congenital heart disease. The section also provides for surgical and hospital care for children with congenital heart disease.

The cleft palate section provides surgical, dental, and speech treatment for cleft palate children up to 16 years of age.

The crippled children's hospital provides hospital and surgical care for handicapped children who will benefit from such treatment, and whose families cannot provide such care elsewhere.

In addition, diagnostic and treatment services and hearing aids are provided by the division for children who are hard of hearing.

Division of Chronic Diseases. This division was created July, 1953, because of the growing problem of long-term illness and a larger population of older persons. The division consists of a section of cancer control and a section of heart and metabolic diseases.

The section of cancer control, reorganized in 1946, is cooperating with the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Dental Society, and the Pennsylvania and Philadelphia divisions of the American Cancer Society, Inc., in an overall cancer control program being conducted throughout the Commonwealth.

The section of heart and metabolic diseases is concerned with the program involving adult heart disease and metabolic diseases such as diabetes mellitus, obesity, and glaucoma.

Division of Behavioral Problems. The division of behavioral problems was created as part of the bureau of preventable disease on July 17, 1957. It consists of three sections, alcoholic studies and rehabilitation, narcotic control and traffic epidemiology.

The section of alcoholic studies and rehabilitation was established in accordance with Act 338 of the 1953 State Legislature to study the problems of alcoholism; to treat and rehabilitate persons addicted to alcoholic beverages; and to promote through educational programs the prevention of alcoholism as a disease.

The section of narcotic drug control was organized under the Pennsylvania Anti-Narcotic Act of July 17, 1917. It is responsible for the enforcement of and operates under the provisions of the previously cited act, as amended, and Act 281, the Dangerous Drug Act of December 28, 1955, and the current regulations pertaining thereto. The above acts regulate the prescribing, administering or dispensing of narcotic, barbituric acid compounds and other hypnotic or dangerous drugs.

The traffic epidemiology section was established December 3, 1958. Major functions of the section are to assist in developing medical standards for driver licensing, to evaluate the human factor in traffic accidents, and to act as a medical consultant to the Bureau of Highway Safety.

Division of Dental Health. The division of dental health has general supervision of the dental program in the public schools as provided by the School Health Act. Individual communities are encouraged to provide corrective dental services for children whose parents are unable to provide it for them, by giving limited financial aid. The division promotes and assists in the fluoridation of community water supplies for the purpose of controlling dental caries. Services are provided for a limited number of children with dentofacial deformities. Children with cerebral palsy and other handicaps receive aid when in need of dental care.

The dental hygiene section develops dental health education programs and provides consultative services for dental hygienists employed by the school districts.

Division of Communicable Disease Control. The division of communicable disease control consists of three sections, epidemiology, veterinary public health, and venereal diseases.

The section of epidemiology is responsible for the supervision of communicable disease work throughout the state and directly responsible for that carried on in the rural districts; the control of epidemics, the collection and analysis of communicable disease morbidity statistics, and for the supervision of municipal communicable disease control activities. With the cooperation of the Department of Public Instruction it enforces the school vaccination law.

The venereal disease section maintains clinics throughout the state for treatment of indigent cases and epidemiologic follow-up, with particular reference to sources of infection and contacts of disease carriers.

The section of veterinary public health was created in 1953 to initiate a veterinary public health program in the state Department of Health. Objectives of this section are to develop methods for the control, eradication and prevention of diseases in animals transmissible to man, as well as preventing such diseases, when present in animals, from being transmitted to man.

Division of Tuberculosis Control. This division has administrative and professional control of matters relating to tuberculosis in Pennsylvania.

This division operates four state tuberculosis hospitals having a total capacity of 2,625 beds as follows: Samuel G. Dixon State Hospital, 1,340; Lawrence F. Flick State Hospital, 677; Henry R. Landis State Hospital, 180; and the C. Howard Marcy State Hospital with 428 beds.

Mass chest x-ray surveys to discover tuberculosis and other chest abnormalities early are conducted on a continuous basis in 53 counties and on a biennial basis, depending upon the incidence of tuberculosis, in the remaining 14 counties. Under this program approximately 90 per cent of the population in the Commonwealth is given an opportunity to have a chest x-ray examination. The x-ray survey and tuberculin testing programs are closely coordinated in order that positive tuberculin reactors and their associates may have the advantage of a follow-up chest x-ray. In addition, special combined x-ray survey and tuberculin testing projects are conducted annually for school employees, inmates of mental, penal and other institutions, and low socio-economic groups.

During 1958 a new phase of the tuberculosis control program was established for the investigation, supervision and medical care of cases of tuberculosis or suspected tuberculosis in state mental, penal and other institutions.

The major objectives include continuing efforts in the early recognition of cases, prompt reporting, and isolation and treatment of active cases in hospitals or centers where the best facilities and professional staffs are available.

Eighty-two state tuberculosis clinics are operated, each in charge of one or more clinicians who are assisted by nurses of the bureau of public health nursing. Six pneumotherapy clinics are operated to provide treatment for selected cases who require this special procedure. In 1957 out-patient chemotherapy was inaugurated in the state tuberculosis clinics with 3,000 patients under clinical supervision.

Division of Nutrition. The division of nutrition is responsible for providing up-to-date facts on foods and nutrition to the people of the Commonwealth. Particular emphasis is given to a wise use of protective foods and diet plans for all age periods and all socio-economic groups for maintenance of health and to aid in recovery from disease.

BUREAU OF ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH. The bureau of environmental health, one of the major units in the Department of Health, consists of four divisions, sanitary engineering, occupational health, sanitation, and environmental safety. The activities of these divisions encompass all of the programs concerned primarily with the public health aspects of the environment, as they are affected by the conditions in which people live, work and play. The bureau of environmental health administers its preventive and control measures through seven state regional offices and from the central headquarters in Harrisburg.

Division of Environmental Safety. The division of environmental safety consists of the sections of accident prevention and housing hygiene.

The accident prevention section is concerned primarily with the planning instigation and integration of safety programs. It provides consultative and educational aid to professional and lay groups concerning safety, particularly where it applies to the environment.

Division of Occupational Health. The division of occupational health is concerned with the general health of people who work. Through research, the evaluation of occupational disease hazards and the making of recommendations for control, the incidence of occupational disease is reduced. Seven regional offices are operated by the division to provide free occupational health services to Pennsylvania industries, mines, radiation facilities, hospitals, institutions, and any installation where people are employed. The central laboratory is in Harrisburg. There are five sections—industrial hygiene, air pollution control, plant health services, radiation control, and employee health services.

Division of Sanitation. The division of sanitation is comprised of the general sanitation, food service sanitation, and vector control sections.

Program areas in environmental sanitation served by these three sections consist of food service facilities; schools, including public, private and parochial in districts of all classes; private and commercial recreational camps, parks, fair grounds, and transient housing facilities not classified as a hotel. Environmental health aspects of these programs include: food service sanitation, water supplies when obtained from a private source, individual refuse and waste disposal methods, insect and vector control, safety, lighting and ventilation.

Division of Sanitary Engineering. The division of sanitary engineering has five main sections, water supply, sewerage, industrial wastes, mine drainage, and staff services.

The responsibilities of the division include the supervision of public water supplies, entailing review of plans, supervision of operation and recommendations to the Secretary of Health for the issuance of permits.

The division acts as the administrative arm of the Sanitary Water Board in executing the clean streams program of the Commonwealth. This program involves the examination of plans for issuance of permits and the construction of sewerage and industrial wastes projects, as well as mine drainage and silt removal projects. The division supervises the operation of these projects, and makes stream and watershed surveys.

Under the Public Bathing Law of the Commonwealth, the division reviews plans for the construction and alteration of swimming pools.

During periods of emergency, such as floods, droughts and epidemics, the division applies its resources in assisting with the supervision of emergency sanitation measures.

The division administers federal and state grants to municipalities for sewage treatment works. The division carries out research related to its various programs.

Legal matters pertaining to the operation of the division are handled by Assistant Attorneys General assigned by the Department of Justice.

The field operations of the division are carried out through seven regional offices and two field offices located throughout the state.

Division of Business Management. The division of business management budgets departmental appropriations and monies allotted to the department by the Legislature and the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Within the division, the procurement section furnishes office and medical supplies to the department offices throughout the state and provides duplicating services.

The administrative services section is responsible for housekeeping services, state automobiles, and work simplification studies.

Division of Personnel. The division of personnel serves as a control point for all personnel actions within the department. These actions include advising on, reviewing, approving or disapproving, and initiating formal measures affecting personnel of the department such as appointments, discharges, promotions, demotions, transfers, leaves or absences, salary advancements, etc.

Division of Public Health Education. The division of public health education consists of the sections of community health, media, and public relations. Bureau of Employment Security. The Bureau of Employment Security is responsible for the operation of Pennsylvania's employment security program. This bureau became part of the Department of Labor and Industry on December 5, 1936, upon passage of the State's Unemployment Compensation Law.

This agency collects contributions from approximately 190,000 participating employers and deposits this money in the Federal Treasury in a separate unemployment trust fund. Under a benefit system, this money is paid to unemployed workers who fulfill certain eligibility requirements. The Pennsylvania program also participates in an interstate reciprocal benefit arrangement, which permits the employees of different states to claim benefits against the state where they were employed.

Job registrations, a qualifying condition in claiming unemployment compensation benefits, are accomplished through the Pennsylvania State Employment Service. The bureau operates the Pennsylvania State Employment Service through its 111 employment offices and 80 itinerant points located in appropriate areas throughout the state. The Employment Service operates on a six-point program which includes placement of the job seeker, special services to veterans, employment counseling and selective placement, labor market information, industrial services and cooperation with community groups. These services are provided without charge to the employer or applicant.

The employees of this bureau are selected under the law in accordance with provisions of a state merit system. Administrative costs of this agency are paid by federal funds under the Federal Social Security Act.

Bureau of Industrial Standards. The Bureau of Industrial Standards conducts investigations and makes surveys of industrial conditions for the purpose of developing and revising rules and regulations for the more complete enforcement of all laws for which the Department of Labor and Industry is responsible. It prepares and publishes in pamphlet form for distribution all rules and regulations of the department. It promulgates campaigns of education for the purpose of obtaining safe and sanitary conditions in industry. It makes investigations concerning industrial diseases and industrial health and sanitation. It conducts laboratory research and correlates and standardizes the results of all surveys and investigations in order to secure standard enforcement practice throughout the Commonwealth. Bureau of Mediation. The Pennsylvania Mediation Act of 1937 gives statutory authority for the work of the Bureau of Mediation. The bureau is established "To encourage the making and maintaining of agreements concerning wages, hours and conditions of employment between employers and employees by their representatives, and the settlement of controversies concerning the same by mediation and voluntary arbitration. . . . To effectuate this, the Bureau of Mediation is staffed with professionally qualified and impartial mediators bringing together the proper mixture of experience and education.

Federal law requires that the Bureau of Mediation be notified of the failure to conclude a new contract by either party to a collective bargaining agreement 30 days prior to the termination of such agreement. The bureau's services are then invoked by either of the parties or may be proffered on its own motion to aid in bringing about an amicable settlement in any dispute over the terms of an agreement.

In accordance with the Act establishing the Bureau of Mediation it is empowered to appoint an arbitrator where requested by the parties to a dispute to bring about a resolution of the dispute.

The bureau maintains a panel of competent arbitrators who are assigned to those disputes upon request.

The services of the Bureau of Mediation are provided on a voluntary basis. The law does not compel either party to an industrial dispute to submit such a dispute to mediation or arbitration.

Bureau of Research and Statistics. The Bureau of Research and Statistics, originally created to centralize department statistics relating to labor and industry, to organizations of employees, and to organizations of employers, collects, tabulates, compiles, classifies, analyzes, and publishes monthly and annually information on industrial accidents, compensation, building, and related subjects. This Act and its amendments, provides for the coverage of employees of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions under the old age and survivors insurance provisions of Title II of the Federal Social Security Act. Bureau of Women and Children. This bureau administers the five state laws that specifically regulate the hours, wages and other conditions of employment of women and young people. These laws, enacted by the Pennsylvania Legislature for the health, safety and welfare of employed women and children, are: The Women's Labor Law of 1913, Child Labor Law of 1915, Industrial Home Work of 1937, Minimum Wage Law of 1937 and Equal Pay Law of 1947, all since amended.

Through its field force of trained labor inspectors, the bureau inspects work places for compliance with these laws and enforces the standards through legal action if necessary.

The bureau develops specific standards and regulations to carry out the general standards established by law. For minimum wages this is done through Wage Boards representing the public, employers and employees.

It conducts educational activities on the standards and purposes of the laws and serves in an advisory capacity to employers, unions and citizen groups on ways to further improve conditions in women's and children's employment through voluntary action. From time to time studies are made of emerging problems that may call for new policy or action.

It is also charged with the prosecution of employers who fail to cover their risks properly.

The bureau also administers the occupational disease fund as to the Commonwealth's share of the liability in occupational disease cases.

Boards and Commissions

Advisory Board on Problems of Older Workers.

The Advisory Board on Problems of Older Workers advises the Secretary of Labor and Industry upon all matters relating to the problems of the aging and aged. It studies and investigates existing knowledge and programs related to the problems of the aging and aged to determine what measures can be taken to provide a better integration of this group into the economic life of the Commonwealth.

The board consists of nine members, not more than five of whom are from the same political party. The Secretary of Labor and Industry is the ex-officio chairman of the board. Members are appointed for four years.

The board maintains a paid staff which helps to establish specialized counseling and placement services, vocational training programs, research activities, and informational and educational programs in communities—all in connection with the improvement of economic opportunities for older persons. Recommendations are made to the Governor for legislative and administrative actions which will help older persons.

Apprenticeship Council. The Pennsylvania Apprenticeship Council is established administratively in the office of a deputy secretary of Labor and Industry. It encourages the development of apprenticeship programs; examines and approves standards of apprenticeship; approves apprenticeship agreements if such agreements are in the best interests of the apprentice; and issues journeyman certificates upon the completion of such training.

Fair Employment Practice Commission. Established in the Department of Labor and Industry to administer a program to assure that fair employment practices prevail for the citizens of the Commonwealth irrespective of their race, color, religious creed, ancestry, age or national origin.

The commission consists of nine members appointed by the Governor; the Governor designates one of the members as a commission chairman; five of the nine members constitute a quorum.

It is the responsibility of this commission to initiate, receive, investigate and pass on complaints charging unlawful employment practices; to hold hearings, subpoena witnesses, and to issue cease and desist orders if a solution has not been first accomplished through negotiation and persuasion. In the event of non-compliance the commission may secure enforcement through the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

The commission also conducts a program of research, study and publication designed to further good will between all racial, religious and nationality groups, and in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction is authorized to carry on a comprehensive educational program for the students of the schools in this Commonwealth and for all its citizens in order to eliminate prejudice against minority groups.

Industrial Board. The Industrial Board is an administrative board within the Department of Labor and Industry and consists of the Secretary of Labor and Industry, who is the chairman, and four additional members. One member represents employers, one represents employees, one represents women and one is a representative of the public. Three members of the board constitute a quorum.

The board has the services of four advisory boards, the Boiler Advisory Board, the Board on Elevators, the Buildings Advisory Board, and the Powder Actuated Tool Advisory Board. These boards consist of technical experts in their respective lines of activity.

The powers and duties of the board are: To meet at least once each month for the purpose of considering such matters as are brought before it or the Secretary shall request; to hold hearings with reference to the application, by the department, of laws affecting labor, upon appeal either of employers or employees, or of the public, and after such hearings to decide upon disposition of such appeals; to approve or disapprove rules and regulations established by the department, and to make suggestions to the department for the formulation of such rules and regulations; to interpret the intent of all department regulations; to approve all safety devices required to be approved by laws or regulations; to consider, study, and investigate the conduct of the work of the department.

Labor Relations Board. The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board was created by the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act of June 1, 1937, for the purpose of administering the policy of the Commonwealth of guaranteeing to employees the right to self-organization, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection. The board consists of three members, appointed by the Governor, one of whom is designated as the chairman.

The board is required to hear and determine complaints which charge employers of labor organizations with the commission of unfair labor practices and to determine petitions concerning the representation of employees for collective bargaining.

State Board for Vocational Education—Bureau of Rehabilitation. By virtue of Act No. 345 of the 1945 Session of the Pennsylvania State Legislature, the State Board of Vocational Education became a statutory agency. Its membership is comprised of the members of the State Council of Education and the Secretary of Labor and Industry. He is designated as its executive officer when the board sits on matters of vocational rehabilitation for the state bureau of rehabilitation. The board is designated under this Act as the agency responsible for the administration and supervision of vocational rehabilitation. In 1953 the State Legislature passed Act No. 166, which authorized the construction of the Pennsylvania Rehabilitation Center in Johnstown by the General State Authority. The Center is being administered by the bureau of rehabilitation since it was officially turned over to this agency by the Governor on April 16, 1959. The primary duty of the bureau of rehabilitation is to assist persons disabled as a result of industrial accident, public accident, diseases or congenital causes who are otherwise fit to engage in remunerative occupation. The bureau arranges for medical treatment including physical restoration by surgery, procures prosthetic appliances when necessary for handicapped persons and trains them for and places them in self-supporting jobs. It also provides maintenance for handicapped persons while undergoing training and places them in positions for which they are fitted. Disabled veterans are also eligible for the services of the bureau when all obtainable benefits from the Veterans Administration have been exhausted.

An agreement effective June 8, 1955, between the Bureau of Rehabilitation and the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance to carry out provision of Section 221 of the Social Security Act provides for the Bureau of Rehabilitation to make determination of disability on applications for disability benefits filed with the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

State Workmen's Insurance Board. The State Workmen's Insurance Board administers the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, which was created for the purpose of providing workmen's compensation insurance and is constituted from certain sums paid by employers for the purpose of insuring such employers against responsibility for compensation payments. Since the Act of May 17, 1921, P. L. 682, as amended, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund cannot issue, renew, or carry any policy or contract of insurance against liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act of 1915, as amended, except in accordance with the classifications underwriting rules, premium rates, and schedules proposed by rating bureau and approved by the Insurance Commissioner.

The board consists of the Secretary of Labor and Industry, who is its chairman, the State Treasurer, and the Insurance Commissioner. The board is required to set aside five per cent of all premiums collected, for the creation of a surplus, until such surplus shall amount to one hundred thousand dollars; and thereafter it may set aside such percentage not exceeding five per cent, as in its discretion it may determine to be necessary to maintain such surplus sufficiently large to cover the catastrophe hazard of all the subscribers to the fund, and to guarantee the solvency of the fund. The board has the authority to inspect the plant, workroom, shop, farm, mine, quarry, operation and all other property or premises of any subscriber, and shall be entitled to examine the books, records, and payrolls of any subscriber or prospective subscriber for the purpose of determining the amount of premium payable by such subscriber or prospective subscriber.

Workmen's Compensation Board. The Workmen's Compensation Board was created to hear and determine petitions and appeals from decisions of the referees in workmen's compensation cases.

The board consists of three members, appointed by the Governor, one of whom he designates as chairman. The Secretary of Labor and Industry is an ex-officio member.

Workmen's compensation referees are appointed by the Governor.

Upon the presentation of petitions, other than claim petitions, the board shall by general rules or special order, either direct them to be heard by one or more members of the board or assign them to a referee for hearing; with the exception of petitions for commutation and petitions on agreed facts which must first be directed to the attention of the board or one or more of its members.

The board, or any of the members thereof, and every referee is empowered to conduct any investigation which may be deemed necessary to ascertain the facts of any claim or other matter properly brought before such board, one or more members thereof, or referee.

Every member of the board and every referee is empowered to issue subpoenas, administer oaths, and summon witnesses at the request of either party to a petition, or of his own motion; and to require the attendance of witnesses, and the production of books and papers pertinent to any hearing, and to examine them and such public records as he may require in relation to any matter which he has power to investigate.

The members of the board, the secretary of the board, and all referees are directed to administer any oaths required, without charge, to the parties to any petition; and all certified copies of opinions or orders of the board, awards or disallowances of compensation, or modification thereof, or of receipts for payment of compensation shall be made by the Workmen's Compensation Board, or the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, as the case may be, without charge.

In the hearing of compensation cases, the Workmen's Compensation Board, the members thereof, and the Workmen's Compensation Referees shall perform their respective duties independently of the Secretary of Labor and Industry, but all clerical, stenographic and other assistants required by the Workmen's Compensation Board and the Workmen's Compensation referees are appointed by the Secretary of Labor and Industry, subject to the approval of the Governor.

Unemployment Compensation Board of Review. The functions of the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review, a departmental board, consisting of three members appointed by the Governor, are of a quasi-judicial and administrative nature. It is the responsibility of the board to supervise a staff of unemployment compensation referees in the processing of original appeals filed from benefit determinations rendered by the bureau of employment security as provided for under the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law. Further appeals filed from referee decisions rendered under the provisions of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law are decided by the members of the Board of Review after a review of the entire record established at both the referee and board levels.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE

The Department of Public Welfare was first established by the Act of May 25, 1921 (P. L. 1144). Previously, welfare activities were distributed among separate state agencies including the Board of Public Charities, the Commission on Lunacy, the Prison Labor Commission, and the Mothers' Assistance Fund. The administrative code further augmented and modified the powers and duties of the department.

By Act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051), the work of public assistance was centralized in the newly created Department of Public Assistance and the 67 County Boards of Assistance.

By Act of July 29, 1953 (P. L. 1428) supervision of penal and correctional institutions was transferred to the Department of Justice.

The Department of Public Welfare was recreated by the Act of July 13, 1957 (P. L. 852) which merged the former Departments of Welfare and Public Assistance, effective June 1, 1958.

The basic principle underlying the policies and services of the Department of Public Welfare is that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should assume a proper share in helping the people and the local communities do those things they cannot do for themselves. This principle has guided long range public welfare policies of fostering community service programs geared to prevention and rehabilitation, cure and treatment instead of custody and temporary amelioration of the economic and social distress afflicting the individual citizen or his family.

Administrative Reorganization Following the Merger. Beginning on June 1, 1958, when the merger became effective, the administrative structure of the formerly separated departments was integrated. All staff and management functions were combined and each operating program was established as a separate office under the supervision of a Commissioner.

Except for the Secretary, two deputies (one the Commissioner of Mental Health) and five other positions, all personnel in the central offices of the department, the Commissioners' staffs, and the county boards of assistance are selected from lists of eligibles established by competitive examination conducted by the State Civil Service Commission. In the institutions all technical and professional personnel are under Civil Service. The department's personnel practices are in accord with the rules and regulations established by the State Civil Service Commission.

Staff and management functions are now provided by an Office of Administrative Services, Office of Legal Services, Office of Program Research and Statistics, and Office of Public Information.

Advisory Bodies. The State Board of Public Welfare was established by Act of December 21, 1959 (Act No. 709) as an advisory body of the department. The same Act provided advisory committees for each of the six operating programs.

Office of Public Assistance

The responsibilities of the Office of Public Assistance are those formerly carried by the Department of Public Assistance and set forth in the Act of June 24, 1937, P. L. 2051. The office is responsible for the administration of a program of financial assistance and services to Pennsylvania residents who are without sufficient resources to provide for themselves and their dependents a decent and healthful standard of living. Funds for assistance payments and administration are obtained from state appropriations and federal participation in certain programs.

The public assistance program is administered locally by County Boards of Assistance. Board members are appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Senate and serve without pay. The boards employ local personnel who determine eligibility and authorize assistance in accordance with the policies established by the department. The boards administer funds allocated by the department; hear appeals from persons requesting review of staff decisions; formulate local assistance policies and interpret their work to the public.

The Office of Public Assistance exercises general supervision over the County Boards to assure that assistance is administered in accord with the department's rules and regulations and with reasonable uniformity throughout the state. Funds for assistance and administration are allocated to the County Boards according to their needs.

Public Assistance Program. There are five types of assistance payments administered by the department and County Boards:

1. Old Age Assistance for persons 65 years of age and over.
2. Aid to Dependent Children for children under 18 who are living with a parent or other relative but are lacking the support or care of one or both parents.
3. Aid to Disabled for disabled persons between the ages of 18 and 65.

universities and state institutions. It also provides liaison with the Commonwealth Mental Health Foundation and psychiatric institutes.

Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute. Created by an enabling act of the Legislature in 1949 and officially opened on May 16, 1956, this institute is the state's newest training and research center in mental illness. While offering some short-term treatment, the emphasis of its work is to investigate the nature of mental illness and to develop techniques for healing, research and professional education. The training program includes under-graduate courses for medical students and post-graduate studies and training in all the allied disciplines. Residencies are available in both adult and child psychiatry. The institute's buildings are on a 19-acre tract at Henry Avenue and Abbottsford Road, Philadelphia.

Commonwealth Mental Health Research Foundation. This foundation was established by an Act of May 21, 1956 (P. L. 1642), to support and finance—from public funds and private donations—research and training in mental health. The foundation also is authorized to guide and direct the Commonwealth's research and training programs. It is administered by a board of trustees which receives recommendations from a professional advisory committee composed of psychiatrists and scientists.

Office for Children and Youth

The basic function of this Office is to promote high standards of local, public and private child welfare services. While it has mandated responsibility for the supervision of agencies and institutions caring for children away from their own homes, it encourages programs designed to prevent family break-down and to keep children in their own homes. The Office carries out the department's responsibilities in the prevention of delinquency and in the care of young people who have been adjudged delinquent.

The years of childhood and adolescence are vulnerable years, and the Office for Children and Youth has the task of safeguarding the welfare of children when their circumstances are such as to warrant state intervention on their behalf. It carries out this task through the exercise of supervisory and licensing powers, administration of federal and state funds appropriated for child welfare purposes, operating state-owned training schools and forestry camps for delinquent youth, and offering technical advice and assistance to organizations and communities interested in problems of child welfare.

Bureau of Family and Child Welfare. Field staff of this bureau supervises approximately 500 public and private child caring agencies and institutions, including the application of special standards to agencies engaging in adoption placement. A special service staff provides consultation on aspects of child care and on in-service training methods. The bureau negotiates with county commissioners on the reimbursement program.

Bureau of Youth Services. Created to carry out duties given the department by the several Acts of the 1955-56 session of the General Assembly, this bureau is concerned exclusively with the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency. It offers consultation to juvenile courts, police forces and community agencies. It operates three youth development centers and two youth forestry camps, and also supervises twenty-one public and private institutions for juvenile delinquents.

Office for the Aging

In creating this Office as a separate instrument in 1956, the Department of Public Welfare demonstrated its deep interest in a rapidly increasing segment of the population and in the problems of the individuals in this group. The Office's objectives are to raise the standards of institutional care and to encourage communities to develop programs which will help elderly persons achieve or maintain an active part in community life.

Bureau of Community Consultation. Through its consultants, this bureau works with public and private agencies to promote wide understanding of the special needs of the aging and to encourage the establishment of recreation, housing, casework, employment and homemaker programs.

Bureau of Standards and Supervision. The department's legal responsibility for the inspection, licensing and supervision of nearly 1,000 nursing, convalescent and commercial boarding homes, county homes and non-profit homes for the aged is carried out by the field staff of this bureau. Through special consultation, training opportunities, and other means the bureau promotes programs of physical rehabilitation rather than custodial care.

Office for the Blind

The purposes of the Office for the Blind as established by the Legislature are: "... to formulate a general policy and program for the prevention of blindness, and for the improvement of the condition of the blind in this Commonwealth."

Through its central office staff and six district offices, this Office works to provide the blind and visually handicapped person with those services necessary to enable him to overcome and compensate for his handicap. The objective is a normal and independent life for the blind individual and his acceptance in the economic, social, political and cultural life of the community. Programs for the prevention of blindness are developed by an increased public awareness of the causes and symptoms of eye ailments, early diagnosis and treatment, and the use of eye safety measures.

The Office for the Blind provides leadership, guidance and coordination of all work for the blind. It provides funds to private agencies to encourage them to develop expanded programs where needed. It acts as an agent for the Library of Congress in coordinating the distribution of talking book machines in the state. It reviews medical data and makes disability determinations under the provisions of the federal Social Security Act.

Direct Rehabilitative Service to Blind Individuals. Pre-school counselling is provided to families of young children who are blind or severely visually handicapped. The families learn how to aid and encourage the fullest development of their child's abilities.

Home-teaching is provided to seeing people who become blind and must learn new ways of adjustment. Instruction and training is given in personal care, grooming, indoor and out-door travel, braille, typing, household management and crafts in order to develop self-reliance and physical independence.

Vocational rehabilitation services are provided to help blind people choose and prepare themselves for remunerative occupations. Services include vocational guidance, medical treatment, training, books, special tools and equipment and placement on a job. A business enterprise program to help blind persons run their own businesses is also conducted to rehabilitate blind persons.

Prevention of Blindness. Medical treatment is provided to needy persons who have visual defects when correction may lead toward the improvement, conservation, or restoration of vision.

A mobile eye clinic is sponsored jointly by the Office for the Blind and the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind to provide diagnostic screening to needy people in rural areas where such services are not readily available.

Consultation and information services are provided to develop eye-health programs.

Office of General and Special Hospitals

This office carries out the responsibilities of the Department of Public Welfare for the maintenance and improvement of standards of patient care in all hospitals in the state except mental hospitals and those operated by the Department of Health. It administers 10 state-owned general hospitals in association with their boards of trustees. Under the provisions of federal and state laws, it disburses federal funds for hospital construction.

Bureau of Hospital Standards and Supervision. Through consultation and inspection, the field staff of this bureau supervises over 300 private, proprietary and public hospitals providing general or special services. As required by law it licenses proprietary hospitals. The bureau develops and applies rules, regulations and standards for the operation of hospitals and in consultation with the Bureau of Survey and Construction approves plans for construction and major alteration.

Bureau of State-Owned Hospitals. This bureau provides intensive and specialized supervision and consultation to the state-owned general hospitals and on request to other hospitals. It reviews the plans of state-owned general hospitals for new construction or major alterations.

Bureau of Survey and Construction. In order to disburse federal Hill-Burton construction funds, this bureau annually revises the Pennsylvania Hospital Plan and approves plans and specifications for construction and major alteration of all hospitals. Under the federal programs, it schedules and follows the progress of building projects, audits their construction accounts and certifies them to the federal government for payment.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

The program of the Department of Commerce is primarily a program of economic development for the entire Commonwealth. Within the department are bureaus charged with Industrial Development, Community Development, Tourist and Travel Development and Business Services.

Two major factors are emphasized in the department's service operations: (a) the economic redevelopment of chronic areas of unemployment throughout Pennsylvania, and the creating of new employment and business opportunities, (b) the effort to secure for Pennsylvania her full share of the nation's industrial growth and expansion of business.

The department with its major bureaus is staffed with trained technicians offering service to industry and to groups whose major interests center about Pennsylvania's economic betterment. These groups are the community industrial development organizations, utilities, railroads and industrial realtors.

The establishment of Department of Commerce regional offices in Pittsburgh, Erie, Scranton, and Philadelphia for southwestern, northwestern, northeastern, southeastern Pennsylvania, respectively, provides a liaison between the department's activities and the activities of communities, local planning commissions, urban redevelopment authorities, industrial development organizations and industrial development departments of utilities and railroads.

The department is administered by the Secretary of Commerce, appointed by the Governor by and with the consent of the Senate. The secretary is also chairman ex-officio of the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority and ex-officio member of the Pennsylvania State Planning Board.

Acts No. 50 and No. 51 of the 1939 General Assembly, created the Department of Commerce and charged it with the duty of "the promotion and development of business, industry and commerce in the Commonwealth." Act No. 51 was known as the "Commerce Law," and was approved May 10, 1939. It was amended in 1941, 1945 and again in 1955 with respect to responsibilities in the fields of urban redevelopment and industrial development.

The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority Act (Act of May 17, 1956, Act No. 537) names the Secretary of Commerce as chairman and chief executive officer of the Authority Board. This act also directs the Department of Commerce to provide staff services to the authority for administration of the act, including liaison between the authority and industrial development agencies, and related organizations, and between the authority and other agencies of the Commonwealth whose facilities and services may be useful to the authority in its work.

The Department of Commerce is directed to administer the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Assistance Act (Act of May 31, 1956, Act No. 635). Under this Act grants are provided on a matching fund basis for the use in studies, surveys, planning and promotional programs related to industrial development on a county level. On the passage of the Act, one million dollars was appropriated by the General Assembly. In 1959 an additional four hundred thousand dollars was appropriated to continue the program.

The department, in carrying out the provisions of the act, receives applications and makes grants to recognized agencies, providing state aid to equal that raised by non-profit industrial development agencies within a particular county. Approval of the programs and supervision of their administration and a review of their programs are charged to the Department of Commerce.

The more important sections of the basic Commerce Law are:

Section 2. For several years an acute economic emergency has existed in certain parts of this Commonwealth, threatening the health, public safety, welfare and future prosperity of the people. Thousands of our citizens are without employment through no fault of their own, and appropriations required for their assistance are a heavy burden on the Commonwealth and her people. Such economic conditions demand the adoption of a public policy and an administrative program to alleviate these conditions and prevent their recurrence, which can be remedied only as business, industry and commerce are encouraged, rehabilitated, developed, and expanded, and only as the Commonwealth's communities and regions solve their physical development problems and make themselves attractive, convenient and economical areas in which to live and work. It is necessary that a department be empowered to effectuate such a program. Accordingly, the powers and duties hereinafter enumerated in this act are vested in the Department of Commerce.

Section 3. The Department of Commerce shall have the power, and its duty shall be:

(1) To investigate, study and undertake ways and means of promoting and encouraging the prosperous development and protecting the legitimate interests and welfare of Pennsylvania business, industry and commerce, within and without the Commonwealth.

(2) To investigate, study and undertake ways and means of expanding markets and promoting and developing new markets for Pennsylvania products.

(3) To promote and encourage the location and development of new business, industries and commerce within the Commonwealth.

(4) To investigate and study conditions affecting Pennsylvania business, industry and commerce, and to collect and disseminate information, and engage in technical studies, scientific investigations and statistical research, and educational activities necessary or useful for the proper execution of its duties in promoting and developing Pennsylvania business, industry and commerce within and without the Commonwealth.

(5) To cooperate with and assist persons, firms, associations, corporations, cooperative associations and other organizations, and the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth, in the execution of its duties and functions under this act.

(6) To make to the General Assembly, from time to time, recommendations for the remedy or improvement of any conditions, and the elimination of any restrictions and burdens imposed by law, or otherwise existing, which adversely affect or retard the development and expansion of business, industry or commerce.

(7) To initiate, promote and conduct, or cause to be conducted, research designed to further new and more extensive uses and consumption of natural and other resources and their by-products; and, for such purposes, to enter into contracts and agreements with research laboratories maintained by educational or endowed institutions in this Commonwealth, and to expend appropriations made to the department for such purposes.

(8) To investigate and study conditions of unemployment, and to recommend specific remedies for the alleviation of such conditions, and aid in restoring employment in communities affected thereby, in order that the burden of public relief may be lessened.

(9) To aid and promote the elimination of unfair competition and trade practices tending to impair price stability and which are harmful to the financial soundness of business, industry and commerce, and to the wages and working conditions of employees.

(10) To encourage and develop commerce with other states and foreign countries, and to devise ways and means of removing trade barriers hampering the free flow of commerce between this and other states.

(11) To cooperate with interstate commissions engaged in formulating and promoting the adoption of interstate compacts and agreements helpful to business, industry and commerce.

(12) To provide planning assistance and to do planning work including surveys, land use studies, urban renewal plans, technical services and other elements of comprehensive planning programs in and for any counties, cities, boroughs, townships, towns or regions, and for the purpose to accept and utilize any funds, personnel or other assistance made available by the Federal Government or any of its agencies or made available from any other source, public or private, and notwithstanding the provisions of any other law and for the purposes of receiving and using Federal planning grants for provision of urban planning assistance to serve as the official State planning agency of the Commonwealth and to those ends to enter into agreements or contracts regarding the acceptance or utilizations of such funds or assistance for any of the purposes authorized by this act.

(13) To cooperate with county, municipal, and regional planning commissions, zoning commissions, park and recreation boards, community development groups and similar agencies created for the purposes of aiding and encouraging an orderly, productive and coordinated development of the State, and encourage and assist in their creation, and also to cooperate with planning boards and similar bodies of other states and of the Federal Government, in formulating comprehensive regional plans and in the solution of regional problems. The department shall cooperate with and enlist the support of civic bodies, corporations and individuals in the attainment of these and similar objectives.

(14) To study housing conditions and needs throughout the Commonwealth, and devise ways and means of eliminating conditions of bad housing, such as slums or unsafe, unsanitary, inadequate, or overcrowded dwellings, or a combination of these conditions, accompanied and aggravated by an acute shortage of decent, safe, and sanitary dwellings, and of securing economies in the construction or renovation of dwellings so that additional safe, and sanitary houses may become available.

(15) To collect or develop and distribute information relating to housing, to improve methods of construction, planning and financing of housing, to the administration of public housing authorities, and to the construction, maintenance, and operation of projects by such authorities.

(16) To suggest and assist in the preparation of legislation relating to housing conditions and needs, building codes, health and sanitation standards and advise and assist municipalities in the formulation of ordinances relating thereto.

(17) To develop, administer or assist in the administration of any State program for the providing of housing.

(18) To exercise such jurisdiction and powers of supervision over housing authorities and their projects, as provided for in this act or as otherwise prescribed by law.

(19) To encourage, approve, supervise, and control the organization and operation of limited dividend housing companies and their projects.

(20) To recommend or approve areas, which areas may be within, adjacent to, or separate and apart from, areas of bad housing, as designated by the department, within which the development of housing projects by limited dividend housing companies may be undertaken.

(21) To cooperate with local or regional housing officials, agencies or authorities, as well as with those of other states and of the Federal Government.

(22) To promulgate rules and regulations to enforce and effectuate the purposes of this act.

Section 4. The Department of Commerce, in order to promote and develop business, industry, and commerce in the Commonwealth, shall have the power, and its duty shall be, to plan and conduct a program of information, advertising and publicity relating to the business, industrial, commercial, agricultural, educational, recreational, scenic, historic, highway and residential facilities, advantages and attractions of the Commonwealth, including any political subdivisions thereof, which may include newspaper, magazine, outdoor and radio advertising, both within and without the limits of the Commonwealth. The department shall encourage and, so far as it is practicable to do so, coordinate the activities of persons, firms, associations, corporations and other organizations engaged in publicizing and promoting such facilities, advantages and attractions of the Commonwealth, or any political subdivisions thereof.

In administering many of the State Planning Board functions now transferred to the Department of Commerce under Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1955, the department may exercise the right of eminent domain and may hold public hearings (with all actions of the department subject to the right of adjudication procedure and appeal.)

The department also may require a housing or redeveloping authority to file periodical reports covering that agency's operations or activities.

*The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority

Closely related to the basic aims of the Bureau of Industrial Development and an outstanding example of Pennsylvania's new approach to general economic development is the creation of the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority. PIDA, as it is commonly referred to, has received nation-wide attention. It has provided a new and unique opportunity for community-state cooperation to encourage greater industrial growth within Pennsylvania.

With an initial 5-million dollar appropriation from the 1955 General Assembly, increased by $3 million in 1957, and $10,620,000 in 1959, the authority makes loans to community non-profit industrial development corporations in labor surplus areas. The loans are made as second mortgage loans of up to 30 per cent of construction cost of a new or expanding industrial plant.

Before loans are made, the local non-profit group must raise at least 20 per cent of the cost of the project and have a responsible industrial user committed in advance to lease or purchase and operate the plant. A firm commitment for a first mortgage loan from other sources, usually bank mortgages, provides the balance of the project financing. A 2 per cent interest rate on its loans has been set by the authority and 25 years has been established as the maximum term of the loans.

The affairs of the authority are guided by an 11-member board of directors. Seven members represent the general public and four are ex-officio members from the Governor's Cabinet. These include the Secretaries of Banking, Labor and Industry, Internal Affairs and the Secretary of Commerce, who serves as board chairman and chief executive officer.

The citizen members are: J. Robert Baldwin, President, Baldwin Brothers Construction Co., Erie; Victor C. Diehm, President, Hazleton Broadcasting Company, Hazleton; Asbury W. Lee, III, President, Clearfield Trust Co., Clearfield; Thomas L. Moran, General Manager, Scranton Times, Scranton; Hon. J. Dean Polen, Avella; Max F. Balcom, Director-Consultant, Sylvania Products Corp., Emporium; Francis X. McBrearty, Manager, Industrial Development Department, Reading Railroad, Philadelphia.

Bureau of Industrial Development. The Bureau of Industrial Development has as its major aim the strengthening of the industrial stability and the economic growth of the Commonwealth. The Bureau has two divisions: Plant Location and Research. In addition to working directly with company officials charged with responsibility in plant expansion and plant location, the trained personnel of these two divisions provide professional services to community industrial development organizations, industrial realtors, and the industrial development departments of utilities and railroads.

The staff of the plant location division solicits industrial prospects outside Pennsylvania, conducts prospect industries on Pennsylvania community inspection trips, services inquiring industrial prospects and maintains liaison with the various Pennsylvania organizations whose principal concern is industrial development.

The research division staff concentrates on the problems of industrial marketing, plant location economics, and area and regional studies. This staff provides industries and industrial engineering firms, as well as local chambers of commerce, utilities and railroads, with special economic data on plant location factors. In collaboration with outside consultants, industrial opportunity studies in specific product and industry fields are developed by the staff.

At the same time, the staff also works with technicians from other state agencies on problems of labor supply, minerals, forest products, production materials, and local and corporate taxation.

Bureau of Community Development. The Bureau of Community Development has the responsibility of stimulating and assisting efforts which will enable Pennsylvanians to enjoy the benefits and conveniences of improved housing, commercial and industrial establishments, community facilities, and general community environment. The bureau helps municipal, county and regional agencies to organize and maintain effective community development programs.

The bureau's Housing and Redevelopment Division administers the two programs developed in accordance with the provisions of the Housing and Redevelopment Law of 1949, as amended. The General Assembly appropriated initially $15 million for these purposes, of which not more than 30 per cent was available for redevelopment grants. An additional $5 million was appropriated in 1955 for redevelopment, $2.8 million in 1957 and $5 million in 1959.

Under the housing programs, the Commonwealth has made capital grants to public and private developers, after competitive bidding, totaling $10,227,271. The grants provided up to 35 per cent of the preoccupancy costs of 3,229 rental dwellings for middle-income families. These dwellings are in 35 projects located in 34 communities. Under the grant contracts, the division supervised the rents, operation and maintenance of these projects for 28 years. The division also receives annual operating and financial reports from all housing authorities in the Commonwealth.

In the redevelopment program, the division, as of December 13, 1959, had supervised the granting of $11,964,202 to aid in the financing of 55 redevelopment projects in 36 localities. The cost of acquisition and demolition of blighted properties in a redevelopment area, less the money received in the resale of the cleared land, equals the net project cost. The cost is shared by the Federal, State, and local governments. For each one dollar of local money spent to help pay for this cost, the Commonwealth generally makes a grant of one dollar and the Federal government a grant of four dollars. The Housing and Redevelopment Division provides continuing advice and guidance to local redevelopment authorities.

The bureau's Planning Division provides advice and guidance to community planning organizations on their program, budget, staff and regulatory ordinances. As of November, 1959, a total of 460 local, 18 regional and 23 county planning commissions had been organized in Pennsylvania. The division encourages the establishment of additional planning commissions and comprehensive planning programs.

In cooperation with the Federal government, the division administers the program for Urban Planning Assistance authorized by Section 701 of the Federal Housing Act of 1954, as amended. Under this program, the division uses Federal grants received by the Commonwealth to provide technical planning assistance to eligible Pennsylvania municipalities. Each municipality which participates in this program must agree to undertake and finance planning studies which will lead to the development of a comprehensive community plan and an active continuing planning program. The municipality pays half of the cost of the approved planning studies, while the Commonwealth pays the other half of the cost from the Federal grant.

As of November, 1959, the division was administering 140 urban planning assistance projects in 92 Pennsylvania municipalities. The technical planning studies were being completed under division supervision by 21 planning consultant organizations. The total cost of these projects will be about $1,018,900, which includes Federal grants of $506,700, State contributions for supervision of $88,400, and municipal contributions of $423,800.

Under provisions of the 1959 amendments to the Federal Housing Act, municipalities and counties with populations of less than 50,000 can apply to the Planning Division to participate in this program.

The bureau's Recreation Specialist works with municipalities, school districts, recreation commissions, and other agencies that sponsor and administer public recreation facilities and programs. He provides advice about the scope and content of recreation programs so that they meet the needs and interests of all age groups in the community. He furnishes information about the need for, acquisition, and development of indoor and outdoor recreation facilities, as well as the administration, staffing, and financing of recreation programs.

Approximately 1,200 Pennsylvania communities operated recreation programs during 1959. Of these, about 200 communities had some full-time staff working on the year-round programs; the rest operated primarily Summer recreation programs.

The Bureau of Community Development has published a series of manuals on planning powers and procedures for Pennsylvania communities.

Bureau of Vacation and Travel Development. The promotion of pleasure travel into Pennsylvania, the major function of the Bureau of Vacation and Travel Development, consists of two principal phases.

An 18-member Travel Industry Advisory Council, representing the many segments of Pennsylvania's tourist travel industry, assists in formulating and periodically reviews the overall program of the bureau. (The council's membership is listed in the Manual's personnel section for the Department of Commerce.)

One major phase of the program is promotion, publicity and advertising aimed toward the out-of-state traveler. The department conducts an extensive advertising campaign in many out-of-state metropolitan newspapers and national magazines, and prepares publicity stories and photographs for magazine writers and editors. Features are distributed regularly to travel editors of all major newspapers.

Preparation of printed literature and nationwide distribution of promotional material play an important part in the department's overall campaign of increasing Pennsylvania's estimated one-billion dollar annual tourist-travel business. The design and production of folders such as "Calendar of Tourist Events," "Sources of Pennsylvania Travel Information," "Pennsylvania's State Parks," etc., is undertaken within the department.

The department's tourist inquiry section answers an estimated 200,000 inquiries for travel information annually.

In replying to these requests, the bureau distributes over one and one-half million pieces of literature, much of which is furnished by community organizations and trade associations in the vacation and travel fields.

A Student Inquiry Section is operated in order to efficiently service the thousands of requests for information submitted to the Commonwealth by students in the course of their school work.

Tourist Information Centers are operated seasonally on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, staffed by department employees. The department also exhibits and staffs state information booths at various travel shows throughout the Eastern United States.

A second major phase of the department's tourist travel promotion is focused on the community organizations and associations throughout Pennsylvania. Here the bureau offers the services of its professional staff members. Upon request, members of this staff address meetings, encourage local participation in travel promotion, cooperate in preparation of area literature and distribute regional publicity.

The Department of Commerce frequently serves as co-host with local groups in meeting with travel writers and promotion directors. Such meetings result in national publicity and increases tourist traffic both for the Commonwealth generally and for particular communities and areas.

Bureau of Business Services. This new bureau will establish and administer a special program devoted to the technical information needs of business firms established in Pennsylvania.

In conducting this program the bureau will cooperate with all appropriate public and private agencies in the Commonwealth, the United States Department of Commerce, the Federal Small Business Administration, the United States Chamber of Commerce, University bureaus of business research, business administration schools of colleges and universities, management, marketing and other business consulting firms and professional associations and similar organizations.

It is the function of this bureau to bring to the attention of the business man the availability of services, publications and advice, that will aid him in the operation of his business.

The bureau will give special attention to the following:

- (a) Organizing of regional clinics, forums, workshops and conferences.
- (b) Sources of information pertaining to Federal and State procurement policies.
- (c) Sources of information on Federal Defense procurement policies.
- (d) Sources of information on long and short term financing available to all business but particularly to new and expanding businesses.
- (e) The individual desiring to establish his own firm or enterprise and desirous of information on all rules and regulations that are necessary to the lawful operation of a business in the Commonwealth.

All activities of the bureau are designed to amplify and supplement existing services rather than duplicate or replace services now available to business and industry.

GAME COMMISSION

The Pennsylvania Game Commission is an independent administrative commission, consisting of eight competent citizens of this Commonwealth appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate.

Commission Members. Under the law the members of the commission shall be well informed on the subject of wildlife conservation and restoration, and one member shall be appointed from each of the geographical sections of the state outlined in the game law. The commissioners receive no compensation for their services.

The members of the commission shall hold office for eight years, with terms beginning on the third Tuesday of January, and staggered so that the terms of two members expire each odd-numbered year.

The commission is required to hold meetings at its Harrisburg office in January and in either June or July, and at such other times and places within the state as it may deem necessary.

Officers and Executive Director. The Game Commission annually elects a president and vice-president from among its members. It selects an executive director to serve at its pleasure and fixes his compensation. The executive director is the chief game protector of the Commonwealth, and is the chief administrative officer of the commission in full charge of all activities under its jurisdiction.

It is the duty of the commission to protect, propagate, manage, and preserve the game, fur-bearing animals and protected birds of the state, and to enforce the laws of the Commonwealth relating thereto. This includes the proper management of the state game lands, state game refuges, state game farms, cooperative farm-game projects, propagation and other areas. It annually makes rules and regulations under authority of the law to govern hunting and trapping seasons and bag limits as changing conditions require.

Game Protectors and Employees. The commission is authorized to appoint such number of game protectors and employees as may be needed to discharge properly the duties devolving upon it. In addition, the commission may also appoint deputy game protectors in such manner as may be necessary. Deputies receive no compensation for services rendered or expenses incurred, unless specifically employed for special duties by written order of the executive director. All salaried employees of the commission are forbidden by law from engaging in political activity of any kind.

Revenue. The commission's major source of revenue consists of hunting license fees. No part of its expenditures comes from general taxation or from legislative appropriations from the General Fund.

The game laws of the Commonwealth are published biennially in codified form for the use of the general public.

FISH COMMISSION

The Pennsylvania Fish Commission was created by the Act of April 25, 1949. Under the provision of this Act, the former Board of Fish Commissioners shall now be known as the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, consisting of eight members who shall be competent citizens of the state, appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate. The members serve without compensation and shall be persons well informed on the subjects of conservation and restoration of fish and wildlife. Each shall serve for a period of eight years and until their successors are appointed. Upon the death, resignation, or removal from office of any member so appointed, the Governor shall appoint a competent person to serve for the unexpired term.

the approval of the Governor, fix the compensation of an executive director,

- The executive director shall be the chief fish warden and shall have charge of, direct, supervise and control all employees of the commission in the performance of their respective duties. He shall also be a member of the Water and Power Resources Board, the Sanitary Water Board, the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission, of Erie, and the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission.

- The director shall have authority to have printed the biennial report of the commission and such bulletins, literature, posters and other printing as may be necessary to the work of the commission, including the Pennsylvania Angler, for which subscription rates shall be fixed by the commission.

- Specifically, the work of the Fish Commission, under the direction of the executive director, is classified under the following divisions: law enforcement; propagation and distribution; fish research and management; real estate; engineering and development; conservation education and administrative services.

- Law Enforcement. The protection and law enforcement duties of the Fish Commission are assigned to the executive director who shall be the chief fish warden and its warden force, consisting of one chief enforcement officer, six regional supervisors and presently, a force of fifty wardens. Among the wardens' duties are the patrol of the waters of the Commonwealth and enforcement of the laws governing fishing in the inland waters and boundary waters. The latter includes the Delaware River and Lake Erie. The warden force is also charged with the enforcement of the motorboat laws relating to inland waters of the Commonwealth. Included also in their duties are investigations of pollution of the state's waters, investigations attending applications for permission to draw down lakes and ponds, investigations of applications for mining permits and requests for stream channel widening or diversion.

- Propagation and Distribution. This includes all facets of Fish Commission activity attending the maintenance of fish hatcheries, the propagation and raising of fish and their distribution to the waters of the Commonwealth open to public fishing.

- Fish Research and Fishery Management. The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has become a leader among similar agencies throughout the country in fishery research. Experiments on breeding improved strains of hatchery reared fish, specifically trout at this time, are well advanced. Already trout strains have been developed that produce more and larger eggs and a greater survival of the fry. These characteristics make possible a more rapid growth, better utilization of fish food, and lessening the number of large breeder trout that must be carried at the hatcheries.

- Also, under the heading of research falls the survey of the lakes and streams of the Commonwealth to determine the species of fish for which the waters are best suited, and how the fish carrying capacity and fishing potential of those waters can be improved. To a major degree, these activities have become a part of the duties of fishery managers, six of whom have been assigned to the respective regions of the state. These managers share headquarters with the warden supervisors. In addition to stream and lake studies, the managers, among other duties, assist in the investigation of pollution, applications for channel changes and water diversions and in conservation education endeavors.

- Conservation Education. The activities and program of the Fish Commission and information on fish and fishing in general in the Commonwealth, are channeled to the public through the public relations division of conservation education. The means and media employed and enlisted include

At the meeting held in July of each year, the commission shall elect one of its members as president and one of its members as vice-president. Such officers shall hold office for a period of one year.

The commission shall make, administer and enforce rules and regulations relating to the protection, propagation and distribution of fish and for the angling, catching or removal of fish in or from any waters, artificial or otherwise, wholly within this Commonwealth, or in waters lying between this Commonwealth and any other state, including the waters of such part of any lake of more than 5,000 acres lying between this Commonwealth and any other state.

It shall appoint such number of competent people as in its opinion may be needed to discharge properly the duties devolving upon it. Among the appointees shall be fish wardens, special fish wardens, stenographers and others, including technical personnel detailed to such duties as in its opinion may be deemed advisable and necessary.

The Fish Commission further shall have the power and duty to control and manage all hatching stations and fish cultural establishments, to make free distribution or planting of fish produced at state fish hatcheries, or otherwise acquired, in the following order or preference: first, to the waters of the Commonwealth open to public fishing; second, to persons connected with public schools and other institutions of learning who may apply for same for educational purposes or for scientific research; third, to fish associations and individuals to stock any stream, lake or pond in which the public is permitted to fish. To set aside at its discretion, or upon proper petition, such waters as it may judge best, as nursery waters in which fishing shall be prohibited.

It shall obtain and transmit for publication information respecting the laws relating to the protection of fish and the extent and conditions of the fisheries of the Commonwealth.

Executive Director. It shall also appoint an executive director to serve at its pleasure, and, with regular news releases both to the wire services and by direct mail to newspapers, radio and television stations and to outdoor writers; the Pennsylvania Angler, official monthly publication of the Commission, subscription fee, $1 per year; booklets and other informative literature, most recent of which is "Pennsylvania Fishes,"—fee, $.25; slide lectures and motion pictures; personal appearances before fish and game associations, civic clubs, schools and other groups by commission personnel and the commissioners.

Real Estate. The provisions of the Acts of Legislature pertaining to the Fish Code provide that: (n) The sum of one dollar ($1.00) from each resident and non-resident fishing license fee shall be used exclusively for (1) the acquisition, leasing, development, management and maintenance of public fishing waters and of areas for providing access to fishing waters and the carrying out of lake and stream reclamation and improvement; (2) the rebuilding of torn out dams and (3) the study of problems related to better fishing but in no event shall any of the funds be used for propagation of trout. (a) The Commission is specifically authorized to enter into cooperative agreements with agencies of the United States Government, interstate compact agencies, other agencies of the Commonwealth and subdivisions of the Commonwealth, including authorities and soil conservation agencies, singly or in concert, for impounding, managing, using, maintaining and operating waters for public fishing, and is authorized to expend moneys from the Fish Fund for the Commission's agreed upon pro rata share of the cost of the acquisition, construction, operation and maintenance of the same. The Commission is further authorized to enter into similar agreements and undertake similar expenditures in conjunction with private or commercial interests for the same purposes.

In accordance with these provisions, an accelerated program is in force to secure for the use of the fishing and boating public as much water area as is possible through purchase, lease or easement. The demand for water frontage for private use is increasing daily and with this demand, the cost raises also. The Commission is trying to secure as much access to existing water as possible, even at today's prices, because what isn't secured today, cannot be secured later due to private usage or exorbitant prices.

Engineering and Development. Construction projects undertaken by the Fish Commission, whether they be within its hatchery system—ponds, water systems, roadways, buildings—or that attend new lakes, stream improvements, the development of access areas, are engineered and supervised or actually done by its engineering and development division.

Administrative Services. The functions and performance of this division apply chiefly to its internal affairs—personnel, records, reports, minutes of meetings, etc. Its services, however, do extend to the public through the issuance of the several types of special permits required both by the Pennsylvania Fish Law and by the regulation of the commission, through the preparation of the fish laws book, through the regulations and summary book that accompanies the fishing license, and through the motor boat regulations book that accompanies that license.

PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, created March 31, 1937, is a quasi-judicial agency of the Legislature with the primary duty to regulate the intrastate rates and service of public utilities operating in the Commonwealth. Its chief objective is to establish and maintain reasonable rates and adequate service.

The commission is comprised of five members appointed by the Governor for staggered terms of 10 years each, subject to confirmation by two-thirds of the Senate membership. The regulatory agency functions through these five bureaus: Secretary, Rates and Research, Transportation, Accounts and Law, the latter under control of counsel appointed by the Attorney General with the Governor's approval.

Commission regulation follows the Public Utility Law effective June 1, 1937. Under this law, companies, corporations or persons are utilities subject to commission jurisdiction when engaged in furnishing any of the following services to the public for compensation:

Natural or manufactured gas, telephone, telegraph, electric, steam, water, sewerage collection and disposal, common carriage of passengers or property (train, bus, truck, streetcar, taxicab, aircraft and ferry), gas and oil pipeline transmission and wharf. The law further empowers the commission to prescribe minimum rates and establish accounting and service requirements for motor contract carriers (trucks).

Organization of utilities and start of operation requires commission approval, as does extension or abandonment of service. Utility service by municipalities is exempt from regulation with exception of that part furnished beyond their corporate limits.

Commission operation is virtually self-sustaining, the law providing that its major expense be prorated among the regulated utilities.

One of two major commission functions is regulation of rates charged by utilities, and the agency is vested with broad powers in this field in behalf of the consumer and the company. It has jurisdiction to ascertain fair and reasonable rates and, pending a final determination in rate proceedings, may provide for temporary rates.

It has the discretionary authority to suspend proposed rate increases for nine months if preliminary studies required by law indicate they may produce excessive returns. Investigations and public hearings are held to determine justification of suspended rate increases.

The commission has the right, in rate adjudications, to examine physical property of utilities and police their books and accounts. It may prescribe tariffs under which rates may be collected, determine refunds to customers where excessive charges have been made, and act to eliminate discrimination in rates.

Under the law, utilities cannot charge rates other than those officially on file with the commission and, except as may be allowed in special circumstances, are prohibited from requiring payments in advance.

The other major function is regulation of utility service and facilities to the end that both are adequate, efficient, safe and reasonable for the consuming public. Important in this supervision is commission authority to prescribe how public highways cross utility facilities, particularly in cases involving railroad crossings.

Safety and traffic flow are of paramount concern in crossing eliminations, alterations and protection improvements. The commission may determine, or have local courts decide, property damages involved in crossing cases.

Public hearings are afforded all interested parties in both rate and service matters.

The commission requires utilities, with certain exceptions, to get approval for the transfer (sale, merger or otherwise) to another utility or municipality, of property used and useful in the public service.

Utilities also must report accidents to the commission which inspects facilities to determine whether they are safe and adequate for public use. Penalties may be imposed on utilities, their officers, agents or employees for violation of commission orders or regulations.

The commission establishes uniform accounting systems for utilities and requires them to maintain perpetual property inventories and carry on their books proper sums for annual depreciation. Burden of proof is on the utility to justify accounting entries.

Issuance of utility securities is controlled through commission power to reject security transaction proposals. Relations of utilities with affiliated interests are of extreme importance and carefully scrutinized under the law designed to give the commission complete information in this area.

Utilities must file with the commission all service contracts with affiliated interests. If investigation shows contract charges are improper or unreasonable, the commission may order elimination of excessive amounts affecting cost of service to the public.

In addition to processing numerous service requests, the commission maintains meter testing apparatus to help settle disputes over gas, water and electric meter readings and tampering.

In exercising its power and duties, the commission may generally issue any regulations deemed necessary within framework of its governing law.

LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board is an independent administrative board created by an Act of Assembly approved November 29, 1933, and is authorized and empowered by law to regulate and control the traffic in alcoholic beverages within the Commonwealth. The board consists of three members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the membership of the Senate.

The board appoints its own secretary. All other officials and employees, with the exception of the assistant attorneys general, special assistant attorneys general, and hearing examiners, are appointed in accordance with the civil service provisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Code.

The board is empowered to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages. It has the power to buy, import, possess and sell liquor (including wines) and alcohol, to fix the wholesale and retail prices thereof and to determine where the state liquor stores may be operated.

The board is authorized to grant, issue, suspend and revoke all licenses and permits in accordance with the liquor laws. It has the right to determine the nature, form and capacity of all packages and original containers used for liquor, alcohol and malt or brewed beverages.

Pennsylvania's liquor control system embraces three basic functions: operating a system of state liquor stores, issuing licenses and enforcing the laws.

Bureau of State Stores. The board operates 646 liquor stores. The major operations are testing, warehousing, distributing, selling and providing the necessary stores and equipment facilities.

Malt beverages are sold by the brewer through distributors and retailers to the consumer but control is maintained by the board. Clubs, hotels and restaurants with licenses to sell liquor by the drink are obliged to purchase their supplies at the state stores.

Bureau of Purchasing. The board is said to be the largest buyer of liquor in the world. The Bureau of Purchasing prepares orders for all items regularly stocked by the state stores. Any item not stocked is obtained upon request. Purchases of liquor are subject to approval of the Auditor General.

Bureau of Licensing. The Bureau of Licensing annually grants approximately 50,000 licenses and permits which fall into three general classes, retail, wholesale and manufacturing. About 22,000 of this total are the retail licenses issued to restaurants, hotels, clubs and public-service carriers to sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages by the drink.

Wholesale licenses are issued to malt-beverage distributors and importing distributors, liquor importers and dealers in sacramental wine, while manufacturing licenses are issued to wineries, distilleries and breweries. Nineteen types of permits are issued for such purposes as amusements on retail licensed premises, wholesale purchases of alcohol, sale or promotion of a vendor's products on special order and other specific privileges. All licenses and permits must be renewed on an annual basis.

Bureau of Enforcement. The Bureau of Enforcement presents the police power of the board. It comprises an administrative staff and nine enforcement districts located at centers of population throughout the state. Enforcement agents watch particularly for evidence of illegal manufacture and traffic.

They investigate the records of all applicants for licenses, check conditions on licensed premises and see that the physical requirements for licensing are met. They cooperate with local and federal police authorities.

Bureau of Personnel. This bureau is responsible for all personnel records, including preparation of the salary payrolls which are subject to a check by the comptroller and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth. It also controls the civil service system for the board in accordance with the civil service laws.

Bureau of Accounting and Service. The comptroller, as head of this bureau, is in charge of all budgeting, accounting, auditing, investigating, recording and related office work of the board and accounts for all receipts and disbursements.

Bureau of Administrative Services. This bureau arranges for the purchase of supplies, equipment and services, including all communication facilities. It provides custodial care, elevator operation and maintenance of the Northwest Office Building, its grounds and equipment. It also conducts a program of general staff services for the state stores, field offices and warehouses.

MILK CONTROL COMMISSION

Regulation of the milk industry in Pennsylvania was first set up on a temporary basis under Act No. 37, approved January 2, 1934, and Act No. 43, approved April 30, 1935. This regulation was made permanent under Act No. 105, P. L. 417, which was approved April 28, 1937. Amendments were made to the Act in 1941, in 1943 and in 1947.

The commission was created to supervise and regulate the entire milk industry of this Commonwealth, including all matters pertaining to the production, manufacture, processing, storage, transportation, disposal, distribution and sale of milk and milk products in this Commonwealth, for the protection of the health and welfare of the inhabitants.

Commissioners. The commission consists of three members with equal powers, one of whom is designated as chairman by the Governor. The members are appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Senate.

One of the main functions of the commission is to conduct public hearings from time to time in order to receive testimony as a basis for fixing prices which dealers shall pay to producers and charge to consumers. The commission is instructed by the Act to bond all milk dealers who purchase their supplies from Pennsylvania producers and this provision has, on many occasions, saved producers from financial loss. All milk dealers who sell milk or dairy products to consumers in Pennsylvania must hold licenses issued by the commission. The commission is empowered to issue subpoenas, general orders, rules and regulations, in order to comply with the intent of the law.

The commission is organized into three bureaus: administrative, audits and investigations, and accounts and statistics. The commission also has a legal bureau which is composed of attorneys assigned by the Department of Justice and which acts as a sub-branch of the administrative division.

The Bureau of Audits and Investigations receives and investigates complaints in violation of the law and orders of the commission. A staff of examiners, investigators and dairy inspectors is located in each of the six districts in the state. Examiners inspect and audit records of milk dealers to insure prompt and proper payments to milk producers; investigators investigate and prosecute violations of the law in connection with milk control commission orders and dairy inspectors check-test butterfat content of producers' milk samples to insure payment to milk producers on the proper basis. This branch of the commission also has charge of issuing licenses and bonding milk dealers and handlers.

The Bureau of Accounts and Statistics requires monthly reports and annual financial statements from dealers. This information is used in the administration of the law. It compiles statistical data in connection with the movement of milk not only within the Commonwealth but also the shipment of milk in interstate commerce. This bureau also examines data representing the operation of dealers in all milk marketing areas of the Commonwealth and presents this information to the commission through the public hearings in order that not only the commission but all interested parties may have information concerning dealers' profits and the spread allowed to them.

Members of the commission have organized a committee composed of fourteen producer representatives and fourteen dealer representatives who meet from time to time in order to advise the commission concerning various policies which may work to the benefit of the industry generally. The advice of this committee is most helpful and adds a democratic flavor to the activities of a regulatory agency.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Membership. The State Civil Service Commission, an independent administrative commission, was created by the Act of June 6, 1939, P. L. 250, as amended by the Acts of August 5, 1941, P. L. 781; May 21, 1943, P. L. 600; March 20, 1945, P. L. 44; and June 25, 1947, P. L. 930. The commission consists of three members, not more than two of whom shall be of the same political affiliation. Their terms are for six years or until a successor is appointed and qualified. One of the members is designated chairman by the Governor.

Duties. The purpose of the Civil Service Act of August 5, 1941, P. L. 752, as amended, is to provide greater efficiency and economy in the administration of the Government of this Commonwealth by (1) establishing conditions of service which will attract to the service of the Commonwealth qualified persons of character and ability, and (2) appointing and promoting said persons on the basis of merit and fitness. The Civil Service Act prescribes the powers and duties of the commission, expressly providing that the executive director shall direct and supervise all the administrative work, and shall exercise certain powers and duties under the direction and supervision of the commission. The commission is required to establish and adopt rules for making effective the provisions of the Act, and to approve, modify, or reject classifications plans and compensation schedules for the classified service, reporting the latter to the Executive Board. It has the duty, upon request or on its own motion, in cases of demotion, furlough, suspension, and removal, to conduct investigations, hold public hearings, render decisions on appeals, and record findings and conclusions. Another commission duty is to make investigations requested by the Governor or the Legislature, and any other investigations of matters which relate to the enforcement and effect of the provisions of the Civil Service Act.

Agencies and Offices Served. Initially, civil service procedures were applied only to personnel in the Department of Public Assistance, the Bureau of Employment Security in the Department of Labor and Industry, the Liquor Control Board, and the State Civil Service Commission. This application was mandated in the Act. Subsequently, by means of the provision whereby the services and facilities of the commission and its staff are made available to other agencies of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof, personnel services have been extended to approximately 12,000 additional employees. On September 10, 1956, the Executive Board of the Commonwealth, by resolution and amendments thereto, added approximately 10,000 professional and technical positions to the civil service program. Thirty departments, boards, and commissions, including one political subdivision—approximately 24,000 employees—now participate in the commission's program of personnel services. They are Departments of Agriculture, Banking, Commerce, Forests and Waters, Governor's Office, Departments of Health, Highways, Insurance, Justice, Labor and Industry, Military Affairs, Mines and Mineral Industries, Pennsylvania State Police, Departments of Property and Supplies, Public Instruction, Public Welfare, Revenue, State, Liquor Control Board, Board of Parole, State Planning Board, State Employees' Retirement Board, State Tax Equalization Board, Civil Service Commission, Fish Commission, Game Commission, Historical and Museum Commission, Milk Control Commission, State Council of Civil Defense, Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority.

PENNSYLVANIA BOARD OF PAROLE

The Pennsylvania Board of Parole, an independent administrative board consisting of three members appointed by the Governor by and with the consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, was established by the Act of August 6, 1941, P. L. 861, and amended by the Act of May 27, 1943, P. L. 767.

The legislation was designed to set up a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in the Commonwealth. Board members may not hold other public office nor engage in other employment.

Parole Power. The board is given general power to parole and reparole, commit and recommit for violations of parole, and to discharge from parole. It also has certain powers of supervision over persons placed on probation. The law specifically provides for the investigation of the circumstances of offenses for which persons are committed to prison, the character and background of such persons, and their conduct and condition while in prison.

The board is authorized to grant paroles upon its own motion and is directed to hear proper and timely applications from prisoners, their attorneys, relatives or friends. It supervises parolees from other states residing in the Commonwealth and makes investigations and recommendations to the Board of Pardons.

Employees. The board may appoint such officers, agents and employees as may be necessary to carry out its functions.

PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL AND MUSEUM COMMISSION

The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission was created by Act No. 446, approved June 6, 1945, amending the Administrative Code to consolidate the functions of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, the State Museum, and the State Archives. It is an independent administrative commission, consisting of nine citizens of the Commonwealth appointed by the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-officio, two members of the Senate appointed by the President pro tempore, and two members of the House of Representatives, appointed by the Speaker. The chairman, who is designated by the Governor, is an ex-officio member of the Geographic Board, the Bushy Run Battlefield Commission, and the Brandywine Battlefield Commission. The executive director is appointed by the commission.

Commonwealth Duties. The commission serves as the official agency of the Commonwealth for the conservation of Pennsylvania's historic heritage and the preservation of public records, historical documents and objects of historic interest. Its powers and duties fall into five principal fields: Historic properties and markers, archaeological research and publication, historical research and publication, care of public records, and the State Museum.

Properties. The commission may assume the care and maintenance of historic buildings, monuments, or antiques committed to its custody by the General Assembly. At the present time the Historical and Museum Commission is thus responsible for 26 properties, including Old Economy, Fort Augusta, Cornwall Furnace, Pennsbury Memorial, Morton Homestead, Daniel Boone Homestead, the Flagship Niagara, Ephrata Cloister, Pottsgrove Mansion, Drake Well Memorial Park, Governor Printz Park, Fort Le Boeuf Memorial, Warrior Run Church, the Pennsylvania Farm Museum of Landis Valley, Admiral Peary Park, Conrad Weiser Memorial Park, Graeme Park, Hope Lodge, Twenty-eighth Division Shrine, Seairight Toll House, Old Brown's Mill School, Captain William Phillips' Rangers Memorial, Old Bradford House, Tuscarora Academy, Joseph Priestley Home, and the Pechin House. Rules and regulations for the visitation of the historic properties may be made and enforced by the commission, and it may also charge admission fees, to be paid into the Historical Preservation Fund of the State Treasury.

The commission may mark the places where historical events have occurred, and may take title, in the name of the Commonwealth, to the sites of the markers. It may also approve or disapprove the design and proposed location of all historic monuments, memorials, buildings, tablets, and inscriptions; and may cooperate in the care and restoration of historic sites, buildings, battlefields, and other historic undertakings maintained or executed in whole or in part at the expense of the Commonwealth. The inscriptions and proposed locations of all historic markers to be placed by public or private persons or organizations are to be submitted to the Historical and Museum Commission for approval.

Research and Publications. Archaeological research and publication are authorized by several provisions of the law. The commission may, upon its own initiative, or in cooperation with reputable persons or organizations, conduct archaeological investigations relative to the aboriginal inhabitants of Pennsylvania, and report the results for public information. It may carry on archaeological excavations, may prepare descriptive lists of sites, may consult and procure the advice of archaeological experts, and may prepare for publication data gathered through this work. It may publish or republish matters of archaeological interest.

Historical research and publication are authorized in similar manner. The commission is responsible for editing the Pennsylvania Archives. It may, upon its own initiative, or in cooperation with reputable societies or organizations, conduct investigations of historical matters relative to Pennsylvania and report the results for public information. It may gather information by historical research, by microfilming or otherwise copying historic documents, letters and records, by analyzing and determining their authenticity, and by compiling lists and guides to the materials for Pennsylvania history. For the purpose of historical research it may examine any public records within the control of the several departments, boards or commissions of the Commonwealth, and may copy any such records. It may publish or republish matters of historical interest.

Public Records. The Historical and Museum Commission is charged with the preservation of all public records throughout the Commonwealth. It must give special attention to the preservation of all records of the state government, not in current use, and of historical value; and may negotiate for the transfer of and receive public records from any department, board or commission of the Commonwealth or from any agency of a political subdivision. It is the legal custodian of such public records as may be turned over to it. Records coming into its possession are collected, classified, preserved, and made acceptable for reference. It may furnish to persons applying therefor, certificates relating to the public records, or copies of these records, upon the payment of such charges as may be fixed by law. The commission must also examine into the condition of the public records kept, filed, or recorded in the several offices of the departments, boards, or commissions of the Commonwealth, and of the counties, boroughs, and cities of the state; and must recommend such action to be taken by the persons having the care and custody of public records as may be necessary to secure their safety and preservation. It is to cause all laws relating to public records to be enforced, and to recommend uniform standards governing the use of paper, ink and filing procedure.

State Museum

State Museum. The commission controls, directs, supervises, and manages the State Museum, for which it may acquire archaeological or historical collections by purchase or gift. It preserves objects illustrating the flora and fauna of the state, and its mineralogy, geology, archaeology, arts, history and education. It may receive for and on behalf of the Commonwealth gifts or bequests of articles of historical interest which shall be deposited in the State Museum or, at the discretion of the commission, in or on the historical properties committed to its custody.

STATE TAX EQUALIZATION BOARD

The State Tax Equalization Board, an independent administrative board, was created by Act No. 447, approved June 27, 1947, P. L. 1046. The board, consisting of three members, is appointed by the Governor for terms of four years each. The chairman, designated by the Governor, is in charge of the administration of the board, and the transaction of its routine business, and executes the orders and policies of the board. The board has the power to employ such employees, assistants and experts as may be necessary to carry out any clerical, administrative, investigatory, or technical tasks connected with its work.

The function of the State Tax Equalization Board is to determine, annually, the aggregate market value of taxable real property in each of the 2,300 school districts throughout the Commonwealth. The board is required to re-evaluate, revise, and adjust market values annually to reflect changes due to local economic conditions and other relevant matter.

Bases for School Subsidies. These market values are certified on or before July 1 of each year to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and to the secretaries of the various school districts. The Superintendent of Public Instruction uses the board's market values as an index for the distribution of state subsidies to the various school districts. As of June 30, 1958, the board was responsible for determining the aggregate market values of taxable real property worth approximately 32 billion, 700 million dollars. State subsidies distributed by the use of the board's findings during a biennium are more than 600 million dollars.

Responsibility of Counties to Board. To assist in determining market values, the Board of Revision of Taxes of counties of the first class, and the county commissioners of all other counties are required to furnish the board monthly reports of all transfers of real estate, containing the description and address of the property transferred, the names of the grantor and grantee, the values of the federal and state transfer tax stamps and the county assessed valuation.

Rights of School Districts. Any school district aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board affecting the amount of any Commonwealth subsidy payable to it, may, in writing, state its objections thereto, and shall thereupon be granted a hearing by the board at which the district shall have the right to submit evidence for the purpose of showing that the findings of the board are incorrect, and to present arguments to substantiate its contentions. After carefully considering all evidence submitted and the arguments of the district, the board is required to make such modifications and adjustments of its findings and computations as to it shall appear proper or it may dismiss the objections. In either event the decision of the board is final.

Special Aid to School Districts. Before granting any special aid to any school district, the Superintendent of Public Instruction must submit the request therefor to the State Tax Equalization Board. The board is required to investigate and study the financial circumstances of the district to determine whether or not it has exhausted its available taxing power and that the collection of taxes is being effectively made and enforced. The recommendations of the board shall be for the advice of the Superintendent of Public Instruction on such requests.

Limitation of Powers. The Pennsylvania State Tax Equalization Board, unlike similar boards and commissions in other states, has no supervision over local assessments of taxable real property; has no power to order reassessments, and has no legislatively prescribed responsibility for improving local assessments.

PENNSYLVANIA TURNPIKE COMMISSION

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission was created by the 1937 legislature (Act No. 211) with authority to construct, finance, operate and maintain a toll highway from Middlesex, Cumberland County, to Irwin, Westmoreland County, a distance of 160 miles.

The commission consists of five members, four of whom are appointed by the Governor, while the fifth is the Secretary of Pennsylvania Highway Department, who is a member ex-officio. Present members are Joseph J. Lawler, Vice-Chairman, of Jessup, John F. Byrne, secretary and treasurer of Philadelphia, E. James Trimarchi of Indiana, G. Franklin McSorley of Pittsburgh and Lewis M. Stevens, ex-officio.

Actual construction of the original Turnpike began October 27, 1938, and it was opened to public travel October 1, 1940, the first long-distance highway in America to be constructed without cross traffic at grade anywhere and with all modern transportation necessities incorporated in its design.

The Philadelphia extension of 100 miles, linking Middlesex with King of Prussia was created by legislative Act No. 11 of May 16, 1940. Construction started September 28, 1948, and the extension was opened to traffic November 20, 1950.

The western extension of 67 miles, connecting Irwin with the Ohio state line, was created by legislative Act No. 53 of June 11, 1941. Construction started October 24, 1949, and the extension was opened to traffic December 26, 1951.

Act No. 74 of May 23, 1951 authorized the construction of 32.3 miles known as "Delaware River Extension" between King of Prussia and the Delaware River at Bristol. Construction started November 20, 1952 and the extension was opened to traffic November 17, 1954. The Delaware River Turnpike Bridge connecting the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Turnpikes was financed jointly by the two bodies and was opened to traffic on May 25, 1956.

The Northeastern Extension of 110 miles, from Plymouth Meeting to Clark's Summit was authorized by legislative Act No. 222 of July 28, 1953. Construction began on March 25, 1954. On November 7, 1957, the 110 miles was opened to traffic.

The original Turnpike together with the Philadelphia, Western, Delaware River and the 110-mile Northeastern Extension will constitute the 470-mile Pennsylvania Turnpike System—the World's Greatest Self-Supporting Super-highway.

Financing. Not a penny of Pennsylvania tax money has gone into its construction, all work was financed by the Turnpike Commission with funds raised by the sale of $597,800,000 of bonds, with the highway itself as sole security, when bonds sold to finance construction are paid off, the highway will become an integral part of the Commonwealth's free-road system. The present outstanding indebtedness is $447,661,000.

Since the enactment of this legislation the Turnpike Commission surveyed the proposed route of the Northwestern Extension but through the enactment of the National Highway System by the federal government the Pennsylvania Highways Department has assumed responsibility for the construction of this new roadway.

Electronic Weighing. Since January 1, 1956, tolls have been determined on a dynamic weight principle employing electronic weighing, axle-counting and axle-grouping equipment. This step in modern equipment provides the most equitable method of determining fares known.

Prior to installation of this new equipment, tolls for commercial vehicles were based upon allowable gross weight, whether the vehicle was loaded, empty, loaded with heavy cargo or light but bulky cargo. Under the dynamic weighing system, each vehicle is automatically weighed complete, effecting appreciable savings for vehicles traveling empty, partially loaded, or loaded with light, bulky materials.

Services. Restaurants on the turnpike are open 24 hours a day. On the trans-Pennsylvania turnpike there are 24 restaurants serving one-way traffic, and on the completed portion of the northeastern extension is another restaurant available to traffic from both directions. Meals and snacks are available in pleasant surroundings. Comfortable rest rooms and spacious parking areas are provided at all restaurants. At Midway Station, near the Bedford Interchange, there is a two-story building with a colonial dining room that seats 120 guests and a modern dining room seating 100.

Information is provided in the form of easy-to-read signs and by officer-collectors at interchanges who issue tickets and collect fares, provide general information and printed literature as to directions, mileages, weather and roadway conditions, and location of turnpike authorized services.

Interchanges are strategically located to provide easy access to major state highway routes. Each of these interchanges is conspicuously identified, including directional signs placed along state highways leading to the turnpike.

Individual mileage markers are located along the sides of the turnpike with numbering starting at the Ohio border.

Repair services for emergency motor vehicle repair authorized by the turnpike and approved by the American Automobile Association and the Keystone and Pittsburgh Automobile Clubs, are under contract in each 25-mile section of the turnpike. Service trucks are radio equipped and patrons are assured of quick and efficient service in the event of mechanical difficulties.

Safety Measures. Vehicle condition is checked visually by experienced officer-collectors at interchanges to determine compliance with safety regulations.

Grades and curves are designed for maximum safe driving. There is no grade in excess of 3% from the Ohio State line to Carlisle Interchange, and none in excess of 2% from that point eastward. Every curve is designed to permit a minimum sight distance of 1,000 feet and each curve is banked for easy driving.

Light reflectors are used throughout the entire system. These delineators are placed on medial strip and shoulders, at intervals of 100 feet on curves and 200 feet on straightaways. Reflectorized type white lines also serve as night and poor visibility driving aids.

Signs both regulatory and informative, are strategically placed as a guide to patrons for their safety.

First aid is provided by trained Red Cross first-aid men. Transportation of the injured is provided by maintenance districts, each of which is equipped with an ambulance.

Policing is conducted by State Police details in radio-equipped cars who patrol the turnpike on a 24-hour basis. These patrols provide courteous assistance to patrons in addition to assuming charge at the scenes of accidents, directing traffic and apprehending and arresting violators of traffic regulations. Headquarters are in Bedford with sub-stations at Gibsonia, Somerset, Bedford, Harrisburg, Reading and Plymouth Meeting.

Radio Communications. The turnpike radio communications system has been a vital safety factor throughout the 19-year history of the super-highway.

For maximum safety efficiency in all types of weather, two-way radio equipment is installed at the administrative office in Harrisburg, maintenance buildings, all interchanges, tunnel portal buildings, police headquarters, police patrol vehicles, maintenance vehicles, ambulances, authorized service trucks and emergency equipment.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE HEADQUARTERS, SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM

The purpose of Selective Service is to maintain an orderly, just and democratic method whereby the manpower of the United States may be made available for training and service in the land and naval forces of the United States, as provided by Congress, with the least possible disruption of the economic life of the Nation.

The mission of Selective Service is carried out under the provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act, as amended (Public Law 759, 80th Congress, approved June 24, 1948) with respect to the registration, examination, classification, selection and delivery, for induction into the Armed Forces, of the male citizens of the United States, and of other male persons residing in the United States, who are between the ages of 18 and 26.

Administrative Composition. The Selective Service System in Pennsylvania is composed of a State Director, nominated by the Governor, appointed by the President, and under the orders and command of the National Director; a State Headquarters composed of certain officers of the armed forces on active duty, a supervising and clerical force all under Federal Civil Service, and three State Appeal Boards, one for each Federal Judicial District. The system includes, at present, 175 local boards, at least one to each county and located depending on population, manned by a compensated clerical force under the orders of uncompensated board members who are residents of the community; also, Government Appeal Agents, Advisors to Registrants, etc.

Powers of Local Boards. The Local Boards, under the supervision of State Headquarters and the overall command of National Headquarters, shall register, classify and defer, or order and send for physical examination and induction, such registrants as should properly be so indicated.

STATE PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING AUTHORITY

The State Public School Building Authority was created by an Act of the 1947 session of the General Assembly for the purpose of constructing, improving, maintaining and operating, public school buildings, and furnishing and equipping the same for use as public schools, as a part of the public school system of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania under the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Instruction. The Authority has been granted and may exercise all the powers necessary or convenient for carrying out the foregoing purpose.

Members. The Authority is a separate body corporate and politic constituting a public corporation and governmental instrumentality. The governing body is composed of the Governor, the State Treasurer, the Auditor General, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of Property and Supplies, the President Pro-tempore of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Minority Leader of the Senate, the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives and their respective successors in office.

Financing. The State Public School Building Authority is authorized to issue and sell its own bonds for the purpose of raising money with which to pay for school projects requested by individual or joint school boards and approved and undertaken by the Authority. The Authority reviews all plans and specifications for projects, enters into contracts for the construction of the project and maintains an inspection and advisory service during the construction period. The facility is leased by the Authority to the school district or districts at an annual rental which must be sufficient to amortize the cost of the project within a term not exceeding forty (40) years. The Authority operates on a non-profit basis.

Police Powers of Department of Public Instruction. Under the provisions of the Authority Act and the school code, it is the duty of the Department of Public Instruction to review all construction projects to determine the educational adequacy and need for the school facility, the amount of improvement to be brought about in the attendance areas and the administrative units as a result of the project, and the ability of the school district to amortize the cost of construction and to defray the cost of operation and maintenance. All projects to be undertaken by the Authority must have the prior approval of the Department of Public Instruction.

THE GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY

(This authority as well as all other authorities are not departments of the Commonwealth but are separate and independent corporations created by acts of legislature.)

The General State Authority is a public corporation and governmental instrumentality which was created by the Act of March 31, 1949, P. L. 372. A forerunner of the present corporation was the authority created by the Act of June 28, 1935, P. L. 452, which also set up a General State Authority. That Act was originally declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court but upon petition of the Attorney General a rehearing was granted. Upon review of the bill the court reversed its former ruling and February 4, 1937, Justice Kephart handed down an opinion which decided that "The General State Authority Act and the undertakings in pursuance of it are constitutional." Kelley vs. Earle, 325 Pa. 337 (1937). The General State Authority Act of 1935 was repealed by the Act of May 18, 1945, P. L. 641.

Purpose. Section 4 of the Act of March 31, 1949, P. L. 372, of the General Assembly defines the purposes of The General State Authority as follows: "The Authority is created for the purpose of constructing, improving, equipping, furnishing, maintaining, acquiring, and operating sewers, sewer systems and sewage treatment works for State institutions of every kind and character (heretofore or hereafter constructed), public buildings for the use of the Commonwealth, an official residence in the City of Harrisburg which shall be used as the official residence of the Governor of the Commonwealth, State arsenals, armories, and military reserves, State Airports and landing fields, State institutions of every kind and character (heretofore or hereafter constructed), additions and improvements to land grant colleges, school buildings and the furnishings and equipment for the use of public schools, State highways, and bridges, toll bridges, tunnels and traffic circles on State highways, swimming pools, and lakes on State land, low head dams, improvements to river embankments, desilting dams, impounding basins (any and all of the foregoing being herein called 'projects')." This section further asserts that it is not the intent or the purpose of The General State Authority Act of 1949 to burden or interfere with existing business by the establishment of competitive enterprises. Subsequent amendments to this section authorized additions and improvements to universities and medical colleges receiving state aid and flood control projects, pursuant to legislative authorization.

Financing. The money to finance the construction and equipping of projects is obtained through the sale of bonds, the principal and interest of which is paid from rentals received from leases to the Commonwealth and paid from moneys appropriated for the purpose from time to time by the General Assembly. Appropriation Act 51A approved September 29, 1951, made an appropriation of $3,500,000; Appropriation Act 126A approved January 14, 1952, made an appropriation of $8,194,000; Appropriation Act 26A approved October 17, 1955, made an appropriation of $25,500,000, and Appropriation Act 95A approved July 19, 1957, made an appropriation of $31,000,000, to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of rentals and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with The General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects, structures, buildings and facilities of the authority. Appropriations Act 38A approved November 12, 1959, made an appropriation of $42,400,000 to the Department of Property and Supplies, and $477,196 to the Department of Public Instruction, for the payment of rentals and other charges, as previously described. The amount of bonds which The General State Authority can issue is limited by the General Assembly. The Act of March 31, 1949, P. L. 372 fixed this limit at $175,000,000. Each successive session of the legislature has increased this limit so that the present authorized borrowing capacity is $480,000,000. The amount of bonds which The General State Authority can issue is limited by the General Assembly. The Act of March 31, 1949, P. L. 372 fixed this limit at $175,000,000. Each successive session of the Legislature has increased this limit so that the present authorized borrowing capacity is $480,000,000.

THE STATE HIGHWAY AND BRIDGE AUTHORITY

The State Highway and Bridge Authority is a public corporation and governmental instrumentality created by the Act of April 18, 1949, P. L. 604. The authority was created because of the constitutional limitations on the state's borrowing capacity. Section 4 of this Act defines the purposes of the authority to be as follows: "The authority is created for the purpose of constructing, reconstructing, improving, equipping, furnishing, maintaining and operating state highways, bridges, viaducts, toll bridges, tunnels, traffic circles on state highways, maintenance sheds, offices and garages and roadside rests (any and all of the foregoing herein called 'projects')."

Projects. As of May 31, 1959, The State Highway and Bridge Authority has completed Sixty-nine (69) various types of projects throughout the Commonwealth and presently has under construction fifty-three (53) projects. Some of the major projects in the State Highway and Bridge Authority program are the following: The Penn Lincoln Parkway is located in Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh. It begins in Churchill Borough on U. S. Route 22 about 9½ miles east of downtown Pittsburgh and extends in a westerly direction into the Golden Triangle of the City of Pittsburgh and continues west to a connection with the roadway to Greater Pittsburgh Airport about 10 miles west of downtown Pittsburgh. This is a multiple lane divided limited access highway. It reduces materially travel time between central Pittsburgh and the greater Pittsburgh Airport and points west.

The Schuylkill Expressway, which is nearing completion, will carry an uninterrupted flow of traffic from the Pennsylvania Turnpike at King of Prussia, Montgomery County, via the Vine Street Interchange in downtown Philadelphia to Vane Avenue and the approach ramps of the Walt Whitman Bridge over the Delaware River. This is a multiple lane divided limited access highway.

The Penn-Can Highway located in Lackawanna and Susquehanna Counties extending from north of Scranton to the New York State Line will expedite traffic from the northern terminus of the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Binghamton and points north in New York and Canada. This Interstate project is a multiple lane, divided limited access highway.

The Erie Throughway extends from the New York Turnpike at the eastern state border of Pennsylvania to the Ohio Highway System on the west. This project bypasses the City of Erie and will provide a limited access, reinforced cement concrete highway from the New York State Line to the Ohio State Line.

Two projects comprising the Duncannon By-Pass near Harrisburg, eliminating a traffic bottleneck on Traffic Routes 11 and 15. This construction consists of multiple lane divided, limited access highway.

The Authority participated in the financing of three important links on Traffic Route 30, Lincoln Highway, consisting of the Greensburg By-Pass; the section between Everett and Breezewood and the section from Fort Loudon to St. Thomas. The completion of these projects will eliminate congested traffic conditions and hazards.

Financing. The money to finance the projects is obtained through the sale of bonds, the principal and interest on which will be paid by rentals from leases to the Commonwealth acting through the Department of Highways. Moneys necessary for the purpose of paying the rentals have been appropriated from the motor license fund.

The authority's original borrowing capacity of $40,000,000 has twice been increased by the General Assembly: Act No. 189 of the 1951 session increased the borrowing capacity to $80,000,000, and Act No. 634 of the 1957 session further increased the borrowing capacity to $120,000,000.

The 1957 increase in borrowing capacity of $40,000,000 will be used to finance road construction at the request of the state Department of Highways. A new road building program is being undertaken by the state Department of Highways in conjunction with the United States Bureau of Public Roads.
